FOREWORD

AT THE older universities of Oxford and Cambridge it is the custom to have long vacations which are used by the undergraduates for the purpose of study. During term time they attend some lectures and do some reading in constant conferences with their advisers, but the main educational endeavor is directed upon the opportunities of the vacations. Here in this country the time of our summer vacations goes back to the agricultural days when man power of students was needed back on the farm.

The intensity of the teaching program of the ordinary American college is such that most of the faculty and some of the students need time for refreshment during vacation months. On the other hand, there is no real reason why the educational processes in this country should cease in early June.

Although our summer resorts are still crowded with college students who would more or less grace and decorate mountain camps, yacht clubs, and beaches, there is an increasing demand for instruction in summer schools which persists in spite of hot weather. We feel, therefore, that Trinity College in offering a summer school program is properly fulfilling its responsibilities.

R. B. OGILBY, President.

TRINITY COLLEGE offers the following courses for its summer school of 1939. Credit is given for these courses—toward a Bachelor's Degree for all and toward a Master's Degree for some. Although Trinity College does not award the Bachelor's Degree to women, all summer school classes are open to both men and women, and credit can be transferred to other colleges awarding such a degree. No student will be permitted to receive credit in courses totalling more than six semester hours.

All classes will be held at the indicated hours five days a week July 3 to August 12 in classrooms and laboratories on the campus. These buildings are fairly cool even on hottest days. Information concerning the exact building and room may be obtained at the time of registration.

Early registration is desired. If the blank on the inside back cover is sent in by June 11 with a registration fee of one dollar, this fee will be deducted later from the charge for tuition. The registration fee will be retained if paid later than this date. Final registration may be made July 1 and July 3 from 9:00 to 12:00 in Boardman Hall.

The Director of the Summer School, Dr. Irwin A. Buell, will be glad to answer any questions concerning credits, admission requirements, et cetera.

MATHEMATICS: ANALYTIC GEOMETRY, AND THE CALCULUS. Because of the probable small size of this class, this course will be conducted on the basis of individual instruction, each student working by himself under the guidance of the instructor. This makes it possible for a student to begin at any point with either of the two subjects, to proceed at his own pace, and to attend one or both periods of instruction depending upon his ambitions and his need for assistance.

Time: 8:20 to 9:35 and 9:35 to 10:50. Credit: Three semester hours for each period.

Professor in charge: H. M. Dadourian, Ph.D.

Fee: $25.00 for each period.

MATHEMATICS: TRIGONOMETRY AND ADVANCED ALGEBRA. The course in algebra is for those who have had two years of algebra in high school and desire further training in this field. Trigonometry is an elementary course.

Time: Algebra, 8:20 to 9:35; Trigonometry, 9:35 to 10:50.

Credit: Three semester hours for each subject.

Professor in charge: Alfred K. Mitchell, Ph.D.

Fee: $25.00 for each subject.

Either subject may be taken separately if desired.

PHYSICS: GENERAL PHYSICS. An elementary course of college grade for those that have had little or no physics.

Time: Lecture 8:20 to 9:20, laboratory 9:20 to 11:20, lecture 11:20 to 12:10. Credit: Equivalent to Physics I of the winter schedule.

Professor in charge: Arthur P. R. Wadlund, Ph.D.

Fee: $60.00.

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY. PSYCHOLOGY OF THE LEARNING PROCESS. This course aims to study the fundamental processes involved in the child's reaction to his environment and his response to the teaching process. It involves the consideration of sensation, perception, and the origin and growth of memory, and the grouping of ideas in a stream of thought; the formation and elimination of habit responses; the significance of motivation and intelligence in learning. The association processes involved in learning will be considered, the economical methods of learning noted, and the more recent results of experimentation on learning illustrated and discussed. This is an advanced course in this field.

Time: 8:20 to 9:35. Credit: Three semester hours.
Professor in charge: Carl Lewis Altmaier, Ph.D.
Fee: $25.00.

PSYCHOLOGY. ADVANCED GENERAL PSYCHOLOGY. A course in advanced general psychology for those who have had an elementary course in the subject. Lectures, discussions, laboratory experiments.

Time: 9:35 to 10:50. Credit: Three semester hours.
Professor in charge: Robert B. W. Hutt, Ph.D.
Fee: $28.00.

SOCIOLOGY: SOCIAL PROBLEMS. A study of the biological, psychological, and cultural factors in social life; problems of education, unemployment, crime, the care of the aged, marriage and divorce, poverty, the homeless, the immigrant, the feeble-minded, public health, et cetera, considered in the light of sociological principles. Attention to proposed panaceas.
