VOL. II. No. 26.

HARTFORD CONN., TUESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1906.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

ROBERT GALLAUDET ERWIN.

Ex-President of Atlantic Coast Line

Dies Suddenly.

Graduate from Trinity in Class of 1874.

Trinity men everywhere were shocked to hear of the sudden death on Saturday of Robert Gallaudet Erwin, of Hartford, one of our most widely known and most loyal alumni. He was taking a few days' outing at Saybrook where he has recently acquired some thousands of acres of game preserve. While walking upon his premises with his intimate friend, Mr. John A. Butler of Hartford, Mr. Erwin suddenly sank to the ground in an unconscious state and died within a few minutes. His death was caused by heart failure, although his friends had never known that he was possessed of any weakness in that respect.

Mr. Erwin was born May 6, 1854, at Savannah, Georgia, and entered Trinity College in September, 1871, as a sophomore. He took his degree of A. B. in 1874. After graduation he studied law and was admitted to the Georgia bar in 1875, and subsequently to the United States superior courts.

At the age of twenty-five Mr. Erwin was appointed general counsel of the Savannah, Florida and Western Railway company. This was the basic property which afterwards was developed into the Plant system. In the latter, also, he held the same official title.

In 1892, when elected vice-president of the Plant system, he removed to New York city. In 1899 he was elected to the presidency of the company. During Mr. Erwin's official connection with this property it expanded from approximately 250 miles to 2,180 miles.

In 1902 the Plant System merged with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company.

Immediately after the consolidation the board elected Mr. Erwin president of the newly amalgamated Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company. As president of this company he controlled the destiny of one of the most powerful railroad systems in the United States, that aggregates in length with its steamer lines more than 11,000 miles. Physically it is called the Pennsylvania railroad of the South.

Mr. Erwin resigned this presidency in November past in order to spend more time with his family. His wife who survives him was Miss Julia H. M. Rogers of Hartford. He leaves also two children, Julia and Robert besides a brother, Major James Brailsford Erwin, '76, who is in active service at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

The burial service will be at the Erwin residence, No. 11 Myrtle street, on Tuesday noon at 12.30. The Rev. Geo. Lindsley, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, will officiate.

BASKET BALL.

Trinity Defeats Tufts.

Last Friday night Trinity won from Tufts College in an exciting and interesting game of basket ball. In the first half both sides played well, and the outcome seemed doubtful, as it ended with the score 8 to 7 in Trinity's favor. Tufts went to pieces at the very beginning of the second half, and there was soon no doubt as to who would win. Donnelly played his usual fine game. The team failed to play well together. Collins showed up well, but needs more practice in passing. The lineup:

TO ALUMNI.

THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

We wish to draw the students' attention to the many prizes that are offered in the several departments for themes and in competitive examinations, for which purpose we publish in another column the conditions in the competitions. We dare to state that no college offers greater inducements to special study than Trinity.

The news of the death of Mr. Erwin comes to us with a shock, because he has been so prominent an alumnus of Trinity and so well known and respected by the many students who knew him. We express our sympathy with those whom his death most nearly touches, and our feeling of the loss which his comparatively early death has been to us.

The following appreciation of Mr. Erwin was taken from The Courant of January 15:—

Robert G. Erwin, whose sudden death occurred on Saturday, was one of the best known men of Hartford, but owing to the nature of his business, he was far better known out of the city than at home. All over the South everybody knew him and he had a very large acquaintance among railroad men generally. His business capabilities were of a high order and he had made a great success of his work. His resignation a short time ago of the presidency of the Atlantic Coast line was a surprise to his friends, but probably he had himself become aware that his health was failing. Mr. Erwin was one of the as yet comparatively few college men to make a name and take a high position in railroading. Being in Hartford comparatively seldom, as his business was at the South, he had comparatively few friends here, but all of those were devoted to him and he was reckoned by them one of the most genial companions and most attractive personalities in the city. The suddenness of his death has given a shock to the whole community.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

From this date forward subscriptions to the Tripod for the balance of the college year (somewhat more than half) will be received at the rate of $1.00 each. It is expected that many Trinity men will respond.

Dr. John B. McCook, '90, is one of the consulting physicians; Dr. Edward R. Lampson, '91, is an assistant surgeon; and Dr. Robert S. Starr, '97, is an assistant physician.

H. P. H. S. WINS FROM TRINITY FRESHMEN.

By the close score of 26 to 30, the Freshmen lost their second game to the Hartford High School. The game was one of the most closely contested played this year, the score at one time being 18 to 17. In the first half the High School had things their own way, but in the second the Freshmen picked up and outplayed them. The Freshmen did good passing, but showed lack of practice in shooting goals. Clausen made several sensational throws, and made a difficult goal just as time was called.

Referee, G. D. Bowne, '06; Umpire, Haight, '06; Timer, Chamberlain, '07; Time of halves, 15 and 20 minutes. Goals from field: Elwell 1, Connor 2, Clausen 7; Baterson 1, Buckley 1, Edmonds 5, Day 5. Goals from fouls, Trinity, 1909, 6; H. P. H. S., 6.

WANTED: Material for the 1907 IVY. Every man in college should hand in some work for this book. "Come early and avoid the rush."

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company. In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends. In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address the Company, or any of its agents.
