Suffering Not Test of Faith For The Christian-Johnson

MARCH 17—"The revelation of Christ exists in the beginning and the end of creation; God never intended suffering," the Rev. Dr. William A. Johnson, Assistant Professor of Religion, said today in the fifth of a series of six Chapel sermons. Dr. Johnson spoke on "How the Christian Handles the Problem of Suffering."

He discarded the often used argument that "suffering is the way to purification." God does not will suffering as a test of faith which leads men to a communication with Him. Dr. Johnson said, "Suffering does not build the character of the Christian. One need not be a hypochondriac of Christ."

"The Christian faith has always dealt with the universal problem of suffering," he continued. It has said that faith can overcome the burden of suffering "or it is not really suffering but illusory." Gen-

Trinidads Will Sing At Bahama Is Hotel

The Trinidads, traveling to the Bahama Islands for their third successive year, will appear at the Grand Bahama Hotel and Country Club, at West End, Grand Bahama Island, from March 24 to March 31. The 14-man singing group, which has traveled to Nassau in the island chain for the previous two spring vacations, will be making their first appearance at the Grand Bahama Hotel.

Informed sources report that the hotel, as well as owning a golf course, maintains an airport for the convenience of its guests. The hotel's artificial swimming pool, the report continues, is so large that the lifeguards have to use rowboats to make rescues.

erations have accepted this solution, Dr. Johnson said, until suffering occurs. Then doubt occurs and many feel Christian faith becomes irrelevant, he said.

He spoke of "doubt-producing situations, which make it difficult to believe" in traditional religious concepts. Movements which have attacked the relevance of Christian faith, he said, include pragmatism, science, secularism and other religions. "Many assume that Marx, Freud and others have sealed the death of Religious faith," he said.

He spoke of the situation of suffering in modern society. "For every sufferer asks himself questions, 'Can I still believe in God,' Behind these questions, there is a longing for an answer. He wants to know how to make sense out of a life that seems to be meaningless."

The "grandeur of man" is that we can raise the question of meaning, of why we suffer pain, Dr. Johnson said. We must endure the "cruel spiritual suffering of seeing experience which we lack the rational to explain." We should try to find an answer to suffering in the idea of God, he emphasized.

"There will always be suffering, even for God. He does not will suffering. Evil is somehow introduced into the world because of man's will," the Methodist minister said.

Air Force Chaplain To Address ROTC

MARCH 17—Monsignor William J. Clasby, Command Chaplain at Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama will cite the "Moral Responsibilities of the Man in Uniform" before the Air Force ROTC, tomorrow, at 4:30 p. m. in the Chemistry Auditorium.

Monsignor Clasby, who received his B. A. degree from St. Patrick's Seminary in Menlo Park, did post graduate work at Georgetown University in Washington, D. C., and later served as Staff Chaplain at a number of Air Force Bases, including a term as Inspector General for the U. S. Air Force Chaplains. Prior to his present assignment as Command Chaplain, he was Chief of Professional Division in the Office, Chief of Air Force Chaplains, Washington, D. C.

He has presented a total of 23 talks over the radio on the "Hour of Faith," "The Catholic Hour," and "Faith of Our Times" programs. He has also been guest speaker at Westminster Cathedral in London, England.

He is the founder of "Our Lady's Knights of the Skies," a confraternity of 100,000 Catholic airmen, and has been awarded the Legion of Merit and the Commendation Medal.

Cerberus Selects Officers: Parsons, Losse, Campbell

MARCH 17—The Cerberus today elected Philip Parsons its new president announced for mer President Jeff Freeman. The group also chose John Losse and Ashley Campbell as vice-president and secretary, respectively. All three men are members of the Sophomore Class.

The Cerberus is an honorary organization of sophomores and juniors, the principal function being to act as hosts for the college. To this end, the group has assisted the admissions office in giving tours, interviewed prospective freshmen in their hometowns, and served as ushers at such college gatherings as the Frost Lecture.

The first task for Parsons and the Executive Committee will be to set

Senate Outlines 'Sweeping' Program

by BRUCE FRIER

MARCH 18 - The Senate outlined this evening its goals for the coming year. The broad program, generally conceded to be more sweeping than that of the previous Senate, was intended to examine in detail many problems overlooked by the 1962 "Undergraduate Evaluation".

Senator David H. Tower cleared the way for the new Committee system by introducing a constitution amendment giving the President wide latitude in determining the number and scope of his committees. Senator Tower explained that, "We don't feel we should burden future presidents with our particular committee system." The Amendment was unanimously adopted.

Two committees had earlier outlined what their main fields of interest would be in the coming year. Senator Tower, chairman of the Committee on Student Affairs, expressed an interest in revising the Freshman Executive Council, the Junior Advisor System, the present study facilities, and Honors Day; his committee will also manage elections and continue the examination of the summer storage facilities.

Senator Keith Watson, chairman of the Committee on Specifics, outlined a program similarly broad; he will look into the Athletic Department, ROTC, the Foreign Student Exchange program, and the impact of the New Curriculum. His committee also will consider possible constitutional changes in presidential elections and in the definition of the social status of prospective Senators.

BOTH CHAIRMEN emphasized that they would probably not have time to examine all of the categories outlined and said that the success of their programs would depend upon the work expended by the Senators.

The two committees were both mentioned by Senate President Michael Anderson in his President's Report at the beginning of the meeting. Their powers are to be, in his opinion, vague enough so that work can be equitably distributed among them.

Senator Bruce Bridegroom gave a final report of his ad hoc committee on student motorcycles and motor-scooters. He suggested that the noise from motorcycles could be curbed by a compulsory requirement of mufflers; and stated that there was no cause for alarm about scooter safety, for "not one serious accident has occurred with them." He concluded that motor-scooters were by no means a detriment to Trinity's image. He further stated that motorcycles were "an economic necessity to their owners" and that only a small percentage of the owners had violated campus traffic regulations.

The recommendation of this committee, that the Administration reverse its ban on these motor vehicles, was unanimously adopted.

Senate Lecture Tonight: Neaverson on Communism

Dr. Rex Neaverson will speak on "The New Communist Party in the Soviet Union," in the second of the Senate Lecture Series sponsored by the Senate Educational Affairs Committee, in Wean Lounge tonight at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Neaverson, who is an associate professor of Government, is now teaching the course, Totalitarian Government and Politics.

He will describe changes in Communist leadership with the emphasis falling on the advance from 1957 to the present time and on the problems posed by the newly rising party.

Neaverson will also assess the successes and failures of the twenty-second party Congress with a view to new rules.

The Senate series will include other lectures this semester: on April 9, Paul Smith will discuss A New College Curriculum; and on May 6, Dr. William Johnson will cover a topic as yet unannounced.

"The Senate is trying to fulfill its educational function and hopes the students will take advantage of it," said Senator Michael Anderson. The purposes of the Lecture Series are to expose students to teachers they haven't had in courses and to utilize the educational value of lectures, he continued.

The lectures, all of which will be held in Wean Lounge at 7:30 p. m. are designed to last from 40 minutes to one hour. Speakers will limit their topics to their own particular field.

On Thursday, February 28, Dr. Robert D. Meade spoke on "Brainwashing" in the first of this Lecture Series.

Strong Baseball Nine Set For Annual 'Southern' Tour

by JACK O'NEIL

MARCH 18 - Pitching, that's the key to a winning season many experts claim, and if so then the 1963 varsity Bantams should have the Championship title well within their reach. A problem this season lies, unlike last year, not on the mound but behind the plate.

With eight returning varsity letter winners, and with good support from the 1962 Frosh team especially in the pitching department, the overall picture looks bright. Dan Jessee returns to the helm this season after a semester sabbatical, and again he is working with a limited squad in the fieldhouse. The Bantam nine will face the problem, however, of confining almost all practices to the fieldhouse right up to opening day. Last year, under Coach Bob Schultz, the team was able to have only one practice game on the field before the regular season.

Mentor Jessee's chief concern this season is almost strictly with his catchers. Minus last year's team captain and catcher Roland Johnson, Jessee is pinning all his hopes on Tom Shea -- and hopes are high and the plans big for the inexperienced sophomore.

Among those returning to the pitching staff this season are Chris McNeill, a strong right-hander who won four and dropped three last season. The junior proved to be the workhorse of the staff in '62, pitching 55 2/3 innings, and finishing with an admirable 1.78 E.R.A. Pete Landerman, a senior righthander, returns after a 4-0 record last year and a formidable 1.16 E.R.A. Landerman, who was used chiefly as a relief pitcher last season, will be given more starting roles this year. The only returning southpaw is senior John Pitcarin, who ended the season with a 2-1 record and 2.20 E.R.A. Up from the '62 frosh squad are Sam Jenkins and Dave Williams, both right-handers, and southpaw Ed Lazzerini who has shown great promise. Another newcomer, junior Joe Lawrence will also see action.

IN THE FIELD, experience and ability paint an encouraging picture. With Shea catching, junior Richard Towle will be holding down the first base spot. Since Bobby Voorhees is still out of action due to a basketball knee injury, second base is open equally to Joe Moore, Don Taylor or Jon Stansfield. Returning at shortshop is co-captain Tom Halloran while Wes Feshler, the other co-captain, will hold down the hot corner.

THE OUTFIELD picture, as last year, is a bit confused. Speed merchant Tom Calabrese will undoubtedly start in center where the strong-armed senior should again prove to be a great asset. If needed, says Jessee, Calabrese could easily be used behind the plate. Next to Calabrese in right field will be senior Sam Winner, who

AXP Siezes IM Wrestling For 2nd Consecutive Year

MARCH 14 - Alpha Chi Rho won its second consecutive Intra-mural Wrestling Championship today by a 62 to 26 margin over runner-up Alpha Delta Phi. Heavy-weight John Fenrich was the only winner for Crow, but they managed to garner four second places and two third place consolation victories.

Joe Noyes scored three pins in the 137 pound class, including a final fall over Riess Potterveld (ACR), and scored 15 of the Jaguars 18 team points to retain his division title. Francie Jacobs DPSI also won his 147 pound class for the second straight year with a close

1-0 victory over Crow's Bob Tomford.

JOHN WESTNEY of Delta Phi won the 157 pound title by forfeit over top-ranked Bill Daley of Alpha Delta Phi, while Phi Kappa Psi's Mike Dearington won his third 167 pound championship by forfeit over Alpha Chi Rho's Bob Rimer, who suffered a concussion in the semi-finals.

Dan Moore's 5-4 victory over Diethard Kolewe was the featured match of the tournament. Moore of Alpha Delta Phi was the 177 pound champ for three years before moving up to the 187 pound bracket to tackle Crow's defending champ. Moore rode Kolewe for most of the first period until the strong sophomore reversed him with a roll. Kolewe's 2-0 lead quickly disappeared when Moore successfully made a switch from the referee's position.

Realizing that he was behind on "riding time", Kolewe let Moore up at the start of the final period with the hopes of securing a take down. He went ahead shortly with a leg trip for a 4-3 margin, but Moore escaped to tie the match. The winning point was awarded Moore on the basis of a minute advantage in "riding time".

Sigma Nu finished third in the team scoring, while the Independents took fourth with a two point edge over Jarvis and Phi Kappa Psi, who were tied for fifth.

1. According to the Department of Labor, you're worth over $350,000 as soon as you get your sheepskin. That's theoretical, of course.

I didn't even know the Department was thinking about me.

2. The way they figure it, that $350,000 is how much the average college graduate will earn by the time he retires.

I'll take it right now in a lump sum. Would I live! Penthouse. Yacht. Homburg. The works.

3. As an Eco major, I feel obliged to tell you what would happen to that bundle. First, Uncle Sam would help himself to about 290 Gs. With the going rate for penthouses, your life's earnings would disappear in one year.

You've ruined my day.

4. Since you'd be only 22, you couldn't qualify for Social Security. You'd have to go back to your dad for an allowance.

I never could handle money.

5. Fortunately, there's a way out for you.

Tell me -- tell me.

Well, you won't be getting all that money in one year. You'll be getting some of it each year, at a much lower tax rate. What you should do is put aside a certain amount of it.

6. Put some money into cash-value insurance, the kind they call Living Insurance at Equitable. It gives your wife and kids solid protection and it saves for you automatically -- builds a cash fund you can use for retirement or any other purpose.

You Eco guys have all the answers.

Trackmen Debut Thursday

by JOE MARTIRE

MARCH 16 - Karl Kurth's spirited track squad will try to extend its victory skein of six dual-meet triumphs with a win over arch-rival Wesleyan this Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Trinity Fieldhouse. Last spring, the Cardinals beat the Bantams by a narrow one and two-thirds point margin to spoil an otherwise spotless record.

The team's pre-season showing at the Amherst and Union indoor invitational meets has been encouraging. Trinity took third place in the Amherst meet and finished fifth out of sixteen teams in the Union competition.

In the pole vault, lettermen Bill Daley and Dan Moore will provide Coach Kurth with points in this event while soph prospect Eric Lodge is still disabled with an ankle injury. Seniors Emmett Miller and Stan Hoerr, who both cleared six feet last year, will give the squad considerable strength in the high jump, while intramural champ Mike Anderson has been recruited for extra reserve power and could be the real 'sleeper' on the squad.

DAVE GALATY, Vic Keen, and Ed Gamson will make up the front line broad jumpers, with John Szumczyk, John Wardlaw, and Anderson in reserve. Two outstanding sophomore weightmen, Fred Prillaman and Diethard Kolewe, will handle the shot-putting chores and should both hit over 45' in the outdoor competition.

Senior Tom Smith and junior Jeff Chandor are both aiming at the college mark of 145' 10" in the discus throw and are given an excellent chance to break the record, according to Coach Kurth. Dave Ladewig and Prillaman will also compete in this event. Veterans Arnie Wood and Dave Brackett both hope to break the 180' foot mark in the javelin, and will be backed by Jesse Wellen and Miller.

Starting places for the 220 yard low hurdles are wide open among Vic Keen, Mike Schulenberg, Bob Schilpp, John Wardlaw, and Bill Campbell. In the 120 yard high hurdles, senior Mike Schulenberg will make a final effort to break the college mark of 15.4 which he missed by one-tenth second last year. Schilpp, Anderson, and Chandor will vie for the other starting position.

With the graduation of Markley Smith, Trinity's domination in the dash events might be at an end. During the indoor season, Tom Calabrese hangs up his baseball spikes to give the Kurthmen a lift in the dashes. He must be considered Trinity's top threat against Wesleyan by virtue of his second place finish at the Union meet in the 50 yard dash.

AMONG MY KINFOLK

My favorite cousin, Mandolin Glebe, a sweet, unspoiled country boy, has just started college. Today I got a letter from him which I will reprint here because I know Mandolin's problems are so much like your own. Mandolin writes:

Dear Mandolin (he thinks my name is Mandolin too), I see by the college paper that you are writing a column for Marlboro Cigarettes. I think Marlboros are jim-dandy cigarettes with real nice tobacco and a ginger-peachy filter, and I want to tell you why I don't smoke them.

It all started the very first day I arrived at college. I was walking across the campus, swinging my paper valise and singing traditional airs like Blue Tail Fly and Death and Transfiguration, when all of a sudden I ran into this here collegiate-looking fellow with a monogram on his breast pocket. He asked me was I a freshman. I said yes. He asked me did I want to be a BMOC and the envy of all the in crowd. I said yes. He said the only way to make these keen things happen was to join a fraternity. Fortunately he happened to have a pledge card with him, so he pricked my thumb and I signed. He didn't tell me the name of the fraternity or where it is located, but I suppose I'll find out when I go active.

She carried me to a chic French restaurant

Meanwhile this fellow comes around every week to collect the dues, which are $100, plus a $10 fine for missing the weekly meeting, plus a $5 assessment to buy a headstone for Spot, the late, beloved beagle who was the fraternity mascot.

I have never regretted joining the fraternity, because it is my dearest wish to be a BMOC and the envy of all the in crowd, but you can see that it is not cheap. It wouldn't be so bad if I slept at the frat house, but you must agree that I can't sleep at the house if I don't know where the house is.

I have rented a room which is not only grotesquely expensive, but it is not at all the kind of room I was looking for. I wanted someplace reasonably priced, clean, comfortable, and within easy walking distance of classes, the shopping district, and San Francisco and New York. What I found was a bedroom in the home of a local costermonger which is dingy, expensive, and uncomfortable—and I don't even get to use the bed till 7 a.m. when my landlord goes out to mong his costers.

Well anyhow, I got settled and the next thing I did, naturally, was to look for a girl. And I found her. Harriet, her name is, a beautiful creature standing just under seven feet high and weighing 385 pounds. I first spied her leaning against the statue of the Founder, dozing lightly. I talked to her for several hours without effect. Only when I mentioned dinner did she stir. Her milky little eyes opened, she raised a brawny arm, seized my nape, and carried me to a chic French restaurant called Le Clippjoint where she consumed, according to my calculations, her own weight in chateaubriand.

After dinner she lapsed into a torpor from which I could not rouse her, no matter how I tried. I banged my glass with a fork, I pinched her great pendulous jowls, I rubbed the legs of my corduroy pants together. But nothing worked, and finally I slang her over my shoulder and carried her to the girls dorm, slipping several discs in the process.

Fortunately, medical care for students is provided free at the college infirmary. All I had to pay for were a few extras, like X-rays, anaesthesia, forceps, hemostats, scalpels, catgut, linen, towels, amortization, and nurses. They would not, however, let me keep the nurses.

So, dear cousin, it is lack of funds, not lack of enthusiasm, that is keeping me from Marlboro Cigarettes—dear, good Marlboros with their fine blend of choice tobaccos and their pure white Selectrate filter and their soft pack and their flip top box.

Well, I must close now. My pencil is wore out and I can't afford another. Keep 'em flying.

Yr. cousin Mandolin Glebe proved to be an all-round valuable competitor last year. Left field is open to both Bruce McDougall and Dave Raymond, but McDougall's speed, second only to Calabrese's, will probably be the deciding factor in his assignment.

Out of the nineteen games scheduled for this season, four occur during Spring Vacation, and only seven are to be played on the Bantam's diamond. The team takes its annual southern road trip again this season, with opening day coming against the University of Delaware next Wednesday, March 27. The following day Trinity faces Navy at Annapolis, then on March 29 they meet George Washington, last year's Southern Conference champions. The road trip winds up with the Trinmen facing Catholic University, for the Bantam's fourth game in as many days. They return home to face M.I.T. on April 3.

McNeill will be Jessee's starter for opening day and will probably finish up against Catholic University. In turn, Pitcarin is slated to start against Navy and Landerman may get the call for the George Washington game.

A LOT OF "IFS" are involved in any preseason prediction, but IF the pitching comes through as expected, IF the Bantams can at least match their overall .938 fielding average of last year, and IF they can come up with a few strong hitters and improve last year's .249 team batting average, then the Trinmen are a sure-shot to be strong contenders for a championship season.

Loa DiFazio along with Szumczyk and Ganson will battle it out for points in the 100 this spring, with Campbell or Keen helping in the 220.

IN THE 440 yard dash, Bill Campbell and Vic Keen should both push each other in an attempt to snap the college mark of 49.1 set by Bob Langen in 1959. Danny Clark and Dave Woolman will run in both the 440 and 880.

Perry Rianhard and Dick Ravizza will provide Trinity with exceptional talent in the 880 yard run and endanger the existing 1:59.2 mark. A greatly-improved Ed Mosher will add to the point total in this event.

Cross-country star Mal McGawn has his sights set on Ed Scharff's mile (4:25.6) and two-mile (9:44.5) records, and will receive support from Mosher, Rosenfeld, and John Ogden in the mile, and Alden Gardner, the captain-elect of the x-country team, in the gruelling two mile race.
