Death of Walter B. Sherwood, 1905

Prominent Member of the Senior Class Drowned While Canoeing.

We regret to announce the death, by drowning, of Walter Beech Sherwood, 1905, of Hartford.

Saturday afternoon Sherwood went canoeing with his brother in the water that covers the north meadows, on the west side of the Connecticut river, caused by the spring freshet. Their boat was a light canvass canoe. A high wind was blowing and the water was very rough, but neither of the young men seemed to fear any danger, although they had been warned not to set out. While they were endeavoring to turn the boat around, the craft suddenly capsized, throwing both into the water. The brother started to swim for the shore, but Sherwood, wishing to save the boat, swam after the craft and started to push it toward shore. The young men so far from realizing that they were in any danger, merely regarded the accident as an adventure.

In the meantime workmen on shore nearby, seeing the plight of the two boys, went to their assistance. One of them plunged into the water and swam out to the boat, which Sherwood was slowly pushing in to shore. The man caught hold of the boat to help, and the two were within twenty feet of dry land when Sherwood suddenly loosened his hold upon the boat and sank. He never reappeared.

Immediately a search was begun for the body, but it soon became dark and the search had to be postponed until the next day. On Sunday the wind was blowing very hard and the water was extremely rough, but in spite of these difficulties the hunt for the body was continued, but without success.

Yesterday, however, several Trinity men set to work and at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon their labors were rewarded. Sherwood's body was found within twenty feet of the place where he sank, caught in a thicket. From the appearance of the body it seems almost certain that he was seized with a sudden cramp in the arms and legs, which thus rendered him entirely helpless when he sank. The body was immediately taken to undertaking rooms and today it was removed to his home. His mother is prostrated.

Walter Beech Sherwood, the eldest son of Mrs. Marietta S. Sherwood, was born in Trumbull, Connecticut, February 28, 1882. When he was a boy the family moved to Hartford where they have lived ever since. Young Sherwood first went to the Northeast District school, this city, where he graduated among the first in his class. On entering the Hartford High school he immediately took a place among the high stand members of his class. He won a number of prizes for excellence in scholarship, and in 1900 he graduated among the first six in a class of about one hundred and twenty. The next year he spent pursuing a post-graduate work at this school.

In 1901 he entered Trinity. He began his career here by winning the Hartford Admitture Prize of fifty dollars. During each of his first three years at college he shared with another man the Holland scholarship of six hundred dollars, awarded annually during the first three years of the college course to the man or men standing highest in their respective classes in scholarship. Last June he was elected to the honorary fraternity of Phi Beta Kappa.

WALTER BEECH SHERWOOD.

A few months ago he was one of the three men in his class who received the Alumni prizes in English competition, and less than two weeks ago he competed in the public orations for the Whitlock oratorical prizes in Alumni Hall.

Sherwood was one of the associate editors of the 1905 "Ivy," was president of the Hartford High School club, and he also was a member of the Biological Seminar. He took great interest in mental science and physics, and he specialized in biology. Had he lived he would have graduated second highest man in his class.

He leaves a widowed mother, two sisters and three brothers.

COLLEGE NOTES.

President Luther was an honorary bearer at the funeral of Colonel Jacob L. Greene last Friday.

President Luther was last week nominated for councilman on the Republican ticket in the Seventh ward, but he declined the nomination on the ground that he has too much work at the college to give sufficient time to the work of the city council, if he were elected.

PRINCETON WON.

Baseball Team Defeated at Princeton
4 to 2.

The base-ball team was defeated by Princeton Saturday by a score of 4 to 2 in an exciting contest. Badgeley pitched a remarkable game only allowing 4 hits but had poor support, as not one run of Princeton's score was earned. Madden and Burwell batted well securing three hits each out of four times at bat and Davoe got two out of three. Altogether Trinity got 10 hits to Princeton 5. Byran, who went in for Princeton in the sixth inning after seven hits had been secured by Doyle, struck out 10 out of the 12 on men who went out scored the first run in the second inning. In the first inning Morgan was number one on the batting list and hit safe over third. Landefeld struck out. Morgan was caught napping and Powell struck out. For Princeton Badgeley passed Reed, McLean hit to Burwell who threw out Reed at second, Wells and Cooney went out in grounders, Burwell to Clement. In the second inning Madden hit safely. Clement flied out to Wister. Merideth made first on Bard's errors. Burwell hit safe bringing Madden to third and Davoe hit safe scoring Madden. Trinity was retired without further scoring. Princeton had two men on bases but failed to score.

In the third Trinity retired with two men on bases but Princeton scored two runs. Doyle hit to left-field, Reed advanced him by a hit to Badgeley, McLean reached first on Powell's error and Doyle scored on Welles out to Madden. Cooney hit safe scoring McLean. Henry was out, Badgeley to Clement. Neither side scored in the fourth but Trinity scored a run in the fifth. Morgan walked and took second on Cooney's poor throw, Landefeld flied out to Doyle, Powell struck out, Madden hit to center field for two bases, scoring Morgan but was caught rapping Cooney to Reed. Princeton scored in the last half of this inning on a hit by Cooney and Powell's error and also in the sixth when Forcythe reached third on Burwell's error, and came home on a hit by Bard.

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

WALTER BEECH SHERWOOD.

It is seldom that a college community, large or small, is kept in a state of mourning for two weeks, almost without interruption. Yet that is the experience Trinity is passing through. Two weeks ago today General Joseph R. Hawley, L. L. D. was buried, and last Wednesday Colonel Jacob L. Greene, L. L. D., a member of the Board of Trustees died.

Both of these were prominent citizens of Hartford and were more or less closely connected with Trinity. Saturday afternoon when Colonel Greene was being buried, the college was shocked by the news of the drowning of one of the most prominent men, scholastically, in the Senior Class, Walter Beech Sherwood.

Sherwood was one of the most faithful students, as well as one of the pluckiest, in college. For almost three years, since the death of his father, he had entirely supported himself. During vacations he worked in a Hartford bank, and during the college year he earned money by tutoring. In spite of this extra work he kept up a high standing in his studies, won several valuable prizes, and but two weeks ago it was announced that he would graduate second highest man in his class. He had but recently, by hard work and after several years of uncertainty, made arrangements by which he would be able to continue his studies in John Hopkins University next year. His ambition was to become a doctor.

In his death Trinity loses a most loyal and devoted son, one who, had he been permitted to live, would without doubt have done honor to his Alma Mater.

Senior Class and the College Body Take Action.

A meeting of the senior class was held in the Latin room yesterday morning, to take action on the death of Sherwood. It was voted that the members of the class wear mourning, in the shape of a black button in the lapel of the coat, until Easter, and that the class appear at the funeral in a body in caps and gowns. A committee was appointed to draw up resolutions. These are as follows:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to take from us our beloved classmate, Walter Beech Sherwood, and

Whereas, not only the class of 1905, but also Trinity College, has lost, through his death, a devoted son, a careful student, and a thorough Christian gentleman; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the class of 1905 of Trinity College, extend our most heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved family; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, and that they be published in the Trinity College publications and in the Hartford daily papers.

COLLEGE SPORTS.

The following clipping is taken from the "Wall Street Journal" of last week.

The total income from Yale University for sports during the past year was $106,000, an amount equal to 25% of its total income for educational purposes.

No doubt the college sports serve as an advertisement for the universities and in a large measure attract students to it, but it is a part of that unhealthy competition which has manifested itself in the commercial world. There is no more reason for colleges to compete for students by means of such things as these than there is for insurance companies and savings banks to compete for policyholders and depositors.

In saying this we would not for a moment depreciate the value of athletic sports in their proper place and proportion, but the expenditures of the immense sums upon them, the exhibitions given before great multitudes of people, the excessive training and brutality which sometimes accompany them, and above all the undue and demoralizing emphasis which is put upon these contests which have an unhealthy effect upon the characters of many college men, is a development of university life which is to be deplored. It has become so that the hero of a university is no longer the best scholar, but the most expert athlete, and the captain of the football team has more homage done him than the valedictorian of his class. Let us have college sports by all means, but let us have them in due proportion to the fitness of things. Colleges are the places for the training of minds and character. The training of the body is a good thing, and ought to be looked after, but it is not the chief business of the universities,

AN INTERESTING FACT.

On the 1st of March, 1904, THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL reached a stage in its history very interesting to its management and its members and one which is unique in the history of American Life Insurance.

On that date, but little more than fifty-eight years from its organization, it had received from its members in premiums the sum of $228,376,268, and had returned to them or their beneficiaries $228,724,073, or $347,805 more than it had received from them.

The Connecticut Mutual is the first American Life Insurance Company to return to its members one hundred per cent. of its receipt from them. And it holds besides $65,000,000 of assets, with a surplus of over $4,600,000 to protect over 70,000 policy-holders insured for over $166,000,000.
