

TRINITY WEEK.

Festivities Closed with Junior Prom.
Last Night—A Most Successful
Promenade Given by the Class of 1906.

Another Trinity Week was completed last evening and late this morning with the Promenade given by the class of 1906. It is safe to state that no Trinity Week has passed so successfully and no Junior Prom. has been more attractive and more thoroughly a success. The week has been given most favorable conditions in the shape of good weather. From the first event to the last everything has been a pronounced success. Hartford people have lent a great deal towards this by their presence and patronage, and the class of 1906 takes its place among the unbroken line of classes that have upheld to the best of their resources and ability the traditions of the college.

The decoration of Alumni hall was one of the marked successes of the Prom. Blue and white, as a practical substitute for blue and gray, the class colors, formed the chief color scheme. A moderate amount of white bunting decorated the ceiling, below which hung several strings of electric lights, finished off with Southern smilax. On the walls and about the bases of the pillars hung rosettes of blue and white bunting, also sprinkled with smilax, and the windows draped with white lace curtains over a background of pale blue cloth. From the roof of the stage, and in the middle at the front, hung a large gold colored "T," alight with small incandescent lights, and on each side of this to the sides of the stage was suspended a lacework of incandescent lights and smilax. The background of the stage was blue and white bunting, and large palms concealed the orchestra. The effect of the incandescent lights amid the smilax was very dainty.

It was almost ten o'clock before F. C. Hinkel, chairman of the Junior Prom. committee, led off the grand march. People had begun to arrive as early as half-past eight o'clock, and an unusually large gathering was present, a very large portion of which remained to the closing hour of 4 o'clock. The additional lighting remained unused until the music started for the grand march. At this time a surprise was enacted when a transparency was let down from the middle of the ceiling, bearing a drawing of the "Squeez-er," and the Roman numerals, designating the class of 1906, the present possessor of that distinction. This had been hitherto concealed by a frame decorated to appear as a part of the general decorations. With this the grand march started, and then followed forty dances, each encored once, and, in a few cases twice. About 2 o'clock there was an intermission after the twentieth dance, that the dancers might take of the light refreshments provided in the gymnasium, which was specially decorated with old gold and blue bunting, similar to the decoration at the time of President Luther's inauguration.

An unusual number of out-of-town young ladies were guests at the Prom. and more than the usual number of patronesses were present. A large number of the younger alumni attended.

The following men of 1906 constituted the committee which so successfully arranged for and carried out the Prom.: Henry Gray Barbour, Hill Burgwin, Philip Everett Curtiss, James Hardin George, Austin Dunham Haight, Harry Huet, Owen Morgan, Frederick Charles Hinkel, chairman; David Morris Fackler, secretary and treasurer.

CONCERT.

The Concert of the Musical Clubs a Decided Success.

The College Glee and Mandolin Clubs gave an excellent concert Thursday evening in Alumni hall before a large audience. The program consisted of ten selections, four of which were by the Glee Club, three by the Mandolin Club, two by Mr. Baker and one by Mr. Gateson. Mr. Baker's performance on the piano was very creditable and he was well applauded. The Mandolin Club has been heard but twice this year, but that is unusually good and rendered good selections. The Glee Club in the eighth number attempted something original. The number was announced as the "Agony Trio" in campus songs, but the Glee Club went on instead and started that threadbare song beginning, "On the limb of an oak sat a jolly old crow." After singing this line they began "Teasing." The audience appreciated this attempt and applauded heartily. Mr. Gateson sang "The Rose in the Garden" with good expression, and was well received. The concert closed with the singing of "Neath the Elms" by the combined Glee and Mandolin Clubs. Following the concert was a dance of eleven numbers, with extras.

The program for the concert was as follows:

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

PRESIDENT LUTHER'S TRIP.

On Tuesday afternoon Dr. Luther returned from a three weeks' trip west. He visited many preparatory schools on this tour and addressed audiences of possible recruits for Trinity.

At Syracuse, N. Y., where he first went, President Luther had a talk with some of the old Trinity men as well as some prospectives. He next made a stay in Chicago, where he attended a meeting of the new Chicago Alumni Association. He was given a dinner by them at the College Inn in the Sherman House. In the course of the meeting the Alumni undertook the advancing of a new object, the particulars of which we shall hear more fully later on.

President Luther next spent two days at the Racine College Grammar School in Racine, Wis. This is a church school of about two hundred and sixty students. Here he made an address, and left entertaining hopes that some of the fellows would enter Trinity next year. From Racine he went to Detroit, where he made addresses before several of the various high schools in that city as well as the Detroit University School. The Detroit Alumni Association met at the University Club on Saturday, and following this a reception was tendered President Luther. During the reception the score of the Trinity-Wesleyan game was received with great enthusiasm.

On Sunday, the fifth of February, Dr. Luther preached in Christ church and in St. Andrew's church in Detroit. He next visited Orchard Lake, where he spoke before the Orchard Lake Academy. From here President Luther went to Lima, Ind., and visited Howe School, an Episcopal institution of about one hundred and forty students. Paul O. Colquhoun, a graduate of Trinity, is its head master.

Dr. Luther's last stopping place was Buffalo, where he addressed the Lafayette Street and the Maston Park High Schools. He also made an address before the University Club on "Science and Morals," and spoke under the auspices of the Westminster Club on "Christianity and Education." While in Buffalo he preached at Trinity church, of which Cameron J. Davis, '94, is rector, and also at St. Mary's on the Hill. From Buffalo President Luther returned direct to Hartford in time to enjoy the festivities of Junior Week.

During Dr. Luther's absence the Rev. Prof. John J. McCook, D. D., served as acting president.

In a recent letter from a Trinity graduate now studying abroad, he speaks most appreciatively of the instruction in German he received here as an undergraduate. From the outset he found himself able to understand both professors and people, and he has been frequently complimented upon the excellence of his own pronunciation of German.

AN INTERESTING FACT.

On the 1st of March, 1904, THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL reached a stage in its history very interesting to its management and its members and one which is unique in the history of American Life Insurance.

On that date, but little more than fifty-eight years from its organization, it had received from its members in premiums the sum of $228,376,268, and had returned to them or their beneficiaries $228,724,073, or $317,805 more than it had received from them.

The Connecticut Mutual is the first American Life Insurance Company to return to its members one hundred per cent. of its receipt from them. And it holds besides $65,000,000 of assets, with a surplus of over $4,600,000 to protect over 70,000 policy-holders insured for over $166,000,000.

JAMES A. RINES,
32 Asylum Street.

WE extend to you an invitation to call and inspect our magnificent line of Fall and Winter Goods, which are now on exhibition.

Our handsome assortment of Imported and Domestic Fabrics for this season surpasses everything heretofore shown you in the way of Suitings, Overcoatings, Fancy Vestings, and Trouserings, and among them you will find a great many new and novel effects which were made expressly for us. An early inspection will be to your advantage.
