THE TRINITY TABLET

Commencement Week

JUNE 21-26, 1901

S. D. C.

THE last banquet of the year was given on Friday evening June 21, at the Hotel Hartford, by the Sophomore Dining Club. A number of the newly initiated members from the incoming Sophomore class were present, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. W. S. Trumbull, 1903, called for the following toasts: "1903," by Van Tine, 1904; "The Faculty," by R. E. Peck, 1901; "1904," by Morgan, 1903; "Athletics," by Brown, 1901; "Trinity," by Weibel, 1902; "Future of S. D. C.," by Evans, 1901.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK GERMAN

THE sixth Trinity German was given in Alumni Hall on Friday evening June 21. A large number of the graduates and former members were present. The leaders were M. W. Clement, 1901, and C. H. Wheeler, 1901.

 SENIOR DRAMATICS

ON Saturday evening the annual Senior Dramatics were given in Alumni Hall before a large audience of alumni and visitors. The farce given was "Serious Situations in Burleigh's Room," and it was most enjoyable in every respect, its only fault being its brevity. The characters in the play were all admirably suited to the men who took them. Morehouse as Shreedy, the prizefighter, amused the audience greatly, his make-up causing no small amount of laughter. Walker and Van De Water, who took the ladies' parts, were also very popular with the audience. No small part of the evening's entertainment was furnished by the programs gotten up by Wales, 1901. They contained many good local hits and humorous remarks, and formed most pleasing souvenirs of the occasion. The cast of the play was:

Stephen White,	Charles Hathern Wheeler
Ned Burleigh,	Hugh Dempster Wilson, Jr.
Jack Randolph,	Harold Huntington Rudd
Patrick Shreedy,	Frank Stephen Morehouse
Mrs. White,	James Merryman Walker
Miss White,	Arthur Reginald Van De Water

 BACCALAUREATE SERMON

THE baccalaureate sermon was preached on Sunday evening at Christ Church, by the Rt. Rev. Henry Codman Potter, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of New York. The church was crowded with friends of the college, students, and members of the faculty.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES

A LARGE number of friends and visitors were gathered on the campus Monday afternoon, to witness the Class Day exercises of the class of 1901. An unusually strong delegation of graduates was present, and the faculty was also well represented. The program was greatly enjoyed by all present.

At three o'clock Colt's Band, in front of Middle Jarvis, began playing, and the seniors, in caps and gowns, marched out to the circle of chairs before Northam Towers.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The President's address was delivered by Hugh Dempster Wilson, Jr., of New York City. He spoke in part as follows:

"Friends of the class, who have gathered here to-day to witness our Class Day exercises, it is with a word of hearty welcome that I greet you in opening our program. Class Day is the occasion which seems to culminate most emphatically the four years of college life, and the thought that ours is the first of the new century gives a tinge of additional color to the occasion. To some of you, these scenes are new ones—to you we extend our warmest welcome. To others of you, Class Day and its associations are familiar—to you we feel that we need hardly express the welcome which you have also received. . . . College mates, let us to-day have one more good time together, with at least a seemly amount of our wonted hilarity. Some of you are to take up the legacy of running the affairs of the coming year—you, we hope, will prove a credit to your position. And last, though far from least, for you who are to temper the verdancy of 1905, our hopes are greatest."

 THE HISTORY

The next number was the class history by Frank Stephen Morehouse of South Kent, Conn. His address was very interesting, and contained many good hits on members of the class. The speaker's delivery was good, and the audience gave the closest attention to the history. In conclusion the historian said :

“ So here we are—twenty-eight of us—who have withstood the fray, and to whom Trinity will soon be a memory, and a pleasant memory too; for, as we go out, we forget anything which may have been unpleasant, and recall only the bright side. And as the future looms up before us, may that good training which Trinity has given us stand us in good stead and help us to come out triumphant at the end.”

THE POEM

The class poem was then read by Frank Halsey Foss of Norwich, Conn. Extracts are given :

“ The sun will soon be setting,
 The evening sky begetting
 Rich radiant hues of promise rare and bright.
 Our manhood is arising,
 And fain we 'd be surmising
 That we as stars adorn the coming night.

“ These visions of the past will flow swift thro' our dream,
 Like ripples on the surface of a gentle stream;
 And strong beneath there flows the current of our love
 For Noughty - One.
 And as the brooklet burrows deep, and flows along,
 So shall the course of time, ' but make our love more strong,'
 Affection's power aye making ripples still above
 Till all is done.”

THE ORATION

One of the most interesting addresses on the program was delivered by Francis Ely Waterman of Hartford. His subject was "The American Student at Trinity—His Training and Future Responsibilities." The speaker's opening remarks were on a college education in the general sense. He then spoke of the training received at Trinity, and closed as follows:

"This is the great task of the future. If we are true to the training received here, if we are true to ourselves and to all men, our task will be accomplished, and our success will be real, even if it is not in so material a form as wealth or power. May these higher ideals raise our thoughts towards a broader outlook, in which we may do honor to our college, our country and to God, in advancing the cause of truth and justice in the world."

PRESENTATIONS

The class presentations were made by James Mosgrove Hudson of Syracuse, N. Y. They were as follows:

Anderson received a box of cigarettes; Bellamy a pair of small dumb bells; Brinley a mirror; "Nig" Brown a tin razor; Burbanck a tuning fork; Clement a brilliant neck-tie; Cochrane and Mitchell received jointly a box of miscellaneous electrical materials; Derby a pair of spectacles; "Jack" Evans a five-inch collar; "Mooney" Fiske a baseball; Foss a miniature croquet set; Hinnen a small tin alligator for dissecting purposes; Kelly a placard, "Girls I Have Met"; Levin an umbrella; Mason a tin horn; "General" Morehouse a placard, "I Haven't Looked at It"; "Billy" Nichols, ex-1901, now at West Point, a bottle of tobasco sauce; Peck a pair of red socks; "Harold" Rudd a doll; "Ray" Sturtevant a note book for the English course; Van De Water a pair of hair brushes; "Jim" Wales a quotation from one of his stories, "Gosh, John, you've shot the ash can!" "Mary" Walker a set of fashion papers; Waterman, on account of his artistic ability, was given a little wagon to draw; Wheeler a large owl, with an arrangement for causing it to make goo-goo eyes;" Wilson a club for use on the Freshmen, and Wynkoop received a large placard, "First Prize Ethics."

After the presentations, Professor Henry Ferguson made the formal presentation of the gold footballs which are given by the undergraduates to all the men in the graduating class who have played in over thirteen games. A college yell was given after each presentation. The following men received the gold footballs: Robert Bayard Bellamy of Boston, William Purnell Brown of Centreville, Md., Godfrey Brinley of Newington Junction, Conn., and Charles Hathern Wheeler of Clinton, N. Y.

THE STATISTICS

The statistics of the class were compiled by Richard Eugene Peck of Bridgeport, Conn. Some are given below:

"The average height of our class is 5 feet 9 inches, and the average weight 144 pounds. With the exception of doing nothing at all, engineering is the most popular profession in the class with the ministry next. The two-step is the most popular dance, and the hurdy gurdy the favorite musical instrument.

"The vote for the best top spinner resulted in a tie between Professor Ferguson and Mr. Lilienthal. Professor Ferguson was voted the most popular professor, and the most popular study can be found in the Trinity Annual Catalogue.

"Fiske is the most popular man in the class, Wheeler by a large majority the noisest, and Mason the quietest. "Nig" Brown needs a hair cut the most, Walker is the best dancer, Hudson the best dressed, and Brinley the best looking. Wynkoop is the most popular poet of the class, and Wales the favorite author. Cigarettes are the favorite smoke, although some favored locomotive smoke; Wheeler is the biggest "bluffer" in the class; senior year was voted the most expensive year in college, and junior year the least so."

“The Mosquito Parade” by the band closed the exercises, after which the class gathered around the punch bowl and sang “’Neath the Elms.” The “lemon-squeezer” was then handed down to the class of 1904 for safe keeping. It has been held for two years by 1901.

CLASS DAY DANCE

THE Class Day dance was held on Monday evening in Alumni Hall. The hall was decorated in green and white, the gymnasium below, where the refreshments were served, being similarly trimmed. There were forty numbers, the intermission being at the eighteenth, and it was after four o'clock when the music of the last waltz floated out across the campus. Among those present were :

Misses Alton, Post, Whaples, Barbour, Blakeslee, Hayes, Stillman, Sturtevant, Taylor, Libbey, Bryant, Ware, Curtis, Howard, Lorenz, Mitchell, Dart, Ney, Welsh, Bushnell, Goodrich, Matson, Parker, Sage, Root, Skinner, Whitmore, Moore, Hilliard, Lawrence, Trumbull, Smith and Hall of Hartford; Warrick of Worcester, Mass.; Ware and Renolds of New York; Sampson of Baltimore; Willetts of Cheshire, Conn.; Ingersoll of South Kent, Conn.; Bellamy of Boston; Leavitt of Stamford; Redmond and Haviland of Staten Island; Lawrence, Lazelle and M. CORPORATION MEETING

THE Board of Trustees held their annual meeting on Tuesday morning in the Mathematical Room. The appointment of committees and the arrangement of the order of business had been completed at the short meeting held the evening before at the Allyn House.

The meeting was called to order at ten o'clock by President Smith. At twelve the meeting was adjourned to meet the alumni in an informal conference. After luncheon in the college dining hall, the trustees met again at two o'clock.

It was found necessary to elect an associate professor of philosophy. The Rev. Charles Harris Hayes, Ph. D., was elected. Dr. Hayes is now at Columbia University. He has also studied at Halle, Germany, and Oxford. Herbert Miller Hopkins, Ph. D., Harvard, was elected to fill the vacancy in the Latin department made by the resignation of Dr. Stanley Simonds, who has had charge for the last two years. Mr. Hopkins is at present at the University of California.

Two new members were elected to the Board of Trustees. They were Ambrose Spencer Murray, '71, at present a lawyer in New York City, Isaac Heister, '77, who is also a lawyer, practicing in Reading, Pa.

The Senior Fellows elected were: Frederick Everest Haight, '87, and Walter Stanley Schütz, '94; and the Junior Fellows, George Emerson Beers, '86, and Frederick William Harriman, '72.

ALUMNI BASEBALL GAME

ON Tuesday afternoon the baseball game between the alumni and the undergraduates was played. The game was well attended, but was rather one-sided, the undergraduates winning easily. The teams lined up as follows:

Alumni: Hubbard, '92, c.; Hamlin, '91, p.; Sutton, '99, 1b.; Graves, '92, 2b.; Flynn, '97, 3b.; Graves, '98, s. s.; Coggsell, '97, r. f.; Lord, '98, c. f.; Brines, 1900, l. f.

'Varsity: Henry, c.; Goodridge, p.; Brigham, 1b.; Townsend, 2b.; Fiske, 3b.; Henderson, ss.; Peck, r. f.; Van De Water, c. f.; Mann, l. f.

The score by innings:

'Varsity	4	0	6	5	1	—	16
Alumni	0	0	0	0	2	—	2

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

THE annual meeting of the Alumni Association was called to order at ten o'clock on Tuesday by Vice-President Frederick E. Haight of Brooklyn, N. Y. After the reading of the minutes, the necrology was read by Dr. Samuel Hart, as follows:

ALUMNI NECROLOGY FOR 1900-01

The Rev. Ralph Hart Bowles, of the class of 1848, M. A., died at Woodbury, Conn., October 4, 1900, aged 78.

Charles Jeremy Hoadly, of the class of 1851, M. A., LL. D., 1889, librarian 1854-55, trustee since 1865, librarian of the State of Connecticut, President of the Connecticut Historical Society, died at Hartford, October 19, 1900, aged 72.

The Rev. Charles Henry Seymour, of the class of 1852, D. D., some time president of Griswold College, died at South Groveland, Mass., November 19, 1900, aged 72.

George Smith Devendorf, of the class of 1855, died at Amsterdam, N. Y., July 11, 1900, aged 63.

George Cyprian Jarvis, of the class of 1855, M. A., 1895, M. D., died at Hartford, May 7, 1901, aged 67.

Henry Knight Leaver, of the class of 1859, LL. B., died at Washington, D. C., February 12, 1901, aged 63.

John Sabine Smith, of the class of 1863, M. A., trustee since 1894, died at New York, N. Y., November 6, 1900, aged 56.

Robert Forsyth Bixby, of the class of 1870, M. A., LL. B., died at New York, N. Y., October 16, 1900, aged 51.

Samuel Farmar Jarvis, Jr., of the class of 1889, LL. B., died at New York, N. Y., June 14, 1901, aged 34.

The Rev. Herbert Mendenhall Smith, of the class of 1893, M. A., died at East Berlin, Conn., August 16, 1900, aged 30.

The Rev. George Hewson Wilson, of the class of 1893, M. A., died at Lake Minnewaska, N. Y., August 17, 1900, aged 30.

Henry Grosvenor Barbour, of the class of 1896, died at Brooklyn, N. Y., September 13, 1900, aged 27.

HONORARII

The Rev. Heman Dyer, M. A. Kenyon College, D. D. 1843, some time president of the Western University of Pennsylvania, died at New York, N. Y., July 29, 1900, aged 90.

The Rev. William White Bronson, M. A. University of Pennsylvania, ad eundem 1848, died at Philadelphia, Penn., October 9, 1900, aged 84.

The Rev. Peter Voorhees Finch, M. A. Burlington College, ad eundem 1860, died at New York, N. Y., May 3, 1901, aged 66.

The Rev. William Henry Collins, M. A. 1895, died at Brattleboro, Vt., September 13, 1900, aged 66.

Charles Ray King, Columbia College, M. D. University of Pennsylvania, LL. D. 1897, died at Andalusia, Penn., April 5, 1901, aged 88.

Charles Dudley Warner, L. H. D., D. C. L., lecturer since 1884, died at Hartford, October 20, 1900, aged 71.

Dr. Hart also reported upon the alumni fund, which continues to grow, and upon his conclusion the meeting passed a vote of thanks.

A committee composed of the treasurer, Col. William C. Skinner and Prof. Ferguson, was appointed to take into consideration a suggestion made by the treasurer to the effect that the income from the alumni fund be used each year for some specific purpose for the good of the college. The committee is to report at the next meeting.

Mr. Haight reported that the sum of $133 was needed to complete the required $2,500 for the Hart memorial fund, and that amount was voted for the purpose.

Dr. Hart and the Rev. John J. McCook were appointed a committee of two to thank donors to the college.

J. T. Huntington addressed the meeting and urged the project of developing a part of the college property lying to the south of the college which is now lying idle. He also desired to have the erection of a new chapel hurried along.

Mr. Schütz spoke of the need of greater activity among the alumni, and in response to his remarks a committee was appointed to take such action in regard to a plan of greater activity as it might see fit. Its members are Prof. Huntington, Mr. Schütz and Col. William E. A. Bulkeley.

Prof. McCook spoke interestingly on the affairs of the college from the view point of a member of the board of fellows, reviewing what has been accomplished during the past year. In the course of his remarks he stated that there had not been one case of discipline during the entire year.

In response to a motion made by the Rev. Mr. Harriman a committee, composed of Mr. Harriman and H. S. Graves, was appointed to revise the by-laws of the association. Mr. Macauley urged that in the future invitations to alumni reunions be extended to men who have attended the college a number of years without having received a degree. A resolution to that effect was passed.

The report of Treasurer F. E. Johnson was read and accepted. It stated that the total fund on hand in the Alumni Association was $3,143.67.

The meeting was then adjourned until the afternoon, but later it was decided that a second meeting would be unnecessary. Luncheon was served in the commons at half-past one, after the Alumni-Trustee conference, and the unveiling of the tablet.

After voting to appropriate $100 for the athletics of the college the meeting adjourned.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

FROM five to eight on Tuesday evening, President and Mrs. Smith received at their residence on Vernon Street. They were assisted by several of the ladies of the faculty. At the reception the President was presented with a handsome Morris chair by the class of 1901.

PHI BETA KAPPA

ON Tuesday at twelve o'clock the following men from the Junior Class were initiated into the honorary society of the Phi Beta Kappa:

A. T. McCook of Hartford, 4,777; K. P. Morba of Hartford, 4,732; W. P. Bentley of Plainville, Conn., 4,709; M. B. Stewart of Washington, D. C., 4,689; E. H. Lorenz of Hartford, 4,655; and R. B. Gooden of Santa Barbara, Cal., 4,641. The highest attainable is 4,950.

Officers were re-elected as follows :

President, the Rev. Dr. T. R. Pynchon of Hartford, '41 ; vice-president, the Rev. John T. Huntington, Hartford, '50 ; secretary, the Rev. Dr. Samuel Hart, Middletown, '66 ; treasurer, George L. Cooke, Providence, '70.

Delegates to the triennial national council to be held at Saratoga in September were elected as follows :

The Rev. Dr. Pynchon, the Rev. Dr. Huntington, James Russell Parsons of Albany.

UNVEILING OF TABLET IN HALL OF NATURAL HISTORY

AFTER the adjournment of the conference between the Alumni and Trustees, a procession was formed, headed by President Smith and Dr. T. R. Pynchon, which marched over to the new Hall of Natural History. After a few prefatory remarks by President Smith the tablet was unveiled with fitting ceremonies. A review of the life of Judge Boardman was read by Professor Pynchon, and the benediction was pronounced by Bishop Brewster. President Smith then formally declared that the building known as the Hall of Natural History would hereafter be known as the "Boardman Hall of Natural History." The tablet, which is handsomely mounted on a marble slab, is engraved as follows :

BOARDMAN HALL OF NATURAL HISTORY

THE GIFT OF LUCY H. BOARDMAN IN MEMORY OF HER BELOVED HUSBAND

THE HON. WILLIAM WHITING BOARDMAN
FOR THIRTY YEARS A TRUSTEE OF TRINITY COLLEGE

 COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

THE seventy-fifth commencement was held in Alumni Hall on Wednesday morning at half past eleven. The exercises have formerly been held in Parsons' Theatre, but this year it was decided to hold them in Alumni Hall, a change which has met with much favorable criticism. The senatus academicus met in the chapel at half past ten for prayers. At eleven the procession was formed on the campus before Northam Towers. Richard Nicks Weibel, 1902, was college marshal. In the procession were many distinguished graduates and friends of the college, together with the faculty and trustees. The program, varied by musical selections, was as follows:

Salutatory, in Latin,	Frank Halsey Foss, Conn.
Development in the Relation of Employer to Employee,	Frank Stephen Morehouse, Conn.
Rostand's "L'Aiglon,"	James Albert Wales, Conn.
Valedictory,	Francis Raymond Sturtevant, Conn.

The following students received diplomas:

Francis Raymond Sturtevant, Conn., optimus, valedictorian, with honors in Greek, English, and modern languages; Frank Halsey Foss, Conn., salutatorian, with honors in modern languages and mathematics; Frank Stephen Morehouse, Conn., third appointment, with honors in Hebrew and modern languages; Aubrey Henry Derby, N. J., with honors in Latin; Charles Hathern Wheeler, N. Y., with honors in physics; Gustav August Hinnen, O., with honors in natural history; James Albert Wales, Conn., with honors in modern languages; Harold Huntington Rudd, Ill., with honors in physics; George Graham Burbank, N. Y. with honors in modern languages; Walter Alfred Mitchell, Conn., with honors in physics; Augustine Hugo Wells Anderson, Conn.; Robert Bayard Bellamy, Mass.; James Watson Bradin, Conn.; Godfrey Brinley, Conn.; William Purnell Brown, Md.; Martin Withington Clement, Pa.; Harry Hamilton Cochrane, Conn.; Reginald Fiske, R. I.; Hazlitt McKim Glazebrook, N. J.; James Mosgrove Hudson, N. Y.; Arthur Paul Kelley, N. H.; Julius Levin, Conn.; Edward Jarvis King Mason, Conn.; Richard Eugene Peck, Conn.; Edwin Pemberton Taylor, Conn.; Arthur Reginald Van De Water, N. Y.; Francis Ely Waterman, Conn.; Hugh Dempster Wilson, Jr., N. Y.; Augustus Talcott Wynkoop, N. Y.

The following degrees were awarded :

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE,
NEW YORK CITY.

The Session of 1901-1902 will begin Tuesday, October 1st, 1901, and will continue about eight months. The course of instruction covers four years. Students who present credentials from other accredited medical colleges of full courses of study will be admitted to advanced standing after passing examinations on those subjects the study of which has been completed in the previous years.

THE ESSENTIAL FEATURES OF THE CURRICULUM are:
1. Recitations in sections throughout all years and on all the principal branches. 2. Thorough laboratory instruction. 3. Clinical and bedside section teaching and clinical ward work, with the Professors and Clinical Professors, in small groups in Bellevue, New York, Presbyterian, Mothers' and Babies' and other city hospitals. 4. Special branches taught clinically to small groups in hospitals and dispensaries.

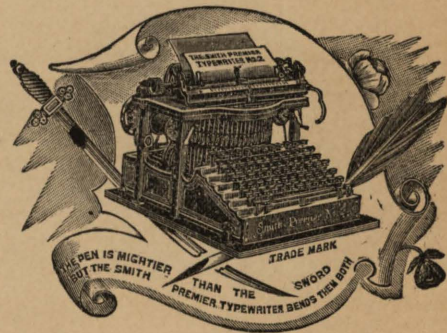

The circular for 1901-1902, giving the faculty, full details of the curriculum, requirements for admission, and other information will be sent on application.

For further information and particulars, address
WM. M. POLK, M. D., LL.D., DEAN,
