WEST POINT BARELY DEFEATS TRINITY.

West Point defeated Trinity at hockey Saturday by the close score of 1 to 0. The game was played at West Point and the ice was in miserable condition owing to the rain. From the first it looked like a Trinity victory, as every one of our men was playing the game splendidly. Trinity secured the puck on the face-off, and thereafter throughout the entire first half West Point was on the defensive and their goal was kept busy, while Cunningham had but two stops the whole half.

The second half proved to be a little closer, although the advantage was still in favor of Trinity. The winning goal was made in the last five minutes of play by Gordon, whose shot, although high, hitting Cunningham's shoulder, was judged to be a goal. One of our shots was so close that it hit one of the iron pipes, which were serving as goal posts, but unfortunately caromed the wrong way. The work of Roberts and Capt. Morris for Trinity was excellent, while Sumner, the goal-tender, and Gordon did the best work for the Army. The line-up was as follows:

West Point.	Position.	Trinity.
Sumner,	goal	Cunningham
Rogers,	point	Stevens
Park (capt.),	cover point	Morrow
Rumbough,	r. wing	Potter
Gordon,	l. wing	Larned
Hayes,	rover	Roberts
Parker,	center	Morris

Halves, 15 minutes each; referee, Wilson; timers, Randall and Gage, Trinity ex-'08; goal, Gordon.

FRESHMEN HAVE STAR TEAM.

1910, 50; H. P. H. S., 13.

The Freshman basketball team met the team of the Hartford High School, Friday, in the gymnasium and defeated them by the overwhelming score of 50 to 13. At no time during the game did Hartford show itself equal to the freshman quintet. The Hartford men gave evidence of a great lack of team work while the freshmen excelled in this point. Smith, the little forward, was easily the star of the game with Waldron as a close second. For Hartford, Turner showed up the best, being the main support of his team in the second half.

The line-up was as follows:

Trinity '10.	Hartford High.
Fien,	r. f. Brockway
Webster,	Pillion
Smith,	l. f. Edmonds
	Brockway
Cook,	c. Sherman
Steel-McElroy,	r. g. Pillion-Turner
Waldron,	l. g. Robbin

Field goals, Waldron 7, Smith 6, Cook 3, Fien 3, Webster 3, McElroy 2, Steel 1, Edmonds 1, Turner 1, Sherman 2, Pillion 1. Foul goals, Sherman 2, Edmonds; score, Trinity '10, 50, H. P. H. S. 13.

THE DRAMA IN AMERICA.

Lecture by Mr. E. S. Van Zile '84.

Friday morning, at quarter before eleven, Mr. Edward S. Van Zile, Trinity '84, lectured on "The Drama in America," before the English 6 class. The lecture was open to everyone and the room was well filled with people other than those taking the course. Mr. Van Zile is a member of the Players' club of New York, and the author of many stories, and is well qualified to speak on his subject, and his address was listened to with interest.

He briefly dismissed the use of the drama in England and took up his subject beginning with the Hallam players who came to America in 1752. They played the "Merchant of Venice" in an old shed in Williamsburg, Va., and were enthusiastically received by the people. Later the Hallams went to Annapolis, then to New York and before the Revolution theatres were established in all the principal cities of the country. In Boston the British, during the siege, amused themselves giving plays, and General Burgoyne was no mean playwright himself.

Among the men of the early 19th century Mr. Van Zile mentioned Dunlap as the man who might be called the father of the American Drama, for although not a great writer, he did more to advance the drama than any other man. In conclusion he said that three-quarters of a century ago the majority of dramatists were college men, but that since then they had dropped out, but now many of the great playwrights are college graduates and the future promises a great outlook for them in this profession. Mr. Van Zile kindly consented to continue his lecture at another date when the modern dramatists will be considered.

NOTES.

Dr. Osler, the American professor at Oxford, says that the Cecil Rhodes scholarship students do not come up to as high a standard of work in the classical department as do the English, the general inference being that the classical languages are given much more attention in the English schools than in the American.

The University of Pennsylvania recently received an endowment of $100,000 for its chair of chemistry.

President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, said recently that a college or university to do its greatest good must be free from the fear of the mob and from the influence of the millionaire.

Wilbert A. Smith '10, has been removed to the Hartford Hospital with a case of appendicitis. His parents arrived yesterday, but he is not to be operated upon. By the latest report he was doing nicely and on the road to a rapid recovery.

THE DUTY OF A SENATOR.

(From the "Hartford Times," Jan. 12.)

Many of the republican papers do justice to Senator Luther's preference for fair play in appointing the senate committees, but some hardly conceal their disgust, while hastening to explain that he will get over his fantastic notions. Conspicuous among these is the New London Day, which has very close relations with the administration and therefore with one wing at least of the "practical" politicians of the republican party. It assumes that his course was "actuated by what the senator believed to be broad-minded ideals" and is sure that when he "becomes better acquainted with the conditions as they are" he may be expected to be found on the side of the majority "and certain of the righteousness of his stand." It adds:

"Senator Luther is new to his position and quite misunderstood the situation, thinking perhaps that the business of the senate moves along lines common at meetings of college boards of government. He will soon recognize that to show 'utmost respect and esteem' for the republicans in the senate that it is necessary to vote with the majority as against a minority constantly alert for a chance to make impress on the public mind with 'grand stand' plays."

This particular senator showed he may have understood more of the situation than our esteemed contemporary imagines. He may even feel that while it is his duty to follow the general policy of the party which elected him that duty carries no obligation to further the schemes of any lobby or combination when such schemes are against justice or are in themselves dishonest—a contingency which may arrive before the session is over. It is true that his experience of practical politics is small, but he has learned something of the kind of traffic it induces, and it is safe to assume that he enters the senate with his eyes open to more than some of his colleagues suppose. He may already be able to distinguish the danger signal in this further remark of the Day:

"The democratic minority in the state senate staged their play, 'Alarms and More Alarms,' in realistic setting Wednesday. It caught the applause of the galleries—and so may be regarded as a success with the proletariat."

This ignoring of a just ground of complaint, and this contempt of those outside the ruling circle, is displayed almost unconsciously, and is the better worth notice for that reason. If that is to be the temper of the senate majority there will be more than one occasion when a man like Senator Luther will find himself unable to approve its course.

In short it is to be remembered that President Luther was one of the group mentioned by a former professor of Trinity when he said: "The faculty are not so green as they look."

The hours for the Senior Assembly have been changed from 8:30 until 1, to 5:30 until 10:00.

TRINITY GATHERING IN NEW YORK.

The first of a series of informal dinners for Trinity men was held on the evening of January 10th, at Brown's Chop House, Broadway, near 40th Street, New York City, and was a great success. No special preparations were made, but a private room provided in which the men could order dinner to suit their individual tastes. There was an abundance of the old songs and those present decided to make similar gatherings a fixture for the first Monday in each month at seven o'clock. The place will be the same until further notice. Dr. E. O. Flagg '48, read a Trinity song of the proper spirit and much merit. Some of the men were obliged to leave immediately after dinner, but fifteen or more spent the evening talking over old days, and had a good time. There were present: Dr. E. O. Flagg '48, William G. Davies '60, A. M. Langford '97, G. E. Cogswell '97, E. C. Becroft '97, E. W. Robinson '96, De Forest Hicks '96, P. J. McCook '95, H. Scudder '91, F. R. Hoisington '91, W. Festus Morgan '88, J. J. Boller '06, F. C. Hinkel '06, F. H. Coggeshall ex-'07, H. C. Owen '99, J. B. Bunn '99, Rev. A. D. Vilbert '99, Rev. R. M. Wilcox '99, J. H. Lecour, Jr., '98, W. McA. Johnson '98, Lieut. P. B. Hall, D. S. O., British Army.

The committee of the New York Alumni Association in charge of the informal arrangements were, F. R. Hoisington, F. C. Hinkel, and one other.

COLLEGE SMOKER THIS EVENING.

The second of the fraternity college smokers will be held at the Lodge of the I. K. A., 70 Vernon street, this evening. The gathering is to be quite informal and all undergraduates are urged to attend.

NOTES.

There will be an important meeting of the "Tripod" board at 3:45 on Wednesday afternoon. All members and reporters are expected.

The English House of Commons has recently passed an amendment to its Education Bill which requires that no school in which daily religious instruction is not given shall be recognized as a public elementary school.

The circulation department has recently received several complaints, on the part of subscribers, stating that the paper has failed to arrive regularly. We are doing all in our power to correct this evil and we should like to be notified immediately of any further trouble.

The college body will learn with deep regret that Herbert M. Geer '08, has found it necessary to leave college.

As there has been a fire in the printing office of the "Tripod" there may be a delay in the appearance of this number.

The Trinity Tripod

TO ALUMNI.

THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

We welcome the appearance of the second number of the "Tablet." It is an exceptionally good number and its quality amply makes up for its lateness. The board is, certainly to be complimented on the improvements and innovations they have made this year. Trinity now most assuredly has a literary paper to be proud of and we hope that it will continue to keep its present high standard not only for the rest of this year, but indefinitely.

Elsewhere there is printed an account of a gathering of Trinity men in New York. Such things are splendid things for the college. They are in accordance with the old adage, "United we stand, divided we fall." There can be no doubt that the more united the alumni are the more good they will do for their Alma Mater, or that the best way to keep united is to get together as often as possible. We should like to urge that the other alumni associations follow the example of the New York men.

Many times has the lack of college spirit been a subject of editorials in this paper and it is not our purpose now to lament upon recent illustrations of this common fault among the present undergraduates. We are going to sound a word of warning beforehand so that after events happen, we shall not have to say, "it was not a success because not enough undergraduates were there to pay expenses." We refer to the Senior Assembly which is to be held in Alumni Hall, Friday night. This ought to be an event of the season and meet with full support of the whole undergraduate body. It is not a scheme for obtaining money with very little to give in return. Every arrangement is being carried out with the end in view of making everyone have a splendid time, and it is in the power of the undergraduates to make it an unqualified success.

COMMUNICATION.

The "Trinity Tripod,"

GENTLEMEN:—At a meeting of the Graduate Advisory Committee held December 12, 1906, the following vote was passed:

WHEREAS, The Graduate Advisory Committee of the Trinity College Athletic Association, having had for some time under careful consideration the possibility on account of the financial status of the association to pay for the services of a Football Coach for the season of 1907 in view of the determination of the committee to keep out of debt, and

WHEREAS, The committee having finally voted to re-engage Mr. J. C. Landefeld, who so successfully and skillfully coached the football team during the season of 1906, be it

RESOLVED, That this action of the committee be printed in the "Trinity Tripod" in order that the undergraduate body may know that the above action was taken relying on them for the financial support necessary to meet the expenses of the football season of 1907, and their appreciation of the fact that it is doubtful if as good a man could be secured for the funds procurable.

If possible we would like to have this appear in the next number of the "Tripod," so as to place, as soon as possible, the matter before the student body for their serious consideration.

Very sincerely yours,

EDGAR F. WATERMAN,
Graduate Treasurer.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company. In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends. In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address the Company, or any of its agents.

The course covering four years begins the last week in September and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the State of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standing is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.
