Good Fielding and Pitching Win Another Game for Trinity.

Fine fielding, unusual hitting, and good pitching at critical points in the game, combined to give the victory to Trinity over New York University last Wednesday on Trinity Field, by the score of 5 to 0. Bowman, though with a tendency to be wild, by a coolness when bases were full, backed by a stonewall field, allowed the New York men to hit the ball safely only once, while Trinity made its safe hitting a feature of the game. Dollard played the best game for the visitors.

Trinity scored first in the second inning. Madden was out. Clement made a hit and stole second and third, coming home on Bowman's hit. Burwell walked, Dravo fanned and Dollard threw Burwell out on second from Badgley's grounder.

In the third inning, Morgan made a hit, but was caught stealing second, by Cogge. Landefeld was passed to first, stole second and came home on Wilson's muffing Cogge's throw to third. Powell struck out. Madden hit safely. Clement was out on a grounder to pitcher.

In the sixth inning, Burwell flied out to center field. Dravo got first on a grounder to third, stole second, and came home on Badgley's hit. Morgan scored Badgley with a two-bagger, and crossed the rubber on Landefeld's hit. Powell struck out and Madden knocked a pop fly to first.

New York came her nearest to scoring in the fourth and seventh innings. In the fourth inning she had a man on third base, and in the latter inning she had one on second and another on third, with but one man out. Bowman struck out the next two men.

The game was called at the end of the seventh, as the visitors had to catch a train. The score:

THE WITHDRAWAL OF PROFESSOR HOPKINS.

Professor Herbert Muller Hopkins, news of whose contemplated retirement from Trinity College and from professorial work reached us last Monday, entered, so to speak, with the present Senior Class. He came from the University of California, and succeeded Doctor Stanley Simonds as Instructor in charge of the Latin Department.

PROF. F. H. M. HOPKINS.

After two years of service he was made Professor of the Latin Language and Literature, which position he has held until the present time. We understand that he will take orders at an early date and that he will enter upon the work of the ministry in New York City.

A rare kindness and charm of manner mark Professor Hopkins' relation with his classes, and have evoked a corresponding friendliness from the men with whom he has been brought in contact. The graceful literary gifts displayed in the two well-known novels which he has published while a Trinity Professor have found many admirers, while his occasional verses, in English and in Latin, have been highly appreciated by discriminating readers.

Every one of his pupils wishes him enduring success of the best sort in the new work to which he has determined to devote himself, and tenders him the assurance of personal regard.

The changes multiply. Professors as well as students go and come. That which continues is the spirit and life of dear Alma Mater. So for professors and students alike is there a fond good-bye for those who go, and, for those who come, a welcoming all hail.

Professor Edwards of the department of Natural History lectured before the Hartford Scientific Society last evening. He presented the second of a series of original papers on, "Some Stages of the Embryology of the Horned Toad."

OUR NEW LATIN PROFESSOR.

Professor Elmer Truesdell Merrill, who has just accepted the Professorship of the Latin Language and Literature at Trinity, is a native of Massachusetts.

He prepared for college at Woburn High School and entered Wesleyan University in 1877, graduating four years later at the head of his class and with special honors in Greek and Latin. He was awarded the Squire Graduate Scholarship and devoted one year to graduate study at Wesleyan.

He began his work as a teacher at the Massachusetts State Normal School in Westfield, but in 1883 he was called back to his Alma Mater as a tutor in Latin, a position which he occupied for three years.

The Academic Year 1886-7 he devoted to study in the University of Berlin, Germany. On his return he occupied the Professorship in Latin at the University of Southern California for one year, and in 1888 he was elected Robert Rich Professor of the Latin Language and Literature at Wesleyan University. This position he has held up to the present time.

Professor Merrill is a member of many learned societies and in most of them has held or holds official positions. He has been Vice-President of the American Philological Society for two years. He has acted on the Council of the Archaeological Society of America and has occupied various positions on the managing committee of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome. Six years ago he discharged the duties of a Professor in that School.

PROF. MERRILL.

As a writer he is known as the editorial annotator of several Latin authors and as the author of a considerable number of different articles chiefly on Philological and Archaeological subjects, in various periodicals. He is an editorial contributor to the American Journal of Archaeology and a regular reviewer for the New York

ADDITIONS TO THE NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM.

The museum of natural history has been enriched by several valuable gifts lately, which add much to its already rare collections.

From the estate of our late president, Thomas Ruggles Pynchon, we have received various minerals, including topaz, gold, aquamarill, and many different varieties of quartz.

Mr. F. H. Stadtmueller of Elmwood, Conn., has given a valuable datolite to the museum, and William H. Licht, 1907, has given some fossils from Lake Cayuga, New York.

Rev. Edgar L. Sanford, '84, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., has given an excellent collection of fossils and specimens from the Bad Lands, South Dakota, the Wind Cave, South Dakota, and from other localities.

Mr. H. L. Rice of Troy, N. Y., has given to the museum eighteen butterflies and moths mounted on plaster-of-Paris slabs, also some shells and a large number of birds' eggs.

HONOR FOR A TRINITY MAI'.

Woolsey McAlpine Johnson, '03, has been appointed one of the delegates from the United States to the International Chemical Congress to be held in Rome, Italy, April, 1906. He will read a paper on some special line of work in metallurgy.

The Senior Class has voted that the class dues shall be twenty-five dollars.

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

On account of the large supply of College news this week we are unable to give space to our usual article on, "Prominent Trinity Alumni", which series was begun several weeks ago. We shall endeavor to publish these articles every Friday hereafter, if possible, but at the present time there are so many undergraduate activities that we may be compelled, by lack of space, to omit them. However, the series will continue throughout this year, as often as we are able to allow space for them.

A COLLEGE SONG.

The following song has been written by Mr. Scott Snow, leader of Colt's Band, Hartford. He has also composed music for it.

Our College days are near an end
And for more money home we'll send;
Our dear Papas put up the bluff that
We have had enough.
To tell the truth we are all broke, our
Watch and chain are in soak, our
Uncle K. has got the whole shebang.
If we can only raise the sum
We'll make this dear old College hum
And put some Freshmen on the bum,
Before we sneak for home.

CHORUS.

O Trinity, dear Trinity
We vow eternal love for Trinity,
O Trinity, Sweet Trinity,
Long live Dear Old Trinity.

The baseball season's coming on
We're looking out for lots of fun
When Wesleyan's Team from Bughouse
Farm

Come up to get their bumps.
We hate to do it but we must
Our friends expect their game we'll bust
And send them sneaking down the Valley
Road;

We'll teach the Wesleyan men to cry
"Old Trinity's small, but then, Oh my!
What made our players ever try
To beat them in baseball.

Chorus.

The prize examination of the "Association for Promoting the Interests of Church, Schools, Colleges and Seminaries" will be held in the following order:

Monday, May 15—English.
Tuesday, May 16—Latin.
Wednesday, May 17—Mathematics.
Thursday, May 18—Greek.
Friday, May 19—Physics.

TRINITY-WESLEYAN GAME.

Rival College Nines to Meet Tomorrow.

We are on the eve of one of Trinity's most important athletic contests of the college year, the baseball game with Wesleyan. For years past these two neighboring colleges have struggled with each other in various contests of strength and skill, so that interest in their rivalry has not been confined to the seats of the two institutions, but has excited the interest of lovers of sport in various parts of the country.

It would be idle for us to endeavor to give a forecast of tomorrow's struggle. Baseball, above all other sports, is a very strange game, in that comparative scores give us no clear idea of the comparative strength of two nines.

However, judging by the work done by each team in its games during the present season, we feel that we are safe in saying that the two nines are very evenly matched, and we predict a close game for tomorrow.

Our knowledge of Wesleyan's team is limited, but they have been playing steady ball, as nearly as we have been able to ascertain and have hit well.

Trinity is in good condition. The playing this week has shown a marked improvement over that of last week. The men have batted better than ever before, and the fielding has been fast and comparatively steady, although several bad errors have been made by the infield. Trinity has also improved in base running. A comparison the results of games played, is interesting. Wesleyan has won six out of eleven, played, where as we have won

A BASEBALL SONG.

The second verse of this song was published in last Tuesday's issue, but in order to have it complete, we repeat this verse with the first, which has just been written. Every man should learn the words and come to the college sing in Alumni Hall at 7 o'clock tonight.

Tune, "Days of '61."

1. Oh, don't you remember the days of 1904.

When old Wesleyan was playing Trinity?

With "Rudder" in the box they were swinging like a gate;—

We beat them 4 to nought, and 5 to 3.

So Hoo-ray, boys, that wasn't very bad

For Trinity to give them such a slam.

In the good old days beneath the Gold and Blue,

When we beat old Wesleyan.

Chorus:

When we beat old Wesleyan—by gosh!

When we beat old Wesleyan.

In the good old days beneath the Gold and Blue.

When we beat old Wesleyan.

2. Oh, don't you remember the days of 1905,

When the baseballs were flyin' through the air,

And a big baseball came a flickin' 'cross the plate

And Powell knocked it out for fair.

Then up jumped Johnny and started down for first,

Said he, "I'll take second if I can."

In the good old days beneath the Gold and Blue.

When we beat old Wesleyan.

Chorus:

AN INTERESTING FACT.

On the 1st of March, 1904, THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL reached a stage in its history very interesting to its management and its members and one which is unique in the history of American Life Insurance.

On that date, but little more than fifty-eight years from its organization, it had received from its members in premiums the sum of $228,376,268, and had returned to them or their beneficiaries $228,724,073, or $347,805 more than it had received from them.

The Connecticut Mutual is the first American Life Insurance Company to return to its members one hundred per cent. of its receipt from them. And it holds besides $65,000,000 of assets, with a surplus of over $4,600,000 to protect over 70,000 policy-holders insured for over $166,000,000.

DEATH OF A TRINITY GRADUATE.

Giles R. Hallam of Stonington died Sunday morning, May 7, at his home in that town, aged 64 years. He was a native of Chicago, graduated from Trinity College in 1859 and was for several years professor of classics in Racine College, Racine, Wis. He came to Stonington eleven years ago where his father was once rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, and spent the rest of his life in that town. He was senior warden of Calvary Church and a member of the board of burgesses of the burough. Five sisters survive him.

Professor Wilbur M. Urban Ph. D. of the department of Philosophy, has been appointed one of the editors of the "Bulletin", a section of the "Psychological Review". His department is that of Aesthetics and the Theory of Values.

In a recent work by Professor Rebot of France, Professor Urban is recognized as an authority in the latter subject.
