TRACK PRACTICE.

Captain Remsen's Call For Candidates Answered.

Under the leadership of Captain Remsen and the coaching of Trainer Velte the candidates for the track team reported for their first work of the season on Monday afternoon. The men were given special exercises on the chest weights, some of them taking the drill work with the Freshman class. After these the squad took a short run, some of the men braving the elements and running outdoors while others did their running on the indoor track. The need of an outdoor board track is greatly felt and it is to be hoped that before another winter comes funds will be at hand with which to construct one. The men will continue the above work until spring, the monotony to be varied by the indoor interclass meet which will be held in March and the two event meet with Wesleyan which will be held under the auspices of the Connecticut National Guard the latter part of February. The following men have already began training:—

Captain Remsen, Campbell, Goodale, Harriman, Roberts, Barbour, Bowne, Curtiss, Gateson, Pierce, Boyd, Bulkley, Fallow, Moody, Beach, Madden, Pond, Morris and Olmsted.

Basket Ball To-night.

The basket ball team will meet Wesleyan tonight in the first of the two games. The team will line up as follows: Forwards, Captain Powell and Duffee, or Marlor; center, Landefeld; guards, Madden and Pond, or Bowne. It is expected that a large delegation of undergraduates will accompany the team to Middletown where the game will be played. The team is in fairly good shape and a victory is expected.

Among the Sick.

H. G. Barbour, 1906, and W. H. Licht, 1907, have been sick for the past week, the former with a bad cold and the latter suffering from quinsy.

Missionary Society Elects Officers.

At its regular meeting on Monday night the Missionary Society re-elected the following officers:

President—Harry Huet, 1906.

Vice-president—Garett D. Bowne, 1906.

Secretary—William H. Licht, 1907.

Treasurer—Frederick C. Hedrick, 1907.

J. H. Page, '97, Lieutenant in the United States Army, was recent visitor to college. He has been ordered to the Phillipines, where he spent several years. He will leave in March.

LIBERAL EDUCATION.

President Woodrow Wilson's Views on This Subject.

In recent public address Woodrow Wilson, President of Princeton University, in speaking on "The University and the Nation" said:

"I have known men pre-eminently useless who were packed full of knowledge," said the speaker. "It is the training of the spirit, not the loading of the mind, that is of chief moment. It is entirely possible to carry your prejudices into every country and into every gallery, and to return with them all intact. If you go abroad firmly convinced that this is the only country worth thinking about you are not likely to learn anything from your travels.

You regard the New York method as the proper way of doing things, perhaps, and you say 'How singular when you find that they have other ways of doing them elsewhere.

"Knowledge is always an uncomfortable thing. Our minds are full of something—though it may be trash—and the dispossession process is displeasing. I do not know that you are all Irish; but I am glad that I am part Irish; it adds to the gayety of life. I cannot tell to what lengths the saturnine in me might go, if it were not modified by the lively Celtic blood. At any rate, it is said that an Irishman is a man who religiously believes that he knows is not true.

"When I think of the undergraduates who, to their peril or benefit, are placed under my care, I wonder what can be done for them in four years. You certainly do not make a scholar of a man in four years—no, not in forty years, nor even in forty-seven. That's my own experience. All that I can hope is that we shall send those boys back home with the soil prepared for the growth of all just ideas, with the character equipped for the encouragement of inclinations that are firm and true. And you cannot do that without spreading before the student a display of the world's best goods.

"I am by nature an advocate of a liberal education, that which will enable the student to see the general view, and not merely to gain the skill of the specialist in a limited field. A liberal education is the best safeguard against the stupid egotism which would make you think that you in your generation will settle things that will never afterward have to be touched. I don't know any cure for egotism like knowledge—the knowledge of what there is to know.

"As to giving a boy what may be called political education, the education that fits for citizenship, I do not see how that can be done, except where there is a college community and a residential college. I do not see how it can be done in a college which you attend on the street cars. One may get the fine product of the teachers' minds, but that is not all. I am a teacher and I try to do the best I can, but I tell you frankly that I think that the best that a student receives at college is that which comes between the last recitation of one day and the first recitation of the next. It is the saturation, the infiltration that comes from association that counts. As Burke says, we should adjust our thinking to human nature, and you can't know human nature except through contact and experience."

PROF. EDWARDS ON LECTURE TOUR.

Prof. Charles F. Edwards departed today for the Middle West, where he will spend a week or ten days delivering popular lectures on scientific subjects. Among the lectures he will deliver during the coming week are at Cincinnati on "The Mammals of the Sea"; Minneapolis and Cleveland; "Depths of the Sea"; Adelbert college, "Statistical Study of Evolution."

PROGRAM FOR TRINITY WEEK.

As arranged to date the program for Trinity week is as follows:

Monday, February 13, S. D. C. banquet.

Tuesday, 14th, afternoon, reception by the Phi Kappa chapter of Alpha Delta Phi at its lodge, 122 Vernon street.

Evening, Trinity German to be led by H. G. Barbour, 1906, and V. Brewer, 1906.

Wednesday, 15th, afternoon, "College Tea."

Thursday, 16th, afternoon, reception by the Beta Beta chapter of Psi Upsilon at its lodge, 81 Vernon street.

Evening, concert by the Musical clubs, to be followed by a dance.

Friday, 17th, evening, 1906 Junior Promenade.

COMMUNICATION.

(To the Editor of the Tripod.)

Everybody is having his say about compulsory chapel, the question of the legality or appropriateness of which doesn't annoy me over-much because I manage to avoid being put on a limit by fairly good attendance although I do not very much relish being compelled to take religion whether or not I desire it) so I am going to raise my little kick if one so new as I may be allowed to do so. We are compelled to spend two afternoons of the week in the gymnasium. I do not object to this as I feel that it is doing me some good. I would enjoy it if the gymnasium were better ventilated but truly, Sir, at times I can barely stand to remain there so warm and "stuffy" does it become, when I enter from the good, pure outdoor air to the bad air of the "gym." I sometimes feel inclined to "cut" the class. Cannot the gymnasium be thoroughly "aired" during the hours when few, if any, of the fellows are in it. I think the morning hours could be so utilized. Sincerely,

"F. P. Freshness Personified."

It has been announced that the New York Central has secured control of the Rutland and St. Lawrence and Adirondack Railroads. Mr. Percival W. Clement, Trinity, '68, former president of the Rutland Railroad, has been appointed a director to represent the interests of that road.

TRACK MEET AT HARVARD.

Intercollegiate Games to Be Held in Stadium.

The executive and advisory committees of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America in a meeting in New York Saturday night, decided to hold the next track meet in the Stadium on Soldiers' Field, Cambridge, on May 27 and 28. Applications for admission to membership were received from Brown and Dartmouth and will be acted on at the next meeting, February 26. It was decided to improve the medals to be offered as prizes and money voted for a new design.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS.

W. Blair Roberts has Completed a Census of the College.

W. Blair Roberts, 1905, acting for the Trinity college chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, has just completed a religious census of the college, which furnishes interesting results. The census, as completed, follows:

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

Dear Sir:—I happened to notice in the library the other evening the fact that all the table lamps are kept burning constantly, although often none of the tables are in use. The main body of the library is amply lighted from above and would it not be wise that a rule be made compelling each student to turn out his table light upon leaving? It would certainly be economical. A similar condition of affairs exists in the Natural History Building, where evening work requires the lighting of the entire upper floor. If individual lamps with green shades were suspended over the desks there it would obviate the necessity of lighting the central chandeliers and be a great saving for the college.

Very truly,

ECONOMY.

The next issue of THE TRIPOD will contain a review of the 1904 football season by Coach Welsh.

COMMUNICATIONS.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

Dear Sir:—Since you are publishing letters from some of my fellow-students on the required chapel system, the upholders of which may be said to be defending a student's "duty toward God," may I be so bold as to ask of you a little space in your valued columns to draw attention to one aspect of a student's "duty toward his neighbor"; namely, honesty.

I don't think that most of us realize the fact that in this city we Trinity students are by far the hardest class of traders from whom to collect debts. To put it more plainly, though more harshly, we Trinity men and our predecessors have built up such a reputation in this city for buying things and never paying for them that we have anything but an enviable reputation among the merchants. If we want a piece of furniture we buy it, trusting to future good fortune to be able to pay for it—in the meantime promising to do so. If we wish to take a young lady—our adorable—to a Prom, or to a German, we hire a hack, buy some flowers, and charge them. And record shows that not half these things are paid for.

The proprietor of one of our well-known business establishments recently said to a young lady friend of mine: "I never trust a Trinity student for a cent now, because I have lost so much on them. I have sent some of them bill after bill and they paid no more attention to them than if they were cheap advertisements." And those are the sentiments of many a firm here.

Is that the kind of a reputation we ought to have? We are all talking about a new Trinity, a double Trinity, and lots of other forward movements.

What are we going to do about this. We complain that Hartford people don't support the college as they should. How can they when they lose several hundred dollars in unpaid bills by the students every year? We denounce Hartford merchants because they are hard to persuade that it is for their interest to advertise in the college publications. Has college trade thus far brought them much more than a lot of accounts which show them how much they might have had had the goods been paid for or not bought at all?

I think it is time to call a halt in this business. Being a Trinity man, and proud of it, too, I feel rather sensitive when Hartford people tell me about these things. Cannot the old rule be brought into force again which prohibits the conferring of a degree before all city bills are paid? It seems to me that is the most effective thing that could be done, if we will not, through our own sense of honesty, settle these matters voluntarily. Along with the toast "A Double Trinity," I should propose a better one, "An Honest Trinity."

A TRINITY MAN.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

Dear Sir:—"Trinity True" in his letter to the "Tripod" of January 20, expressed something that was aside from the topic of discussion, but which struck me as worthy of especial notice. I do not intend to discuss the chapel subject. I have cut chapel as religiously and zealously as I was permitted to, like many others.

But his plea for a "college home" strikes a tender spot in my heart. I cannot agree with his desire for a commons, as I believe a great deal of money has been spent to get rid of that feature and that it would be a step backwards if we were to adopt it again.

But it is time, nevertheless, that a convenient meeting place is something the college body needs. We have not even any old historic steps where, by common consent, we meet to sing and enjoy good-fellowship. And the lack of even this little thing detracts from the congenial atmosphere of our college greatly.

The "Tripod" and "Tablet" have secured permission to use the room in Middle Jarvis, formerly occupied by Dr. Pynchon for a reading room and office. This room does not present all desirable features, but it does contain possibilities, if only sufficient interest be shown. For instance, I do not believe that a great deal of united effort would be required to secure the contribution for a pool table or two and a very small subscription from the college would put the room in presentable shape. To such a nucleus articles could be, from time to time, added. If at the same time the college authorities would put gas in No. 19, across the hall, considerable available floor space would be secured, where, in the evenings, all would be equally privileged to gather.

Possession of this reading room has been promised in the near future. I should, then, like to suggest that it be put immediately in the hands of the college, that a committee be appointed for its maintenance and care, and to see that it is not abused and that the system of a common meeting place, where all who wish can drop in for a pleasant evening, be tried. If it fails nothing is lost, if it succeeds, much is gained. I remember seeing at Williams some such room that seemed to be in constant use by the students. Copies of the exchanges of the papers as well as copies of the dailies could be one of the features of such a room and they would be much more used than at present in the library where the necessity for quiet prohibits a free discussion of their merits.

Very respectfully,
IRVING RINALD KENYON.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

Cambridge University has accepted the challenge of Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Princeton universities for an international cable chess match to be played on April 14 and 15. Wesleyan's football schedule has been announced by Manager Atwater. It includes the following games: University of Vermont, New York University, Union, Tufts, Williams, Trinity and Swarthmore. Games will probably be arranged with Yale, Columbia and the Connecticut Agricultural College. Dartmouth and Harvard have been dropped from the schedule this year and Union and Swarthmore substituted. Mr. Reiter will be in charge of the coaching again next year.

It is magazine size, handsomely printed in colors, and costs us 50 cents to produce and mail each copy—but comes to you FREE for the asking.

This book in fact, might justly be called the Smoker's Encyclopedia and will often save you the annoyance of buying cigars you do not like, as a cigar affords a satisfactory smoke only when it suits your individual taste.

Our new Cigar Book is full of information about all kinds of cigars—Imported, Clear Havana, Domestic; about tobacco growing, treating and manufacturing; about cigarettes, pipes and smoking tobacco.

It tells you how and why we can assure you cigars better in quality by 30 to 50 per cent. than the same money can possibly buy in any other way, and enables you to prove this at our expense, without the risk of a single penny.

Our Cigar Book will bring to you all the advantages of our great chain of over 300 retail stores—you have the same stock to select from, and the cigars are delivered, prepaid, at your door at exactly the same prices as sold over our counters.

AN INTERESTING FACT.

On the 1st of March, 1904, THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL reached a stage in its history very interesting to its management and its members and one which is unique in the history of American Life Insurance.

On that date, but little more than fifty-eight years from its organization, it had received from its members in premiums the sum of $228,376,268, and had returned to them or their beneficiaries $228,724,073, or $347,805 more than it had received from them.

The Connecticut Mutual is the first American Life Insurance Company to return to its members one hundred per cent. of its receipt from them. And it holds besides $65,000,000 of assets, with a surplus of over $4,600,000 to protect over 70,000 policy-holders insured for over $166,000,000.
