TRINITY 18-STEVENS o.

Our Team Proves Superior at Hohoken.

Trinity defeated the Stevens Institute of Technology at Hoboken last Saturday, the score being 18-0. Stevens had the heavier team but our men were more alert and did less fumbling.

Stevens kick off to us started the game. We soon lost the ball and they rushed it to our thirty yard line where Fonda made an unsuccessful attempt to score by a drop kick. The ball changed hands several times and then Trinity rushed it to the half line where Stevens held us for downs. Both sides punted and the ball rolled over the Stevens goal line where Maxon fell on it. Pond kicked the goal. This was the only scoring in the first half.

In the second half Roberts fumbled a punt and Donnelly caught the ball on the bounce and carried it over for the second touchdown. Soon after this Trinity again got possession of the ball through a fumbled punt on Stevens 30-yard line and Maxon carried it over the line for a third touchdown. Just before time was called Stevens blocked a kick on our 40-yard line.

The game was clean throughout and our team showed up in an excellent manner, although the field was poor compared with the Trinity field. About five hundred persons attended the game among whom were many old Trinity men. Our success in this game makes an exceedingly good outlook for the remainder of the season.

FRESHMAN RULES.

The class of 1000 has issued the rules and regulations which must regulate the life of the freshmen for the ensuing The contents of the rules are vear. about the same as usual. The customary greenish tint of the paper has been replaced by a yellowish color, which will certainly be more noticeable than that of former years. As usual there are one or two ludicrous errors in type, the most noticeable of these being the word "Illustrous." This word certainly does not convey to the freshmen the meaning intended by the sophomores.

VALUABLE COLLECTION PRE-SENTED TO NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM.

The Museum of Natural History has been enriched by a collection of beau-tiful butterflies presented to Trinity College by Ambrose Spencer Murray, 3rd, of this year's Freshman class. The collection consists of about four hundred butterflies and moths from all parts of the world, including a complete collection of the British hepidoptera and a large number of Papilionidæ from India and South America.

The most valuable specimen in the collection is probably the Caligo, or owl moth. This moth hails from South America and when reversed, the lower wings exactly resemble the eyes of an owl-hence the name "owl moth." Two other remarkable moths are the Actias from the Island of Ceylon. They are peculiar on account of a great elongation of the lower wings, exactly resembling tails. Another section of the collection consists of a number of the Papilionidæ or swallow tail buterflies, as they are commonly called. These are noted for their insects brilliant coloring. Most of them come India, although South, Amerfrom ica is also well represented. Undoubtedly the most important part of this collection consists of an absolutely complete series of the butterflies found on the British Islands, numbering sixtyseven varieties in all. They form a very interesting group in themselves. Every variety is represented by three specimens, a male, a female and one mounted reversely showing the underside.

Mr. Murray has studied the butterflies for several years, this fine collection being the fruitful result. The collection will be placed in a special case and will be known as the Ambrose Spencer Murray collection of butterflies.

Contributions from the Biological Laboratory of the department of Natural History at Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, U. S. A., under the direction of C. L. Edwards, "Some Phases of the Gastrulation of the Horned Toad," "Phrynosoma Cornutum Harlan," by Charles L. Edwards and Clarence W. Hohn. Reprinted from "The American Journal of Anatomy," Vol. 5, No. 3, pages 331-351, July 25, 1906.

Members of the Botanical Society who presented the Natural History Museum with a collection of Connecticut plants, as also for the St. Louis Exposition, have added two boxes of supplementary sheets. The kindness of these botanists in keeping up and adding to this very valuable collection is especially appreciated by those interested in plant life at Trinity.

W. H. Licht '07 has presented to the Natural History Museum a number of fossils from Lake Cayuga.

PRIZE ESSAYS.

Contest Open to all College Men.

The officers of the Merchant Marine League of Cleveland, Ohio, announce that the date for closing their contests for prizes of $400, $300, $200 and $100, for the four best essays on "How to Build up Our Shipping in the Foreign Trade," limited to students in colleges, universities, technological schools and high schools, originally fixed for November 15, has been postponed until January 5. This action is in deference to suggestions from Harvard, Wesleyan and other universities and from high schools, the claim being that the time for preparation was too short, and also to the exhaustion of the supply of important Congressional documents bearing upon the subject.

This gives contestants six additional weeks, including the holiday recess, in which to prepare and forward their essays to the league. But the essays, in order to receive consideration, must not reach headquarters later than Jan. 5, 1907. Details of the conditions and requirements imposed upon students in connection with the offer of prizes for these essays will be gladly furnished upon request to the Merchant Marine League, Cleveland, Ohio.

DEATH OF THE REV. SAM-UEL ANDREWS.

The Rev. Samuel J. Andrews, D.D., who died in Hartford, October 11th, aged 90 years, was an instructor in the college in 1866 and from 1874 to 1885. He was a graduate of Williams College in the class of 1839.

MATRICULATION.

All non-matriculated students, including all men entering in the several classes, together with those who were not matriculated in 1905, reported in the Natural History Lecture room yesterday morning for matriculation.

THE TRINITY TRIPOD.

The columns of THE TRIPOD are at all times open to Alumni, Undergraduates and others for the free discussion of matters of interest to Trinity men. All communications, or material of any sort for Tuesday's issue must be in the TRI-POD box before to p.m. on Monday; for Friday's issue before to a.m. on Thursday. Subscribers are urged to report promptly any serious irregularity in the receipt of the Tripod. All complaints and business communications should be addressed to the Circulation Manager.

TO ALUMNI. THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

"NOW THEN-TRINITY!" EDITORIAL.

As has been frequently stated in our columns, the "Tripod" was instituted to furnish an opportunity for the open discussion of college topics. Every alumnus and undergraduate is free to send the "Tripod" communications upon any subject in which he may be interested and in which he wishes to interest others. For instance, two years ago the question of daily chapel was thrashed out and the undergraduate body and the faculty were each enabled to see the justice of the other's position.

The "Tripod" would like to encourage a treatment of the "honour system" in the same way. There has been a little discussion of it around college recently, and if those who are in favor of it will respond and give their views to the "Tripod" some good may come from it.

The "Tablet" board held its meeting for the consideration of material for the first regular issue, yesterday morning. The "Tablet" is to appear monthly this year and is to be purely literary in character. This, we believe, is an improvement over the policy of the paper for the last two years, for the "Tripod" is now furnishing the news items with such frequency that the "Tablet's" doing so would be a waste of space and energy. The papers do not now compete in any sense of the word, and both feel that they are equally deserving of the support of the alumni and undergraduates.

NOTES.

A meeting of the 1908 "Ivy" Board was held last evening at 122 Vernon Street.

A meeting of the Sophomore class was held yesterday at 1.20 P. M. in the History room.

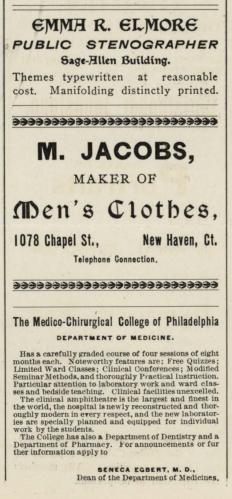

Trinity men of this vicinity are working hard for Dr. Luther for senator. May they be successful.

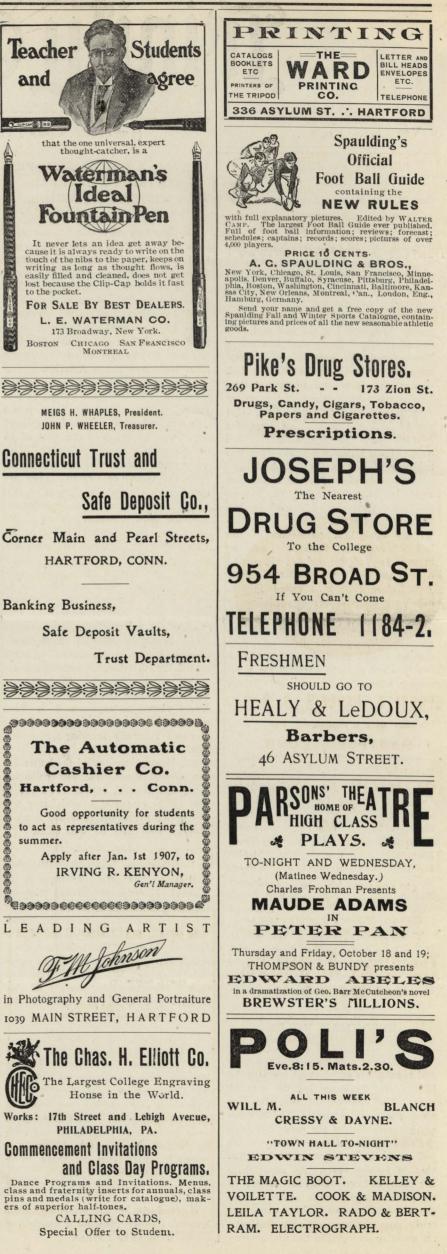

The underclass track meet which was scheduled for yesterday afternoon has been postponed until Monday, October 22nd, owing to the fact that a number of the contestants wished to visit the polls for the state elections.

There will be a meeting of all men interested in the Missionary Society this evening at 7 o'clock in the Latin room. It should be borne in mind that this organization is one of the oldest' of its kind and some of its members have been famous in the mission field. The college can not afford to lose interest in its progress and any man who has any liking for such work, even though he does not intend to go into the ministry or the mission field, should be present.

PROSPECTS OF THE GLEE CLUB.

Mr. Davis of Middletown, the Glee Club instructor with the leader, G. A. Cunningham '07, held trials for the Glee Club this afternoon. There are already about thirty candidates and everything points to a very successful season. Mr. Davis says that the Wesleyan clubs, with whom the Trinity organization will have a joint concert at a later date have been organized and holding rehearsals for two weeks. There is a large proportion of last year's men to work with this year and with several promising candidates from the freshman class, the success of last year's club should be equalled if not surpassed.

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Why should I insure my life? Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support. You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earn-ing power, which your family trands in constant is poordy to lose sumcient equivalent for your earli-ing power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death. Guard your family against dis-aster and yourself against depend-ency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.
