PETER J. KNAPP received his bachelor's degree in history from Trinity College in 1965 and holds master's degrees in history and library science from the University of Rochester and Columbia University, respectively. He joined Trinity's library staff in 1968, subsequently serving as Head of Reference and Instructional Services, and in 1972 accepted the additional appointment of College Archivist. Since 1994 he has been a member of the curatorial staff of Trinity's Watkinson Library with primary responsibility for the archives program. With the College's history as his focus he has written and lectured extensively, and curated major exhibitions related to Trinity. He regularly contributes a feature column, "From the archivist's perspective," to the Trinity Reporter alumni magazine.

ANNE H. KNAPP, who collaborated on the book as Archival Research Associate, holds her bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Hartford and received a master's degree in political science from Trinity College in 1976. For many years a faculty member in the Connecticut State College System, she has also served on Trinity's library staff. Principal researcher/writer for the College's 175th anniversary commemorative brochure and researcher for a booklet to commemorate the engineering department's centennial, she has co-curated major exhibitions on the College and lectures widely on women's history with an emphasis on the First Ladies of the White House.
