HARTFORD, CONN., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1906.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

A TRINITY MOUNTAIN APOSTLE.

Among recent visitors at the college was, on Saturday evening, the Rev. Reginald N. Wilcox of the class of 1899, who is doing a remarkable work in the mountains of North Carolina. His parish proper is in Hendersonville a few miles west of Asheville, but his work extends through the whole of that beautiful region with its noble types of native Americans, who for so long a time severed from the main streams of the nation's culture, in consequence show peculiarities of character that make them themes for the novelists as well as a hope for the church.

Mr. Wilcox being distinctly a high churchman, was at first regarded as an intruding papist by the sturdy Methodists, Baptists and Presbyterians of the locality, who in their intervals of moonshine distilling have become well versed in the scripture and are mighty theologians. But far from being lynched, Mr. Wilcox has been able to overcome all prejudice and make many warm friends. He tells of one extraordinary parishioner, a retired lieutenant of the U. S. Navy. This gentleman has had a career of great vicissitudes. He had his brain frozen in Alaska. His brain, when thawed, subsequently suffered in some subdivisions of its lobes from malaria in South America. He fell on his head into a North Carolina well 70 feet deep. He was thrown with his horse into a stream from a bridge where as in Russia it is necessary to trust to providence as much as to the planks. In consequence the lieutenant now converses in nouns, adjectives, adverbs and occasionally so far as Christianity permits, interjections, but never uses verbs.

The lieutenant notwithstanding, after four antecedent nominal proposals, succeeded in marrying. He is a pillar and his wife a caryatid of the Hendersonville church.

There has been in Hendersonville, for men young and old, no place of social gathering or intellectual interchange save the saloon or the mountain distillery. To supply the want, Mr. Wilcox bought a house which he runs as a hotel with 50 boarders in the summer in order that it may be used in the winter as a library, reading room, and gymnasium. Uniting genial sympathy and a sense of humor with great earnestness Mr. Wilcox could have given some points to the apostles on missionary methods.

Mr. Wilcox is the proud parent of an infant boy to whom he tells us he has applied with gentleness, notwithstanding his youth, the primitive principles of Solomon and of old England where Mr. Wilcox himself was born. This parental ferocity awoke great interest and loud opposition throughout the whole diocese, many letters being sent even to the bishop, but now all the mountain diocese regards limited and judicious spanking of even the very young as salutary and indispensable. The little Wilcox never cries but laughs and crows all day in anticipation of coming to Trinity.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT.

To-night the Glee and Mandolin Club will give a concert in Rockville under the auspices of the Rockville Baseball Association. The program to be rendered will be substantially the same as the one which was so well received in Alumni Hall during Junior Week. On account of the unavoidable absence of the leader, Mr. D. W. Gateson, the club will be under the leadership of Mr. G. Cunningham. Mr. Butler will render, in his own inimitable way, his several songs. The Glee Club will sing D. Buck's "Huzza," the new "Ivy Song," "The Choo-Choo Cars" from "Roger Brothers in Ireland," with Mr. Curtiss's comical imitation, will also be sung. The Mandolin Club will play their two very popular pieces, "College Life March" and "Laces and Graces." After the concert there will be a dance.

This Friday the clubs will sing at Forestville. Arrangements are being made for concerts in Winsted and Torrington. The Easter trip is becoming more of a reality and the manager hopes to be able to publish soon a schedule of the concerts.

AUDITOR OF NEW YORK CENTRAL AND HUDSON RIVER R. R.

Richard Allyn White '81 Appointed To That Position.

On February 1st Mr. Richard Allyn White '81, of New York City, became auditor of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company. Mr. White was born in Hartford in 1860. He was a Phi Beta Kappa man at Trinity, but on account of his father's death was obliged to leave college before graduation. He has for a long time been connected with the accounting department of the New York Central, having his office in the Grand Central station. The appointment was made to fill the place of Mr. M. L. Bacon, deceased, and covers the control of the accounts of the entire company including its leased and operated lines east of Buffalo.

NEW ENGLAND INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETING.

The annual meeting of the N. E. I. A. A. was held Saturday, the 17th, at the Hotel Lenox in Boston. Representatives from the following colleges were present: Williams, Amherst, M. I. T., Wesleyan, Tufts, Bowdoin, the University of Maine, and the University of Vermont. An application for membership from Holy Cross was laid on the table until next meeting. It was voted also to hold the next meet at Worcester, May 18th and 19th.

The following officers were elected: President, Philip A. Bridgeman of Amherst; vice-president, L. G. Hinman of Williams; secretary, T. W. Worthen of Dartmouth; treasurer, Lawrence Allen of M. I. T.

EXCAVATIONS PROVE IT A VERY ANCIENT CITY.

On and About the Acropolis—Views of Eleusis and of the Historic Mound at Marathon—Sight-Seeing Tour Among Classic Grecian Ruins.

Professor Rufus B. Richardson, who for the past eleven years has been the director of the American School of Classical Studies in Athens, lectured on ancient Athens at Trinity College last night. This was the second in the series of public lectures which are being delivered to the students. The audience last night filled every seat in Alumni Hall, and the proportion of visitors who were not connected with the college in any way was unusually large. The lecture comprised chiefly the exposition of a number of photographs showing modern Athens, views of the country around the Acropolis, and of the old classical ruins.

President Luther introduced the lecturer very briefly. Professor Richardson began with a short account of the supremacy of Athens in ancient times. Though often crushed by Sparta, and frequently under the heel of Boetia, Athens easily held the intellectual predominance of Greece. The list of her great men is too long to recount. No other place of equal area has ever produced so many masters of art and literature. The topography of Athens, like the mind of the Athenian of classic ages, is moderate. The scenery is not on so grand a scale as the scenery of Argos, Sparta is better situated, even Thebes surpasses it in picturesque beauty. Athens lies in the middle of a fairly large plain, three or four miles from the sea. This plain is surrounded on three sides by mountains of medium size. On the fourth side is the sea. In the middle of this plain rises the Acropolis, a large rock of irregular outline, some 450 feet above sea level, and 200 feet above the surrounding plain, rising in a sheer perpendicular. To the northwest of the city are Hymettus and Pentelicus, two mountains, the first famous for its honey and the other for its marble quarries. Practically all the classic buildings of Athens were constructed of Pentelic marble.

The American School of Classical Studies has accomplished much in the line of discovery in Athens. The city is now known to be of a much greater age than was at first thought, owing to the discovery of some very ancient walls around the base of the Acropolis. These walls, which were evidently part of the fortifications of the city at the time when it was clustered around the Acropolis, prove that the city antedates Troy and Mycenae.

Beginning with some views of modern Athens, Professor Richardson showed the new academy, built after the fashion of the French Academy, to perpetuate the names of forty immortals. After the building was completed, however, no one was able to decide on those who were entitled to be immortalized, consequently the building remains empty. Other modern photographs exhibited were the national library, the palace, one of the plainest in Europe, and some street scenes. Professor Richardson then took his hearers on a sight-seeing tour through the classic ruins of the famous city. Some particularly interesting photographs of the famous theater of Dionysius were exhibited. The rows of stone seats, with the stone arm chairs for the bald-headed row, the stone stage with its richly sculptured front, all appealed to his audience.

Several views of Eleusis, where the celebrated Eleusinian mysteries were held, were thrown on the screen. But perhaps the most interesting view of all was that of the mound at Marathon, where lie buried those Greeks who fell in that memorable battle of the West against the East, when the vast horde of Persians was scattered by the band of Athenians, and the prestige of Persia irrevocably lost.

SEABURY CLUB LECTURES.

The following is the schedule of lectures to be held Tuesday evenings during Lent at eight o'clock in St. James' Church.

Seaside Parables.

St. Matthew XIII.

March 6—The Parable of the Leaven. The Rev. Cranston Brenton, Trinity College.

March 13—The Parable of the Sower. The Rev. Geo. M. Christian, D.D., New York City.

March 20—The Parable of the Tares. The Rev. Henry R. Sargent, Order of the Holy Cross.

March 27—The Parable of the Mustard Seed. The Rev. E. B. Taylor, Bayonne, N. J.

April 3—The Parable of the Net. The Rev. Frederic W. Fitts, Boston, Mass.

April 10—Parable of the Hid Treasure. The Rev. Francis B. Blodgett, General Theological Seminary.

Dr. Luther addressed the boys of Phillips Exeter on Sunday. Last night he attended the dinner of the New York Alumni.

Professor Ferguson attended a meeting of the trustees of St. Paul's school in Boston yesterday.

J. Pierpont Morgan has contributed $500 to the fund for the Floating laboratory, making a total of about $3,000 now paid in.

Professor Brenton made an address at the New Britain Avenue Mission, Sunday afternoon.

D. W. Grahame '06, is on his way to Nashville as delegate from Trinity to the first international convention of Student Volunteers.

The Trinity Tripod

Published Tuesdays and Fridays in each week of the college year by students of Trinity College.

The columns of THE TRIPOD are at all times open to Alumni, Undergraduates and others for the free discussion of matters of interest to Trinity men. To aid in this purpose THE TRIPOD mail box has been placed in the section entrance of Middle Jarvis.

All communications, or material of any sort for Tuesday's issue must be in the Tripod box before 10 p.m. on Sunday; for Friday's issue before 10 a.m. on Thursday.

TO ALUMNI.

THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

It is fortunate that, through the kindness and interest of President Luther, the college will have a representative at the first international convention of Student Volunteers to be held in Nashville, from February 28th to March 4th. Dwight W. Graham '06, who is on his way to Nashville, will represent a college which has given many men to missionary work. And while at Nashville next Sunday more than three thousand delegates will be listening to addresses on the evangelization of the world in our own Chapel, Rev. Mr. Littell, Trinity '95, will tell us of this evangelization in China, where he has spent seven years as a missionary.

Kenyon College and Kenyon Military Academy have had very bitter experiences the past year. The unfortunate initiation affair at Kenyon College gave the college very unpleasant notoriety. Friday, Kenyon Military Academy was totally destroyed by fire, three boys were burned to death, and many others injured. This is the second fire that has destroyed the academy.

Professor Edwards has been away from college for the last two weeks owing to the death of his mother in Ohio.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONVENTION AT NASHVILLE.

Student Volunteers are to hold their first international convention at Nashville from February 28th to March 4th. It is now an assumed fact that 3,000 delegates will be present, in striking contrast to the scant 250 that attended the conference at Mt. Hermon in 1886. Such an attendance, however, is amply justified by the figures of the four preceding conventions. At Cleveland in 1891, there were 680; in 1894 at Detroit, 1,325; in 1898 at Cleveland, 2,221; in 1902 at Toronto, 2,957. The work grows, and grows steadily. Last year it was represented by more than 1,000 study classes in some 400 institutions, with a total enrolment of nearly 13,000 and contributions of over $83,000 to the missionary cause, in addition to nearly 3,000 students who had given themselves to work in mission fields under fifty different missionary societies. Certainly the success of the Student Volunteer Movement has been phenomenal, and wherever the seed has been planted, in Great Britain, Germany, Scandinavia, Holland, France, South Africa, India, Australasia, China, it has taken root and flourished. Already it is showing its effect in the better training of missionaries and in more aggressive missionary ideals. At the Nashville conference Mr. Mott will, of course, preside. Among the speakers we note the names of Mr. Robert E. Speer, Mr. Harlan P. Beach, the Rev. Dr. Robson, of the United Free Mission Board of Edinburgh; Dr. Karl Fries, Dr. Herbert Lankester, Sir Algernon Coote, Dr. Gamewell, the defender of Pekin, and Dr. Sanders, formerly Dean of the Yale Divinity School. Unique is the prominence that will be given to the political and diplomatic side of missions through the presence of the Right Honorable Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, Ambassador of Great Britain; of Gen. John W. Foster, Ex-Secretary of State, and of the Honorable H. B. McFarland, President of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia—"The Churchman."

KENYON MILITARY ACADEMY BURNED.

A fire at Kenyon Military Academy early in the morning of February 24th, destroyed four buildings and burned to death three boys, Everett Henderson, Ridge Farm, Ill., Winfield Kunkle, Ashtabula, O., and James Fuller, Warren, O. Many students were injured by jumping from the windows. When the fire was discovered an attempt was made to preserve military order among the cadets, but the younger boys, struck with great fear, rushed wildly about and caused confusion. The loss of the buildings is covered by insurance.

ALUMNI DEPARTMENT.

W. C. RICHARDSON '82 HON-ORED.

Degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology
Conferred by University of Pennsylvania.

At the annual University Day exercises of the University of Pennsylvania, held in the Academy of Music, on Washington's Birthday, the Rev. William C. Richardson '82, rector of St. James' church, Philadelphia, was given the highest award for administrative church work, Doctor of Sacred Theology.

A year ago the United States Commission selected Mr. Richardson's church as one of the eighteen churches in America to be invited to exhibit its system of work at the international exposition, Belgium, last summer. This church was awarded the Grand Prix—the highest award given by the exposition, and in consequence of this Mr. Richardson received his honorary degree.

The Rev. William Clarence Richardson was born in Auburn, N. Y., in 1854. His family was allied with that of the great New England preacher, the Rev. Jonathan Edwards. Dr. Richardson was educated in the public schools of his native place, and later entered Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., where his course was interrupted by illness resulting from overwork, and ending in a long period of enforced idleness. In 1876 he resided in Leipzig, Germany, pursuing special studies, with several of the professors of the University. After several years of teaching and lecturing, he entered Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, Conn., and was graduated from that institution in 1888, being immediately ordained in the Episcopal Church by the Rt. Rev. Dr. John Williams. He served as the first settled church clergyman in Durham, Conn., for one year, going thence to be assistant at St. Paul's, Norwalk, Conn., then with Dr. Greer, at St. Bartholomew's, New York, where he was advanced to the priesthood by Bishop Potter; and in 1890 he became rector of the historic St. Paul's, Newburyport, Mass. In 1898 he was special preacher at St. Mary's, Philadelphia, going in the fall of that year to become rector of Trinity Church, Chicago, one of the largest and most important Episcopal churches in the West. From this post he was called in 1901 to the rectorship of St. James' Church, 22d and Walnut streets, Philadelphia. Here, as was the case in Trinity church, Chicago, one of the main features of his labors has been the systematizing and developing of the parish as a great centre for institutional work.

'80—The Rev. Arthur W. Burroughs, after some twenty-one years' service in Victoria, West Texas, has accepted an election as principal of St. Mary's Hall, San Antonio, in the same diocese.

'80—The present address of the Rev. L. A. Lanpher is 432 Queen street, Ottawa, Canada.

The Rev. Howard B. Ziegler '03 delivered the address at the regular monthly service of the college mission on Albany avenue.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.
In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.
In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.
