GODS IN THE NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM.

Egyptian Collection Loaned by Mrs. Henry Ferguson.

Mrs. Henry Ferguson has loaned the Natural History Museum of the college a very interesting collection of idols and relics illustrating early Egyptian Ethnology. With the exception of one or two articles the collection was purchased in the Boulak Museum, Cairo, and is guaranteed genuine. The collection is kept in one of the cases on the east end of the second floor of the museum, and will well repay one to investigate it.

The collection is made up of the following articles:

Goddess Opet, (four pieces), the guardian of pregnant women. These are intended as charms and were found about the mummies.

Fragment of Alabaster Basin. In these costly receptacles, offerings for the use of the dead were placed when the rank and station of the dead was so great that a decorated tomb was provided for his mummy. This fragment was sold to E. M. Ferguson by a Besharam Arab in the mud village built between the ancient walls of El Kal and the Nile, five hundred miles south of Cairo.

Bronze figure of the God Osiris, God of the dead, with atif (feather) crown.

Eye of Osiris, a charm to be worn on a string or chain to ensure the protection of Osiris. This specimen was found with a mummy.

Copy of an image of Goddess Isis with the infant horns on her cap.

God Bes, guardian of pregnant women. Also supposed to be god of evil.

Head of Terra Cotta Figurine. Evidently of the Greek period 300 B. C. Elaborate headdress. Earrings missing. Probably of different material as the bored holes remain.

Jackal-headed Ambris. God of the dead whose function was connected with interments. This was a charm found with a mummy and is much more carefully executed than usual.

Ushalti (four pieces). These figures were buried with a mummy about the period of the eighteenth dynasty, 1500 B. C. They were made in rough likeness of Osiris, the god of the dead. Archaeologists now suppose that this was intended as a method of supplying the deceased with necessary attendants and servants in the life hereafter. They were made in the likeness of Osiris in order that he should transfer them in some way to the service of soul of the deceased.

An earthen dish that was used in the tombs to hold a few grains of some cereal, about the time of the eighteenth dynasty, 1500 B. C. In this the Ka, or soul of the deceased, would be able to have food or to plant his fields in the life hereafter. A sample was considered equivalent to whatever quantity might be necessary.

Earthenware lamps (six pieces). Burned with the mummies in the late period of about the beginning of the Christian era. It was supposed that the dead could have all the needs of a future life satisfied by these. Provision was made for the deceased in his tomb by the friends and relatives. These lamps when in use had a cloth wick fed with olive oil.

FINAL RESULTS OF INTER-CLASS GAMES.

Sophomores Win Class Championship in an Exciting Game.

The final inter-class games were played on Monday night and furnished exciting sport to those present. The first game was between the losers of the two previous games, the Juniors and Freshmen, and the eventual result was always in doubt. The Juniors won, 33 to 25. The second game was, however, the great game of the evening for there it was to decide the class championship. Organized cheering was given heartily, to both classes and the lusty lungs of the Sophomores undoubtedly was an important factor in the victory of their classmates. The final score was 36 to 34, the winning basket being made by Collins in the last few seconds of play.

SHORT BASKET BALL TRIP.

Holy Cross and Brown. Return Game With Tufts to be Played Later. Team in Good Condition.

The members of the basket ball team left Thursday afternoon, on a short trip to Worcester and Providence, taking in two games. The first game was played last evening with Holy Cross and the result is noted elsewhere in these columns. The return game with Tufts which was to have been played at Medford, Friday, has been cancelled owing to a mistake made in the Tufts schedule. It is hoped, however, that the teams will play again some time in February. Saturday evening is the date fixed for the Brown-Trinity game at Providence. This game will undoubtedly be very close. Brown defeated Tufts earlier in the season, by the comfortable score, 31 to 21, and Trinity downed the Massachusetts men by the score, 27 to 14. Comparing these results it would appear that Trinity and Brown are closely matched. Faithful practice has brought the team up to a point of efficiency not equalled before this year and the men are confident of victory.

Captain Marlor has taken the following men on the trip: Powell and Donnelly, forwards; Marlor, center; Collins and Pond, backs, and Chamberlain substitute.

These men are all in good condition and are prepared to play a strong game. Collins is now the regular left back and is doing well in proving his right there.

DR. LUTHER HOME AGAIN.

Has Entirely Recovered From His Illness.

Tuesday evening Dr. Luther returned to college from his trip to New Jersey and was in chapel as usual Wednesday morning. He is well again although he does not feel as strong as he did a few months ago. He left Hartford December 19 for Atlantic City expecting to stay there a week, and then, if he felt able, to go on to Texas. He enjoyed his week at Atlantic City so much that he decided to remain there as the climate seemed to be beneficial to him. He stayed at Atlantic City for three weeks and then went to Bloomsburg, Pa., where he stayed at the home of Mr. Elwell, a classmate of his. He left Bloomsburg Monday for Philadelphia where he stayed one night and Tuesday came on to Hartford.

ROBERT G. ERWIN.

The burial service for Robert G. Erwin, '74 was held at his late home,

No. 11 Myrtle street, Hartford, on Tuesday noon at 12.30. It was conducted by the Rev. George T. Linsley of the Church of the Good Shepherd. He was assisted by the Rev. Leonard Woods Richardson, Trinity '73 of the State Normal College at Albany, N. Y., one of Mr. Erwin's most intimate college friends. The honorary bearers were former business associates of Mr. Erwin and included the president and treasurer of the Southern Express Co., besides directors of the Atlantic Coast Line and Plant System, and three of his Hartford friends.

Trinity men who attended included A. K. Brocklesby '70, Major James B. Erwin, '76, brother of R. G. Erwin, Rev. L. W. Richardson '73, G. W. Beach, '80 and Professor Ferguson, '68. The active members of the I. K. A. fraternity, of which Mr. Erwin was a member, attended the service in a body.

THE MUSICAL CLUBS.

The First Concert to be Given at Warehouse Point January 26.

The members of the musical clubs have been rehearsing for the past two months and are well prepared for the opening concert to be given at Warehouse Point, Saturday evening. The last rehearsal was held in Alumni Hall Thursday afternoon, and the program which is to be carried out was gone through with a manner everywhere satisfactory to the management.

Two more concerts are already arranged for, one in Bloomfield, Feb. 9, and the other in Alumni Hall, Thursday evening in Junior week. Manager Rehr is also corresponding with people in Winsted, Torrington and Waterbury, and expects soon to give concerts in these places. He wishes it announced that the next rehearsal will be held Monday afternoon at 3.45 and he desires that every member be present.

TO ALUMNI.

THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

INTERCOLLEGEATE NOTES.

Intercollegiate football is prohibited at Harvard until the game is reformed. This is the action of the Board of Overseers, acting upon the suggestion of President Eliot. A delegate will be sent to the National Intercollegiate Convention to reform football and the member of the present rules committee will be withdrawn.

Wesleyan's professor of Economics and Social Science, Prof. W. C. Fisher, has been elected mayor of Middletown, after a vigorous campaign in which he was supported largely by the working classes. He was elected on the Democratic ticket, and has a democratic council.

Attention of the students is called to the announcement, on the official bulletin board, of the John Barrett prizes, for 1906. These prizes, $100, $75 and $50, are offered for the best papers on any one of several subjects relating to the politics and history of Latin-America. The competition is open to any student in any American college. The papers are due September 1st, 1906.

HOCKEY.

The Underclass Hockey Team will go to Watertown, Saturday to play the team of Taft's School. Last year Tafts beat us in Hartford and so we are anxious to win this year. They have the same team this year as last with the exception of one man and so it will be a hard game.

The lineup will probably be:

Right Wing,	Morris, Capt.
Left Wing,	Coleman
Center,	Marrow
Rover,	Roberts
Cover Point,	Rich
Point,	Stevens
Goal,	Budd

Our team has played two games with Hartford High School, losing the first and tying the second. Two more games are scheduled, one with Springfield Training School on the 27th of this month and the other with Springfield High School on Feb. 3d.

AMERICAN PHILOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION.

Owing to the dropping of one word in a previous issue of the Tripod we gave the impression that the American Philological Association of which Prof. Merrill is President numbered one hundred members. Its membership is over seven hundred.

Former presidents of this society include Dr. Samuel Hart, '66, from 1891 to 1892, who was then head of the Latin Department at Trinity, and J. Hammond Trumbull, a prominent Hartford Scholar, who was for about thirty years librarian of the Watkinson Library.

NOTES.

"Recent Political Developments in France" was the subject of an address made by Dr. Shearer Friday evening before the McAll Mission Auxiliary in the parlors of the Connecticut Humane Society.

Prof. Kleene presided Monday evening at a meeting of the Get-Together Club of Hartford. "Socialism" was the subject of discussion.

GERMAN CLUB.

At a meeting of the German Club held last evening several important changes were made in the constitution. These changes include the establishment of a graduate advisory committee besides a provision that election of members shall be by a three-fourths vote. Formerly two black balls excluded; The next German will be the Junior Week German, on Tuesday, Feb. 13. P. C. Bryant '07 will lead.

TRACK ATHLETICS.

Captain Gateson of the Track team wishes it understood that every afternoon hereafter there will be track practice and he desires every man who is able to come out and work.

CORRECTION.

There was an error in the list of the examinations published in Tuesday's issue of the Tripod.

It is the Greek 3 examination that comes on the morning of February 3, instead of Greek 5, and English 5 was omitted from the schedule. The examinations in English will be held on the morning of February 8.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.
In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.
In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address the Company, or any of its agents.
