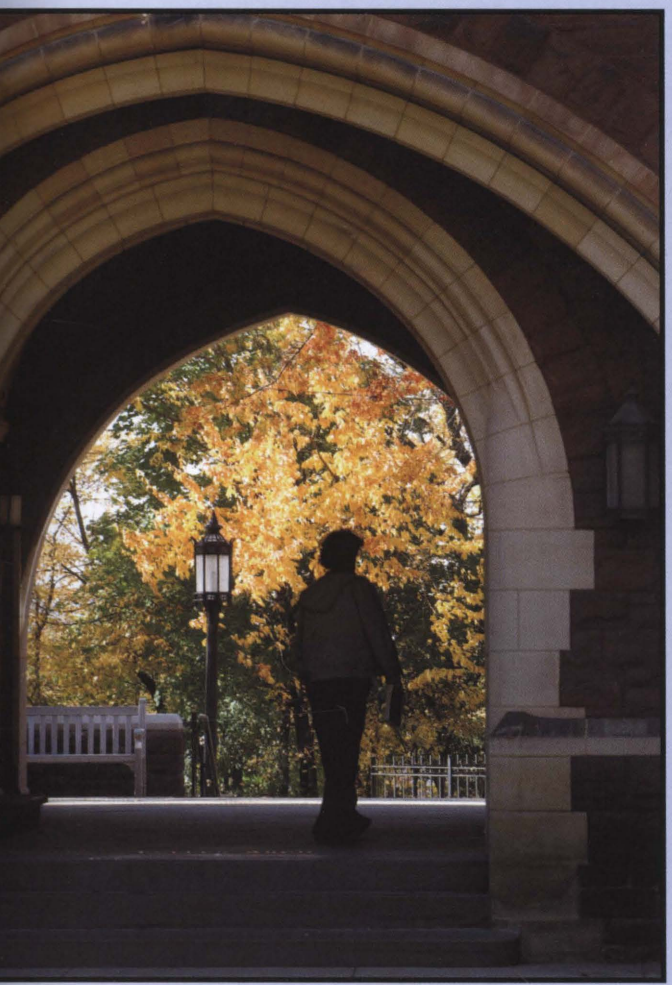
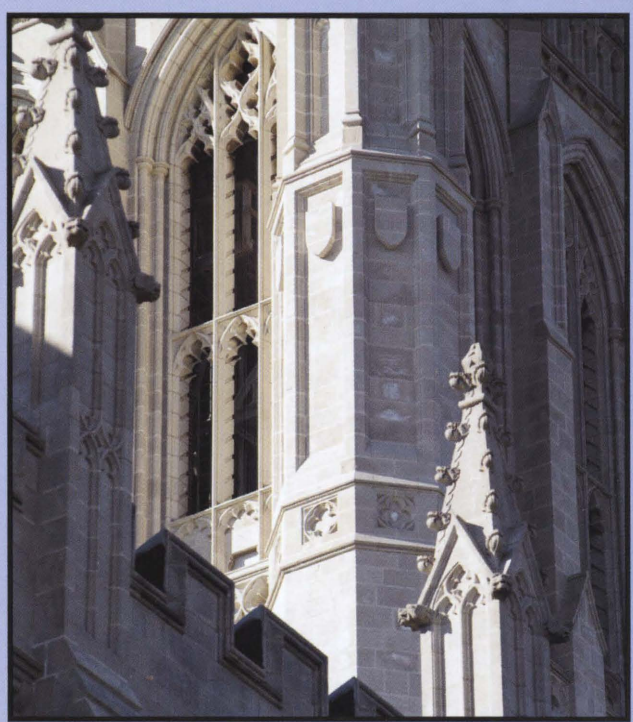
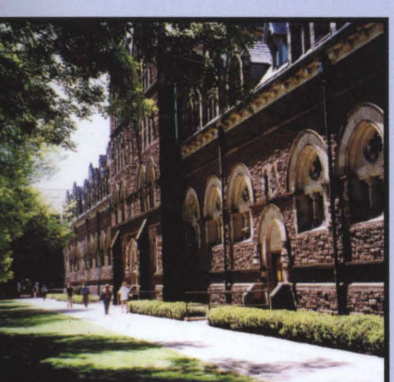
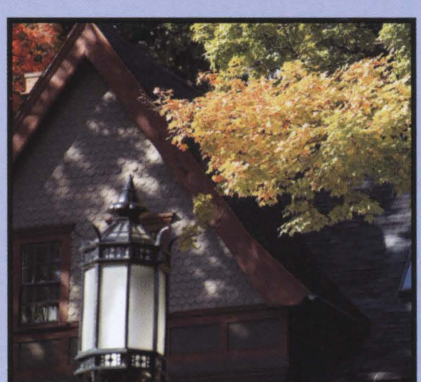
A Dedication To Dr. Sharon Herzberger

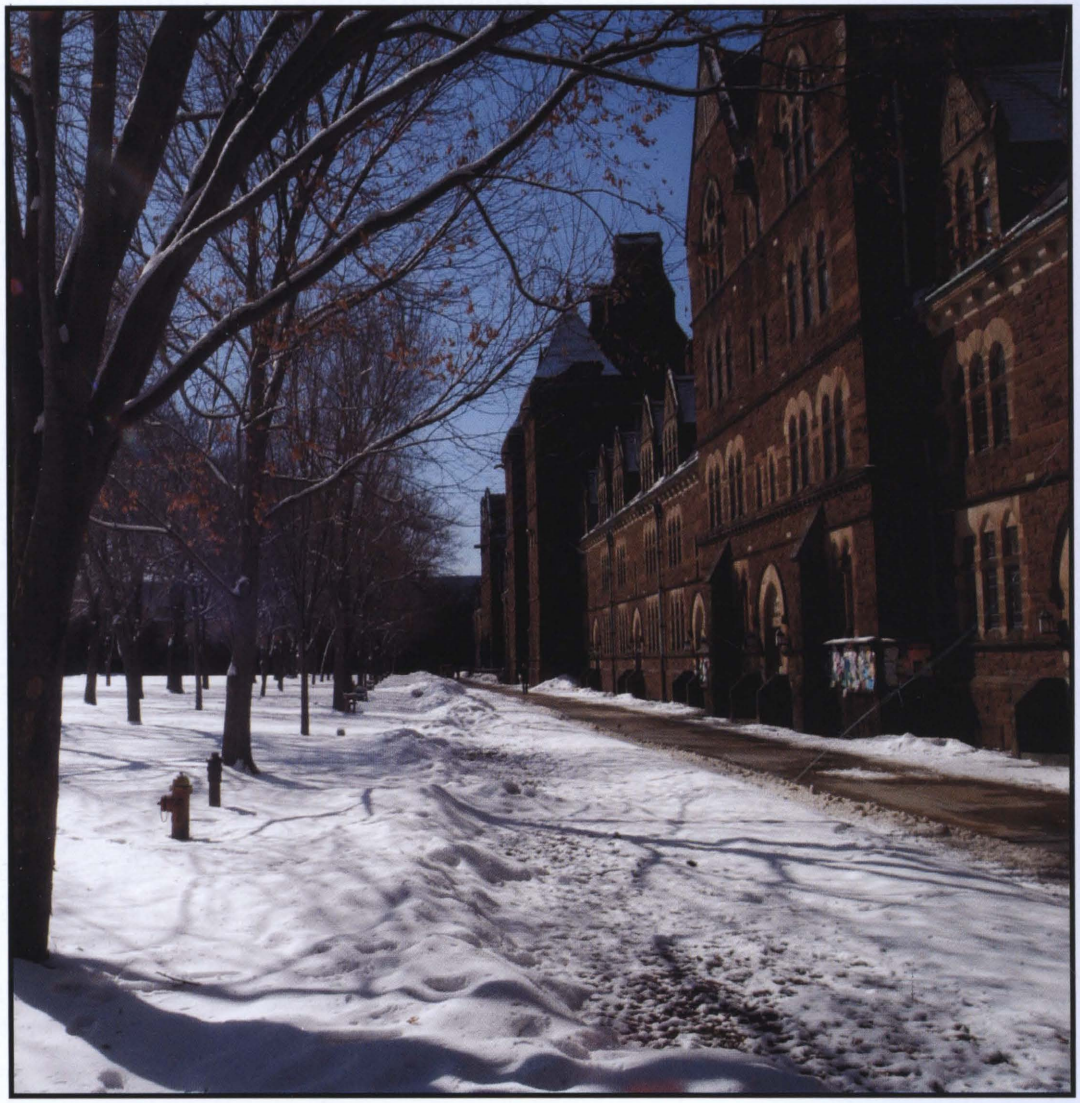
A valued member of the Trinity community for 25 years, we dedicate this yearbook to Dr. Sharon Herzberger, Vice President for Institutional Planning and Administration and Professor of Psychology. A woman of vision and commitment, determination and principles, Dr. Herzberger has spent her Trinity career championing the well-being of students in and out of the classroom, helping them to reach their highest potential. We wish her well as she takes on the challenges of the Presidency of Whittier College and want to thank her for her dedicated service and remarkable leadership over the years.

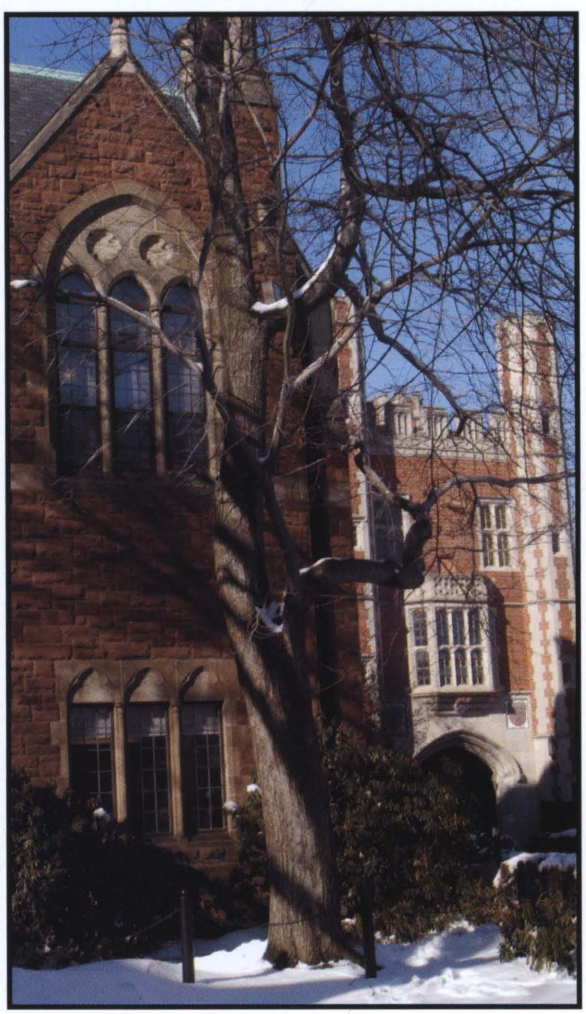


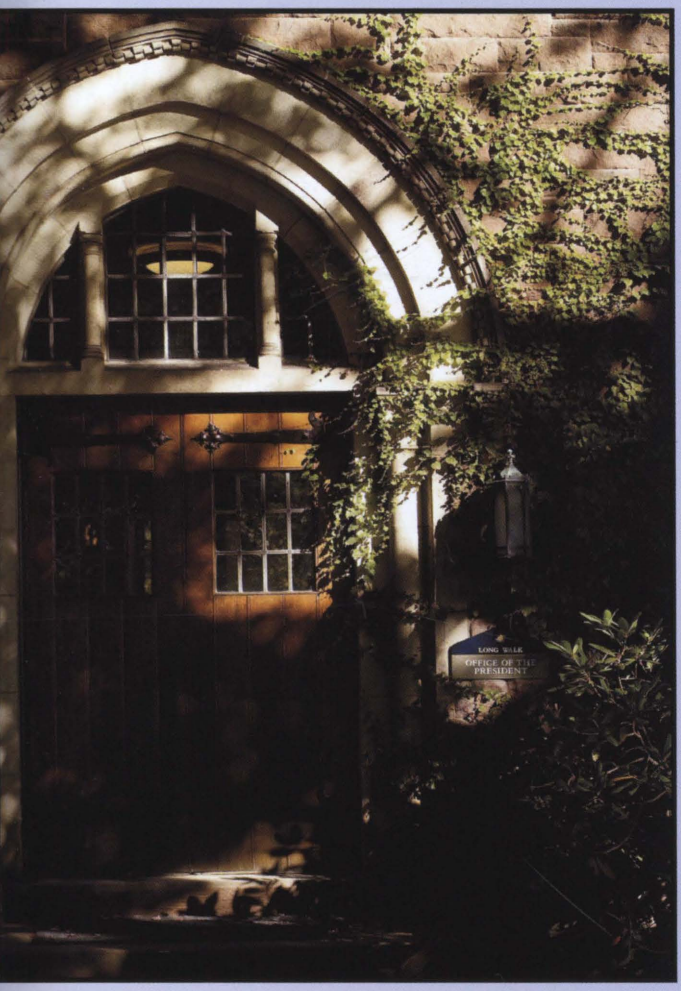












LONG WALK
OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

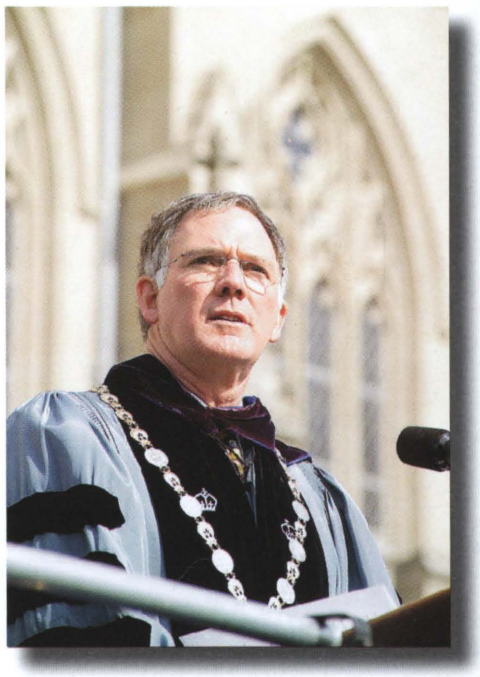
PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURATION

James F. Jones, Jr. Inaugurated as Trinity College President:



James F. Jones, Jr. was inaugurated as the 21st president of Trinity College on Sunday, October 16, 2004. More than 1,500 alumni, students, and guests gathered on the main quad to celebrate the occasion, during which Jones accepted a warm welcome from dignitaries, distinguished alumni, and educators and shared his views on the past, present, and future state of higher learning and the importance of liberal arts education.

The inauguration was preceded by a colorful academic procession, including Trinity faculty and more than 85 delegates from other colleges and universities, and a welcoming address by former Trinity Trustee William C. Richardson '62, also president emeritus of Johns Hopkins University and president and CEO of the Kellogg Foundation. Following greetings from parent, student, faculty, staff, and alumni representatives, Hartford Mayor Eddie Perez '96 welcomed Jones and his wife, Jan, to Hartford.

As the new president, Jones received the four traditional symbols of the Trinity presidency, the Mace, the Book, the Key, and the Presidential Collar. The Owen Morgan Mace stands for the president's new executive power; it is made of ebony, signifying endurance; bronze, meaning power; and gold, symbolizing dignity and glory. The Book has been placed in the hands of every Trinity graduate at Commencement since 1827, and signifies the delegation of responsibility to the president for maintaining the educational activities for which Trinity was founded. The Key, which symbolizes the turning over of the physical properties of the College to the president, is made of bronze and is one of the keys that turned the original lock in the door of Williams Memorial. The Presidential Collar, which is worn on ceremonial occasions, is the visible symbol of the president's high office and authority.

Welcome to Trinity President Jones! We're happy you are here.

"To Be an Angel, One Need Not Have Wings"

To be an angel, one need not have wings.
In giving love there is an equal grace.
Nor need one seek the aura in the face,
As love unveils the beauty of all things.
~Francois Couperin

Jess, your gentle spirit touched us all.
We thank you for being an angel in our lives.
There are no words to express how much we love and miss you.
You are forever in our hearts and we will take you wherever we go.
Love, Your Friends at Trinity College

"A youth well spent provides the confidence and wisdom to carry one successfully into the joys and responsibilities of adulthood". . .

You've suffered . . . through 2 agonizing knee surgeries.
You've sacrificed . . . with no car, limited party funds, and 2 summers of painful PT.
You've tested your nerve . . . by scaling tall buildings by flashlight.
You've tested your reserves . . . via all-nighters cranking out essays.
You've challenged your natural limits (not to mention authority and common sense) . . . by making a cross country road trip in 40 hours.
You've stood up for what is right . . . fighting for your place in the beer line.
You've taken it when you've been wrong; . . . you always do.
You've stood by family and friends . . . accompanying your mom to chemotherapy and friends to the ER.
You've gone International, Bambino . . . Cesare en l'italia, l'egitto et la spagna.

And through it all . . . you've done it on your own, your way, and with smiling eyes always focused forward.

You've got what it takes, C-Nelly!

Love from Mamamia, Papa, J-Nel, Maddy and Zack!

Meredith Alcarese, Patricia Allen, Sarah Bell, Lauren Bland, Cara Bowman, Shannon Brennan, Jonathan Chesney, Keith Clark, Adam Cohen, Jeremy Freeman, Margaret Gatti, Cheryl Gerber, Patricia Glennon, Edna Guerrasio, Ayres Heller, Priya Kalyan-Masih, Jacqueline Katz, David Kelly, Erin Kinney, Matthew Kozlowski, Joanna Kulesz, Jeffrey LaPennas, John LaPorta, Benjamin Leong, Emily Malbon, Emily Maletta, Valeria McFarren, Beckwith Miller, Brittany Olwine, Adam Pangilinan, Deepti Paturi, Lesley Peterson, Lydia Potter, Edwin Pratt, Mark Romeo, Assia Svinarova, Timothy Szal

It seemed like yesterday when Lysa and I approached the Ivy table at the activities fair. While we were simply underclassmen who wanted their candy, two years later we found ourselves head of the Ivy staff. Since then we have driven the Ivy advisor, Susan Rodney, to near insanity. In fact, this past January we drove her all the way to culinary school. Regardless, we thank her for her support in the earliest stages of this yearbook. By the way Susan, we named one computer after you.

My greatest contribution to the Ivy was convincing Abigail Moldover to join the staff. Not only was she the most reliable photo editor, she was always ready to take up new tasks and responsibilities. There would be no yearbook without her. Lysa Magazu stuck with the yearbook longer than any one of us had. Her interesting sense of humor kept us through all the long meetings. And yes Lysa, you are pretty!

While I originally recruited Jesse Co to fix our computers, he truly went above and beyond his call of duty. I will never understand how he worked so well under pressure. Elizabeth Harris persevered through times of difficulty and helped complete the sports section. For that we will always be grateful.

And to the faithful underclassmen Adrienne Gaffney and Summer Cannon, I have no doubt that both of you will become great editors someday. While Kristen Blake only joined us in late April, her positive attitude and words of encouragement were exactly what we needed to pull all of this together. I wish her the best of luck with the Ivy in the future.

There are too many people along the way who I cannot thank enough. To the Class of 2005, I have no doubt that we have all grown in many ways during our stay. While Trinity will always have a place in our hearts, I hope that this yearbook can serve as a reflection on our years together, and keep our memories of "Camp Trin-Trin" from fading. Until we meet again, good luck with your future aspirations. –Jane Li
