

L. G. Campbell to Lecture On Danville, Virginia Plans

OCT. 29 - The Rev. Mr. Lawrence G. Campbell, leader of the Danville, Virginia branch of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will discuss "The Negro Revolt" tomorrow at 8:30 p.m., in the Wean Lounge.

Campbell, one of the assistants to the Rev. Martin Luther King in the Southern Christian Conference Movement will speak under the joint sponsorship of the Political Science Club, C.O.D.E., the Chaplain and the Chapel Cabinet, the Young Democrats and the Young Republicans.

A church pastor in Danville, Campbell is expected to outline plans for massive demonstrations to be held in that city early next month, and to present a film taken in alleged police brutality to demonstrators.

Jesters Ready 'Caligula' Play

OCT. 27--The Jesters will present Albert Camus' existentialist play CALIGULA on October 31, and November 1, 2, 4, and 5 at 8:15 p.m. in Alumni Hall. Tickets are $1.50 except for 50¢ student tickets and may be purchased in Mather Hall.

George E. Nichols, III, director of the play and associate professor of drama, has commented, "This play is fascinating from many viewpoints--dramatic, philosophical, and just sheer entertainment--and impact."

In the title role of CALIGULA is Bruce A. Jay. He is familiar to audiences for his portrayals in THE ZOO STORY, THE AMERICAN WAY, and THE BEAUX STRATAGEM.

OTHER MEMBERS of the cast include Wilbur E. Hawthorne Jr., as "Patricius"; Peter S. Mellon as "Cherea"; John W. Westney, Jr., as "Helicon"; William J. Eakins as "Merela"; James G. Levine as "Mucius"; James O'Connor as "Octavius"; Charles F. Hamblen as "Lucius"; and Jerome Liebowitz as "Cassius."

The female members of the cast are Johanna Warnecke as "Caesonia," Caligula's mistress, Maureen O'Connor, Susan Doran, Bessie Morrill, and Judy Braga.

CAMPBELL HAS described his city as "the shame of the South." He stated recently that Negro leaders all over the South consider it a "segregationist stronghold" and cited Dr. King's statement that "the city's notorious record of police brutality" makes it "the worst community by far for its size in the South."

Campbell noted that Dr. King was so "appalled" by the situation in Danville that he planned to bring "his entire task force" to the town as soon as he had completed his drive in Birmingham, Alabama.

In June of this year, Campbell and other leaders of the Danville movement were charged with "inciting the Negroes to acts of war against the white population," a crime punishable by a ten-year jail sentence. Bond was placed at $5000 and he was indicted by the grand jury for "inciting to riot" and "inciting or encouraging a minor to commit a misdemeanor."

The Rev. Mr. Campbell will also speak Thursday in the Chapel at 11:30 a.m. He is scheduled for a lecture at Smith College this evening.

Shepard To Read Emerson In Second Talk Thursday

OCT. 29 - Odell Shepard, Pulitzer Prize winning novelist, will read from Ralph Waldo Emerson on Thursday, at 4:30 p.m., in the Math-Physics Auditorium.

In the second part of two readings from the poetry and prose of the earlier half of the nineteenth century in the North and South of the United States, Dr. Shepard will dwell on the "local element in literature."

DR. SHEPARD, former James J. Goodwin Professor of English at Trinity and chairman of the department, spent 29 years teaching here. He is a graduate of Northwestern University, holds a Ph.D. from Harvard, and honorary degrees from Northwestern, Wesleyan, and Boston University.

Former students and friends of Odell Shepard will honor the 80

New Improvement Program To Raise Tuition To $1,650

OCT. 29 — Trinity's tuition fee will be increased by $250, Dr. Albert C. Jacobs announced today. The tuition rise, effective September, 1964, will bring total tuition costs to $1,650 per year.

Jacobs said the increase was necessitated by a four-point program designed "to improve further the quality of the College's academic offerings." Finances for the new program will be obtained through the increased tuition, through new endowment funds, and increased goals in annual giving programs.

In the following letter, mailed to parents, the president explains the college's action in increasing tuition costs:

Foundation Awards $25,000 Toward Fine Arts Building

OCT. 29--The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving has granted Trinity College an additional $25,000 toward the cost of the $2,200,000 Fine Arts Center now under construction.

Together with an earlier gift, this grant makes a total of $60,000 awarded by the Foundation towards the Center.

In explaining the grant, a spokesman for the Foundation said,

"Weight was given to the fact that Howard Hunt Garmany, donor of the largest trust fund held by the Foundation, requested in his will that consideration be given to the needs of Trinity College. The committee also noted that the new building will serve not only Trinity students, but the entire Hartford community as well."

Dr. Albert C. Jacobs, College President, in accepting the gift said: "The College is indeed indebted to the Foundation for this additional vote of confidence in Trinity's future. We will remember the Foundation's most generous benefactor, Howard Hunt Garmany, by naming an appropriate room in the Center in his honor."

THE ARTS CENTER, designed by O'Connor and Kilham of New York, is currently under construction by Standard Builders Inc., of Hartford and is expected to be completed some time in the fall of 1964.

12 Years' Service

Recorder Plans Retirement

After 12 years of service to the college as recorder and statistician Mrs. Ruth C. Roggee will retire on Thursday, October 31, to live with her mother in New Jersey.

She has worked under the President and the Dean of the College since 1951, and has assisted in dividing the offices of Dean and Registrar, united under Dean Clark, into two distinct jobs held in relation to each other by her work.

Mrs. Roggee was born of missionary parents in Yokohama, Japan, from where, at the age of three, she moved to New Jersey. Graduating from Adrian College in Adrian, Michigan, she married and lived in Detroit. When her husband died in 1936, she returned to New Jersey to work as Recorder and Acting Registrar at the New Jersey State Teachers' College in Paterson.

After ten years in Paterson she moved to Newark, becoming executive secretary to the President of the University of Newark, and when the University was incorporated into Rutgers University, Recorder and acting Registrar.

The office of recorder and statistician at Trinity involves the compilation of records on admission credits, grades for Dean's list, federal and state reports,

"I know that the excellence of Trinity College's academic program is a matter of pride not only to the Trustees, Faculty and Administrators of the College, but also to Trinity parents and to their sons for whom this program is designed. Any improvement in the program is, of course, of direct benefit to the students of the College."

"Over many months, committees have been working on plans to improve further the quality of the College's academic offerings. Among the steps proposed by these committees and approved by the Trustees are:

1. "The strengthening, where necessary, of Trinity's academic departments, including some additions at the top professorial level;
2. "Recognition of outstanding teaching through merit salary increases;
3. "Provision of the additional library services required by the emphasis in the new curriculum on independent study;
4. "Provision of additional counseling and other student services. "These programs will require, of course, a substantial increase in annual operating income. A part of this increase, but only a part, will come from a tuition increase as of September, 1964, to $1,650.

(Continued on Page 3)

Tyler Finds Hope in Antonioni's Characters: Barbieri Speaker Relates Film Themes to Life

OCT. 25--Hope rather than despair is the theme of the Antonioni trilogy, according to Parker Tyler, noted poet, film critic, and historian, who delivered this year's Cesare Barbieri lecture, "The Antonioni Trilogy: A Gauge of the Modern Sensibility."

The lecture was the fourth in the Cesare Barbieri program on the Antonioni films. On the three previous weeks L'AVVENTURA, LA NOTTE, and L'ECLISSI had been shown.

TYLER ILLUSTRATED the relationship among the films and between the films and the world as Antonioni conceives it.

Basically, Tyler stressed that visual images are far more important than dialogue or theme music in comprehending the theme of these pictures. "In both L'AVVENTURA and L'ECLISSI the story is quite complete without the use of any words at all," he observed.

The basic similarity in the plot situations, that of rich people caught in boredom and fear, suggests for the critic an example of modern man's inability to face the reality of himself and his world. As all three pairs of lovers are terrified by the prospect of responsible love, so modern man, Tyler stated, is incapable of exploring his own moral responsibilities and obligations.

ANTONIONI, he noted, has constantly stressed in interviews the irony of modern man setting out to explore distant stars and yet struck by paranoid fear when he attempts to discover his own being.

However, Tyler indicated, the very presentation of this theme shows Antonioni does have some confidence in man's ability to solve his problem eventually.

Tyler found the roots of Antonioni's thought in Freudian psychology and in Italian existentialism, both of which lent him themes of lonely desolation (as with the island in L'AVVENTURA) which could be overcome by frank effort from mankind.

Tyler saw the main theme of these works as one of hope rather than of despair.

He praised Antonioni, who writes, produces, and directs all the films himself, as one of the foremost artists of the cinema.

Trinity Tripod

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Editor-in-Chief

Alfred C. Burfelnd '64

Managing Editor

Leon G. Shilton '65

News Editor

Malcolm Carter '66

Photography Editor

Richard D. Bloomstein '64

Sports Editor

Peter Kinzler '64

Features Editor

BUSINESS BOARD

Business Manager

James C. Rowan, Jr. '64

Accountant

Joel Thomas '65

Staff

Advertising Manager

Randolph C. Kent '65

Circulation Manager

Park Benjamin '65

John Sartorius '67, Robert Powell '67, Lawrence Moore '67

Published twice weekly during the academic year except vacations. Student subscriptions included in activities fee; others $6.50 per year. Second Class postage paid at Hartford, Connecticut, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Campus Notes

REVIEW SOCIETY

The REVIEW Society will meet Friday at 4 p.m. in Goodwin Lounge. At this time material will be read and criticized for eventual use for the literary magazine. All are invited.

COFFEE HOUR

A coffee hour will be held in the Trumbull Room of the Library Monday, November 4, at 4:15 p.m., to enable students and faculty to meet Habil Wejuli '65, from Kenya, Africa.

LEICA MEETS YASHICA

Photography by Joseph McDaniel and Sanford Fidell in an exhibit entitled "Leica Meets Yashica" will be on display in Wean Lounge from October 30 to November 15.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cerle Francais will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., in Wean Lounge.

PLACEMENT NOTES

George P. Drowne, Jr., Director of Admissions, The Amos Tuck School of Business Administration, Dartmouth College, will be on campus Monday, November 4.

James C. Hormel, Dean of Students, The Law School, University of Chicago will be on campus Monday, November 4, to talk with interested juniors and seniors.

John P. Wilson, Assistant Dean, Law School of Harvard University, will be on campus Wednesday, November 6, to talk with interested juniors and seniors.

Fraternity Gives Witherington Award

OCT. 24--John H. Witherington, Jr., '65, has been selected by his brothers at Phi Kappa Psi as the Summerfield Scholar of the year.

The award, available annually in each of the 63 chapters of this fraternity, is presented to a member who, in the opinion of his fellows, has achieved an excellent record of scholarship in combination with demonstrated leadership qualities and worthwhile contributions to his college and to the fraternity.

Along with the certificate goes a cash award of $100.

Witherington's activities in college have included corresponding secretary of the Senate, Junior Adviser, and TRIPOD reporter. In the fraternity he has been Dining Hall Steward and Chaplain.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Witherington, 419 Orchard Street, Cranford, New Jersey.

Students Speak To Goldwater

OCT. 24 - Senator Barry Goldwater, one of the leading candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination arrived at the Statler Hotel in Hartford this evening to be greeted by a group of about 250 supporters, forty of whom represented the College.

Most of these students were members of the Republican club and arrived in car pools organized by club president Gerry Wendell.

Goldwater, seeing the number of students in the crowd, expressed his pleasure that "so many young people" were interested in politics and in himself specifically.

A number of students were able to get the Senator's autograph, and their pictures appeared in the Hartford COURANT the following morning as young supporters of the candidate.

Wat's What

by Keith Watson

The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily those of the editorial staff of the TRIPOD.

—ed.

Increasing Embarrassment

"The religious requirement at Trinity has become a fact of increasing embarrassment to the student body, the faculty, and the administration of the college."

With these words the Senate begins its letter to the Trustees asking the abolishment of the current obligatory religious service attendance rule. A committee of trustees meets this week to consider the Senate resolution to this effect which was originally passed last February.

Clearly, the trustees can stipulate any program of religious observance that they desire. But if the requirement is deemed at all important, its fulfillment must be assured. Thus, the existing honor system can be justified in theory, but not in practice; the students are simply not complying with the regulation. The situation is at best embarrassing, at worst corrupting.

Truth Outside Church

One solution would be to establish means to enforce the regulation of the trustees. The letter from the Senate is concerned principally with presenting arguments against this alternative.

It is noted from a theological point of view, for example, that righteousness cannot be legislated. History has long illustrated this hypothesis and recently psychology has concurred. Such a requirement precipitates antagonism and an unconscious refusal to honestly confront and evaluate the religious experience.

Learning is the process of authentic confrontation with all the variables involved in the area of inquiry; religious experience is certainly not confined to the college chapel or even the institutional church. Certainly those students who find their truth outside the church should be allowed to accept and follow the implications of the conclusions that they have drawn. For 140 years, Trinity has asserted its ties with the Episcopal Church and expressed its conviction in the importance and value of religious faith. But this sentiment should not be permitted to obfuscate the principle of tolerance on which the college was founded. Trinity, as a liberal arts college for men of all faiths, must be true to its conception of individual religious determinism and tolerate the creed of not being religious.

Present Rule Corrupts

The question may be asked why the students are protesting a regulation the "long walk grapevine" has long acknowledged to be ignored by an overwhelming majority of the undergraduates. The answer seems to be that the student body is becoming increasingly aware of the corrupting nature of the present practice of signing an oath falsely, especially the implications that this situation may have for the proposed academic honor code.

Thus, the word "embarrassing" that the Senate has chosen to define the situation seems especially appropriate. It is embarrassing to students who must either participate in religious services in which they have no faith or sign their signatures against their integrity. The embarrassment must also be shared by the members of the Administration who are forced to organize the machinery of a quasi-honor system they know is but an instrument of hypocrisy and dishonesty.

Finally, the situation should create embarrassment among the trustees, for it is they who have taken no action since the wholesale violations of religious requirement were publicly acknowledged by the EVALUATION nearly two years ago.

Change Must Occur

Previous paragraphs have explained why this observer believes the trustees should choose to abolish the requirement rather than revert to a mandatory system of Chapel attendance. But a change must be made. Perhaps no better words sum up this view than a short quotation from an oft-cited source:

"You have made God's law null and void out of respect for your tradition. What hypocrisy! Isaiah was right when he prophesied about you: 'This people pays me lip-service, but their heart is far from me; their worship is in vain, for they teach as doctrines the commandments of men.'" Matt. 15:6-9 only your hair knows it's there!

It's invisible, man! You can't see it. She can't feel it. Only your hair knows it's there! It's CODE 10 for men, the new invisible hairdressing from Colgate-Palmolive. Non-greasy CODE 10 disappears in your hair, gives it the clean, manly look that inflames women, infuriates inferior men! Be in. Let new CODE 10 groom your hair all day, invisibly.

Now you see it.

Now you don't.

Grooms your hair all day invisibly!

Honor Code Questions

1. How much cheating goes on at Trinity?
2. What penalties should be levied upon cheaters?
3. Will an honor code be successful at Trinity?
4. Is an honor pledge necessary?
5. In what spheres should an honor code be applicable at the College—academic, social?
6. Is an informer clause necessary or advantageous?
7. What relation would the Medusa have with the honor code?

8. Should a separate honor council be selected?

The Committee states: "We urge student body to consider these questions seriously and conduct a mature discussion with the liaison committee. The discussion time required is essential to the success of the investigation."

"Admittedly, objectivity is difficult on such an emotion-toned subject, but it is hoped that thoughtless emotionalism will not characterize the discussions."

The Senate Honor Code Committee.

VISIT!

FRIENDLY ICE CREAM SHOP

at Maple Ave. & Broad Street

Featuring the Finest in Sandwiches & Ice Cream

BIG BEEF

45c

AWFUL AWFUL

36c

Integrationist Decries Lack of Action

Failure in Diplomacy

by JOHN LEMEGA and
VIN OSOWECKI

OCT. 28 - Vice-president Wilbur Smith of the Hartford branch of the NAACP told an Alumni Lounge audience tonight, "Diplomacy gets you nowhere in Civil Rights."

Smith, along with the Rev. Leonard Tartaglia of the Catholic Inter-racial Council and Attorney Lewis Fox of the Hartford Board of Education, commented on the various aspects of "The Race Problem" in a program sponsored by the Newman Apostolate.

Tuition...

(Continued from Page 1)

Over the years, tuition increases at Trinity have lagged behind those at its sister colleges. This increase, reluctantly voted by the Trustees at their autumn meeting, will put Trinity's tuition at a level comparable to the tuition charges at similar colleges.

"The Trustees have stressed the urgency of seeking new endowment funds, and this we plan to do in the near future. The increase in endowment income will also bear a part of the cost of the improvement in the academic programs. A third part of the increase in operating income will come from the annual giving programs. The alumni of the College have already voted to increase their giving by over ten percent and the other annual programs will be increased also.

"By this combined effort we expect to continue tuition charges at no more than fifty percent of actual instructional costs. I realize that some of our students and their parents will find it difficult to meet the new tuition charges, Dean Hughes, Dean Lacy, Mr. Smith and I will be very happy to discuss such problems and help to find solutions to them. It may be of some comfort to all parents to know that the new tuition rate will prevail at least through the academic year 1965-1966. In addition, we are looking into other possible ways of helping parents to finance their sons' education at Trinity.

"In the last decade the College has moved into the very top group of Colleges and Universities in our country. The new programs are designed to maintain and better this position. I am sure that they will have your approval and strong support."

Albert C. Jacobs
President

Israel Minister Speaks Tonight

OCT. 29 - Former first Secretary of the Embassy of Israel in Moscow, Arie Eliav, will consider "The Soviet Union and its Jews" tonight at 7:30 p.m., in the Alumni Lounge. The discussion will be sponsored by the College Hillel Society.

A former Director of the Lachish Region Development Project, Eliav served as Assistant to the Minister of Agriculture and later to the Minister of Finance. He was a Lt. Colonel in Israel's army during their war of independence. In 1958, he entered Israel's Diplomatic Corps and served as First Secretary of his nation's embassy in Moscow for two years.

Eliav was born in Moscow in 1921, and emigrated to Israel in 1925. He is a graduate of the Hebrew University in Tel Aviv.

From 1940, to the end of World War II, Eliav served with the British Army. After the war, he organized camps for Jewish displaced persons and commanded transports of refugees to Palestine.

Smith, a leading North End integrationist, justified the techniques of demonstrating arguing that "demonstrations focused apathetic America's eyes on the race problem."

"Sometimes we are animals," Smith said pointing out the instances when Cain slew Abel, when the Vikings invaded the British Isles, when the Nazis slaughtered the Jews, and when the "white people" beat the Negroes in Alabama. "Therefore," he continued, "we must push the white man when he refuses to be moved."

TURNING TO THE LOCAL problems, Smith quoted from a HARTFORD COURANT editorial stating that demonstrations are not needed in Hartford. The NAACP vice-president violently disagreed claiming that the demonstration is one way to push the de facto Northern segregationist.

On a local issue where members of a lake association here in Connecticut are restricting Negroes from membership in the group thus denying them use of lake facilities, Smith said, "If I were Rev. Mr. Philpot (the Negro now being denied membership), I would rent a boat, swim, fish, and even drink Andover Lake in order to test the legal right of one group to deny an individual his property rights."

"We are separated," declared the young Negro to the all-white audience, "by a wall 1/25th of an inch thick. It is this thin layer of skin which still determines whether a man is qualified for a job in many instances."

"WE CAN NEVER be satisfied,"

LETTERS

to the editor

To the Editor:

Mr. Keith Watson, in his letter in your issue of October 8, is quite unfair to Trinity's Admissions Department in suggesting that this Department has made no effort to find qualified Negroes. As a member of the Capital Area Scholarship Committee, I know that Mr. Watson is incorrect in stating that the Admissions Department has neglected Weaver; I know that he is uninformed when he implies that the Admissions Department has confined its activities to Conard and Park Avenue.

If Mr. Watson is interested in facts, rather than rhetoric, he can get them from Mr. Jacob W. Edwards, formerly of the Admissions Department, now an assistant to Dr. Vogel in the Department of Graduate Studies. We sincerely wanted a Negro as a Capital Area Scholar. The search, really research, led from the high school, to the junior high school and, finally, to the home when it was realized that motivation and encouragement must come from the family if students are to take college preparatory courses and pass them with acceptable grades. How difficult this is under existing social and economic conditions has been made very clear by other writers in your columns.

I agree with Mr. Watson that we should have more Negroes. I disagree with him when he implies that it is all the fault of the Admissions Department that we do not have more.

JOHN R. REITEMEYER '21

To the Editor:

I am writing to correct a misunderstanding which might have arisen from an article in the TRIPOD on October 22. Reporting the meeting on Parents' Day which was addressed by members of the Department of Religion, the TRIPOD quotes without comment

Smith concluded quoting Martin Luther King, "as long as the Southern Negro has no vote and the Northern Negro has nothing for which to vote. Let Freedom Ring."

The Rev. Tartaglia, giving the Catholic position in integration, supported Church intervention in the recent March on Washington. He argued the march proved:

1, that dignified, unified leadership among the Negroes is possible.
2) that unified action of Jews, Protestants, and Catholics can be effected.

Lewis Fox, attorney and member of the Hartford Board of Education, defended the structural basis of the Hartford Elementary School System and supported complete integration in all Hartford secondary schools.

Fox called for a "personal commitment" from all individuals, Christian and Jew alike.

Tonight's program was the third in a series of lectures designed to bring the Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish student a deeper understanding of where the Catholic Church stands on such controversial topics as sin, academic freedom, marriage, courtship, and evolution.

Federal Aid to Education and the question of Church-State relations will be the next Newman Apostolate's topic of discussion featuring the Rev. Nicholas J. Cesaro who will present the Catholic viewpoint Nov. 7 and Theodore Powell, author of the Connecticut School Bus Law, who will argue the federal government's position Nov. 26.

my reference to the medieval maxim that "philosophy is the handmaiden of theology."

Actually, the point of my remark was to reject the implication that theology calls the tune for philosophy. The enduring service of philosophy to religion, I added, is to supply religion with the tools of self-criticism. This is the basis on which philosophy and religion can work together, as they do at Trinity.

E. LaB. Cherbonnier
Professor of Religion

To the Editor:

Since your newspaper is devoting considerable space currently to a discussion of an Honor Code at Trinity it seems to be an appropriate time to call the attention of the entire student body to offenses against them which are taking place with increasing frequency.

Regularly the library staff receives reports that a student has just been seen dropping uncharged books out of a library window, usually to a waiting accomplice. When we ask the reporters if they know who the guilty parties are or if they took any action to inquire, we draw either a blank or a queer look, as if to say this is the Library's problem.

Donald B. Engley
Librarian

LEARN TO BOX!

Be A Master In The Art or Self-Defense

Expert Trainers' Secrets Can Be Yours! No Equipment Needed. Form A Campus Boxing Club Among Your Friends For Fun, Self-Confidence and Real Physical Fitness. Complete Brochure and Lessons One Dollar. Send to:

PHYSICAL ARTS GYM,
363 Clinton St., Hempstead,
Long Island, N. Y.

INDIAN SUMMER is a time when all thoughts about the approaching hectic winter season are forgotten temporarily to enjoy a few last gentle days. The couple above, in their own little world, pay little heed to the soccer game in front of them.

1. Now that I'm a senior I have to start thinking about my future. Will you marry me?

Will you be able to give me all the things I crave—like pizza pie and chow mein?

2. I've lined up a terrific job. There's a choice of training programs, good starting salary, challenging work, and the chance to move up. That's Equitable.

I agree—but what's the company's name?

3. Equitable—it's Equitable.

It certainly is. It's also fair, square, and just. But I would still like to know the name of the company.

4. We're not communicating. I keep telling you it's Equitable—and you keep asking what's the name.

I keep agreeing your job sounds good. But you stubbornly refuse to tell me who you're going to work for.

5. Can it be you never listen to my words? Is it possible that what I thought was a real relationship was but a romantic fantasy?

Is it conceivable that what I took to be a solid foundation was just a house of cards? That what I thought was a bright flame was merely an emotional flicker?

6. I'd hate to lose you, but at least I'll still have my job with Equitable—The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

Oh, The Equitable. Why didn't you say so? We'll have a June wedding.

For information about career opportunities at Equitable, see your Placement Officer, or write to William E. Blevins, Employment Manager.

The EQUITABLE Life Assurance Society of the United States

Home Office: 1285 Avenue of the Americas, New York 19, N. Y. © 1963

ED LAZZERINI (5) takes corner pass from Mark Josephson and slams home Bantams' second goal in Trin's 2-2 stalemate with Williams. Ephs' goalie helplessly bites dust as Trin's Bob Ochs (17) leaps over him in jubilation. Tom Seddon (1) is at left. Dathmen, now 4-0-1, take on Union booters Wednesday in 3:00 contest. (McDaniel photo)

Crusaders' Ground Game Crushes Jessemen 41-0

SELINGROVE, PA., Oct. 26-- With 11:46 to play in the first quarter, Susquehanna University's Don Green plowed into the end zone from four yards out to score the first points of the game. It was at this moment that a trend was established--a trend which did not stop until the Crusaders had built up a 41-0 victory.

Susquehanna clearly showed why it is one of the country's strongest small college football powerhouses. Sticking mostly to the ground, the Crusaders rolled up 492 yards, 431 on the ground. They completed only three out of ten passes for 61 yards, but two of these set up touchdowns.

Trinity, however, was unable to mount any type of offensive attack. Although they did manage 16 first downs, they trailed the Crusaders by 280 yards rushing and 22 yards in the air. Merrill Yavinsky suffered one of the worst days of his career, as he completed eight out of 29 passes and had two intercepted.

The Bantams' deepest penetration into enemy territory came early in the second quarter. Yavinsky engineered a drive that reached the Susquehanna ten yard line, but a fumble ended any hopes of a score. Again late in the game, Trinity managed to fight its way into scoring position. This time, however, a pass interception wrecked all hopes of evading a shut out.

SUSQUEHANNA DISTRIBUTED its six touchdowns evenly throughout the game. Green, who scored the initial TD, came right back at the end of the first period to score another. The speedy quarterback tallied on a seven yard scamper this time, and Trin trailed, 14-0.

The second quarter saw only one Crusader score. Larry Erdman set up the TD with a 35 yard run, before he was stopped on the four yard line. On the next play, however, he took the hand-off and plunged into the end zone. The two point conversion was good on a pass from quarterback Green to Vito Vignone, and the half-time score stood 22-0.

Twelve more points were added to the scoreboard in the third quarter, as Erdman and Tom Rutinshausser scored on long runs. Erdman's was a 37 yard jaunt, while Rutinshausser stunned the Bantams with a 51 yard run off a double reverse. The razzle-dazzle play, similar to the one which scored Trin's last TD, against Colby, was executed brilliantly.

The Crusaders added icing to the cake in the final quarter. Rutinshausser again eluded the defense, but this time for only seven yards. The point-after-touchdown was good, and Susquehanna was on its way to its fifth win in six games.

THE CRUSADERS had three men score their six touchdowns with Don Green as the scoring leader with 13 points. Erdman led all rushers with 99 yards in six tries for a whopping 16.5 average. Rutinshausser was close behind with 95 yards in the same number of carries.

Trinity sorely missed the services of halfback Terry Oulundsen, who was out with a knee injury. To add to Dan Jessee's troubles, fullback Dee Kolewe sat out the final three periods with a bad knee. Yavinsky was required to do most of the ball carrying and compiled a total of 56 yards in nine attempts.

The defeat was the Blue-and-Gold's worst in many years. The whitewash was also the first since Williams turned back the Jessemen in 1962, 13-0. Trinity's record now stands at 3-2 with three tough games remaining. The defeat did serve one useful purpose, however; Coach Jessee was able to insert many of his younger players, giving them much valuable combat experience.

Susquehanna, which was upset on opening day by Upsala, has scored 72 points in its last two games and must definitely be considered a contender for the Lambert Cup Trophy.

STATISTICS

	SU	Trinity
First downs	19	16
Yards rushing	431	151
Yards passing	61	39
Passes	3-10	8-29
Pass Inter. by	2	0
Punts	2-83	4-136
Fumbles	0	1
Yards penalized	9-84	2-10

Frosh Suffer First Defeat; Springfield Triumphs 26-14

OCT. 25--The Trinity freshman football team, who began their season against Kent with a 35-0 win, were overcome Friday by a driving Springfield team, 26-14.

The opening kickoff was taken by Tom Sanders, speedy Trinity half-back, who returned the ball to the Springfield 35 yard line. On the third play from scrimmage, Sanders took a pitchout and raced 26 yards around right end for the score. The extra point run by the quarterback Nick Edwards was stopped and the score within the opening minute of the game was 6-0.

Trinity kicked off to Springfield and after a long pass fell incomplete, the Bantams' Dave Ward picked off a Springfield pass and jaunted 55 yards for a touchdown. When Edwards passed to Mike Curcio for the two point conversion, it made the score 14-0 with under two minutes played in the game.

The remainder of the first half was dominated by defensive play by both teams. Right before the end of the half Springfield powered the ball down the field on a drive which was climaxed by a six yard touchdown run by Bing Crowley. Their extra point run was stopped so when the teams left the field at halftime, the score was 14-6 in favor of Trinity.

THE THIRD QUARTER belonged to Springfield as they consistently gained through the Trinity line. Their second score of the ballgame came on a ten yard pass play from the Springfield quarterback lands Bennett to the left end Gjorgi Hansen. Actually Trinity defenders knocked the ball away from the intended receiver, but unfortunately Hansen was standing in the end zone to catch the deflected ball. After Trinity again stopped the extra point the score was 14-12, but Springfield was on the march.

Once again the tough Springfield defense stopped Trinity and after an exchange of punts, they marched down the field and scored on a two yard run by Antony Sussl. A pass to Hansen for the extra point brought the score up to 20-14.

The Trinity offense came back in the fourth quarter and began a drive which was ended by a fumble after a fine run by Sanders brought them within the 20 yardline. A long punt return by Springfield's Rod Gilbert, who was outstanding all day, set up their last touchdown which was scored by Crowley on a five yard run. This ended the scoring at 26-14.

Trinity was plagued by fumbles and penalties which stopped their

COLLEGE BARBERSHOP
1220 Broad St.
Corner Allen Place
1 block below Vernon St.
Satisfaction Guaranteed

Ephs Tie Trin 2-2; Dathmen Now 4-0-1

by Bill Linn

OCT. 26 -- In an exciting duel between two well-matched soccer teams, the undefeated Bantams fought to a 2-2 overtime tie with Williams here today. All of the scoring came in the fourth and final period of regulation time.

Right forward Mark Josephson was the offensive hero for Trin, setting up both Bantam goals with beautiful corner kicks which Tom Seddon and Ed Lazzerini slammed home from point-blank range. Steve Chabersky and Walt Upton tallied for the Ephs, the latter on a breakaway in the final three minutes of the game to force the deadlock.

The first three periods belonged to the defenses. Both sides threatened seriously on several occasions, but each time were thwarted by a fine effort by an opposing back or goaltender. Bill Schweitzer was superb in the nets for Trin throughout the contest, being called upon to make many diving and leaping saves. Other Bantam defensive standouts were Dan Swander, who continually scattered would-be Purple attackers with his long-range bombs, and captain Jim DeVou, who played his usual smoothly competent game.

THE BANTAMS FORWARDS had their hands full with a Williams defense that refused to let Trin inside for a good shot. The Purple goalie had a relatively easy afternoon, especially in the first 60 minutes. Such defenders as John Ohly (the Eph's only senior starter) and Mort Hodgson threw up a blanket around him, using their heads with unerring precision. The Ephs, in fact, generally controlled play in the first three periods, mounting about three assaults for every two by Trinity and having a definite edge in corner kicks. But the Dathmen played aggressively throughout, and never let Williams completely dominate.

For a long time, it looked as though a final scoreless tie was in the offing. Then, with 5:30 gone in the fourth quarter, Williams finally broke loose as Chabersky took a leading pass from Ron McGlynn and beat the diving Schweitzer with a 15-foot kick into the left side of the net. The Ephs led, 1-0, and a pall of gloom settled over most of the 400 spectators.

After battling for 65 1/2 minutes without a goal, the Bantams needed only 40 seconds to get one now that the pressure was on. Josephson sent a perfect kick from the right corner to Seddon, who slipped neatly inside and headed it past the helpless goalie.

This tied to score, and less than six minutes later Trin took the lead. This time it was Lazzerini who was on the receiving end of Josephson's needle-threading kick, and Ed wasted no time slamming it into the cords for a 2-1 edge with 8:25 remaining.

TRY AS THEY DID to put up a containing defense, the Bantams could not prevent Williams from tying the score. With only 2:30 to go, Upton, the Eph's most dangerous threat throughout the game, broke away from the Trin defenders on a solo dash and put the ball past Schweitzer, who made a game but futile try for the save.

That ended the scoring, but not the drama and excitement. Williams actually missed victory by inches in regulation time, as Ohly's kick soared just over the Bantam net. In the first overtime Trin generally controlled play, but could not get a really good shot on goal. Both sides had chances in the final five minutes; Josephson and Seddon nearly combined for another one, and Schweitzer made two more excellent saves of shots by the Purple.

The contest was played on Trinity's drought-parched field, and the rather loose footing was occasionally a factor in the game as it slowed down the attackers and gave the defense a split-second longer to get set. But this should not detract from the performance of the backs on both clubs, who were equal to almost everything the well-drilled forwards could throw at them.

The game was marred by an ankle injury to Ousman Sallah, Trin's spectacular ace forward. "Oos" was hurt early in the fourth period and had to be helped off the field. He gamely tried to return twice later on, only to re-injure the ankle and possibly jeopardize his chances for the remainder of the season.

Despite the tie, the Bantams remain well in contention for the Sampson cup and the NCAA tournament with their 4-0-1 record. The young Williams club under coach Clarence Chaffee is now 2-1-1.

What Trinity's Opponents Are Doing

Opponent	Oct. 26 Rec.	vs. Trin.
Williams	Tufts (0-8)	0-5 6-27
St. Lawrence		3-2 13-24
Colby	Williams (8-0)	1-4 21-7
Colby	Bowdoin (13-21)	2-4 21-7
Coast G.	Worcest (19-7)	5-0 Nov. 2
Amherst	Weslyn (20-14)	4-1 Nov. 9
Weslyn	Amherst (14-20)	2-3 Nov. 10

Chapel

CHAPEL TALKS

Thursday at 11:30 a.m.,
The Rev. Mr. Lawrence
Campbell

Friday at 11:30 a.m., Andrew Fairfield: "Alaska."

ORGAN POSTLUDES

Thursday at 10:05 p.m.

Fine Food -

CONGENIAL COMPANY

SEE JOE & EARL AT

THE BROOKSIDE