Rev. Samuel Hart, D. D.

OF THE CLASS OF '66.

The highest type of alumnus produced by Trinity College is illustrated in Dr. Hart. A native of Old Saybrook, elder son of Judge Henry Hart, he prepared for college at Cheshire Academy, and was graduated from Trinity in 1866, valedictorian and first to take the rank of "Optimus." During his course at the Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, where he was ordained in 1869, he was called upon to serve as tutor in the college on account of the illness of two professors; and he remained a member of the faculty from 1868 to 1899. His varied acquirements are shown by the fact that he served successively as tutor in Greek, professor of mathematics and astronomy and of Latin, and then became, in 1899, vice-dean of the Berkeley Divinity School and professor of doctrinal theology and of the Prayer Book, succeeding the late beloved and revered Bishop John Williams in that department, and in the old Jarvis mansion, so long occupied by the Bishop, with a fitness recognized by all who knew the two men. As a scholar, Dr. Hart is thorough, accurate and versatile, with a wonderful memory and a talent for imparting knowledge in a clear and impressive manner. As a preacher he is always sound, cogent and spiritual, especially interesting on historic themes, and highly appreciated when conducting a "Quiet Day" of special devotion. Although he has declined repeated calls to large and attractive parishes (and also elections as bishop of Vermont and Professor in the General Theological Seminary, New York), he officiates nearly every Sunday in aid of feeble missions, or at the Hartford hospital; and does much pastoral work in connection with students, the Good Will Club for boys and the St. Barnabas Guild for Nurses. Recent graduates of Trinity acknowledge with profound gratitude the personal, fatherly interest which he took in their moral and religious welfare when in College. There was no one to whom a young man would go more confidently when in trouble or in need of advice. It was a serious loss to the college in various ways when he decided to take up a work more theological.

In the ministry of the Episcopal church Dr. Hart occupies a position of national importance and wide reputation. Not only has he served the diocese of Connecticut for over thirty years as registrar, gathering a large collection of pamphlets and manuscripts of historical value for reference, and arranging them with characteristic system, which gratuitous labors received a hearty vote of thanks from the last convention; not only has he been a member of the Diocesan Standing Committee since 1887, and of the Committee on Constitution and Canons for many years, and of the Permanent Commission on Parochial Archives for a while, but as a deputy to the General Convention in 1886, 1889 and 1892, he took a leading part in the revision of the Prayer Book, contributing to that subject so much rare erudition as to call forth the highest praise from the president of the House of Deputies and other experts. Since 1892 he has been secretary of the House of Bishops, and also custodian of the Standard Prayer Book; so that every copy of the American Prayer Book as revised now bears his name in attestation of its correctness. He is also historiographer and acting registrar of the General Convention.

His unusual knowledge of local history has led to his election as president of the Connecticut Historical society (since 1900); and, in conjunction with Messrs. Trumbull and Gay, he contributed largely to the new history of Connecticut, recently published in four volumes. He has edited Satires of Juvenal (1873); Satires of Persius (1874), also a number of liturgical and devotional works, and has published Sunday sermons, addresses, articles in cyclopaedias, etc. In 1892 he was president of the American Philological association, and since that date has also been a senator of the National Society of Phi Beta Kappa. He belongs to the Society of Colonial Wars, and is a member of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity, Beta Beta chapter. Trinity made him D. D. in 1885, and D. C. L. in 1899, Yale adding D. D. in 1902.

For intellectual power and thorough, varied scholarship, for personal character and religious influence, for untiring service to the church and the community; for strong convictions and liberal sympathies, for genial interest in young men, and for absolute devotion to his Alma Mater, Trinity College is justly proud of Samuel Hart.

THE FLOATING LABORATORY OF MARINE BIOLOGY.

The fund for the purchase of a schooner for the floating laboratory is now about $1,750. Sidney T. Miller of Detroit and J. P. Elton of Waterbury have each offered to give $100 if three others will join with them on the same basis. A third man has subscribed to this contingent fund and it is hoped that soon the necessary remaining two will present themselves.

The floating laboratory will soon be incorporated and a board of trustees elected by those who have subscribed to the fund. It is intended to buy a good seaworthy vessel at the first favorable opportunity after sufficient money has been subscribed, but it is possible that the purchase will have to be delayed until next fall or winter.

Trinity 1, Syracuse 0.

The baseball team of Syracuse University was defeated Wednesday afternoon by the Trinity team in an exciting contest by the score of 1 to 0. Both teams, especially the pitchers, worked hard all through the contest. Badgley played with his characteristic coolness, allowing but two scratch hits and striking out 14 men. Watky for Syracuse pitched good ball, allowing four hits, which he kept scattered in four different innings. Trinity's run was made by Burwell in the seventh inning with two out and no one on bases, by a swift grounder to Watky, who threw the ball high above the first baseman's head, sending it across the football field and allowing Burwell to circle the bases.

In the practice before the game, Bowman, who was scheduled to play in right field, sprained his finger slightly and was kept out of the game, and Dravo, who was hit in the head by a foul ball off his bat in the fifth inning, pluckily played until the seventh, when he was compelled to retire. Marlbor was substituted for Bowman, Landefeld took Dravo's place in the catcher's box, Powell covered third and Randall was placed in Powell's place at short.

The first man at the bat for Syracuse was Rutherford, who was out, Dravo to Clement. Wilbur struck out and Burrell fled out to Landefeld. When Syracuse was in the field Morgan fled out to Rutherford. Landefeld struck out. Powell got as far as second on a grounder that would have put him out, except for a wild throw by Watky. Madden fanned.

Syracuse got a man on second in the next inning, but did not have a chance to score until the fifth. In that inning Martin got a base on balls. Morrissey struck out. Powell got a hit, advancing Martin to second. Wilson struck out, but Dravo dropped the third strike, advancing Martin and Powell. Watky struck out.

Again in the ninth Syracuse had men on second and third, but the steady pitching of Badgley retired the side without a score. Wilbur was out by Clement unassisted. Burrell got a base on balls and stole second. Ryan struck out. Martin got first on a slow grounder to Randall, but Morrissey was out, Badgley to Clement. Summary:

THE ATHLETIC SCANDAL

Few events have caused a more profound depression among Trinity undergraduates than the recent discovery that the Trinity-Union track meet of last year was won by the use of a "ringer." We are glad to say, however, that when the discovery was made, although the Graduate Athletic Advisory Committee felt keenly the shame that Trinity would suffer by it, that body of men did not hesitate a moment to adopt a course of action. After a hurried investigation which revealed the truth as they had heard it, a member of the committee immediately went to Schenectady, frankly explained the entire affair to the athletic council of Union College, offered an apology for the deed, and promised to return the banner which has since been done.

In addition to this action, the meet has been stricken from the college records, and everything possible has been done to obliterate the memory of the former triumph. The captain and manager of the team are not in college.

In taking the action which she has, we feel that Trinity has done everything in her power to atone for an inexcusable sin which was committed by her representatives. No stone was left unturned in the investigation, and no word of the truth was concealed when she made her apology to Union. And whereas the story as revealed adds one more page to the constantly growing book of dishonor in intercollegiate sports, yet the free and unsolicited acknowledgment of the wrong after she had discovered it, and the earnest attempts by Trinity to make reparation for it, must add a corresponding page in the annals of sportsmanlike deeds in the college world.

At a meeting of the Missionary Society held yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, H. G. Barbour, 1906, and Secretary-Treasurer, D. W. Graham, 1906. No more regular meetings of the society will be held until next fall.

SAMUEL FERGUSON.

Will Lecture in Physics Laboratory
Saturday Morning.

Mr. Samuel Ferguson, a graduate of Trinity in the class of '96, will deliver a lecture in the physics laboratory Saturday morning at 10 o'clock on the Mercury Arc Rectifier. Mr. Ferguson is on the engineering corps of the General Electric company and for the last year has been principally engaged in work on the Rectifier and has taken out several patents particularly in view of running several Rectifiers in parallel.

Mr. Ferguson is a son of Professor Ferguson, and a graduate of the local high school. After receiving his B. S. from Trinity he entered Columbia in the class of '98, and took up electrical engineering. He spent one year in the course but was compelled to drop back a year owing to ill health, during which time he worked under Professor Robb for the Hartford Electric Light company. His final year was spent at Columbia, class of '99, in the Graduate School of Applied Science, under Professor Pupin, where he received the degrees of E. E. and M. A. For his engineering thesis he worked with Professor Perkins, who was then at Columbia. The subject of the thesis being "Efficiency and Current Harmonies of the Induction Motor." Most of the work for this thesis was done in the Jarvis laboratory. For his M. A. his subject was "Electrical Oscillations in a Slow Speed Conductor."

The summer after his graduation Mr. Ferguson went to work for the General Electric company and was employed in the test department. A year later he was promoted to Dr. Steinmetz's office on designing problems, and for the last year has worked on the Rectifier.

The Mercury Arc Rectifier is a device for converting alternating to direct currents. It is used in charging automobile and other small batteries at a distance from the power station.

DISHONESTY IN ATHLETICS.

Discovery Followed by Action of Alumni and Undergraduates.

The undergraduate body of the college has lately discovered that a "ringer" has been played on one of the college athletic teams. The story, as given out by the Graduate Athletic Advisory Committee, which has the matter in charge, is practically as follows:

In the dual track meet with Union college, held at Albany, N. Y., Saturday, May 14, 1904, a prominent Y. M. C. A. athlete from Hartford was persuaded to enter several field events. He entered under the name of a Trinity athlete who was with the team, but who entered no contests.

This man was not paid to enter the meet, but his expenses to and from Hartford were provided him. Trinity won the meet, 57 to 51, the points which this outside man won practically securing the meet.

Two weeks ago the fact became known to the Graduate Athletic Advisory Committee of Trinity. After a speedy investigation of the matter a member of the board immediately went to Schenectady and told the athletic authorities there of the discovery, made an apology in the name of Trinity College, for the act, and promised to return the banner which Trinity had won in the meet. The Union authorities, realizing the embarrassing position in which Trinity was placed by the discovery, accepted the apology, and to prove that they trusted in Trinity's sincerity and honesty, they sent their track team to Hartford the next day, on which a meet between the two institutions was scheduled.

The fact has this week become known to the student body at large, and on Tuesday evening a college meeting was held in the Latin room to discuss the matter.

The following resolutions were then drawn up and unanimously adopted: Whereas, It has recently come to our knowledge that a man not a member of Trinity College was entered in the Union-Trinity track meet at Albany, May 14, 1904, and took part in the contest; and

Whereas, The Graduate Athletic Advisory Committee, on learning these facts, immediately made a frank statement and a full apology to the president and to the athletic authorities of Union college, and returned the banner taken by Trinity in that meet; therefore,

Be it resolved, That we, the undergraduates of Trinity College, do regret and repudiate the unauthorized action of the captain and the manager of the track team of 1904 in the Union meet; that we heartily endorse the action of the Graduate Athletic Advisory Committee; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Union College Athletic association, and that they be given to the Trinity College publications and to the public press.

AN INTERESTING FACT.

On the 1st of March, 1904, THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL reached a stage in its history very interesting to its management and its members and one which is unique in the history of American Life Insurance.

On that date, but little more than fifty-eight years from its organization, it had received from its members in premiums the sum of $228,376,268, and had returned to them or their beneficiaries $228,724,073, or $347,805 more than it had received from them.

The Connecticut Mutual is the first American Life Insurance Company to return to its members one hundred per cent. of its receipt from them. And it holds besides $65,000,000 of assets, with a surplus of over $4,600,000 to protect over 70,000 policy-holders insured for over $166,000,000.

DRAVO INJURED.

Catcher on Baseball Team Badly Hurt

Marion Stewart Dravo, 1907, the crack catcher on the baseball team, received an injury in the game with Syracuse University Wednesday afternoon which will probably keep him out of the game for the remainder of the season. While at bat in the fifth inning he was struck on the head by a foul ball. He was "knocked out" for about five minutes, at the end of which time he pluckily continued in the game.

In the first part of the eighth inning, however, he was compelled to retire. Doctors Lampson, '91, Starr, '97, and McCook, '90, who were present, attended him, and ordered him to the Hartford hospital. As he was being lifted into an automobile belonging to L. A. Ellis, '98, he was seized with violent convulsions. He was immediately taken to the hospital, where he is now. The doctors will not say, as yet, what the trouble is, but Dravo is resting comfortably, and it is expected that he is on the safe road to recovery.

Directly after the accident, on Wednesday evening, President Luther telegraphed to Dravo's parents, who live in Pittsburg, Pa., telling them to come to Hartford immediately. They arrived yesterday.
