TRINITY 6, SPRINGFIELD TRAINING SCHOOL 6.

Teams Play to a Stand-still in Evenly Matched Game.

In a fine exhibition of the new kind of football methods on Saturday last, Trinity met and tied the Springfield Training School eleven, a team which two weeks previously, Yale had downed by a score of but 12 to 0. A large crowd had gathered before the time set to call the play. The start of the game was delayed for some time owing to the non-appearance of Umpire Weeks of Syracuse, who arrived in Hartford at 2:50 on a belated train. Lane, recently of the University of Pennsylvania, was put in as substitute umpire and did satisfactory work until Mr. Weeks' arrival, when the latter took charge.

Donnelly started the game at 3:30 by kicking off to Carrell, who caught the pigskin on the 40-yard line. Young and Allen made 10 yards on line plunges and Honhart took the ball around the end for 15 yards. He was forced to punt, however, and Pond got the ball on Trinity's 15-yard line. Pond punted after ineffectual attempts to gain by end runs and line-plunging and Young, getting the ball on Trinity's 35-yard line, carried it around the end for 10 yards.

Honhart tried a drop kick on the 35-yard line, but Donnelly caught the ball and carried it 5 yards, where it was lost on a fumble. Springfield made gains on line plunges and got the ball to Trinity's 5-yard line, where Young went around the end and over the line for a touchdown, after 8 minutes of play. Wright kicked an easy goal. Score, Springfield 6, Trinity 0.

In punting, end runs and even line bucking, the honors, though almost even, favored Trinity. For a team lacking greatly in offense, Trinity put up a dashing brilliant game and their fierce onslaught on Springfield's line was the cause of two of the visitors, Dennison and Bailey, retiring in the second half. Kern was put out of the game by his own captain for being twice penalized for holding, and Captain Wright, after a head-on collision with Grove Buck of Trinity, was stunned for a minute and appeared dazed and tottering when he regained his feet. He finished the game, however, with but three minutes to play.

Springfield was penalized three times, losing 45 yards, for holding, and Trinity lost 15 yards, for the same breach of the code. The new rules made the game more open than that of last season, with frequent punting, in which Pond of Trinity excelled, although the forward pass was worked but a few times and netted no perceptible gains.

Clever punting by Pond was a big help to Trinity in tying the score after 7 minutes more to play. Donnelly's kick-off carried the sphere to Springfield's 35-yard line and Honhart got the punt out of bounds. Trinity got the ball on downs and Grove Buck tried an end run but lost the leather on a fumble.

Springfield tried line plunges but to no effect, being forced to punt. Pond got the ball on the 45-yard line and made 5 yards.

Donnelly was sent through the line for a short gain and Pond kicked to Springfield's 5-yard line, Carrell falling on the ball. Springfield punted to center, where Donnelly caught the ball, fumbled it, but made a quick recovery.

Pond again punted to Springfield on her 7-yard line. The visitors made a 10-yard gain through the line and Carrell made a forward pass to Bailey. Henshaw made a clever tackle for Trinity. Pond punted to Springfield's 8-yard line and a Trinity man fell on the ball. Pond made a clever pass to Maxson, who went over the line helped by his mates. Pond made the goal good and the score was 6 to 6. Time was called for the first half after this goal.

Both teams presented the same line-ups in the second half, but Springfield was forced to make three changes, while Trinity continued the same team to the end. Punting and line plunging, with a few end runs, furnished the feature of the half, with Trinity outplaying the training school boys. After the kick-off the ball was caught by Donnelly and worked down to Springfield's 35-yard line, when Kern was penalized for holding and Captain Wright put him out of the game.

With the ball on the 5-yard line, Springfield was forced to punt and Donnelly, who caught the ball, made a gain of 10 yards through the line. Bailey was cut on the head and Crispin took his place. Neither goal was in danger in the last half, most of the play being in the center of the field. Briggs of Springfield was penalized for holding and his team lost 15 yards. Honhart was doing fine work for the visitors and Pond, who was Trinity's star man, lost a 15-yard run around the line when a Trinity man was caught holding on the line.

After Pond punted to Springfield's 35-yard line, the visitors made gains on a delayed pass and line-plunging, and Capt. Wright urged his men to win. Trinity's defense was superb, however, and the game ended with the ball in the center of the field. Springfield made ineffectual attempts to pierce Trinity's light line toward the close of the game, but Captain Dougherty had his men together like a stone wall.

The game was cleanly played and on points Trinity had a shade the better of the Springfield eleven. Honhart did the best work for the visitors and Pond and Donnelly were responsible for most of Trinity's gains. The lineup:—

HON. JOHN BIGELOW '35 FOR HUGHES.

The Famous Writer Fears "National Humiliation" from Hearstism.

John Bigelow, the aged author, a life-long Democrat, has declared his hostility to W. R. Hearst in no uncertain terms in the following letter to Willis Bruce Dowd, Chairman of the Independent Democratic League:

The Squirrels,

Highland Falls on Hudson, N. Y.,

Oct. 24, 1906.

Willis Bruce Dowd, Esq., Chairman of the Independent Democratic League.

Dear Sir:—I have received your favor of the 23d inst. requesting an expression of my views of the relative eligibility of the two candidates for the Governorship of this State.

I remember in the Viri Romani state of my schooldays reading about the Roman Empire being put up at auction by the army and sold to a man who was rich enough and weak enough to be ambitious of being Emperor. I remember also how difficult I found it to realize the degradation to which the Roman people must have descended to have tolerated for a moment such a criminal enormity. I remember also rejoicing that I had been born and lived in a country where I did not suppose a single citizen could be found who would have conceived it possible that the thought of such a National humiliation could ever befall the heart or mind of any American citizen. After this confession it is hardly necessary for me to say that I do not propose to vote for the candidate who professes to have the nomination of the Democratic Party for Governor.

A word now as to the other candidate:

Since I have had a vote I have meant it always to be cast with the Democratic Party. I do not regard the aid I gave in the organization of the Republican Party as an exception—for though fighting for a time under a different banner, it was for popular sovereignty for genuine Democracy never in so much peril as when nearly half of the Democratic Party, failing of success in nationalizing slavery, resorted to the last argument of Kings for the dissolution of the Union and the formation of a slave-holding empire of one of its fragments. I did not see then how it was possible for any genuine Democrat who believed in a republican form of government—by which I mean a government of the people, by the people, for the people—to begrudge his support, or his life if necessary, for the preservation of our Union. Had I acted otherwise I think from my point of view I should have been recreant to the most sacred principle of democratic popular government. I should feel equally recreant to that principle if I did not on election day, if able to get to the polls, cast my vote for C. E. Hughes, although he is politically affiliated with the Republican Party.

During the deliberations of the Constitutional Convention of this State in 1846 I was weak enough to advocate the election of Judges by the people, instead of their being selected, as they had been before, by the Governor if confirmed by the Senate. I long since came to the conclusion that the choice of experts for no branch of the public service should be given to the people any more than that of Attorney Generals or physicians, but should be confided to some person or persons whose position qualified them to make such selections, and who are not too numerous to be made responsible for such selections.

In recent years the Bar Association has devised a system by which they have sought to mitigate, and, as far as possible, cure the evils attributed, justly I think, to the elective judiciary, by appointing a committee of leading members of the bar supposed to be fully acquainted with all who could reasonably indulge aspirations for judicial honors, and from them make such a selection as they should think best qualified for the bench. This has been done for us this Fall by a committee consisting of lawyers of such eminence that to the selections of no one of them would any distinterested layman hesitate to defer his own opinion. The vice of the old system of appointment by Governor and Senate, and the vice of the succeeding system of popular election, was that the choice in both was more or less corrupted by political interests and influences. The nominations that have been made by the committee of which Mr. Choate is Chairman give us a selection probably as entirely free from improper influences of any kind as it is possible to devise, and their example ought to be encouraged by the election of their candidates. I know nothing of the candidate selected by Mr. Hearst and Mr. Murphy, but I shall take counsel of an Italian proverb which says that "When rogues walk in procession the devil carries the cross," and I shall therefore cast all the votes I am entitled to for the candidates nominated by the Choate Committee.

I believe I have here given expression to all my views about which you are curious. I presume that a large majority of our citizens share them. I should pity them if I thought they did not. Yours, very respectfully, (Signed) JOHN BIGELOW.

Mr. Bigelow is nearly 89 years old. He was Minister to France forty years ago.—N. Y. Times, Oct. 26.

Dr. Ferguson, until this year our professor of history, now rector of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., spent Saturday and Sunday at the college. Everyone was glad to see him back again.

TO ALUMNI.

THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

Some time ago the Tripod spoke of having the honor system at college and asked to have those who were in favor of it to state their opinions in the matter. Several men have spoken to us on the subject but none have as yet sent communications. Now, there can be no doubt that such a system would be a beneficial thing for the college. Of course, there are many difficulties in the way and the time may not be ripe for the change, but at least the subject ought to be discussed.

COLLEGE MEETING.

Financial Situation of Athletic Association Discussed.

A college meeting was held yesterday morning at 9:15 in Alumni Hall. An unusually large number were present. Chamberlin '07, reminded the men that only 90 out of the necessary 125 members of the Athletic Association had paid their subscriptions. Bryant '07, urged a hearty support of the team at the Haverford game. Myers '07, the senior cheer leader, said that everybody ought to go to the game and cheer and sing for all they are worth.

'90—Col. W. E. A. Bulkeley was injured, it is not yet known how seriously, in an automobile accident on the evening of Sunday, the 28th, in returning from Farmington.

'91—On October 12th, a daughter was born to Dr. and Mrs. Victor C. Pederesen of New York City.

ATHLETIC ADVISORY MEETING.

A meeting of the Athletic Advisory Committee was held on Friday last in the treasurer's office. It was found that 90 out of the necessary 125 memberships in the association had been bought. The remaining 30 or 40 men who have promised to join must pay their subscriptions as soon as possible if we are to have athletics next spring.

The pictures of the 1908 basketball, football and tennis teams were taken yesterday morning in front of Northam Towers. The pictures of the baseball and track teams will be taken next Monday at the same time.

'63—Bishop William Crosswell Doane of Albany is leading a clean-politics movement in that city, similar to that which Rev. Prof. Dr. McCook '63, has so ably pushed in this city. A dispatch from Albany says that as high as $105 has been known to be paid for a vote there, and the average sale is conducted on a basic valuation of from $5 to $15. When men like Doane and McCook take hold of a reform of that sort, it means a great deal.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company. In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends. In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address the Company, or any of its agents.
