

Fulbright Scholar Dr. Will To Deliver Class Day Talk

Dr. Frederick L. Will, chairman of the philosophy department at the University of Illinois, will deliver the Class Day address, June 9.

Dr. Will, father of senior and former Tripod editor George Will, concentrates on contemporary philosophy and is noted for numerous articles in the field.

He was graduated from The College in 1929, received an M.A. from Ohio State in 1931, and a Ph.D. from Cornell in 1937. He began teaching in 1932, holding positions at Ohio State, Urhrichsville High School, and Cornell University, before joining the philosophy department at Illinois in 1938.

Dr. Will was named full professor in 1955 and assumed the department chairmanship in September, 1961. He was research professor at the Institute of Communications Research of the University of Illinois College of Journalism during 1958-59.

The Class Day speaker was at Oxford University from 1960-61 on a Fulbright Grant.

In other Class Day activities, senior Mike Lutin will read the 1962 class history, which he wrote. Top athletic awards, including the 1935 football "Most Valuable Player" award and the McCook Trophy, will also be presented. The latter is given for "distinction in athletics, courtesy and honor at all times."

Ex-Cuban Rebel To Speak Today

MAY 18—Jose Salazar, who professes to have been Fidel Castro's closest personal friend from 1948 to 1959, will speak here tonight in the Alumni Lounge at 7 p.m. The talk will be sponsored by the Political Science Club.

Born in Havana, Cuba, in 1930, Salazar graduated from the University of Havana, a civil engineer in 1953. At the University he was elected vice president of the Federation of University Students from 1950-51.

During his college years, he drifted to the revolutionary cause and served with the Cuban chief. After the revolution, he was made director of the Tourist Institute.

Funston To Speak At Commencement

Former Trinity President, G. Keith Funston, currently president and Governor of the New York Stock Exchange, will deliver the principal address at the 136th Commencement exercises, June 10.

The occasion marks the 30th anniversary of Funston's graduation from Trinity, as valedictorian of the class of 1932.

After graduating from here, Funston earned a Master of Business Administration from Harvard, and then moved on to executive positions with American Radiator Co. and Sylvania. From 1941-44 he was a special assistant to the chairman of the War Production board.

Funston served as Lt. Commander in the Navy from 1944-45. He was elected president of Trinity during his stint in the armed forces and the Trustees held the position open until his discharge.

Public Service

He moved to the Stock Exchange in 1951, becoming the third paid president of the financial colossus.

Funston, who makes his home in Greenwich, Conn., serves as a trustee of Westover School, Greenwich Country Day School and Beekman Downtown Hospital. He is a vestryman of Trinity Church in New York City and Christ Church, Greenwich.

He acts as a director of the Metropolitan Insurance Co. and the Council for Financial Aid to Education. The speaker also is a member of the business Council, the National Industrial Conference Board, the Executive Committee of the Downtown-Lower Manhattan Association Inc., and Vice-president of the New York Chamber of Commerce.

Funston formerly served in these capacities: president of the Conn. State Council on Higher Education; member of the Conn. State Safety Commission, the Commission on State Government Organization, and the Town of Greenwich Charter Commission.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa and Pi Gamma Mu, as well as past president of the Alpha Delta Phi social fraternity, Funston will be awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree at Commencement.

KEITH FUNSTON

The Commencement speaker, now a Life Trustee of the College, rose in 12 years from chauffeur to Trinity president. While an undergraduate here, he earned tuition money chauffeuring for then-president Dr. Remsen B. Ogilby. A dozen years later he was called back to succeed his old boss.

Post-War Leader

Funston led Trinity in its redevelopment program following World War II. In announcing the speaker, President Albert C. Jacobs praised Funston's work during "the crucial post-war years."

Howland Urges Support For Building Fund Drive

By John Witherington

May 14 — Senator William Howland, chairman of the Senate's Fund Raising committee for the proposed Fine Arts Center to night urged Senate support for a student solicitation drive and a weekend college arts festival.

A Christmas solicitation of Trinity undergraduates might net up to $10,000, Howland estimated, while a college organized arts festival also could be extremely profitable.

The festival would include performances and assistance from the Jesters, Glee Club, fraternities and other student groups, Howland stated. A dynamic, authoritative and very competent student would be vital to the project's coordination.

Watson Dubious

Sen. Keith Watson declared that the complexity and extensiveness of both projects would make it extremely difficult to accomplish both over the same time period.

Vice-President Bruce Hill questioned the possibility of financial loss. The Senate's budget could not absorb a large deficit, Hill declared.

Howland deemphasized the chance of the projects' failure. Further, speaking to Watson's point, Senator Howland stressed that much of the costs would be absorbed by the participants themselves as part of their annual schedule. The Jesters, for example, would substitute the festival for their winter production, Howland concluded.

The Senate approved both projects by large majorities.

Davison Speaks

In other business, Mr. Robert Davison, President of the Class of 1965, told the Senate of next year's freshman week plans.

In an attempt for greater safety, the traditional night arch rush would be held in the afternoon, complete with loud speaker directions and careful Medusa supervision. Greater safety as well as increased Sophomore participation could thus be achieved, Davison declared.

Sen. Leland Moyer questioned Davison's attempt "to build tradition." Tradition builds itself, Moyer declared. Sen. Stephen Yeaton further disparaged the afternoon arch rush. "The whole thing sounds like mass mayhem,"

Dean Lacy commented that in his mind the whole idea of an arch rush was stupid. Each year someone could be killed, the Dean declared. "Why not abolish the whole thing?"

Vickery New IVY Editor

MAY 16—The staff and plans for next year's Ivy were announced today by Harold Vickery, newly elected Editor-in-Chief. Assisting Vickery in the publication will be David Pyle, managing editor; Thomas Garson, business manager; Richard Tuttle, graphics editor; Wiley Jones, activities editor; Arnold Wood, sports editor; Michael Tousey, senior editor; and Howard Peterson, copy editor. The faculty advisor will be fine arts Professor Charles Ferguson.

The 1962 Ivy will be distributed to sophomores, juniors, seniors when they register for classes next September in Alumni Hall. Continuing the practice inaugurated by the 1960 IVY, the yearbook will be printed during the summer so that spring sports and commencement activities may be included.

Members of the Class of 1962 will have their copies mailed to them at the address they have on file in the Alumni Office early this September.

William Richardson '62 won the Frank Whitlock Prize in public speaking. He came in third in competition for the F. A.

Brown Prize for English oration won by Arthur McNulty '62.

John Hebel '63 received the Ruel Crompton Tuttle English Prize. The French award was presented to Robert McNally '62, and awards for spoken Italian were presented to Chedomir Markovich '65 and Tobert Roxby '62.

Alpha Delta Phi was presented with the Richard P. Horan Trophy, awarded to the fraternity which "contributes the most to the Hartford community during the academic year."

IFC Airs Weekend Violations: Discuss Changing Spring Fetes

MAY 14—At an exceptional two hour meeting of the IFC tonight, Peter Sherin, president of the class of '63, appealed for a merging of IFC weekend with Senior Ball weekend in the coming year.

Sherin called attention to the spring term weekends with sparse attendance and stated that one big weekend with very heavy attendance might be far more successful.

Sherin also felt that if the IFC had its weekend after Mason Plan it would be far more successful as many of the freshmen would already know some of the fraternity members.

Several violations of IFC regulations concerning the soap-box derby, rushing, and parties last week were reported. It was pointed out that Phi Kappa Psi had not built its own car, that freshmen were seen at some fraternity parties last weekend, and that Alpha Chi Rho had gone over their party curfew last Saturday.

With regard to the first complaint, it was found that there was no regulation prohibiting the use of racers in the soap-box derby that were not made by the members of the fraternity themselves. An amendment was introduced to change the by-laws of the IFC to make this illegal in the future. The proposed change will read "all cars to be constructed by the members of the fraternities." The amendment will be voted on at the coming meeting Monday.

Jesters Choose Tuttle President

MAY 16—Richard Tuttle, '63, was elected president of the Jesters today by a unanimous vote. Donato Strammiello, '64, was elected vice president, and Richard DeMone, '64, and Bruce Jay, '65, were chosen as business secretary and publicity manager, respectively.

Outgoing President Joseph Nardiello, '62, announced that the following had been elected to the honor of Senior Jester: Henry Bashwiner, '62; Nicholas Childs, '63; Laurence Dawson, '63; Richard DeMone, '64; Raymond Drate, '63; Alden Gardner, '64; Wilbur Hawthorne, '64; John Hutchins, '64; Donato Strammiello, '64; and John Westney, '64. Two Hartford actresses, Betty Paine and Johanna Warnecke, were named Honorary Jesters.

Chaplain Thomas Replies To Evaluation Criticism

By LEON SHILTON

MAY 17—Chaplain J. Moulton Thomas denied that there was a lack of "intellectual exploration" in the Chapel, clarified his stand against monitored Chapel attendance, and reaffirmed the close harmony between the Chapel and the Religion Department today in a Chapel talk.

On the subject of required Chapel attendance he said, "I am surprised to see that the Evaluation which criticizes secularism retreats to secular authority (monitoring church attendance)."

Chaplain Thomas reminded the congregation that they were not here five years ago when another study was made concerning the then required daily attendance. "Then the church was a dungeon, a place you had to go to," he said. "Now it is a place where one can go if he wants to." Citing the improvement in attendance after the initial drop immediately following the abolishment of daily chapel, he said, "I feel the beginning of a new tradition."

Uncomplimentary Attitude

"I knew before I came here that he attitude was not complimentary (towards the chapel)," he stated. "I was then asked to come not as a teacher, but as a pastor of a family (of the college)."

Citing the report criticizing the "lack of intellectual exploration," the chaplain questioned those who wrote the report as to whether they took advantage of the opportunities in the chapel. He then proceeded to list the Sunday Vesper speakers, and stated that over thirty professors have spoken in the Chapel each Sunday and Friday for the past two years. "The Chapel does offer opportunities for thinking," he declared.

Stressing that there was no conflict between the Chapel and the Religion Dept., he stated that he was pleased with the increased enrollment in the department. "It is not only the scholarship of religion professors, but also their quality and character that makes the Department popular."

Theology Department

He suggested that the name of the Department be changed to Theology Department, connoting the difference between the functions of the Department and the Chapel. "After all; the chief function of the Chapel is worship," he concluded.

Looking ahead, the Chaplain suggested that each fraternity choose a date when it can have its own service and then all fraternities might join in a service IFC Weekend to "dedicate themselves to the highest practice capable of a Trinity man."

Sarah Lawrence To Hold Concert

Sarah Lawrence College, recent host to colleges at the Intercollegiate Conference on Civil Rights in the North, has announced it will hold a benefit jazz concert on Sunday, June 3, the proceeds of which are to go to the southern integrationist Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee. Sarah Lawrence's Susan Previant has said that she hopes the show will net $300.

The evening of modern jazz, song and dance has been composed and will be performed entirely by students. Columbia's John Churchville's original jazz composition entitled "Boredom, Anxiety and Despair", dealing with racial and political problems, will be the central theme. The music will be supplemented by Sarah Lawrence singers and dancers.

Sarah Lawrence is one of many colleges participating in fund drives for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). Voices of protest have been raised recently in northern colleges because of the arrests of SNCC leaders by the state of Louisiana on charges of anarchy. There are at present five student leaders—four Negroes and one white—awaiting court decisions for spurring integrationist activities, including SNCC chairman Charles McDew. The anarchy charges, conviction of which brings up to ten years of hard labor, have been dropped, but other charges remain.

"Boredom, Anxiety and Despair" will be held in Reisinger Auditorium and will begin at 8:00. Admission is $1.00.

Johnson Advises CODE Activity

MAY 15—Stressing the necessity of a positive and well planned program, Religion professor William A. Johnson this afternoon addressed a meeting of CODE. He emphasized informing the college and the community about the nature of CODE, performing social services for those in need, and participating in social action (freedom riding, picketing, and the like).

The latter point, Johnson maintained, is the most important for words without action are as useless as a rebel without a cause.

Following Johnson's talk, Chairman Coxhead reported that $150 had been sent by the organization to the Northern Student Movement to support tutorial projects in Philadelphia and Prince Edward County, Virginia. The money, he said, was raised in a fund drive two years ago. He also made reference to a book drive on behalf of Miles College in Birmingham, Alabama, which has recently been denied the right to purchase necessary books because of the integrational tactics of its Negro students.

Noble, M, defeated Zimmerman, T, one up.

Ebersold, T, defeated Foley, M, one up (20).

Sizzling Bantam Nine Edges W.P.I., 3-2

By KETH WATSON

MAY 15 — Chris McNeill pitched and batted his way to his fourth victory of the year here today, as Trinity nipped Worcester Tech. 3-2.

McNeill allowed the highly-touted Massachusetts team only five hits and both of the runs scored off him were unearned. Again, his control was superb, walking but two while striking out five. In the offensive department, McNeill was instrumental in each of the Bantams' three tallies with two runs scored and an RBI.

W.P.I. pitcher Harry Rapelje was nearly as effective as McNeill. He permitted only four hits, but eight walks kept him in hot water most of this muggy afternoon. He went all the way in a losing cause.

Trinity did all of their scoring in the first four innings. McNeill was walked to start the third, and Tom Calabrese followed with a single to short right. A walk to Tom Halloran loaded the bases, and McNeill came home when Rapelje gave up the third walk of the inning, this one to Polk.

Worcester bounced back in the top of the fourth with an unearned tally. With two out, Halloran failed to come up with a ground ball. Burly first sacker Pete Martin then connected for a tremendous triple between Calabrese and Sam Winner.

Trinity put the game away in their next turn at bat. Wes Flesher led off with a triple near the trees in left field. With two out, McNeill hit a change-up for an RBI single to left. After Calabrese was passed, Halloran brought home what later proved to be the winning run with a ground single to right.

For the remainder of the game, both teams threatened several times, but only in the eighth did the visitors add a score. Two soft singles to right started the inning. On a ground ball, the infield went for the double play, but the relay to first got away from Gerry Deneault and the lead runner came home.

The victory upped Trinity's record to 9-4. On Friday morning the team leaves for a two-game northern tour against powerful Williams on Friday afternoon and Middlebury the next day. The Bantams conclude their long schedule playing host to UMass on Monday.

Jenkins Hurls One-Hitter

Frosh Lace Bridgeport, 9-3

MAY 16 — Sam Jenkins pitched a brilliant one-hitter and his mates slammed 11 hits and tallied nine runs today as the Frosh raced to their biggest victory of the season, 9-3, over the University of Bridgeport Frosh.

Jenkins' bid for a no-hitter was spoiled in the top of the seventh when left-fielder Pat Baraducci rammed a long triple to left-center field. Other than that the visitors couldn't grab a hit as Jenkins struck out six and walked six.

The Bantams scored one run in the opening frame. Joe Moore singled to right and went to second on a hit by Ted Stansfield. Moore advanced to third on a third hit by Lou Fitzner and scored when Dan Hoffman reached on an error. Bridgeport escaped further damage when a strike-out and a double-play ended the inning.

The halt was only temporary, however, as the locals came back with four more runs in the second. Rolfe Carlson walked and was sacrificed to second by Brad Sevin. Jenkins, Moore, and Stansfield then singled to account for two runs and two more scored on a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly by Hoffman.

Bridgeport rallied for two runs of their own in the top of the third on two walks, an error, a passed ball, and two fielders' choices. The Trinity frosh were up to the occasion, however, and countered with three of their own. Jenkins singled and Moore was hit by a pitch. Stansfield walked and Fitzner singled in two runs, Stansfield advancing to third. This time Dave Williams rapped a sacrifice fly and the score after four innings was 3-2.

Bridgeport scored its third run in the seventh on Baraducci's single and a walk. The Bantams got their final tally in the eighth on three walks and a hit-batsman.

Trackmen Pummel Jeffs 81-45 In Final

By JOE MARTIRE

MAY 16 — Karl Kurth's trackmen rolled to their sixth straight dual meet victory today with an 81-45 trouncing over Amherst, Trin's number one athletic nemesis. The win enabled the Bantams to finish undefeated on the cinders this spring and marked one of Coach Kurth's finest years since he took over the reins a decade ago.

Amherst, however, had the meet's standout in Fred Sayles, a 6'6", 235 pound All New England basketball center, who captured all three weight events and placed second in the high jump. Gordon Olinger was another big winner for the losers with a double victory in the hurdles.

Trinity managed to sweep all three places in the 100 and 220 with retiring captain Mark Smith leading the way. Markley will finish up his brilliant college career this Saturday in the New England Championships. Tommy Calabrese, fleet-footed Bantam centerfielder, changed spikes on his day off and barely missed beating Smith in both dashes.

Vic Keen and Perry Rianhard turned in their best times of the year for the 440 and 880 respectively. Keen got the jump on Billy Campbell and Clyde Conger in the final stretch and went on to a 51.4 victory. Rianhard broke the two minute barrier with 1:59.8 time, but once again fell short of the record by six-tenths of a second.

Emmett Miller leaped 6'2" to defeat Sayles in the high jump and in so doing bettered his previous mark of six feet. Sophs Bill Daley and Dave Galaty took firsts in the pole vault and broad jump respectively.

STUDY FACILITIES

Chairs and tables have been added to the Old Cave and the Jones Lounge so that proper study facilities are available for the examination period. The Old Cave will be open at all times. Additional lighting has been added to that area to give proper illumination.

The tables in Jones Lounge can be used throughout the day and evening, and it will be up to the students to maintain a proper study atmosphere. Both rooms are easily ventilated so good circulation of air can be attained.

Although the team will lose such top point-getters as Mark Smith, John Syer, Jay McCracken, Jim McAllister, Jim Whitters, Jim Maryak, and Mike Long, they start next year with a fine nucleus and some excellent new prospects. Sophomore transfer student Dick Ravizza, who was ineligible this year, will give Trinity added strength in the 440 and 880. Previously, Dick has run a sub 50 second 440 as well as creditable 1:56 half mile. Trin's lack of depth and power in the weights should be remedied by freshman Diethard Kolewe and record breaker Fred Prillaman as well as soph Tim McGrandle. Such fine runners as Buzz Dewey, Lou DeFazio, Danny Clark, and Ward Kelsey will also brighten the picture.

Next year presents two major problems: 1—find a replacement for Mark Smith; 2—beat Wesleyan.

Playoffs Today For Intramural Softball Title

MAY 18 — Phi Psi and St. Anthony's Hall, having won their respective league softball championships, will meet in the season finale tonight at 6:30.

Phi Psi was undefeated during regular season play in the American League, notching seven victories. One game behind them was Pike with the Brownell Club two games off the pace in the close finish.

Only one game separated the first three teams in the National League with Delta Phi and Q.E.D. in hot pursuit of St. A's.
