Senate And NSA

The Senate will decide tonight whether to remain a member of the organization which three years ago helped write its constitution.

Evades Questions?

He also says the group evades questions from the floor at regional conferences. What floor? When? Every question Tripod editors have heard at such conferences has been thoroughly answered.

More Legitimate Gripes

Some members of our student governing body do have more legitimate gripes against the NSA. It often seems to be a frustrating bureaucracy for a small college to play a significant role in.

What Do We Get?

- 1) The NSA holds numerous conferences for member colleges to exchange ideas on mutual problems.
2) The Senate receives bushels of valuable information from the NSA's Student Information Service...

Two In College Promoted

Promotion of two Trinity College administrators was announced Sept. 16 by President Jacobs.

LETTERS

Secretary Replies

To the Editor: Perhaps we are reading into the recent cartoon in The Tripod more than is necessary...

Trin Men Tops

We are not criticizing all the students: there are many, many men at Trinity who are tops in manners, character, and personality.

Culture and Intellect

It is common knowledge that different attitudes exist as to why a girl might work at Trin. Certainly it is flattering to be among so many males...

Restrictions Possible

The social events sponsored by the school and the Freshman Executive Council are privileges. Like all privileges, they are subject to restriction.

Flag Pole, Where?

To the Editor: For many years a flag, sometimes tattered, sometimes torn, flew high above the elms.

Space Running Out

To the Editor: This world does not have an unlimited amount of space for an unlimited amount of people.

'Winter Solstice' Makes Jabs At Suburban Life

BY MARTIN NICKERSON
Winter Solstice, by Gerald Warner Brace, is a blunt novel combining jabs at suburban life with sage good sense.

Beliefs Are Issues

To the Editor: You express amazement at the fact that a Protestant undergraduate who indicated in your poll that religion influenced his choice for president, nevertheless supported Kennedy in the same poll.

Brennan Identified

To the Editor: Shame on You! You should know enough about Connecticut politics to realize that the "unidentified on-looker" behind Henry Cabot Lodge is Tom Brennan, Republican candidate for Congress from the First District.

FEC Chides Frosh

An open letter to the Class of '64: Most freshmen have doubtless heard of the unfortunate incidents that occurred at the Trinity mixer sponsored by the Hartford General Hospital, Sept. 24.

'Aisle Say'

by BILL KIRTZ
The election season is in full flower, and as the days until the second Tuesday in November decrease, there appears to be an unusual abundance of that phenomenon known as the non-answer.

Non-answer Time

Q: In the last House session, you were head of a fact-finding board set up to boost teachers' salaries. Have you any comment then on the wage increase motion drafted by your committee?

Q: Sir, you have been accused of conducting a smear campaign against your opponent. Is this true?

Q: Sir, you mentioned that you would go to the Truman administration. How do you feel about the present program?

Important as the farm surpluses, the shortage of teachers, and the levelling off of the economy are in the upcoming elections, foreign affairs transcend all of these items.

Stevenson or Bowles
Adlai Stevenson and Lester Bowles are the most frequently mentioned Democratic choices for secretary of state.

Your Cabinet
Q: Sir, three months ago you mentioned eight men that in your words "any president should have in his cabinet." These men, I assume, will then comprise your cabinet if you are elected.

Q: Sir, you have often criticized the present foreign policy as being too wishy-washy. yet you have, at the same time, accused the administration of warmongering. Can these two views be reconciled?

Q: What "attributes" would you like to see in your cabinet?

Q: Thank you, I regret to see my time is up.

New Programs For Year Station Has 'High Hopes'

Radio WRFC-FM has high hopes for the coming season. Executive Producer John Roming expects "one of the station's best years."

Operating from newly decorated studios, the station plans new programs. On political topics, there will be a series of three student panels, covering the coming election. A faculty panel will discuss politics in general.

During the first week in November a "Radio Spectacular" is offered. It will cover the event of the Hungarian Revolution. Another public service event will be the Athenaeum Society's presentation on Russia.

To Cover Conference On Nov. 18, 19, and 20 the Conference on Christian Existentialism will receive maximum coverage. Terry Mixter, station manager, said the program will be similar to last year's coverage of the Convocation.

As a member of the Educational Radio Network, the station will continue its educational programming. It will work with a number of local preparatory and high schools.

A new program, Paul Sullivan's "Count Down," is also offered this fall. It deals with the exploration and study of outer space. Regular broadcasts of Trinity's football games are planned again this year. Bob Woodward's jazz program and Ross Hall's classical music broadcast will also return.

THE PLEDGE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Today's column is directed at those young female undergraduates who have recently pledged sororities and are worried, poor lambs, that they won't make good. Following is a list of simple instructions which, if faithfully observed, will positively guarantee that you will be a mad success as a sorority girl.

First, let us take up the matter of housemothers. The housemother is your friend, your guide, your mentor. You must treat her with respect. When you wish to speak to her, address her as "Mother Sigafos" or "Ma'am." In no circumstances must you say, "Hey, fat lady."

Second, let us discuss laundry. Never hang your wash on the front porch of the sorority house. This is unsightly and shows a want of breeding. Use the Chapter Room.

Third, meals. Always remember that planning and preparing meals for a houseful of healthy girls is no simple task. Your cook goes to a great deal of trouble to make your menu varied and nourishing. The least you can do is show your appreciation. Don't just devour your food; praise it. Exclaim with delight, "What delicious pork jowls!" or "What a yummy soup bone!" or "What scrumptious fish heads!" or "What clear water!"

Fourth, clothing. Never forget that your appearance reflects not just on yourself but on the whole house. It was well enough before you joined a sorority to lounge around campus in your old middy blouse and gym bloomers, but now you must take great pains to dress in a manner which excites admiring comments from all who observe you. A few years ago, for example, there was a Chi Omega named Camille Ataturk at the University of Iowa who brought gobs of glory to all her sorors. Camille hit on the ingenious notion of suiting her garb to the class she was attending. For instance, to English Lit she wore a buskin and jerkin. To German she wore lederhosen and carried a stein of pilsener. To Econ she wore 120 yards of ticker tape. Her shiningest hour came one day when she dressed as a white mouse for Psych Lab. Not only her Chi Omega sisters, but the entire student body went into deep mourning when she was killed by the janitor's cat.

Finally, let us take up the most important topic of all. I refer, of course, to dating.

As we have seen, the way you dress reflects on your sorority, but the men you date reflect even more. Be absolutely certain that your date is an acceptable fellow. Don't beat about the bush; ask him point-blank, "Are you an acceptable fellow?" Unless he replies, "Yeah, hey," send him packing.

But don't just take his word that he is acceptable. Inspect him closely. Are his fingernails clean? Is his black leather jacket freshly oiled? Is his ukelele in tune? Does he carry public liability insurance? And, most significant of all, does he smoke Marlboros?

If he's a Marlboro man, you know he has taste and discernment, wit and wisdom, character and sapience, decency and warmth, presence and poise, talent and grit, filter and flavor; soft pack and flip-top box. You will be proud of him, your sorority will be proud of him, the makers of Marlboro will be proud of him, and I will be paid for this column.

The makers of Marlboro, having paid for this column, would like to mention another of their fine cigarettes—mild, unfiltered Philip Morris—available in regular size or the sensational new king-size Commander. Have a Commander—welcome aboard.

Red Slant Laid To College Paper

NEW YORK Sept. 22—The President of City College, Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, charged today The Observation Post, one of the college's two student newspapers, was controlled by Communist-oriented students.

Dr. Gallagher said he had no plans for suppressing the paper and added the students had the right to express their own opinions. The president explained he felt obligated to express his own views on the paper's activities.

An editorial appearing in the paper last May "openly and urgently argues for getting along with the class struggle on classic Marxist lines," according to Dr. Gallagher.

Peter Stienberg, 19-year-old editor in chief of the paper, denied the charges, adding The Observation Post might take a legal action "to stop this kind of libelous attack."

Princeton Fun:

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 21 — Princeton University sophomores have resorted to spray-painting class numerals on the heads of freshmen. The older tradition of shaving freshmen scalps was banned last Spring.

The Roman numeral three has been painted on the scalps of some thirty freshmen, reports the Daily Princetonian. Scalp shaving ended after it erupted into violence and the

Some of the members expressed alarm at their barren imaginations and are in dire need of assistance from other students.

The board also agreed with Mather Hall Director Leonard Tomaf's proposal to charge an annual dollar rental fee for locks in the non-resident student locker room.

'College,' Egghead Mag. To Appear This Month

College, a magazine subtitled "Entertainment and Enlightenment for College Eggheads," will appear at college bookstores and newsstands across the country this month. According to editor-publisher David Preiss, College will be the first serious magazine dedicated to the nation's college audience.

Preiss believes College will become as popular with students as College Humor, a national magazine which aroused great campus enthusiasm during the 20's and 30's but did not return after World War II. He adds, "We do not intend to mimic College Humor or any other magazine; it is our belief that college students today are interested in more intelligent and creative extracurricular pursuits and will read and contribute to a magazine they can respect, identify with and afford."

College, a magazine subtitled "Entertainment and Enlightenment for College Eggheads," will appear at college bookstores and newsstands across the country this month. According to editor-publisher David Preiss, College will be the first serious magazine dedicated to the nation's college audience.

Besides contributors, College seeks student correspondents, a man and woman from each campus interested in reporting local news and trends of national significance. Applicants accepted as College correspondents receive free subscriptions and are listed on the staff page of the magazine.

Interested students and faculty may submit queries or material to College at 1822 N. Orleans, Chicago 14, Ill. Return postage and envelopes should accompany all material to guarantee reply in two weeks. While subscriptions are not solicited at this time, the staff intends to issue College monthly, excluding July and August, at 40 cents a copy.

Even though modern electronic computers work at almost unbelievable speeds, the scientist is way ahead of them.

Put quite simply, scientists have been thinking up complex problems faster than even the fastest computers could handle them. To close this gap, IBM created STRETCH, the world's fastest, most powerful computer.

The first STRETCH system will go to the AEC at Los Alamos to aid in nuclear reactor design. This goliath can do a million additions or subtractions a second. It can "read" the equivalent of four million characters per minute from magnetic tape. It can print the equivalent of three good-sized novels every hour. It can perform all these operations simultaneously, and if necessary pause midway in the problem and tackle another one.

Creating such tools and putting them to work for science—or for business, industry, or government—is exciting, important work. It calls for talents and skills of every kind, from liberal arts to Boolean algebra to astrophysics.

So whatever your particular talents and skills, there may be just the kind of job at IBM you've always wanted. The IBM representative will be visiting your campus this year. Why not ask him about it? Your placement office can make an appointment. For further information about opportunities at IBM, write, outlining your background and interests, to:
