BOSTON ALUMNI DINNER. President Luther Presided.

A largely attended dinner of the Boston Alumni Association was held at the University Club, Boston, last evening. President Luther presided and the only guests present outside of Trinity men were: Rev. Endicott Peabody, Head Master of Groton school; Hon. Jacob L. Greene, Trustee of the College; and A. Clifton Kelway, correspondent of the Church Review of London.

The college songs were sung, led by a quartette consisting of McGann, Weed, Traverse and Ide. The song, "Mr. Luther," new to the Boston Alumni, was received with much favor. The speakers were: President Luther, Col. Greene, Rev. Endicott Peabody, Mr. Kelway, Bishop Niles and others.

The following alumni were present, John Brainard '51, W. W. Niles '57, L. K. Storrs '63, L. H. Wells '64, H. H. Oberly '65, H. E. Hovey, '66, F. S. Harraden '67, Henry Ferguson '68, Charles C. A meeting of the Republican Marching Club was held in the Latin Room Monday morning. Although nothing of importance was done, good suggestions were made by various members. It is planned that practice drills be held. The club is now well organized and will represent the College in various political parades. All members should see Harriman, '05, about uniforms as soon as possible.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY TO-MORROW.

Our annual football game with New York University will be played on Ohio Field at University Heights, New York, to-morrow afternoon. So far as can be learned the New York team is up to the standard of its former teams. Having changed coaches the early part of last week the team was set back some, but now, under the coaching of Fultz, the former Brown player, is rapidly rounding into shape. It has plenty of weight in the line and, as its back field is practically the same as that of last year, the team is in a position where it can advance the ball considerably. The team averages almost 175 pounds.

Our team is in worse shape than for any of its previous games this season. Donnelly's injury keeps from the game one of the best tackles Trinity has ever had. Owing to parental objections Bowne, who has been playing a strong game at guard, is unable to play. Ozon refused to obey the orders of Coach Welsh and has suffered the ignominy and disgrace of being driven off the squad,—the first time that this has ever happened at Trinity. Lycett has a bad ankle but will start in the game.

Coach Welsh has spent the greater part of the week endeavoring to develop suitable substitutes for those who are prevented from playing. How well he has succeeded, Saturday's game will tell.

The practice has at times been spirited but a palpable attempt to shirk work is noticeable in a number, and the result is that the development of team work has been greatly hindered.

The positions and weights of the team as it will probably line up are as follows: Left end, Pond, 145 pounds; left tackle, Dougherty, 165 pounds; left guard, Lauderburn, 150; center, Butts, 170; right guard, Cameron, 148; right tackle, Laudefeld, 175; right end, Morgan, 145; quarter back, Lee, 145; right half back, T. Morgan, 162; left half, Lycett, 160; full back, Maden, 165. Average, 157.2.

THIS NUMBER.

This number of THE TRIPOD is being mailed to all the living alumni of Trinity College. Great preparations are being made for the inauguration of President Luther and already acceptances of invitations have been received to such a great number that we are now assured of the greatest gathering of Trinity men in the history of the college. We feel that there are many Trinity men who do not know just what is being done at this time and if they knew the vast proportions this event is assuming, they would make every effort to attend.

Moreover, if there is any doubt in the minds of some of the alumni that THE TRIPOD cannot be and will not be regularly published as a semi-weekly and permanently established in Trinity College, we hope this issue of THE TRIPOD may dispel such doubts. If there was at first the least doubt in the minds of the men who established this paper, that it might be too big an undertaking, that doubt is now entirely dispelled. Indeed, the pleasure arising from the appreciation and support of THE TRIPOD that has already been shown on the part of Trinity men has flushed our hearts.

NEW MEMBERS OF TRIPOD BOARD.

At a recent meeting of THE TRIPOD Board it was decided to add the offices of assistant managing editor and exchange editor. These departments will be filled at the annual elections in May.

THE TRIPOD Board will also lose one member by graduation. This will necessitate the election of an assistant business manager. There will, then, be three offices of THE TRIPOD Board to be filled at the May elections. The requirements for eligibility have been published in a former issue and may be ascertained from any member of the board. Every student in Trinity College is invited to compete for these offices.

In thirty days from the date of this issue the names of those students who show by their work that they are trying for these offices will be published in THE TRIPOD as reporters. Students who decide to take up this work should signify their intention to a member of the board. The business manager and managing editor can then allot them work which will assist them considerably in making their points.

AWARD OF HARTFORD ADMITTITUR PRIZE.

The Faculty have announced that the Hartford Admittitur Prize has been awarded to Frederic Joseph Corbett. This prize of fifty dollars is awarded annually to that student from Hartford who passes the best examination for admission to the Freshman Class. In view of the fact that all students entering Trinity from the Hartford High School are required to pass entrance examinations, and that this year an unusually large number have entered from Hartford, this achievement of Mr. Corbett's is the more creditable. Mr. Corbett made a very good record at the High School, standing second in his class for the four years.

SPEAKERS AT ALUMNI LUNCHEON.

The Rt. Rev. Chauncey B. Brewster, D. D., Bishop of Connecticut, will preside. The following are the speakers, with their subjects:

The Hon. William F. Henney, mayor of Hartford, for the city of Hartford; the Rt. Rev. Henry C. Potter, D. D., LL. D., D. C. L., Bishop of New York, on Higher Education; the Rev. Dr. William Douglass Mackenzie, president of the Hartford Theological Seminary, "Other Christian Bodies"; Professor Caleb T. Winchester, L. H. D., professor of English Literature at Wesleyan University, "Sister Colleges"; the Rev. Samuel Hart, '66, D. D., D. C. L., sub dean of Berkeley Divinity School, "Former Associates"; Professor Charles Frederick Johnson, L. H. D., for the Faculty; Professor Charles McLean Andrew, professor of English at Bryn Mawr College, Trinity, '84, "The Alumni."

Distinguished Guests of Trinity at the Inauguration of President Luther.—A Large Body of Alumni are Coming

The inauguration of President Luther will be the greatest and most marked event in the history of Trinity. Many Bishops and Delegates to the Convention at Boston have already accepted invitations of the college to be present. Twenty-five presidents of colleges, besides delegates of many more colleges, many principals and masters of schools, trustees of the college and prominent business men, city and state officials; also many specially invited guests, parents of students, and clergy of the state; all have accepted invitations.

The members of alumni who have already, by written communication, expressed their intention of being present exceeds two hundred.

Among those whose names have been published in previous issues of the TRIPOD, are: President A. C. Humphreys, LL. D., of Stevens Institute of Technology; President L. C. Seelye, D. D., LL. D., of Smith College; President Mary E. Woolley, of Mt. Holyoke College; Rev. Dr. E. C. Bolles, of Tufts College; The Rev. Dr. Benney of Berkeley Divinity School; Warden T. R. Harris, D. D., of St. Stevens' College; President Longdon C. Stewardson, of Hobart College; President A. V. V. Raymond, D. D., LL. D., of Union College; President Jas. M. Taylor, of Vassar College; President G. P. Benton, D. D., of Miami University; President Hadley, LL. D., of Yale University.

Bishop Ellison Capers of South Carolina, Bishop Robert A. Gilson of Virginia, William W. Niles of New Hampshire, Bishop J. W. Nichols of California, the Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, of Grace Church, New York.

Mr. J. P. Morgan, New York, Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States district court of Pennsylvania, Governor Chamberlain, Lieutenant-Governor Roberts, Mayor Henney, and the Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, secretary of Yale.

LINGER LONGER, LUTHER.

(Suggested by an old song.)

I.

One fateful morn a boy was born,
As all the records show,
Who came to Trin. and started in,
Some thirty years ago.
In college days his forceful ways
Soon brought him to the top,
From out the throng he moved along,
He knew not where to stop.
Our President now is he,
How he has come to the fore,
Let us acclaim his lyrical name,
Every one join in the chor.

CHORUS.

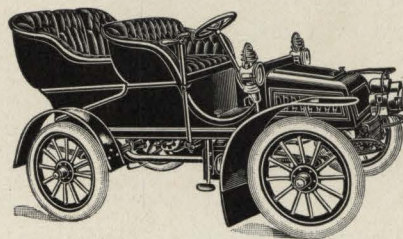

Linger longer, Luther, linger longer,
Lu,
You're the nob to hold the job,
Now it's up to you.
You're the lad to lead us,
'Neath the Gold and Blue,
Linger longer, longer linger, linger longer, Lu.

He gazed at fame afar;
And doing which, he seemed to an undergraduate project. But the serious necessity of all Trinity Alumni understanding and appreciating the peculiar nature of our plan, the extent of our ambitions, and the immense advantage to our College of the successful completion of what we have undertaken, emboldens us to trespass a little upon your time and good nature, to the end that we may bring you into closer touch with us and to a fuller understanding of our undertaking.

It is not long since you were all informed of the birth of THE TRIPOD. This event, in all probability, caused you pleasure, but would hardly have been a matter for serious consideration had its announcement not been accompanied by a request for your photograph for insertion in what we termed the Inauguration Number. To some the issuing of such a book as we purpose to issue seemed an impossibility, but actually such is not the case. Permit us to refer you to THE TRIPOD of September 27th; we then said: "Trinity men can do all that the men of any other college can do, and do it better." Upon that assumption we based our assurance of success. We did not mean that we would do better, we meant that you would. We meant that we believed that if any enterprise advantageous to your College were undertaken you would support it, not half-heartedly, but thoroughly. And, let us say right here that it is not to complain that we write. We have heard from an abundance of graduates, and enthusiastically; but it is not our ambition to have a partial success, we desire unanimous approval, and respectfully but firmly will force ourselves upon your attention, until we obtain it. If earnestness of purpose be a guarantee of success, then success is ours.

Briefly, our plan is this: We shall issue a beautiful 100-page book that will be all Trinity. Trinity College will be held up to the eyes of the world as no college ever was. Its history, its location, its tradition, its ideals, its present power and hopes of future success, its principles; in a word, that basis upon which all men judge each other and institutions, its character, will be held up before the people of the country. But chief of all, over and above every other consideration, Trinity men will undergo an inspection, both thorough and complete, but eminently fair. Trinity men will be presented just as will be the College, their history, their words and deeds, their work in the world, the principles for which they are standing, the ideals for which they strive, and, here in a word again, their character, the manner of men they are; all will be told in the volume, if not directly, at least by implication. Does any one doubt the result of this? If so it is not the ones whose pleasure it has been to receive the communications thus far from the Alumni. To them it has been a revelation of what Trinity men are, and it is our belief that the Graduates will, themselves, be astounded at what Trinity men are in the world today, when all this information is condensed and placed before them between the covers of one book. If this be so, what will be the effect of thus presenting such information to the world, which has not yet learned that Trinity College men are the most successful of any in the country.

But practically, as an advertising scheme, nothing could be devised that would so attract attention. We want all the world to know that we have a new President and what a man he is. It is not necessary to tell you, but it is necessary to tell the world the new facts concerning this College and how could it better be done than by the distribution of this book among schools, colleges, and university clubs, as we purpose to do.

Passing over this fact, let us say, briefly, what more it will do in the way of things that come nearer home. It will draw you all, Alumni, nearer together, and more precious yet, nearer to us undergraduates, and there after all, is its real excuse for being, its true mission. Should it in any degree accomplish this, then, indeed, its work is well done, its duty fulfilled.

And so we say that we beg you to have confidence in us, to leave it to us to do, but to contribute to the degree that you can by each, individually, sending his photograph. We do not ask you, necessarily, to subscribe, but we do insist that we are entitled to enough consideration from you for you to send your photographs, and there is no excuse for anyone failing to comply. Whatever be your individual opinion of the scheme, it is now well launched, bound to go through (as we have photographs of men from nearly all the classes) and now it rests with you, not whether it shall be done or not, but whether or not it shall be well done.

We are very determined, we are very much in earnest, and, up to date, we have been, in a measure, successful. But, when it is all accomplished, our object achieved, our duty done, our book published, the world will not say that the Editors of THE TRIPOD were successful in publishing a book with the pictures of a vast number of their Alumni in it, but what it will say is this, — Trinity Alumni are so united, are so strong, are so full of love and good fellowship for and with one another, that it was possible for them to produce what no other college could produce, that it was possible for them to accomplish what no other college has accomplished, and in the production of this book Trinity Alumni, not THE TRIPOD, will show their might and power; the success will be theirs, and, above all things, it will be a real and forceful success.

And now that you are all in possession of the facts, THE TRIPOD earnestly requests that you give this matter your early attention, for ours is a worthy project. With best of wishes to you all, we feel that we can in no way bring home to you your true duty, or so thoroughly make you realize that you and we are one, as to quote the words of our noble President that have become our motto, — "Now then, Trinity."

AN INTERESTING FACT.

On the 1st of March, 1904, THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL reached a stage in its history very interesting to its management and its members and one which is unique in the history of American Life Insurance.

On that date, but little more than fifty-eight years from its organization, it had received from its members in premiums the sum of $228,376,268, and had returned to them or their beneficiaries $228,724,073, or $347,805 more than it had received from them.

The Connecticut Mutual is the first American Life Insurance Company to return to its members one hundred per cent. of its receipt from them. And it holds besides $65,000,000 of assets, with a surplus of over $4,600,000 to protect over 70,000 policy-holders insured for over $166,000,000.
