Conferring of Honorary Degrees

MICHAEL A. BATTLE

TRINITY COLLEGE CLASS OF 1973

Doctor of Divinity

Presented by Frank Kirkpatrick '64, Ellsworth Morton Tracy Lecturer and Professor of Religion

Escorted by John A. Gettier, Professor of Religion, Emeritus

You arrived at Trinity as the beneficiary of a special scholarship created in memory of Second Lieutenant Michael P. Getlin, who died during the Vietnam Conflict. You have said that when you learned about Lieutenant Getlin's story, you decided to embark upon a career as a military chaplain. That decision—with its powerful mixture of public service and spiritual strength—has marked your path through life and has kept service to humanity as a central theme in your many leadership positions.

The education you received as an undergraduate at Trinity provided the foundation for a wide-ranging career grounded in your passion for the ministry. After graduating in 1973, you earned your Master of Divinity degree at Duke University and then completed your Doctor of Ministry degree at Howard University.

You also completed the Institute for Educational Management at the Harvard University Graduate School of Education; the Millennial Leadership Institute, sponsored by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities; and the William R. Harvey Leadership Institute at Hampton University. In addition, you graduated from the United States Army Reserve Command and General Staff College.

Over the years, you have enjoyed success as an administrator at some of America's finest educational institutions. You have been president of the Interdenominational Theological Center in Atlanta, Georgia; vice president of Chicago State University in Chicago, Illinois; associate vice president of Virginia State University in Petersburg, Virginia; and dean of the chapel at Hampton University in Hampton, Virginia, where you also served as pastor of the Hampton University Memorial Church and executive secretary and treasurer of the Hampton University Ministers' Conference, the largest interdenominational conference of African American clergy in the United States. For 20 years you served as chaplain in the United States Army Reserve, retiring as a lieutenant colonel in 1997.

You were chair of the Robert W. Woodruff Library of the Atlanta University Center and a member of the United Negro College Fund Institutional Board of Directors, 100 Black Men of Atlanta, and the steering committee of the Historically Black Colleges and Universities Congressional Forum. You hold lifetime membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

You have had a long and distinguished history of involvement with the people and governments of Africa. From 1994 to 1998, you served as vice president of the American Committee on Africa. In 1994 you were an election observer for the first free election in South Africa and, at the same time, served as liaison between the Hampton University Ministers' Conference and the South African Council of Churches. And today, as the United States Ambassador to the African Union, you serve as the personal representative of the President of the United States to the African Union. Headquartered at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, the diplomatic capital of the African Continent, the African Union is a multilateral continental body with 53 African member nations.

For building an exceptional career upon the foundation of your Trinity education—one marked by scholarship, successful leadership, and inspirational public service—I have the honor of presenting you, Ambassador Michael A. Battle, Class of 1973 for the degree of Doctor of Divinity, honoris causa.

WALTER JOHN LAMB

Doctor of Letters

Presented by Lucy Ferriss, Writer-in-Residence

Escorted by David Rosen, Associate Professor of English

Born and raised in Norwich, Connecticut, you graduated from Norwich Free Academy. After graduating from the University of Connecticut in 1972, you returned to Norwich to embark upon what would become a 25-year career as a high school English teacher.

Though teaching was your first vocation, it was not without digressions. You had earned your master's degree, also from the University of Connecticut, and were nine years into your teaching career when you experienced a moment of transformative change. Discovering a voice within you that demanded to be heard, you turned your hand to writing fiction.

To hone your writing skills, you enrolled in the M.F.A. program at Vermont College, earning your M.F.A. in 1984. Your first novel, She's Come Undone, a story of triumph over a life of misery and abuse, quickly found a receptive audience. It was already a bestseller by the time Oprah Winfrey chose it for her book club in 1997, catapulting you into the national spotlight. At the same time, you were also putting the final touches on your second book, I Know This Much Is True. When it was published in 1998, it was welcomed with enthusiastic critical praise and became another Winfrey selection.

In 2008 you published your third novel, The Hour I First Believed, and a year later you published Wishin' and Hopin'.

Though you ended your long tenure at Norwich Free Academy in 1997, you did not stop teaching. As an associate professor at the University of Connecticut, you directed the English department's creative writing program. And at Connecticut's York Correctional Institution, you taught a celebrated workshop that was the focus of a segment on CBS-TV's 60 Minutes and that resulted in two published anthologies of nonfiction, Couldn't Keep It to Myself: Testimonies from Our Imprisoned Sisters and I'll Fly Away.

Of your writing, you have said, "I write fiction so that I can move beyond the boundaries and limitations of my own experiences and better understand the lives of others. That's also why I teach."

You have been honored with a National Endowment for the Arts grant, the Connecticut Center for the Book's Lifetime Achievement Award, the Connecticut Bar Association's Distinguished Public Service Award, the Barnes and Noble "Writers for Writers" Award, the New England Book Award for fiction, and the Kenneth Johnson Memorial Book Award.

In his Nobel Prize acceptance speech, William Faulkner said that the writer's duty and privilege is "to help man endure by lifting his heart, by reminding him of the courage and honor and hope and pride and compassion and pity and sacrifice which have been the glory of his past." For creating a body of literature that consistently reminds us of how indomitable the human spirit is, I have the honor of presenting you, Walter John Lamb, for the degree of Doctor of Letters, honoris causa.

SCOTT WALTON REYNOLDS

TRINITY COLLEGE CLASS OF 1963

Doctor of Humane Letters

*Presented by Thomas S. Johnson '62, H'05, P'97, Former Chairman of the Board of Trustees at Trinity College
Escorted by William C. Richardson '62, H'03, Board of Trustees at Trinity College*

Trinity educated, you returned to your alma mater in 1996 to assume the role of assistant to the president. Your service to the College in that capacity has been extraordinary. In times of both trial and triumph, your wisdom and your long view of the institution that you love so deeply have proven to be invaluable.

But the fact is that for more than a half century—during which the world has undergone remarkable change and Trinity has rapidly evolved to keep pace with that change—you have never been far from the pulse of the College. Trinity has always been able to count on you for reasoned and disciplined advice. It is your forté.

As an undergraduate, you distinguished yourself as a member of Medusa, the senior honor society; with your election to Pi Gamma Mu; as president of your fraternity, Theta Xi; and as a member of Cerberus, the sophomore honor society. You were also a reporter for the Tripod and manager of the freshman basketball and varsity lacrosse teams.

After graduating in 1963 with a B.A. in economics, you earned your M.B.A. at Harvard. You then served in the United States Army in the Pentagon in a wide range of planning and analysis positions with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Office of the Comptroller of the Army, and the Office of the Chief of Staff of the Army, once again demonstrating your capacity for the kind of counsel that clarifies and adds value. As a civilian, you enjoyed a distinguished career in banking and finance at Bankers Trust Company. There, you were the founding president of BT Securities. Before returning to Trinity, you served from 1994 to 1996 as assistant to the president of Saint Peter's College in Jersey City, New Jersey.

It is important to note that in the more than three decades of your career that bridge the time from graduation until your return to Trinity in 1996, you routinely found time to serve the College in various capacities. You were a member of the Board of Fellows, an alumni officer and volunteer, and, from 1992 to 1996, a member of the Board of Trustees and secretary of the Board.

Your close involvement with Trinity extends to your family, as your daughter Jane Reynolds Flynn is a member of the Class of 1992.

For the past 15 years you have served Trinity in the Office of the President and, twice, as interim vice president for finance. You were elected secretary of the College in 1998. During this period, you have consistently provided leadership that is both level-headed and transformational in grappling with some of the most sensitive affairs of the College.

For your long and distinguished service to Trinity, I have the honor of presenting you, Scott Walton Reynolds, Class of 1963, for the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

PATRICK JOSEPH WILSON

Doctor of Fine Arts

Presented by Gerald Moshell, Professor of Music

Escorted by John Platoff, Professor of Music

Patrick Wilson, you are a multifaceted artist whose broad range includes the stage, film, and music. You have the capacity to move audiences in settings as varied as a somber Arthur Miller play or a sprightly Broadway musical. You have followed your childhood dream to an ever more successful career in a highly competitive industry and have done so while keeping both your humility and your moral compass.

Born in Virginia and raised in St. Petersburg, Florida, you enjoyed success early, appearing in a variety of media and garnering a trove of awards almost from the day in 1995 when you graduated from Carnegie Mellon University with your Bachelor of Fine Arts degree.

In 1996 you launched your career on the stage, earning accolades in the national tours of Miss Saigon and Carousel. Three years later, you won a Drama League Award and were nominated for a Drama Desk Award for your performance in the off-Broadway production of Bright Lights, Big City. That same year, you made your Broadway debut, earning another Drama League Award for your performance in Gershwin's Fascinating Rhythm.

In 2000, you appeared in Tenderloin, and the following year your work in The Full Monty earned you your first Tony Award nomination. You also won a Drama League Award for that performance and Drama Desk and Outer Critics Circle Award nominations. In 2002 you were nominated for a Tony for your portrayal of Curly in the Broadway revival of Oklahoma.

In 2006 you starred in the Broadway revival of Barefoot in the Park. And in 2008 you appeared with John Lithgow, Dianne Wiest, and Katie Holmes in the revival of Arthur Miller's All My Sons.

Your work has not been limited to the stage. Indeed, you once said, "I refuse to acknowledge the gap between theatre and film. I want to do both, on both coasts." Fortunately for all of us, you have been successful on both coasts. While building your theatrical résumé, you have also done impressive work on television and in feature films. For example, in HBO's highly acclaimed 2003 adaptation of Tony Kushner's Angels in America, you earned Emmy, Golden Globe, and Satellite nominations.

You have also appeared in 20 films, including The Switch, Barry Munday, The A-Team, Evening, Lakeview Terrace, Passengers, Watchmen, Life in Flight, Purple Violets, Running with Scissors, Hard Candy, The Phantom of the Opera, Alamo, and the critically-acclaimed drama Little Children. You were nominated for Satellite awards for your work in The Phantom of the Opera and Little Children.

Between appearing in plays and film productions, you have also worked in a wide range of other settings. In 2001, for instance, you sang "The Street Where You Live," from My Fair Lady when Julie Andrews was honored at the Kennedy Center. In 2006, you narrated the PBS documentary Tampa Bay: Living Legacy. And last fall you sang "God Bless America" during the seventh inning stretch of game four of the American League Championship Series at Yankee Stadium.

For your performances in a wide range of plays and media and for your commitment to your craft, I have the honor of presenting you, Patrick Joseph Wilson, for the degree of Doctor of Fine Arts, honoris causa.

Charge to the Graduating Class

PRESIDENT JONES

XIV

Alma Mater: 'Neath the Elms

(arranged by Robert E. Smith, Composer-in-Residence)

THE TRINITY PIPES

'Neath the elms of our old Trinity,
'Neath the elms of our dear old Trinity,
No more shall we meet,
Our classmates to greet,
'Neath the elms of our old Trinity.

College days are from care and sorrow free.
And oft will we seek in memory
Those days that are past,
Far too joyous to last,
'Neath the elms of our old Trinity.

'Neath the elms of our old Trinity.
'Neath the elms of our dear old Trinity
Oh it's seldom we'll meet,
In the moonlight so sweet,
'Neath the elms of our old Trinity.

Then we'll sing to our old Trinity,
To our dear old Alma Mater, Trinity;
We're together today,
And tomorrow away,
Far away from our old Trinity.

On the hills of our old Trinity,
In the halls of our dear old Trinity,
There is bright merry cheer,
There are friends true and dear,
In the halls of our old Trinity.

Graduation Pledge

The Graduation Pledge is a voluntary pledge that states,

"I pledge to explore and take into account the social and environmental consequences of any job I consider and will try to improve these aspects of any organizations for which I work."

Started in 1985, the Pledge has been instituted at over 100 schools throughout the country. Trinity College is the first and only school in Connecticut to have instituted the Pledge, and since 2001, over 3,000 Trinity graduates have taken the Pledge.

The Academic Regalia

In 1895 a commission of leading American educators established the Intercollegiate Code pertaining to the academic costume. The color of the lining of the hood is that of the college or university conferring the degree. The edging of the hood and the tassel of the cap indicate the subject to which the degree pertains, in accordance with the following official designations for colleges and universities in the United States:

Agriculture	Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business	Drab
Dentistry	Lilac
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Engineering	Orange
Fine Arts, including Architecture	Brown
Forestry	Russet
Home Economics	Maroon
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Medicine	Green
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Oratory (Speech)	Silver Gray
Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Physical Education	Sage Green
Public Administration, including Foreign Service	Peacock Blue
Public Health	Salmon Pink
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Work	Citron
Theology	Scarlet
Veterinary Science	Gray

Trinity College differs from the above list because the colors of Trinity hoods were established prior to the formulation of the Code. Following are the colors of the academic hoods symbolizing the honorary degrees conferred by Trinity:

Doctor of Canon Law Crimson, lined with black	Doctor of Laws Scarlet, lined with dark blue
Doctor of Divinity Scarlet, lined with black	Doctor of Music White, lined with pink
Doctor of Fine Arts White, lined with white and a red chevron	Doctor of Sacred Theology Scarlet, lined with blue and a gold chevron
Doctor of Humane Letters Scarlet, lined with purple	Doctor of Science Black, lined with light blue
Doctor of Letters Scarlet, lined with russet brown	Master of Music Black, lined with pink
Doctor of Humanities White, lined with dark crimson

The Owen Morgan Mace

The mace, which precedes the president in academic processions, and is a symbol of his executive powers, was presented to Trinity in 1950 in memory of Owen Morgan, Class of 1906, who served his Alma Mater as a member of the Board of Fellows, as a Trustee, and as treasurer of the College. Historically, maces were first used as weapons in warfare and later became a symbol of the sovereign and his power. One of the first known uses of a mace by an educational institution was at Cambridge University in the thirteenth century. Today a number of colleges use the mace as a symbol of authority and of the power invested in the president by the faculty and trustees. The Morgan Mace is made of ebony, signifying endurance; bronze, meaning power; and gold, symbolizing dignity and glory. It is 44 inches long and weighs 20 pounds. The fluted staff represents the various components of an enduring education. It is bound by a gold ribbon, inscribed with the names of every Trinity president. On the head, or urn, of the mace are six seals of the sources of life and growth of this College: the Great Seal of the United States; the Seal of the State of Connecticut; the Charter Oak; the original seal of the City of Hartford; the Washington Coat of Arms; and the seal of the Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut. Surmounting the Gothic urn is the Trinity College seal crowned by an eagle about to take flight, symbolizing the freedom and power of an educated person.

The Presidential Collar

The collar, which is worn on ceremonial occasions, is the visible symbol of the president's high office and authority. The collar was presented to the College in 1953 by former President G. Keith Funston, Class of 1932, in memory of his grandmother, Maria Briggs Keith. The chain symbolically links modern higher education with the universities of yesteryear. The golden seal of the Trinity President hangs from the collar which is fashioned of 20 replicas of the Trinity Elms and seven silver seals including the six reproduced in the mace, and the Trinity College seal superimposed on a triangle representing the religious foundations of the College crowned by a sun signifying enlightenment. In the lower corners of the triangle are the Book and a pair of student's hands extended to receive it, symbolizing the desire of youth to receive an education.
