Evening Classes 1952-53

BULLETIN

AUGUST 1952

Fine Arts Instruction

Issued eight times a year by Trinity College—March, April, May, July, August, September, October and November. Entered January 12, 1904 at Hartford, Connecticut as second class matter, under the Act of Congress of July 16, 1894. Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized March 3, 1919.

Evening Classes 1952-1953

The evening classes at Trinity College are particularly designed for college graduates who desire to engage in advanced study. This concentration on graduate study results from a growing community need and from the logical interest of the College in the educational, governmental, business, and industrial activities in this area. Classes are open to both men and women, and Master's degrees are awarded to both.

The completion of Trinity's new library gives graduate students the unique opportunity to combine the advantages of small classes in a small college with library facilities usually found only at large universities. The Watkinson and Trinity collections of almost 400,000 volumes are now available in a single building designed to encourage and facilitate serious study.

Any college graduate may, upon proof of his graduation, take courses for graduate credit. Submission of a transcript of previous college work is recommended as evidence of graduation. Those who desire to become candidates for the Master's degree at Trinity must meet the requirements for admission to candidacy. A statement of these requirements may be obtained from the Secretary of the Graduate Committee.

UNDERGRADUATES

A number of classes are open to undergraduates who have had some previous college training. This attendance does not constitute admission to candidacy for the Bachelor's degree at Trinity College. Undergraduates must have left their previous college in good standing. Anyone who has been required to withdraw from another college will not be admitted.

REGISTRATION

Students may register by mail on the form inserted in this catalog, or they may come to the Evening Class office. This office will be open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. In addition, the Director will maintain office hours Monday evenings from 6:00 until 8:00 when the College is in session.

All courses are limited in size. Students will be enrolled in each course in the order in which their registration cards are received. To have a wide choice of courses a student should register as early as possible.

Students who expect to attend both terms should indicate their choice of courses for both terms. In this way students attending during the entire year will have priority in registration for second term courses. Payment of tuition may be sent with registration cards which are mailed, or may be made at the office of the Treasurer on or before the opening day of each session. For additional information, see COSTS.

It is each student's responsibility to determine his eligibility to enroll in a specific course. A student is not eligible for credit in a course for which he has not completed the prerequisites. No registration will be accepted after the second meeting of each class, nor will changes be permitted after this day.

NON-CREDIT ATTENDANCE

Persons who do not wish to receive college credit for specific courses may, with permission of the Director, audit courses. They will receive no credit and no grade, but a record of their attendance will be made. They need not always fulfill the prerequisites of the course, and are not required to take examinations. The charge will be the same as if the course were taken for credit.

Graduate students who have been accepted as candidates for the Master's degree at Trinity College and who have completed or are currently enrolled in six semester hours of graduate courses will be allowed to audit without charge a total of six semester hours of courses. This privilege is without time limit; the courses may be audited prior to or after the completion of the degree requirements. In each case, however, permission to audit must be obtained from the Secretary of the Graduate Committee.

COURSE NUMBERING

Students should understand the system of numbering courses. Undergraduates are, in general, eligible to elect courses numbered from 100 to 499. Courses numbered from 100 to 199 are at the first year level. Those from 200 to 299 are at the second year level, 300 to 399 at the third year level, and 400 to 499 at the fourth year level. Undergraduates may not register for courses numbered 500 or above. Courses with a single number (101) meet for one term and carry three or four semester hours of credit. Courses with a double number (101-102) extend through both terms and carry six or eight semester hours of credit.

All courses numbered 300 or above may be taken for graduate credit. It is the usual practice in courses of the 300 or 400 group to require graduate students to do additional work to earn graduate credit. Graduate students may register for courses in the 600 group only with the permission of their advisors.

COSTS

Tuition charges are determined on the basis of the number of courses and half courses for which the student enrolls. A course is defined as a unit of study for which either six or eight semester hours of credit are awarded. A half course carries three or four semester hours of credit. The tuition charge for a half course is sixty dollars. For a course the charge is one hundred and twenty dollars. Graduate students should note the statement pertaining to them under heading "Non-Credit Attendance".

Tuition charges must be paid at the office of the Treasurer on or before the opening day of each semester. This payment of tuition charges is the student's responsibility; no bills will be sent. Each student will fill out at registration a double card. Half of this card is to be used for course registration; the other half will bear information regarding the payment of tuition. Students are asked to fill out the two sections carefully.

To receive a refund of tuition the student must, on or before September 29, notify the Evening Class office of his withdrawal. After this date refunds will be made only in case of sickness or call to military duty. No refunds will be made after the seventh week of classes. Evening class students who wish to pay tuition on an instalment basis may do so by utilizing the services of the "Tuition Plan". Information may be obtained from the office of the Treasurer.

Additional fees, as noted in the description of courses, are payable in the same manner as tuition.

REGULATIONS

Absences—Each instructor will maintain his own record of absences, and will report to the Director all cases of excessive cutting. An absence from an announced examination may be excused only for sickness certified by a doctor or for emergencies by the Director. Excessive absences will be sufficient cause for required withdrawal from a course.

Parking-Students in evening classes must observe the parking rules indicated by signs on the campus A large student parking area is located behind Hallden Engineering Laboratory.

Withdrawal—Absence from class does not constitute withdrawal from a course. If a student is forced to withdraw from a course in which he is registered, he should notify the Evening Class office immediately.

Student conduct will be governed by the applicable sections of the Trinity College Regulations. Copies of this publication may be obtained from the office of the Dean of Students.

Forms of industrial organization, public regulation of railroads and public utilities, and government economic planning. Prerequisite: a course in the principles of economics. Boardman Hall 07. Mr. Hall.

ECONOMICS E314: Comparative Economic Systems. Trinity term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. The background of the principal reform movements; investigation into the economic systems now operating; theories of social progress and programs of reform. Boardman Hall 07. Mr. Hall.

ECONOMICS E323: Economics of Transportation. Christmas term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. The evaluation of the transportation system of the United States; problems of public systems and control with reference to service standards and rate levels; the economics of major transportation agencies. Boardman Hall 07. Mr. Hall.

ECONOMICS E601-602: Thesis. Christmas and Trinity terms. Conference hours by appointment. Six semester hours. Registration for this course must be accompanied by written permission from the thesis advisor. Mr. Towle and staff.

EDUCATION

EDUCATION E371: Philosophy of Education. Trinity term. Thursday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. An examination of the basic assumptions which underlie the major ideas, institutions, and practices of contemporary education. The student will be expected to construct for himself a philosophy of education which will serve as a basis for the evaluation of his subsequent professional practice. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Morris.

EDUCATION E372: History of Education. Christmas term. Thursday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of the basic ideas, institutions, and practices of contemporary education in light of their historic development from earliest times to the present. The student will be expected to refer, where possible, to primary sources—chiefly the writings of educational leaders—to reconstruct the history of educational thought. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Morris.

EDUCATION E373 (PSYCHOLOGY E373): Differential Psychology. Trinity term. Monday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of quantitative data concerning individual, group, and trait differences, and of the validity and reliability of those measuring instruments through which the data are secured. Prerequisite: a course in general psychology. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Herdman.

EDUCATION E374 (PSYCHOLOGY E374): Developmental Psychology. Christmas term. Monday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of the nature and conditions of human maturation and the learning process, including the development of motor skills, of perception, of understanding, of attitudes and ideals. Prerequisite: a course in general psychology. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Cassidy.

EDUCATION E377: Physical Anthropology. Christmas term. Friday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of man's biological place in nature, the record of fossil remains and artifacts of cultures in the Pleistocene epoch, and a review of man's achievements in the prehistoric periods of recent geologic time, including the development into races and the significance of these. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Morris.

EDUCATION E378 (PSYCHOLOGY E369); Cultural Anthropology. Trinity term. Friday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. For description see Psychology E369.

EDUCATION E471-472: Student Observation and Teaching. Christmas or Trinity term. May not be taken for graduate credit. Six semester hours of undergraduate credit. A laboratory course of supervised observation and teaching experience in cooperating nearby secondary schools. The student must be able to spend in the school a minimum of one-half of a secondary school day for at least eight weeks, and must ordinarily observe or teach approximately 140 school periods. Prerequisites: six semester hours of study in education, senior or graduate standing, and permission of the instructor. Additional fee: ten dollars. Mr. Herdman and staff.

EDUCATION E475: The Modern Secondary School: The Child and the Curriculum. Christmas term. Wednesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of the facts and principles of child and adolescent development as they relate to programs and practices in the modern secondary school. The student will be expected to define for himself the task of the secondary school as it grows out of the needs of youth in contemporary American society, and to consider curriculum problems as well as approaches to curriculum planning. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Morris.

EDUCATION E480: The Modern Secondary School: Its Organization and Administration. Trinity term. Wednesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of practices, principles, and problems involved in organizing, supervising, and administering the modern secondary school. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Morris.

EDUCATION E488: Audio-Visual Materials in Education. Christmas term. Thursday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of the various audio and visual materials now available for educational purposes, with particular emphasis upon the selection, evaluation, and proper use of learning aids in the curriculum. Each student will have an opportunity to use modern equipment in connection with class teaching-learning situations. Boardman Hall 101. Mr. Nerden.

EDUCATION E564 (PSYCHOLOGY E564): Psychology of Exceptional Children. Trinity term. Friday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. For description see Psychology E564.

EDUCATION E572: Language, Thought, and Communication. Christmas term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of the relation of English to individual and group problem solving, and an investigation of conditions under which effective communication can take place. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Vogel.

EDUCATION E573: Problems in Education. Trinity term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study, through broad reading and group discussion, of basic contemporary educational problems, involving aims, functions, and agencies. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Herdman.

EDUCATION E591 (PSYCHOLOGY E591): Principles of Counseling. Christmas term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. For description see Psychology E591.

EDUCATION E592 (PSYCHOLOGY E592): Techniques of Counseling. Trinity term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. For description see Psychology E592..

EDUCATION E601-602. Thesis. Christmas and Trinity terms. Hours by arrangement. Six semester hours. The preparation of a comprehensive paper representing an original solution to a clearly-defined, significant educational problem. Before a subject is approved, the student must present satisfactory evidence of the soundness and appropriateness of his plans. Registration for this course must be accompanied by written permission from the thesis advisor. Mr. Herdman and staff.

ENGLISH

ENGLISH E222: Public Speaking. Trinity term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. The planning and delivery of speeches of various types. A tape recorder will be used. Boardman Hall 214. Mr. Vogel.

FINE ARTS

FINE ARTS E301-302: Advanced Drawing and Painting. Christmas and Trinity terms. Wednesday 7:00-9:40. Six semester hours. Before entering the course each student must have had some previous basic training in drawing and painting, or satisfy the Fine Arts Department that he has ability. The course includes a study of techniques and drawing from a portrait model. Particular attention is given to the needs and aptitudes of the individual student. Boardman Hall 201. Mr. Pappas.

FINE ARTS E305-306: Modern Painting. Christmas and Trinity terms. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Six semester hours. A course dealing with the history of painting from the French Revolution to modern times. A survey of American painting from colonial days to the present is included in the course. There is no prerequisite for this course. Boardman Hall 201. Mr. Taylor.

HISTORY

HISTORY E405-406: History of the Byzantine Empire and Islam. Christmas and Trinity terms. Wednesday 7:00-9:40. Six semester hours. A political, religious, and cultural survey from the foundation of Constantinople to 1453. Boardman Hall 212. Mr. Downs.

HISTORY E411-412: Political and Cultural History of Modern Russia. Christmas and Trinity terms. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Six semester hours. The history, literature, and philosophy of Russia from Peter the Great to the present. Boardman Hall 212. Mr. Spinka.

HISTORY E601-602: Thesis. Christmas and Trinity terms. Conference hours by appointment. Six semester hours. Registration for this course must be accompanied by written permission from the thesis advisor. Mr. Thompson and staff.

MATHEMATICS

MATHEMATICS E401: Theory of Complex Variables. Christmas term. Wednesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. Algebra of complex numbers, analytic functions, the Cauchy theorem, expansion in series, residue theory, conformal mapping, harmonic functions and applications to hydrodynamics, thermodynamics, and electrodynamics. Prerequisite: advanced calculus. Boardman Hall 214. Mr. Klimczak.

MATHEMATICS E402: Operational Calculus. Trinity term. Wednesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. The Laplace transformation and its applications to the solution of ordinary differential equations and boundary value problems in partial differential equations. Prerequisite: Mathematics E401 or its equivalent. Boardman Hall 214. Mr. Klimczak.

MATHEMATICS E410: Numerical Mathematical Analysis and Machine Methods I. Christmas term. Monday 7:00-9:40 and Saturday 1:00-4:30. Four semester hours. Numerical analysis including accuracy and precision, interpolation, construction and use of mathematical tables, numerical differentiation and integration, curve fitting by least squares, solution of polynomial and transcendental equations. Use of Standard IBM punched card machines in computation including electronic calculator, tabulator, reproducer, sorter and collator. Prerequisite: differential and integral calculus, permission of the instructor. Boardman Hall 214 and United Aircraft Corp. Research Dept. Computation Laboratory. Mr. Ramshaw.

MATHEMATICS E411: Numerical Mathematical Analysis and Machine Methods II. Trinity term. Monday 7:00-9:40 and Saturday 1:00-4:30. Four semester hours. Numerical mathematical analysis including direct and iterative determination of characteristic roots of matrices, direct and iterative solutions of linear simultaneous algebraic equations, matrix inversion, error analysis in linear problems, numerical solution of ordinary differential equations, numerical solution of certain classes of partial differential equations. Use of the IBM Card Programmed Electronic Calculator. Coding for large scale, stored program electronic calculators. Prerequisite: successful completion of E410 or equivalent, first course in ordinary differential equations, permission of the instructor. Boardman Hall 214 and United Aircraft Corp. Research Dept. Computation Laboratory. Mr. Ramshaw.

PSYCHOLOGY

PSYCHOLOGY E341: Foundations of Psychology. Christmas term. Wednesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. Designed for those graduate students who have never had a course in general psychology or who need an intensive and advanced review of general psychology prior to pursuing more advanced courses in the field. Covers the topics of perception, learning, motivation, social processes, and neurological mechanisms on a graduate level rather than on an elementary one. Boardman Hall 211. Mr. Cassidy.

PSYCHOLOGY E345: Elementary Statistical Methods. Christmas term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. Frequency distributions, graphical presentation, measures of central tendency and dispersion, the normal curve, simple correlation and regression, introduction to sampling distributions. Mathematics required: secondary school algebra. Boardman Hall 211. Mr. Whitney.

PSYCHOLOGY E347: Market Research. Trinity term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. This course is designed for those working in fields involving sample surveys, e.g., customer research, attitude and opinion surveys, and the like. Statistical methods in market research and sampling problems in preference, opinion and attitude surveys. Sampling theory, testing of hypotheses, estimating population values, problems of sample bias, correlation in sampling surveys, significance tests, and sequential analysis. Prerequisite: one semester of elementary statistics. Boardman Hall 211. Mr. Whitney.

PSYCHOLOGY E348: Research Method in the Social Sciences. Trinity term. Monday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. This course is designed to aid the student in his research work. How to establish hypotheses, how to collect data, to do reference work, to present data. Experimental designs and problems of control. Prerequisite: one semester of elementary statistics. Boardman Hall 211. Mr. Cassidy.

PSYCHOLOGY E369 (EDUCATION E378): Cultural Anthropology. Trinity term. Friday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. The anthropologists' views of the nature and origin of language, the anticipations of culture among the primates other than man, and and a comparative study of the systems of Kroeber, Toynbee, Sorokin, Spengler and others as they reflect the nature of culture, its processes and patterns. Boardman Hall 104. Mr. Morris.

PSYCHOLOGY E373 (EDUCATION E373): Differential Psychology. Trinity term. Monday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. For description see Education E373.

PSYCHOLOGY E374 (EDUCATION E374): Development Psychology. Christmas term. Monday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. For description see Education E374, PSYCHOLOGY E531: Learning and Perception. Trinity term. Thursday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A systematic and theoretical approach to the problems of learning and perception and how they aid in an understanding of the dynamics of personality. Prerequisite: a course in general psychology. Boardman Hall 211. Mr. Souerwine.

PSYCHOLOGY E532: Motivation. Christmas term. Friday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A systematic and theoretical study of drives and motives, their classification, structure, origin, development, and dynamic aspects, including the consideration of frustration and conflict and related mechanisms. Prerequisite: a course in general psychology. Boardman Hall 211. Mr. Kip.

PSYCHOLOGY E541: Social Psychology. Christmas term. Thursday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. Cultural aspects of human behavior are analyzed in such areas as: social and class structure, attitude formation, class differences, social status and motivation, group loyalties and hostilities, customs, tradition and conformity. Prerequisite: a course in general psychology. Boardman Hall 211. Mr. Souerwine.

PSYCHOLOGY E564 (EDUCATION E564): The Psychology of Exceptional Children. Trinity term. Friday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of the exceptional child as it is related to normal mental life and to psychological development and social adjustment. Prerequisite: a course in general psychology. Boardman Hall 211. Mr. Kip.

PSYCHOLOGY E567: Psychological Foundations in the Selection and Placement of Personnel. Christmas term. Wednesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of the different methods which are used for the selection and placement of personnel in business and industry, with emphasis on the use of tests and the evaluation of test procedures. Prerequisite: a course in general psychology and one semester of elementary statistics. Boardman Hall 309. Mr. Peterson.

PSYCHOLOGY E570: Seminar in the Psychology of Personnel. Trinity term. Wednesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. Topics will vary according to the interests of the class. Prerequisite: Psychology E567 and/or E569 and the permission of the instructor. Psychology Library, Boardman Hall. Mr. Peterson.

PSYCHOLOGY E591 (EDUCATION E591): Principles of Psychological Counseling. Christmas term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of the various principles underlying counseling procedures as they are used in educational and vocational guidance situations. Prerequisite: a course in psychological testing and the permission of the major department. Psychology Library, Boardman Hall. Mr. McKenzie.

PSYCHOLOGY E592: (EDUCATION E592): Techniques of Psychological Counseling. Trinity term. Tuesday 7:00-9:40. Three semester hours. A study of the techniques used in counseling in vocational and educational situations. Students will be given the opportunity for practical experience under supervision. Prerequisite: Psychology E591 and the permission of the major department. Psychology Library, Boardman Hall. Mr. McKenzie.

PSYCHOLOGY E601-602: Thesis. Christmas and Trinity terms. Conference hours by appointment. Six semester hours. Registration for this course must be accompanied by written permission by the thesis advisor. Mr. Souerwine and staff.
