VOL. III. No. 35.

HARTFORD, CONN., MARCH 5, 1907.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

COMMUNICATION FROM MR. JOHNSON '98.

New York, Mar. 1, 1907.

To the Editor of the "Tripod,"—

The recent placing "on probation" of a number of students is causing, undoubtedly, much unfavorable comment among the alumni. We all want the college to graduate "gentlemen and scholars," and all desire that phrase to constitute the trade-mark of President Luther's educational factory.

Unfortunately, there are always those in college whose sole delight in Logic is the following syllogism:—"No gentleman is a scholar, I am a gentleman; Therefore I am not a scholar." And granting the all-sweeping premise, he does not want to be, hope to be, or try to be anything but that sort of an attendant on college exercises for whom colleges were never planned.

No alumnus desires that this complacent view of an academic standard will prevail. On the other hand we do not want too high a standard that will drive away all the happy youths from Trinity and leave us only literary recluses or scientific tinkers. We do not want a college of "sporty kids," but we do think that a good deal of innocent pleasure is obtained at Heublein's. Prof. Nernst, now of the University of Berlin, but formerly of the University of Göttingen, once told me that I learned as much physical chemistry at the "Café National" as I did at his lectures.

We want our students to be enthusiastic at their studies and not driven to them like galley slaves. My standard of excellence in a teacher is ability to impart enthusiasm and a desire for learning to his students.

But to attain this end an ideal of scholastic perfection for all is not to be required. Kipling puts it well, when he says, "single men in barracks do not grow into plaster-saints."

However, if the college is designed to produce perambulating spectacled freaks, let us be told it when urgent appeals are made for the "root of all material good as well as evil."

As far as my observation goes the "low stand" man with a goodly amount of ferruginous hæmoglobin in his veins and a vigorous flow of "Anglo-Saxon" usually "bonies up" better than the etiolated honor-man with his sesquipedalian vocabulary. For my part the most valuable training I received at college was on the football field.

I suppose I will shock some when I say that I believe a few "snap" or "culture" courses are a good thing for a college.

Because of the perverseness of youth, the fact that they are not forced to study makes them want to study.

The more interclass and interfraternity contests the better. Trinity ought to reach the condition of the English colleges where each student takes some athletic devotion for the joy of it each afternoon.

Of course we are all proud of Trinity, proud of the record of her alumni, proud of her recent growth, proud of her president, at one time a preacher and scientist, a teacher of youth, and as well an engineer. We alumni wish to see about 250 young men on the hill, each developing the best in him, each being trained for the world of men, not the world of books, to fight the battles of democracy.

For this reason, most of us assume that in the formula "disce, doce aut discede" the second word is as important as the first.

Woolsey McA. Johnson '98.

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT MELLEN.

President Charles S. Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company spoke in Alumni Hall, Thursday night, before many students and Hartford town people on the subject, "Government Regulation of Railroad Rates."

Mr. Mellen spoke of the advantages of some sort of a tribunal to redress the wrongs of a corporation and said he favored one, having its seat at Washington, where local prejudice could not have any influence. He believes that from publicity great good could have resulted. The recent act, however, passed in Congress did not have for its object the interests of the people wronged, but was revengeful and punitive in its nature.

Attention was called to the fallacy in railroad statistics, showing how comparisons of railroads in widely separated sections of the country may result in serious error. Mr. Mellen discussed the comparison between the New York, New Haven and Hartford and the Great Northern Railway companies as regards rates, when the conditions under which each operate are dissimilar.

In times of prosperity there is greater discontent, though less suffering, than in times of adversity. The spirit of envy that others have prospered in great measure produces a condition in men's minds that leads them to become easily the dupes of demagogues.

That the present way of government regulation is wrong he aimed to prove by the fact that the mail carrying rates are so inequitable.

President Mellen closed by urging the people to exercise charity, and, before forming their opinion, to learn the other side.

WHITLOCK ORATIONS THURSDAY EVENING.

The Whitlock Prize contest will be held on Thursday evening, March 7th, at 8 o'clock in Alumni Hall. The contestants are: Corbett '08, Taylor '08 and Wright '10, these three being the winners of the Alumni English Composition prizes. The Glee Club will be present and will furnish several selections during the evening. The judges will be the Rev. Isbon T. Beckwith Ph.D., D.D., Mr. Henry S. Pancoast, Mr. George W. Ellis, Trinity '94.

TRINITY 44, CONN. "AGGIES" 29.

In a rough-house game of the highest order, Trinity defeated the Connecticut Agricultural College team at Storrs on Saturday, March 2d. The floor was opportunity for passing or signal work.

The first half started with fast work Captain Donnelly, realizing this, made no attempt to run his team in a scientific manner.

The first half started with fast work by the Aggies, they having scored several times before our team was able to find the basket, but soon the Trinity men got together and dropped the ball in with accuracy. There was a great deal of unnecessary roughness on both sides and many fouls were called. The second half was a repetition of the first and the excitement was great throughout. For the "Aggies", Vance excelled; for Trinity, Captain Donnelly and Claussen.

The line-up was as follows:—

Trinity		Conn. "Aggies"
Pond	rg	Bothfield
Claussen	lg	Miller (c)
Donnelly (c)	c	Conzelman
Olmsted	lf	Watrous
Cook	rf	Vance

Time, twenty minute halves. Goals from floor, Claussen 7, Donnelly 6, Cook 4, Olmsted 2, Pond 1, Vance 3, Watrous 2, Miller 2, Bothfield 1. Goals from fouls, Pond 4, Vance 3. Referee, Wernett. Umpire, MacGuyer.

MR. SIDNEY A. REEVE WILL BE NEXT LECTURER.

Mr. Sidney A. Reeve, Lecturer on Steam-Engineering at Harvard, will lecture in Alumni Hall, on the evening of March 12th, on "The Present Tendency Towards Socialism." Mr. Reeve has recently published a strikingly original work entitled "The Cost of Competition" and may be expected to deliver an address of unusual interest.

NOTES.

The government is to allow the post offices to have baseball nines this spring and has in some cases appointed professional coaches.

Games for the New England Lawn Tennis championship have been arranged for June 11th, on the courts of the Hartford Golf Club.

Williams beat Wesleyan 29 to 11 in basketball Saturday afternoon at Middletown. As our score with Williams was 22 to 21 in favor of Williams we may hope for the best when we meet Wesleyan.

There will be a meeting of the "Tripod" Board this evening at 7:15. The "Tablet" Board will hold a meeting at the same time.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN TRINITY AND WESLEYAN.

Hartford, Conn.,
Feb. 25, 1907.

A conference between the Trinity College Graduate Advisory Committee and the Wesleyan University Athletic Council, held at the Hartford Club on the afternoon of the above date, resulted in the following

AGREEMENT

To govern athletic relations between Trinity and Wesleyan.

1 Athletic relations between the two colleges are to be established at once, it being left to the undergraduate managers to arrange mutually convenient dates for contests.

2 The authorities of each college are to enforce scholarship requirements, as applied to members of athletic teams, in accordance with their respective rules.

3 In dual contests between Trinity and Wesleyan the following rule shall apply in the selection of teams:—

No student who has ever competed in any intercollegiate contest while a member of any other college or university shall be eligible to represent his college on any team until he has been in attendance at that college as a registered student for a full college year.

4 Any other regulations as to eligibility are to be left to the authorities ferred to the athletic authorities of the other.

5 In the event of any misunderstanding or friction arising, the questions involved are to be promptly referred to the athletic authorities of the two colleges for adjustment.

Trinity College Graduate Advisory Committee,
(Signed) E. Kent Hubbard, Jr., Chairman

Wesleyan University Athletic Council.
(Signed) Seward V. Coffin, President.

NOTES.

Candidates for the various class basketball teams will practice in the gymnasium at once, as the interclass games will be played in the near future.

Wesleyan have had their annual underclass "scrap." The event took place on Washington's Birthday and compares with our St. Patrick's Day affair. This year the Sophomores won.

The Rev. Dr. John Watson, of England, better known as "Ian Maclaren," author of "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush" and numerous other Scotch stories, was a guest of honor at a recent banquet of the alumni of Haverford College. He said that he had great respect for the American college bred man as represented by the Haverfordians.

Haverford celebrates her 75th anniversary in 1908.

TO ALUMNI.

THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

Carrying out the same vein of thought which is well dealt with in the communication which we print in this issue we would like to say a few words. There can be no doubt that it is possible for a college to have too large a percentage of "grinds," not that Trinity can as yet be criticized in that respect. However, let us try to steer a middle course. It is strange, but none the less true, that a majority of the valedictorians are never heard of after leaving college. College training more than college education is the real thing of value which Trinity men draw from their Alma Mater. Can we think for a moment that the reason why Trinity men are so prominent is that they know more Greek, Latin or Mathematics than the graduates of other colleges? No, it is because we are a small college with big ambitions. We carry on all the activities of much larger institutions. We do more work in proportion to our size. There is more opportunity for each man to get some valuable experience during his course than there is in larger places or in colleges where there are not so many undergraduate activities.

In reference to Mr. Johnson's communication, we believe that he is very well qualified to speak, because in college he was very prominent in all activities and at the same time made Phi Beta Kappa.

The 1908 "Ivy" board informs us that they are having great difficulty in securing enough advertisements to make any pretense of meeting expenses. Now that is not any reflection on the ability of the board. The undergraduates as a whole are responsible. Business men in Hartford are beginning to think that advertising out at college does not pay. That is because the undergraduates have not been appreciative. They have not taken any pains to go to the tradesman who supports our publications rather than the one who refuses to do so. Now, if we value our advantages and pleasures derived from these publications, we have got to patronize the advertisers.

The recent lecture in Alumni Hall by President Mellen suggests a much worn subject. During the last few years the Faculty Committee on Lectures have obtained the services of many valuable speakers. In most cases the undergraduates were not nearly as appreciative of their opportunities as were the town people to whom invitations have been extended. We don't wish to advise the students to attend these lectures as one would take some bad tasting medicine just because they are good for one. Every one of the lectures has been exceedingly interesting as well as instructive. When the next opportunity comes let all of the undergraduates be more appreciative of what the faculty are giving us, and at the same time give ourselves a very pleasant and beneficial evening.

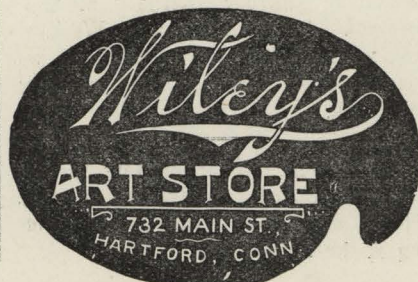

NOTES.

President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton, at a recent alumni banquet at which Mayor Henney was present, announced that Princeton was about to receive the largest gift of her history. This gift, he said, would enable Princeton to become the best equipped university in the world.

'01—An item recently published in this department regarding an incident of the Philadelphia election, in which James Albert Wales '01, figured, was not entirely correct. It seems that Mr. Wales had incurred the antagonism of several of the election officers and of the Republican organization leader on his election division, because he had had them indicted for election frauds and conspiracy and had carried the division against them for the city (Reform)
party. When, at the February election, they started to introduce illegal methods,
his protests were met by an arrest on the technical charge of "obstructing the election." Mr. Wales was quickly released, and swore out warrant for the organization leader, landing him in jail that afternoon. Since its inception, Mr.
Wales has been actively identified with the reform movement, is a member of the City Club, and was elected a school director a year ago.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

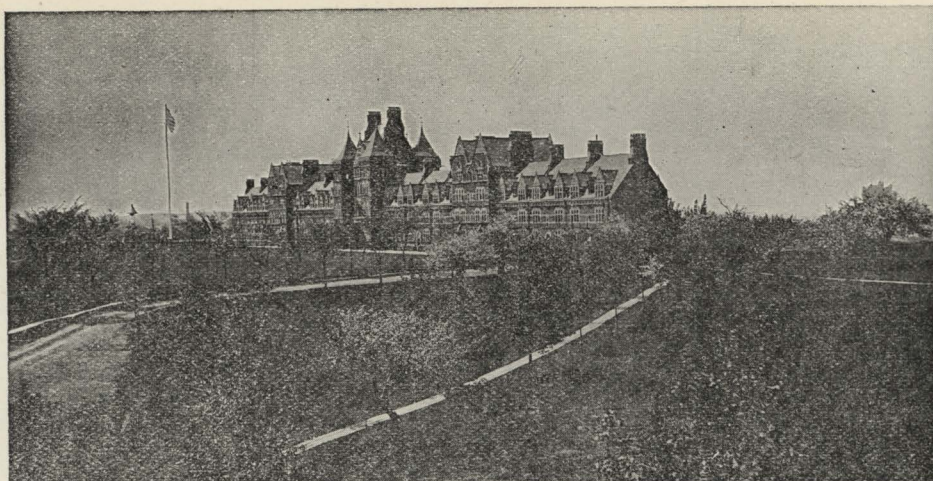

In a purely Mutual Company. In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends. In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address the Company, or any of its agents.
