THE SOPHOMORE SMOKER.

Beyond a Doubt One of The Greatest Events of The College Year.

Last night in Alumni Hall took place an innovation for Trinity, and it is to be hoped that succeeding generations will repeat it and make it a custom—a tradition.

The smoker, it is needless to say was successful. The attendance was all that could be expected and the enthusiasm was all that could be desired.

The program began with a few familiar songs by the Glee Club, after which Mr. Gateson '06, introduced Senator Frank L. Wilcox, of the class of '80, as chairman of the meeting. Mr. Wilcox was greeted with a long, loud, "Trin."

SENATOR FRANK L. WILCOX, '80.

The opening address of Senator Wilcox bubbled over with college spirit and the success of the evening was greatly due to his simple eloquence, his wit, and his enthusiasm. The Sophomore Committee on Arrangements is to be complimented for choosing such a capable man as chairman.

Selections by the Glee Club followed, after which Mr. Wilcox called on Mr. E. Kent Hubbard '92. Mr. Hubbard complemented the freshmen on their banner-raising over Memorial Arch on St. Patrick's day, and spoke against the using of paint and the destruction of property on such occasions. He encouraged the men to do better work in their studies and athletics and closed with an appeal for support for the Athletic Association.

Dr. Luther was next introduced, and spoke very interestingly of the college as it was in his day, his personal reminiscences, and his desire to be better acquainted with the students now that his duties no longer allowed him to meet them in the classrooms. He expressed his willingness to do all he could to encourage college spirit and athletics, and at the close of his talk was greeted with a hearty "Trin," all standing during the cheer, as a mark of respect.

The Mandolin Club then favored those present with a few selections, and after a short intermission captain Powell '06, of the base ball team spoke. Mr. Powell, after an amusing prologue, spoke very earnestly on our situation in base ball and our prospects for the present season.

Mr. E. E. George '07, manager of the team followed, speaking of the hindrances in the way of making a large schedule, and the necessity of raising funds, suggesting membership to the Athletic Associations as the remedy.

Glee Club selections followed, after which Mr. Gateson '06, captain of the track team, gave a short talk on the track situation. Mr. Haight '06, manager of the track team was the next speaker. He drew a pretty exact, if unflattering picture, of our condition and urged greater support of athletics on the part of the undergraduates.

The Mandolin Club then gave a selection, and Professor Flynn '97, followed with a clever speech, alternating between wit and seriousness. He urged that the men present to imbibe as much of the spirit of the occasion as possible, and to increase college spirit for all time.

The next event on the program was an exhibition of boxing by Shearer and Clendinen, both of '09. "As neither contestants were knocked out," the event was declared a draw, to use the words of referee Butler.

The Glee Club next gave a selection and under the head of Alumni Talkers, Harriman '05, was persuaded to speak briefly.

The meeting broke up with cheering and songs and everyone vowed the occasion a success.

The programs were large and extensive and attractively bound in purple with a large white T on the cover. Leather pouches with a seal of the college and 1908 Sophomore Smoker printed on them, pipes, cigarettes, and cigars were furnished and lemonade was served.

Among the members of the faculty present were: Doctors Luther, Genthe, Urban, Shearer, Babbit, Merrill, Martin, and Riggs, and Professors Honey, Rodgers, Flynn, and Brenton.

Some of the alumni present were: Hon. Frank L. Wilcox '80, E. K. Hubbard '92, Bryant '70, Schutz '94, Evans '01, D. C. Graves '98, Davis '99, E. S. Allen '94, Case '00, Mann '04, W. Johnson '98, J. MacA. Johnson '03, Harriman '05, Buckley '05, Boyd '05, Weeks ex'06, Kenyon ex'07, Morgan ex'08, Wentworth ex'08.

PROF. PERKINS LECTURES AT ST. PAUL'S, CONCORD.

Professor Perkins gave his lecture on Radium before the Scientific Association of St. Paul's School last Saturday. Professor Perkins has also given this lecture before the Apprentice Club of the Westinghouse Mfg. Co., at Pittsburgh, the Hartford Electrical Society, and before the college. He was entertained while at St. Paul's by Heyward Scudder '91.

In the current number of the "Electrical World" there is an interesting article by Professor Perkins on the heating effect of the electric spark, with special reference to regulating the mixture in gas engines. In his experiments he has measured the heat developed and has determined the efficiency of the whole apparatus with different spark gaps.

OTHER WORLDS THAN OURS.

Interesting and Instructive Lecture by Dr. W. R. Brooks, Sc. D., Friday Evening.

Last Friday night, in Alumni Hall, Dr. William R. Brooks, Sc. D., professor of astronomy at Hobart College, gave one of the most interesting lectures of the year on "Other Worlds Than Ours." A large and representative audience were present to enjoy this lecture. Dr. Brooks illustrated his remarks by lantern slides which made the subject doubly pleasant.

After one of Dr. Luther's characteristic introductions and hearty greetings from Hobart, Dr. Brooks proceeded directly to his subject. He reviewed the theories concerning our solar system, including the Ptolemaic and the Copernican; the latter one being adopted to-day.

He threw on the screen a chart having all the planets placed in reference to their distance from the sun which was in the center. The planet Mercury is the nearest to the sun, a distance of 36,000,000 miles. Venus, the earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, etc., follow in order of distance, and Neptune is the farthest away. Dr. Brooks caused the plate to revolve, showing the relation which the planets bear to one another at different times. In connection with this he said that on March 28 it would be possible for a person with keen eyes to see Neptune, a sight which is very rare, for Neptune would then be five degrees north of Venus in the heavens.

Mars is perhaps the most interesting planet which we know for we are enabled to study it with more care than any of the others, because of its close proximity. Dr. Brooks was unable to state as to the likelihood of its being inhabited, but admitted that it appears suitable for habitation. In order to show the relation the stars had with the planets, he said that granting a scale on which the distance of the earth from the sun was six feet, the nearest star was 240 miles from the sun on the same scale. The comets were the most interesting of all. He himself discovered a system of comets which is known to science as the "Brooks Multiple Comet."

The next great comet, Dr. Brooks says, is expected in 1910.

The lecturer concluded his remarks by inviting his hearers to his "celestial workshop," Smith Observatory, Geneva, N. Y.

NOTES.

Mr. Budd of New York City, father of Bern Budd '08, was a visitor at college over Sunday.

James J. Page '08, is ill at his home. He is threatened with typhoid fever, but the doctors are not sure of his symptoms as yet.

Major Aleshire, father of J. P. Aleshire '09, is a visitor at college to-day.

BASE BALL SCHEDULE.

21 Games Now Arranged.

Base-ball Manager E. E. George has announced a good schedule for this season. Though he was unfortunate in arranging but two games for an Easter trip, owing to the lateness of the Easter recess and the fact that most of the colleges about New York and Philadelphia are taking trips themselves, he has nearly all the customary names on the list,—Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Brown, University of Pennsylvania, New York University, Holy Cross, Lehigh, and both of the U. S. Academies. Columbia is also back on the schedule this year.

A game scheduled for to-morrow with Yale has been cancelled and it is very probable that the weather will interfere with the Princeton and Brown games. In this case it is hoped to arrange a game with Brown at Hartford, June 23d.

It is expected that a couple of games with athletic clubs will be added to make out the Easter trip. The following is the schedule:—

Wed., Mar. 28, Yale, at New Haven.
Sat., Mar. 31, Princeton, at Princeton.
Wed., Apr. 4, Brown, at Providence.
Sat., Apr. 7, Harvard, at Cambridge.

Easter Vacation.

Sat., Apr. 14, Penn., at Philadelphia.
Wed., Apr. 18, Navy, at Annapolis.
Sat., Apr. 21, N. Y. U., at New York.
Wed., Apr. 25, W. P. I., at Hartford.
Sat., Apr. 28, Holy Cross, at Worcester.
Wed., May 2, Fordham, at Fordham.
Sat., May 5, West Point, at West Point.
Wed., May 9, Mass. A. C., at Hartford.
Sat., May 12, Springfield T. S., at Htfd.
Wed., May 16, Tufts, at Medford.
Sat., May 19, Union, at Hartford.
Wed., May 23, Holy Cross, at Hartford.
Sat., May 26, Tufts, at Hartford.
Wed., May 30, Lehigh, at So. Bethlehem.
Fri., June 1, Manhattan, at Hartford.
Tues. June 5, Columbia, at Hartford.
Sat., June 9, N. Y. U., at Hartford.
Sat., June 23, open.

D. W. GRAHAME'S REPORT.

At the regular weekly chapel service Sunday afternoon, Dwight W. Grahame of the Senior Class gave a very interesting report of the convention of student volunteers held recently at Nashville, Tenn. Grahame was the delegate from Trinity and in this position was able to give a complete account of the proceedings of the three days during which the students and others interested were in convention. He emphasized especially the spirit shown for missionary work, by the large number present, tracing the movement from its small beginning at "hay-stack" meeting at Williams College, to its now broad-reaching position. The movement now comprises not only educational institutions in the United States and Canada, but prominent missionary societies of other countries, all of which were represented at the recent convention in Nashville.

TO ALUMNI.

THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

It is unfortunate that the Sunday afternoon services are so poorly attended by students. The fellow who will lie about his room, reading Sunday newspapers and smoking, in preference to attending the musical service at five o'clock, has very little idea of what is good for him, or, what is worse, does not care to improve himself. The same man will go to a cheap musical comedy downtown on the same evening that there is a lecture in Alumni Hall, by an eminent astronomer on "Other World's Than Ours." There is a lack of the true kind of college spirit in both instances. The greatest men are those who enter into the plans of others with all the enthusiasm they can muster.
The most unselfish and loyal students are those who will support the institutions of their college with enthusiasm, if sometimes with sacrifice of self.

Sunday afternoon those who attended the service heard from D. W. Grahame a very interesting report of the Student Volunteer Convention, held at Nashville. He impressed his hearers because he had been impressed very profoundly by the convention which numbered 3,060 students. The very fact that the movement is one of students and a rapidly growing one should commend it to the interest of all undergraduates.

RUTGERS' DEBATE.

Won in Close Contest by Rutgers.

Friday night the debating club lost to the Rutgers team in Kirkpatrick Chapel, New Brunswick, debating the question: "Resolved, That insurance companies doing an interstate business should be subject to federal supervision."

Frederick J. Corbett '08 opened the debate for the affirmative. Mr. Corbett spoke in a clear, logical manner and made his argument effective by a well balanced oratorical skill.

Maurice I. C. Kain '06, for the negative, followed with an excellent speech.
Mr. Kain was by far the best of the Rutgers debaters. His fiery eloquence was extremely effective.

Keith Willoughby '09 then spoke.
Willoughby proved his right to a first place in Trinity College debates. His delivery and arrangement of the subject was both pleasing and convincing.

George Allen Lenkel '07, was the second speaker for the negative. He was followed by Phillip E. Curtiss. Mr.
Curtiss, it need only be added, was in his usual form.

Mr. Louis Bever, who was a member of the Rutgers team that debated here last year, summed up for the negative.

The rebuttal followed in the same order of speakers as the main argument.

After fifteen or twenty minutes' deliberation the judges decided in favor of the negative.

The judges were: the Hon. Charles J. Baxter of Trenton, Prof. W. H.
Shepherd of New York, and Mr. S. E.
Shaul of Perth Amboy, superintendent of schools in New Jersey.

During the time taken by the judges to reach their decision, the undergraduate body collected in the choir loft and sang their college songs.

TRINITY MAN ARMORY ARCHITECT.

Benjamin Wistar Morris '93 was selected on Thursday by the State Arsenal and Armory Commission as the architect for the new 1st Regiment Armory.

Mr. Morris' plans will not be accepted as submitted, but several changes will be made. His plans now call for $600,- 000; so necessarily some change must be made to bring the cost within the limit of $400,000 which was set by the last legislature.

Mr. Morris was one of the twenty-one architects who submitted designs in the recent competition. The successful architect is the son-in-law of Rev.
Dr. Francis Goodwin. He is also known in Hartford through his work, a notable example of which is found in the new building of the Aetna Insurance Company. The restoration of Woodside Seminary, now the home of Major Walter L. Goodwin, is also the work of Mr. Morris. He designed the Wells, Fargo & Co. building in New York and the handsome residence of Clyde Fitch, the playwright, at Greenwich. Before coming to Trinity he attended St. Paul's School at Concord and after leaving college he made a specialty of architecture, being graduated from the Columbia School of Architecture, and also studying in Paris. He is the son of Bishop Benjamin W. Morris of Portland, Ore., and comes from an old Philadelphia family. He is now in business for himself on West Thirty-first street, New York City.

'76—Dr. Beverley Warner, who twelve years ago published his lectures on "English History in Shakespeare's Plays," has done a greater service to his fellow Shakespeare students in his new book, "Famous Introductions to Shakespeare's Plays, by the Notable Editors of the Eighteenth Century." In this handsome volume Dr. Warner has collected the first folio introduction of Heminge and Condall, and the introductory essays to later editions of Shakespeare by Pope, Dr. Johnson, and others. Such a comprehensive summary of the development of the study of and comprehension of Shakespeare is nowhere else accessible in a form so convenient.

TRINITY MEN IN POLICE COURT

Students from Trinity testified yesterday in police court, at the trial of James P. Rodney whom the police hope to convict as the man who looted some of the rooms at college the night of the Junior Promenade.

Rodney is known to the police under the following aliases: James P. Morgan, Frank McWorden, C. M. Walker. Rodney was apprehended March 1, in New York, while opening lockers in the Columbia University gymnasium, and was later turned over to Detective Donnelly of New Haven. At the time of Rodney's arrest, Detectives Butler and Donnelly were working together on the burglary cases at Yale and Trinity colleges. A pawn ticket, found on Rodney after the arrest, connected him with an overcoat stolen from W. A. Cavanaugh, a Trinity student.

Rodney has served time in prison in New Jersey for burglary at Princeton University. This makes four colleges which allege that he has operated illegally, Yale, Columbia, Princeton and Trinity. The police believe that the capture of Rodney places in custody a notorious college dormitory thief.

The course covering four years begins the last week in September and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the State of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standing is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.
In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.
In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.
