Come, Thou almighty King,

'Neath the Elms

'Neath the elms of our old Trinity,
'Neath the elms of our dear old Trinity,
Oh it's seldom we'll meet,
In the moonlight so sweet,
'Neath the elms of our old Trinity.

Then we'll sing to our old Trinity,
To our dear old Alma Mater, Trinity;
We're together today,
And tomorrow away,
Far away from our old Trinity.

College days are from care and sorrow
free,
And oft will we see in memory
Those days that are past,
Far too joyous to last,
'Neath the elms of our old Trinity.

'Neath the elms of our old Trinity,
'Neath the elms of our dear old Trinity,
No more shall we meet,
Our classmates to greet,
'Neath the elms of our old Trinity.

Hymn

Almighty Father, strong to save,
Whose arm hath bound the restless wave,
Who bidd'st the mighty ocean deep
Its own appointed limits keep:
O hear us when we cry to thee
For those in peril on the sea.

O Spirit, whom the Father sent
To spread abroad the firmament;
O Wind of heaven, by thy might
Save all who dare the eagle's flight,
And keep them by thy watchful care
From every peril in the air.

O Christ, the Lord of hill and plain
O'er which our traffic runs amain
By mountain pass or valley low;
Wherever, Lord, thy brethren go,
Protect them by thy guarding hand
From every peril on the land.

O Trinity of love and power,
Our brethren shield in danger's hour;
From rock and tempest, fire and foe,
Protect them wheresoe'er they go;
Thus evermore shall rise to thee
Glad praise from air and land and sea.
Amen.

Conferring of Honorary Degrees

GEORGE MALCOLM-SMITH, '25

Master of Arts, Honoris Causa

Hic Pegasus alumnus, praeses honorande, super aethera vectus ita perequavit illos virentiores Parnassi colles ut deceat huic bene salso scriptori et ichnographo qui plebeium cognomen insigne fecit lauream Apollinarem conferre. Quam ob rem hunc fabulatorem vegetum qui clamores in scaena apud perilluminatam viam metropolitanam in phantasmatica quoque spelunca apud nostram Hesperiam Sybarim excitavit; virum etiam iucundum qui per motus aeris vibrantes transmisit illa calida et cacophata carmina nostri Afro-Americani Bacchi cuius quidem capripedes Satyri nomine sane omine Iobacchus Spanier et Bromius Monk et Titubatus Gillespie, tuba terribili saltuatim liquefaciunt, Platone acriter obiurgante, corpora animasque nostrae iuventutis; alumnum qui non solum rerum damno sed etiam lucro almae matris deditum, ad te duco, Georgium Malcolm-Smith.

This alumnus, Mr. President, felt, as the title of one of his novels shows, that "the grass is always greener" on the slopes of Parnassus, and so he mounted his Pegasus and has coursed so well those arduous slopes as novelist, cartoonist, humorist that his alma mater may now cut a twig of Apollo's laurel and deck a brow which through merit has distinguished the cognomen of Smith. I present to you for Trinity's honor a son who has made us mindful of him as a writer of lively novels, a stage play on Broadway, a movie in Hollywood; a delectable "disk-jockey," learned in the "bop" and "cool" dithyrambs of our Afro-American Dionysus, Jazz, whose happy-footed Satyrs, Mugsy Spanier, Thalonious Monk, and Dizzy Gillespie, liquefy with their saxophones, to Plato's horror, the body and the soul; a successful alumnus in insurance who serves his College well with his happy talents—George Malcolm-Smith.

CLARENCE NEWTON WESLEY

Master of Arts, Honoris Causa

O nostri discipuli libro patrio nuper tacti, liceat mihi exemplum patris illius vatis qui nec Lesboum refugit tendere barbiton memoranti vobis digito monstrare hunc modestum gazae moderatorem quae mirifice Christiano maiorum nostrorum more ad res humanas fovendas conlata est. Si quidem Dei angelus studio recolens forte beneficia recenseret huius viri in aegros et pauperes et ad spermaticam nostram iuventutem educandam magnopere iterum resonaret, O Amor divinus et praestans, illa psalmisona metra quae generis eius auctor, ille perfervidus et peripateticus sacerdos, primum expressit. Quapropter hunc virum e ventosa urbe profectum, cuius quidem virtutes quasi saburra nostram navem proprie gravitant et immo edepol liberalitates eius quasi taciti intus annosae quercus anuli vitas omnium nostrum crescunt ad te duco, Clarence Newton Wesley.

Wise was Horace's father who took his son to the Forum and supplemented his son's education in books and theories by pointing out to him for emulation men of virtue. Even so may I commend to our departing seniors the life of this modest and self-effacing steward of a great fortune, transformed Christian-wise and American-wise into a philanthropic foundation. Well might the recording Angel of Heaven, reviewing this man's benefactions to the poor and the sick, to youth, that seed of democracy, say of this descendant of John Wesley those words of the Methodist Hymn, "Love Divine, all love excelling." I take pleasure, Mr. President, in presenting to you a man whose life shows that the stability of America needs no welfare state if it has the ballast of such men. Honor with honor due this Illinois American whose eminence lives quietly as rings of gratitude in the growing tree of human lives—Clarence Newton Wesley.

FRAZAR BULLARD WILDE

Master of Arts, Honoris Causa

In illo salutifero sermone in monte bene dictum est: et quicumque te angariaverit mille passus, vade cum illo alia duo. Haud secus hic peripateticus Quiris noster qui amoeniter ambulat ultra ultimum urbis miliarium, semper angariat alia duo non solum in officiis publicis et privatis sed etiam cum pro patria contra Pancho Villam et postea illos redivivos Arminios militavit. Hunc igitur ducem in rebus securis facientis et studio conservatorem securitatis ipsius, qui ex tabellario munere ad supremum ascendit gradum societatis quae viridarium abdito flumine superat; virum etiam vivida animi vi imbutus ad rem publicam et familiarem tuendam hic et alibi; civem quoque optime merentem honorem quem daturus es ad te duco, Frazar Bullard Wilde.

In one of those homely metaphors of advice in the Sermon on the Mount, it is said "Whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain." This citizen of Hartford, who loves walking—outwalking the furthest city light in striding pleasure—has always walked the second mile in devotion to his work, to his country in the field of battle, and to his community. I present to you a leader in insurance who has risen from mail-boy to the presidency of the Connecticut General, and who through his work in the Institute of Life Insurance is insuring insurance itself; a man who in many local, state, and national organizations has shown an x-ray vision in the causes of good government and sound economic thought; a citizen who deserves the honor you are about to bestow upon him—Frazar Bullard Wilde.

ANSON THEODORE McCOOK, '02

Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa

O curiae Trinitenses muros in honorem plausibus et acclamatione iteratis resonare docete quod videtis hunc virum qui ex illustri nostra Scipiada McCook gente omnium officiorum observantissima ortus sit ob pietatem in diplomatibus veteranis inscriptam coronari. Hunc igitur alumnorum filium et fratrem et patrum, hoc die festivo cum sodalibus quinquaginta annis peractis gaudentem, virum doctum qui non solum apud nos valedicentis et optimi honore laureatus est, Tersichore nihilominus fidibus cantata, sed verum societati Minervae nostrae praesentem, militem civemque quem mehercle nemo impune lacessit, togatum quoque consiliarium in Cincinnatorum ordine, multarum etiam causarum pro bono publico auctorem, fidelem postremo alumnum qui aequae ut omnes viri McCook, sive lucem aspicientes sive eheu Elysios campos lustrantes, spe ad bene vivendum imbutus est, nam illic, praeses honorande, radices, illic fundamenta nostra, ad te feliciter duco, Anson Theodorum McCook.

On the discharge papers of a soldier who has done his duty are the simple words: Service, Honest and Faithful. And any certificate of merit which Trinity may give to any of its long line of Fighting McCooks, who have served their Country and their College with such nobility, must be of Honor; and I therefore charge you, Mr. President, amidst the joy of all Trinity men, to honor on this,

the occasion of his fiftieth reunion, this member of the McCook family, who has fulfilled with such distinction every obligation that can fall upon a citizen, a scholar, a soldier, and a servant of God. I present to you the President of our Phi Beta Kappa Society, who was graduated Valedictorian and Optimus [all A's] and yet found time to court Terpsichore in the Mandolin Club; a soldier-citizen who has served his country in battle and as policy-making leader of the American Legion; a respected lawyer with a proud record of causes pro bono publico; a faithful alumnus who, like all McCooks living and dead, has become a symbol of the hope upon which this college was founded—Anson Theodore McCook.

LUCIUS DUBIGNON CLAY

Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa

In memoria habes, praeses honorande, illas raptas aquilas et, vae victis, Augustum vociferantem "Quintili Vare, legiones redde!" Arma virumque cano sed iam nostra et nostrum qui circumdatus haud procul illo Teutoburgiensi saltu nostras aquilas Daedalicas in aethera misit ut panem substantialem demitterent, Musa maximos plausus Beroliniensi celeris famae volatui impertiente. Ob tenacem in patriae discrimine virtutem, quae animam nostram recreavit, hunc Martialis academiae alumnus, cuius quidem in machinis fabricandis monumenta mehercle, si ita dicam, pontem flumini Heracliteo memorabilem imponent, imperatorem porro antiquum patriae morem gerentem qui exemplari hisce iam iam exituris alumnis est, ad te duco honoris causa, Lucium Dubignon Clay.

Unlike Quintilius Varus, Mr. President, who lost his Roman Eagles when surrounded in the Teutoborgian forest of Germany, this distinguished general raised his American Eagles to heaven, when ringed in Berlin by the might of Russia, and in an epic destined to live long in American annals, known as the Berlin Airlift, dropped manna from Heaven to the cause of freedom. For his cool and resolute courage in a razor's edge crisis of our country, courage which raised the prestige of democracy, I present to you for Trinity's honoring this outstanding graduate of West Point, whose engineering achievements in behalf of his country in peace and in war will cantilever his name on the buttresses of time; a general who has served his country in the best American tradition; one who has come into our midst today to inspire these young men with a life of honor through service—Lucius Dubignon Clay.

STEPHEN AUGUST HURLBUT

Doctor of Humane Letters, Honoris Causa

Hic candidatus ita Dei amore imbutus est ut Creatorem magnificet per libros sacros typis mirifice manu exscriptos, mirum quoque in modum illuminatos, imagines vero ipsius beatae originis quam illi carminum libri medii aevi, spiritu divino tacti, psallunt. Ecce in bibliotheca nostra libros nomine Hortus Conclusus et Imago Caelestium Hierosolymorum, pia et venusta dona quae nec minimum decus merent. Quapropter hunc virum doctum et probum artificem quem liceat mihi laudare litteris illius dulcisonae linguae de qua per multos annos in Schola Sancta Albanensi praecepit, psalmographum etiam praestantem qui porro nos sui memores fecit per labores in libris sacris scribendis et in bibliotheca Quirinalis cathedralis curandis, Ecclesiae fidelissimum, cuius humillimi quidem vita ipsa rubrica quasi Alpha pietatis est et idcirco honoris Omega nostro digna, ad te duco, Stephanum Augustum Hurlbut.

The love of God, Mr. President, has been a creative force in the life of this man, who has praised his Maker through the skill of hand in printing and illustrating those canticles of the Creation and of the life beatific known as Medieval Latin Hymns. His Hortus Conclusus and Picture of the Heavenly Jerusalem, as displayed in our Library, are such oblations of beauty that they richly merit Trinity's magnificat, made more dulcet for him because it is uttered in the language he has taught to generations of youth in St. Alban's School. I take therefore pleasure in presenting to you this unique craftsman and scholar, who is one of the best liturgiologists and hymnologists of our Country and our Church; the librarian-emeritus of Washington Cathedral; a man whose very life is a beauteous rubric of devotion—Stephen Augustus Hurlbut.

FRANK LEAROYD BOYDEN and HELEN CHILDS BOYDEN

Doctors of Humane Letters, Honoris Causa

Magne noster Geni ecce primum in honoris rostro hosce coniugales ludi magistris qui singulares sibi exegerunt monumentum aere perennius in illis cervipratensibus campis ultra collegium (nobis semper dilectum) cuius quidem nomen florebit donec Sol non redire possit. In schola illustri hic locata optimis cum auspiciis per quinquaginta annos mutuis animis vitam iuventutis formaverunt antiquo more et fide illa quae, ut epistolographus salubris ait, montes movet. Ob rerum splendorem gestarum in aethera surgentem instar illorum culminum quae inter lucidos campos ecclesias nostras simplices in munditiis adornant hunc nostratrem Socraten et, si ita dicam, non Xanthippen sed melius animae dimidium, Mantuani quoque vici incolas qui non solum carmine sub tegmine fagi sed per labores horum bene perfunctos meliore fama dignus est, ad te duco hosce bene amatos hic et alibi, Franciscum Learoyd et Helenam Childs Boyden.

This unique couple, honored uniquely in Trinity tradition, have reared for themselves a monument of the American pioneer spirit in education. Deerfield Academy their happy seat, with Providence their guide, hand in hand, for half a century they have been moulding with New England simplicity the lives of generations of young men, having in every boy the faith that moves mountains. So outstanding has been their achievement that their splendor rises like a New England spire amid the fields of light. I present to you therefore for Trinity's merited honor this Yankee Socrates along with his better half, residents of historic Deerfield, worthy of a Virgilian Eclogue, which they have made more historic by their dedicated lives of service to American youth—Frank Learoyd and Helen Childs Boyden.

ROSEMARY PARK

Doctor of Letters, Honoris Causa

Haec venusta candidata, praeses honorande, exemplaria illius docti magi nocturna versavit manu quae ad virtutem animas alchymica quadam mutatione conducunt: qui non haecce elementa cognoscit non genios in sua potestate habet. Quare in docendo nostra perdocta amica ex illis magicis verborum elementis illam nervosam Musarum Rhenigenarum dulcedinem evocavit et deinde in decani officio ex naturae ipsius habitu prope divino illam concordiam omnium ordinum ad res gerendas conspiravit. Ob labores feliciter perfunctos praeses illius praeclarae et sane sororiae Academiae creata est super illum fluvium eminentis quem letiferae submersae Vulcaneco afflatu naves quasi rariae torpedines transnatant. Hanc igitur illustrem Aspasianae Academiae alumnam Heliconea quoque corona in turrato Ubiorum oppido coronatam, in fabula etiam de illis poculo amatorio in furorem versis amantibus eruditam qui illum Rhodopeum vatem et miseram Eurydicen nobis memorant, praeceptorem immo edepol quae non solum Dianae puellis sed ipsi doctrinae adiumento est, ad te duco, Rosemary Park.

This gracious candidate, Mr. President, conned well those lines of Faust, essential in the alchemy of success: "He who does not know these, the elements, will not be a master of the spirits." As a professor of German she evoked from the magic elements of words the great spirits of her literature; as a Dean she evoked from the more magic elements of human nature the spirit of corporate enterprise in the achievement of high ideals. Because she fulfilled her duties with imaginative excellence, she was soon called to the Presidency of Connecticut College, a truly sister institution as eminent as her hill overlooking the snorkel-teeming Thames. Let me now present to you this distinguished alumna of Radcliffe College and of the University of Cologne; an authority on those hapless lovers Tristan and Isolde and their Liebestod; a president who has made a significant contribution not only to her college but to education in general—Rosemary Park.

JOHN HEUSS, JR.

Doctor of Divinity, Honoris Causa

Huic viro reverendo, qui magno ingenio et labore Christi Viam in scholis et collegiis propagavit, maximam gratiam habemus quod id pueris praecepit, ut sine Deo mortalia nostra tela non extra longe flammantia mundi moenia procedant. Quid multa? Hunc igitur alumnum Sancti Stephani Collegii, cui immo symbolum Minerva et Deus postea maius opus in ecclesiis assignaverunt, sacerdotem suaviloquentem qui artem Chrysostomeam in illa hesperia schola docuit quae ex nomine fautoris nostri episcopi nuncupata est, rectorem nuper rite creatum illius ecclesiae Trinitatis Neoboracensis quam in Vitae dispensatione Aeternae ad res altiores educet (nam excelsior eius celsa turris conclamat) aequae ut spermaticam doctrinam in multis muneribus ei commissis, honorem quem daturus bene de ecclesia bene de nobis merentem ad te duco, Iohannem Heuss, Iohannis filium.

This servant of God, through his recent work as Chairman of the Division of College Work and Director of Christian Education of the Episcopal Church, has been making our youth aware that our earthly missiles always make too short an arc and that to send the spirit on further than target ever showed we need the arc of God. He has done this great work with such distinction that he is worthy of our honor. I therefore present to you this alumnus of St. Stephen's, adorned with the golden key of "the seven-fold sophie of Minerve," who after praising the Lord through labor in various parishes and as lecturer in homiletics at Seabury Western Seminary, was recently called to the Rectorship of historic Trinity Church in New York, whose faithful stewardship of the Life Eternal he will serve even as devotedly as he has every other of the many trusts committed to him by the Church—John Heuss, Jr.
