

A Debut with a Purpose

THOMAS S. WADLOW, Alumni Secretary

T is a pleasure to publish, at the request of the Alumni Fund Council, this trial number of the Trinity College Alumni News.

Let it be understood, however, that if this magazine is to be continued, it must receive full support from the Alumni of Trinity College. News items must come voluntarily from Alumni; the Alumni coffers must be kept full; and criticism, favorable and unfavorable, must determine the contents of possible future numbers.

The purpose of sending the magazine to all Trinity men is to keep them informed regarding College personnel, activities, and growth. Besides describing the interests and achievements of the Faculty and Students, an attempt will be made to keep members of the Alumni Body in touch with each other through Alumni notes.

It has by no means been determined that the Trinity College Alumni News is an adequate substitute for the Alumni Tripod. Your reaction, however, will help settle this question.

A Message from the President

URING the last two years our College has been passing out of the stage of adolescence. The usual question, often the first question, asked by alumni, friends of the College, and prospective students when the name of Trinity is mentioned has been for generations, "How many students?" Numerical growth, rightly or wrongly, has been considered an index of increasing effectiveness, although to a discerning few it has been clearly apparent that the proper development of our plant has lagged behind the larger size of the student body.

Now, however, when the number of our undergraduates has reached—nay, has even slightly surpassed—our self-imposed limit of five hundred men, the emphasis has shifted. No longer does the tall gawky youth on his birthday morning stand up against the edge of the nursery door to be measured. From now on the youth will be gauged and judged by the development of his intelligence.

We therefore do well to transfer our attention from recorded figures of enrollment to progress in academic worth. It is not necessary that we should feature new experiments in education or announce to an astonished world novel devices which would seem to revolutionize the educational process, blurring the fundamental relation between teacher and pupil. It will suffice if we become known because at Trinity young men are well taught.

Naturally the fact that we have reached the limit not only of our accommodations, but also our desires as far as numbers of students is concerned, will operate to bring about increasingly careful selection of incoming students. Every care will be taken to keep up the supply of picked young men who will continue to uphold the high standards of Trinity College. I should like to note here my conviction that we should always bear in mind in addition the young men whom we can help the most. With a wealth of school records in our hands to cover scholastic achievement, it will be comparatively easy to find men who will do us credit. If a college uses the machinery of limitation of enrollment at the time of admission, it is reasonably certain that there would be on the campus a large supply of alert, effective persons who would stimulate us greatly. We would not, however, be true to the tradition of this place if we did not also think of the young men who develop late, whose scholastic records show signs of ability not yet achieved. There is always a thrill in bringing up to graduation such men.

With the opportunity then before us of making contributions of real value to the educated man-power of our country, it is nothing short of tragic that we should be handicapped by lack of physical equipment in dormitory, library, and field. We need help and need it at once.

College Needs

North Gap

South Gap

THERE are two unsightly gaps on the Campus which must be filled in order to complete the quadrangle. On the left above you see the unfinished end of the Chapel which is to be joined to the Administration Building, while on the right you see the space between the Chemistry Building and Cook Dormitory which is to be completed with a new dormitory (two sections) housing fifty-three students.

The present ratio of resident students to day students, one to one, indicates that the most urgent need of the College is more dormitory space. Because fraternity houses are full and dormitories are overcrowded, the decision must be made soon as to whether Trinity will become a resident college or a day school. The ideal ratio would be 350 resident students to 150 men who commute.

With the growth of the College there has arisen a crying need for more library space. At the present time there is not sufficient room to care properly for the books in the library and there is no place for expansion. Furthermore, the reading-room space is entirely inadequate for 500 students. An extension of the library will also make possible more office space, another important need.

Two years ago the Alumni recognized the need for a field house by establishing a Field House Fund. The students, under the leadership of Robert Muir, have recently been raising funds for a field house. It is expected that they will have $1,000.00 by June.

When students dig into their own pockets to help raise funds for the Field House, it must be an imperative need. They feel the humiliation of playing basketball games in the Hartford High gymnasium; they realize how difficult it is to turn out good teams without any opportunity to practice indoors. They are proud of Trinity and want to see her on a par with other small colleges as far as physical equipment is concerned.

Alumni Notes 1870-1882

SEE CLASS 1875

1870—Rev. William C. Prout, who received the honrary degree of Master of Arts in 1870, died on September 6 at the age of 90. At his death he was supposed to be the oldest active rector in New York. He was secretary of the Albany Diocese for 55 years and was in the Episcopal ministry for 63 years.

1871—The Rev. William F. Hubbard, the oldest living graduate according to the alumni files, was 94 years old on December 17. His daughter writes that he is living in Van Nuys, California, after serving for many years as a chaplain in the U. S. Army. He is a trustee of the Harvard Military School in Los Angeles and a member of the Order of the Purple Heart and of the military order of the Loyal Legion of the United States as an original companion.

1874—James D. Smyth, Alpha Delta Phi and Phi Beta Kappa, living in Burlington, Iowa, is serving his twelfth term as judge of the Second District Court. Judge Smyth was instructor and then assistant professor of Greek at Trinity from 1875 to 1878. * * Edward N. Dickerson, died in Monte Carlo, France, on November 9-last at the age of 86.

1875—Judge Buffington told a Hartford newspaper reporter the other day that he intends to devote the rest of his life to the affairs of Trinity now that he has retired from his Federal judgeship after 47 years of service, the longest term in the history of the U. S. courts. He visited Trinity May 6 for the Trustees' meeting with E. E. Brownell, collateral descendant of the first president, Bishop Thomas Church Brownell. Left to right in the picture above are Brigadier General Sanford H. Wadhams, Judge Buffington, and E. Ellsworth Brownell.

1876—Henry H. Brigham is retired and living in East Orange.

1877—John H. K. Burgwin, writes the Alumni Secretary:

"In the year 1873 when the fall term opened at Trinity College there appeared on the bulletin board the following verses:

> 'Come one, come all, to Joe's last call, Attend the rolling of the ball. I'll sell my goods, I'll sell my ware, As cheap as anyone, I swear. Then come along, each mother's son And call on Joseph Buffington, At 28 B.H. you'll see The genial face of Joseph B.'

"Many years later this was followed by a strange happening. In the year A.D. 2937, during the course of some excavations on the site of the extinct city of Philadel phia, a stone was unearthed bearing an inscription in an unknown tongue. Scholars came from all over the world to try to decipher it, but without success. Finally, there came a decrepit old man who had spent his whole life in studying the dead languages. As soon as he saw the stone, he cried out:

"'I know that language! It's English. It's been dead a thousand years, but I know it and I can translate that.'

"Here is his translation:

" 'To F.D.R., the Senate, and House.' 'Come one, come all, to Joe's last call, Attend the rolling of the ball. I'll sell my law, my gown, my chair As cheap as anyone, I swear. I passed that damned three-score-and-ten So long ago I don't know when. So run along each mother's son, You'll never can old Buffington.'"

Rev. Sidney D. Hooker, Alpha Delta Phi and Phi Beta Kappa, archdeacon of Montana from 1911 to 1926, is retired, living in Brentwood Heights, California. * * * Rev. James D. Stanley died on November 16, 1937. * * William Mather has invited Judge Buffington and John Burgwin to his home in Cleveland for dinner, a reunion of three of Trinity's most beloved Alumni.

1879—Francis N. Shelton is serving his fifteenth year as police judge of Garden City, Kansas.

1880—Major Frank L. Wilcox of Berlin, Conn., is to be congratulated on the 100 per cent record of his class.

1882—Rev. Clarence E. Ball, oldest member of his class who attended the alumni reunion last June, is "the chaplain" of the National League of Masonic Clubs and at present locum tenens at St. John's Church, Norristown, Pa. He is also "priest celebrant" of the Chapel of the Cathedral of the Diocese of Philadelphia. * * James R. Strong in Short Hills, N. J., has replaced Charles E. Hotchkiss as class agent. * * Mr. Hotchkiss died on Janary 17. 1883—Edward L. Dockray died on February 6. 1884—Professor Charles M. Andrews of Yale University, now professor emeritus, is responsible for much of the material on the Connecticut town in Odell Shepard's new book on Connecticut.* * * Lawson Purdy, class agent, has been responsible for the 100 per cent showing of his class ever since the class agent system has been inaugurated.

1886—Rev. Herman L. Lonsdale also has worked for the 100 per cent showing of his class. * * * Horatio Nelson died on October 10. * * * George Beers is chairman of the section on real property, Probate and Trust Law of the American Bar Association.

1887—Rev. William Beardsley, rector of St. Thomas' Church, New Haven, from 1892 to 1934, has been made rector emeritus. * * George S. Waters, who died on June 19 last year, was the author and composer of six Trinity songs including "There is a College on a Hill." * * Albert Hamlin, visited by Professor Troxell while in California, is recovering from an illness.

1888—Henry M. Belden, professor emeritus of English at the University of Missouri since 1936, is now at work preparing the Missouri ballad collection for the press. He composed the words for "Dear Old Trinity. * * Rev. Godfrey Brinley died May 6th, 1939. * * Louis Downes was elected president of the Rhode Island Alumni Association recently. * * John P. Elton, a trustee, with the help of B. B. Bailey, has formed a Waterbury Alumni Association.

1889—Professor Andrew Douglass of the University of Arizona was visited by Professor Edward Troxell, who is on sabbatical leave from Trinity. Dr. Douglass discovered the method of using tree rings to date the early pueblos of the Indians, some of which date back to 384. Logs were discovered which grew as early as 11 A. D.

1890—Rev. Thomas A. Conover, rector of St. Bernard's Parish, Bernardsville, N. J., since 1899 and founder of St. Bernard's School, has been sending many students to his alma mater. * * * Rev. Anthon T. Gesner, who received his Master of Arts in 1894, died at his home in New Milford on January 14 at the age of 73. He became professor of ethics at Berkeley Divinity School in 1910 and then went to Waterbury to become rector of All Souls Church, remaining until 1930. * * * Frederic Bull died on September 22.

1892—E. Kent Hubbard, who has been president of the Manufacturers Association of Connecticut for many years, is connected with the organization which will publish in the May issue of Connecticut Industry an article on Trinity College with pictures.

1893-Rev. Frederick B. Cole died in Providence on December 27. He was at one time librarian at Trinity and editor of the Hartford Post. He became state senator from Warren, R. I., in 1922 as a Democrat, and in 1924 became a Republican. He then filled many public offices. * * * Rev. Reginald Pearce died on April 5. * * * William Bowie, who retired from active service with the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey on January 1, 1937, is president of the Society of American Military Engineers and chairman of the division of Surveying and Mapping of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

1894—Charles F. Weed, vice president of the First National Bank of Boston, was recently elected president of the New England Council. * * * Howard Greenley is completing his third year as instructor of French and fine arts at Trinity.

1895—The Very Rev. John M. McGann, who served as temporary rector of St. John's Church, West Hartford, has returned to Boston where he is vice president of the Boston Alumni Association.* * * Judge Philip McCook, one of whose sons, Philip, is at Trinity, recently spoke at the three-hundredth anniversary of the adoption of the Fundamental Orders of Connecticut at a celebration held in the Chemistry Auditorium with ex-Governor Cross and Governor Baldwin present.

1896—William S. Langford has been chairman of the national football rules committee for a number of years. * * * James Gunning died on January 25, 1938. * * * Edward Robinson died on January 10.

1897—Joseph D. Flynn, recently connected with the Connecticut State Motor Vehicle Department and former Professor of Mathematics at Trinity, died on February 1. * * * Dr. Robert S. Starr has a son, Charles, at Trinity.

1898—William Austin, died on August 9. * * * Dudley C. Graves won an indoor doubles tennis championship in New York City last winter. * * * Rev. James W. Lord of East Hartford was the oldest Deke back for the sixtieth anniversary celebration of the Trinity chapter, which was started as a literary society called the "Clio." * * * Rev. Karl Reiland, who retired as rector of St. George's Church, New York in 1936 and is now its rector emeritus, is living in Winsted.

1899—Adrian H. Onderdonk was elected president of the Washington Alumni Association recently. His son Richard is at Trinity College.

1900—Dr. David B. Jewett of Rochester has been elected president of the Monroe Medical Society. * * * James W. Bradin, Jr., died on September 5. * * * Harry Hornor died on January 16.

1902—Karl P. Morba is teaching French at Hartford Public High School. * * * Thomas M. Steele, president of the First National Bank and Trust Co., is representative from the First Federal Reserve District on the Federal Advisory Council. 1903—William Larchar died on February 3. * * * Charles Bruce died at Pasadena on September 22.

1905—James T. Grady has been elected a fellow of the American Institute of the City of New York "for distinguished service in the interpretation of science." Mr. Grady was cited "for his pioneer work in promoting accuracy of science reporting which has resulted in a heightened confidence of the work of scientists in the public mind." He has been a director of public information for Columbia University for more than 20 years and has been of assistance to many scientific societies in promoting their public relations. * * Howard Bushnell died on July 10, 1931. * * Benedict Flynn is vice president and actuary of the Travelers Insurance Company.

1906—Hill Burgwin, partner of Alvord Churchill, '16, who has a son in the freshman class, recently entertained the Alumni Secretary and the Provost at a luncheon in Pittsburgh when they were there to attend a meeting of the Pittsburgh chapter which he heads. * * * Fred Hinkel of New York, president of the Alumni Association, has probably attended more meetings of local chapters than any previous president, having gone to the New Haven, Philadelphia, and New York meetings. * * * Owen Morgan has a son who is graduating from Trinity this year.

1907-Hugh Curtin died in December.

1908—Bern Budd has recently been named to the resource committee of the Trustees to investigate the needs of the college. *** Karl Reiche, superintendent of the Bristol schools, has done an admirable job in sending students to Trinity.

1909—Michael (Mike) Connor has been issuing challenges right and left to the city slickers from New York who will play against Hartford on June 17 in one of the softball games. "Mike" says that last year's results show that the good team always loses, but he isn't sure whether that is an alibi for this year or a prediction.* * * Dr. Joseph Kilbourn recently brought one of the friends whom he met while studying medicine in Austria to the college campus to lecture. * * Israel Xanders, who attended the Washington meeting, has been nominated as one of the candidates for Alumni Trustee.

1910—Dr. Frederick Carpenter and Henry Marlor both have sons attending Trinity. * * * Dr. Jerome Webster of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City, has been nominated for Alumni Trustee.

1911—Gordon W. Stewart of the A. N. Shepard Tobacco Company died in Hartford on April. 14. * * Earl Ramsdell, according to Dr. Troxell, is in the insurance business in San Antonio. He still remembers the days when he made six of the seven touchdowns against Wesleyan as captain and has pictures of football players in his office.

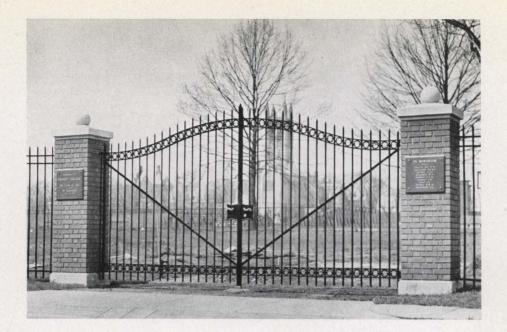

1912-Frederick Kedney of Minneapolis is hereby tendered an invitation from the Alumni Secretary to play tennis this June at Trinity and also to bet $5 that the assistant in charge of room accommodations cannot open his room door. * * * William Bird, IV, representative of the Consolidated Press and correspondent for the New York Sun in Paris, has recently participated in two overseas broadcasts, one from Morocco and one from Paris. On April 12 he took part in a symposium of news from Washington, London, and Paris on the imminence of war in Europe. He is also father of the 1912 Class Baby and new is the forbear of the 1912 Class grandchild. * * * Edwin Blake has been made assistant supervisor in the agency field service of the Travelers Insurance Company and is now living in West Hartford. * * * William Curtis is teaching at NYU. * * * Paul Herrick was married last fall. * * * Thom Flanagan is still hoping that all Trinity men have given up stogies and are smoking Kentucky Club and Kentucky Winners. * * * Harold Jaquith, the Provost, talked on Lincoln at a recent "Vox Pop" broadcast from New York sponsored by Flanagan's company. * * * William Andrews died on February 25.

1913—"Bill" Barber, secretary of the Connecticut Mutual Insurance Company, has a son at Trinity. * * Ethelbert Smith, American consul at Nairobi, Kenya, East Africa, is located in big game hunting country just below the equator and 5500 feet above sea level. * * Thomas Brown is connected with the Brooklyn Public Library. * * * Robert Foot is with the S. # 1913

THE above is a picture of the Memorial Gateway given by the Class of 1913 which has been erected on Broad Street near Vernon. The Gateway commemorates the following deceased members of the Class of 1913: Rev. Charles H. Collett, Dr. Andrew J. Creighton, Albert J. E. Draper, Walter C. Hathaway, Edward E. Moberly, Jr., John W. Robbins, Samuel S. Swift, Robert W. Thomas, Jr., and John J. Whitehead. Their names appear on the right hand bronze plaque. On the other plaque is inscribed: "Presented to Trinity College by the Class of 1913 at their 25th Reunion, June, 1938."

The Gateway was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on Saturday, May 13, with Leonard Adkins presenting it to the College on behalf of the Class and President Ogilby accepting the gift. Robert Thomas, Jr., son of one of the men commemorated, unveiled the memorial plaque, and a classmate unveiled the presentation plaque.

1914

THE Third Annual School of Experience held during Commencement Weekend will be Friday evening, June 16. As in the past, members of the Twenty-Fifth Reunion Class will come back to give the results of their experience in the business world to the graduating class and to advise the Faculty of what changes in teaching would profit students under their direction.

Raymond W. Woodward is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the School. Theodore (Ted) Hudson, football star while here at Trinity, will speak on the program. Mr. Hudson is living in Washington, D. C., and is in the wholesale hardware business. Other speakers listed for the program are F. Stuart Fitzpatrick of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce; Cyrus T. Stevens, advertising manager of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company; Dr. T. Wallis Davis, physician in New York City; and Rev. John S. Moses, Rector of Church of the Redeemer, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Reunion Plans

Class of 1884-Lawson Purdy, secretary of the Class, reports that there are nine members of his Class living out of 27 graduates. The Class held a dinner at Professor Andrews' home in New Haven on December 10 and in June of last year. Their 55th reunion dinner will probably be held at Saengerbund Hall on June 17.

Class of 1889-Rev. Frederick F. Kramer, formerly Warden of Seabury Divinity School, will celebrate a memorial eucharist for the deceased members of his Class at the College Chapel. Robert H. Schutz of Hartford will be master of ceremonies at the Class dinner to be held on Saturday, June 17.

Class of 1899-William H. Eaton of Pittsfield, Mass., will be the toastmaster at the Class Dinner to be held on June 17. Dr. Elton Littel and J. H. K. Davis have been busy all year long in ensuring that there will be a good attendance, getting out pictures of the 1899 Faculty and the College Campus.

Class of 1909-This livewire Class, under the guidance of Judge Alexander Creedon, expects to make this the best reunion ever. A dinner will be held in downtown Hartford. Mike Connor, who will captain the Hartford softball team on Saturday afternoon, says that unlike the New York team his team will at least be respectable in their 10¢ caps and 90¢ sweaters.

Class of 1919-Harmon T. Barber writes to say that the Reunion Dinner will be held at Heub's and preceded by a cocktail party, with the largest attendance ever at one of these affairs.

Class of 1924-Thomas J. Birmingham is in charge of the plans for the Class Dinner to be held at the University Club on June 17.

Class of 1934-Chuck Kingston says that the Class Dinner will be held at the Heublein.

1917-Courtenay Page died on April 3.

1918—George Barber died on last August 4. * * * James Hays, unknown date.

1920—Paul Alling has become secretary of the Washington chapter. * * * Everett Sturman is now president of the Hiram Walker Company in Windsor, Ontario.

1921—Lionel Mohnkern has become head of Oswego's leading department store. He will continue as sales and publicity director of Adam Meldrum and Anderson Co. of Buffalo.

1922—Edward Cram, president of the Rochester Alumni Association, has been very active recently in sending students to Trinity.

1923—James Black died at a date unknown to the College office.

1925—William Merchant says that he is expecting another heir soon. He is connected with the National Livestock Co. in Carlsbad, N. M., and with the Merchant Livestock Co., dealing in cattle, polo ponies, and sheep. He has been asked to attend the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the University of New Mexico as a representative of the College.

1926—Martin Coletta has become associated with Victor DeNezzo, Harry Schwolsky, and John J. Bracken in the practice of law in Hartford. He was formerly associated at the Yale Law School with the newly appointed Supreme Court Justice, William O. Douglas, as a research assistant. * * * Charles Smith, a Trustee, died in New Britain on December 4. He left a fund to the college for various purposes. * * * Everett Walton died on September 3.

1927—Wales Dixon announces an increase in the population of the United States in the form of Anne Stewart in April.

1928—William Rosenfield is engaged to Miss Helen Van Aalten of East Rockaway, L. I.

1930—John MacInnes writes from Rugby School, England about the English public school system and the air raid precautions being taken in the villages and towns. He has been at Marlborough College, Marlborough, England, since April 4.

1931—Dr. Charles Jacobsen, who recently acted as ship's surgeon on the Santa Barbara on two six-week cruises, has entered the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., to serve a three year fellowship in urology. * * * Rev. Lauriston Scaife, assistant rector of St. Thomas' Church, New York, is engaged to Miss Eleanor Carnochan of Bernardsville, N. J. * * * Daniel McCook is with the New York County District Attorney's office as deputy assistant D. A.

1932—Arthur Arnold was married to Miss Frances West in Springfield, Mass., on December 17. The couple are now living in Newton. * * * Justin Eddy can boast that his family is boosting the birth rate of the nation with the advent of a son on April 1. * * * Harvey Dann is now married to Miss Lois Hemstreet and living in Riverdale, N. Y. * * * Henry (Hank) Phippen, proud father, will have his new heir baptized by Prexy in the Chapel in the near future. * * * Hyam Plutzik, finishing up at Yale Graduate School, after serving on the New Haven Journal Courier, Newark Ledger, and Brooklyn Daily Eagle, will enter upon a literary career. He recently published a poem, "The Three." * * * James (Jim) Carson was recently appointed assistant headmaster of St. James School, Maryland.

1933-Thad Jones, working for General Foods, is now living in Syracuse. Not long ago he became father of a son, Thaddeus Milton, II. * * * J. E. P. (Bill) Libby has recently been discovered living in Chicago where he is a second year instructor of Psychology at the University of Chicago. * * * Brooks Paige flew into Pittsburgh just in time for the Alumni Meeting April 28. He and a friend were on their way to the New York Fair from California. * * * George Bockwinkel is spending a few weeks in New Mexico recuperating from results of an accident. ## Alumni Fund

Since we do not ask for contributions to anything at Commencement, please send your Alumni Fund donation to T. S. Wadlow, Alumni Secretary, now unless your name appears below. Our goal is 500 names this season and we count on you to do your part. Donations range from one dollar to a hundred dollars, and the average is about ten dollars.
