WILLIAMS 5, TRINITY 0.

Trinity Loses in the Sixth Game.

In the sixth game of the season our baseball team has been vanquished. Wednesday's game was held at Williamstown, Trinity being shut out.

Xanders, Potter and Smith were the only men to reach first on hits, though Gildersleeve went to first on four balls. Xanders got to first on fielder's choice, reached on an error, but succeeding batters failed to bring him in.

Williams played a good game, Ford doing the pitching. They made one run in the third inning by Wadsworth starting off on four balls; by sacrifices he was sent home. The seventh inning netted two runs for Williams as did the eighth inning. These runs were made by Wadsworth, second base, and Warren, centerfield, making two.

Trinity tried hard but was unable to make any headway against superior playing.

PROF. BECKWITH AND REV. E. P. NEWTON TRAVELING ABROAD TOGETHER.

Rev. Isbon T. Beckwith, Yale '67, who formerly was professor of Greek at Trinity College and who Saturday was elected by the trustees, Professor of Biblical Literature, left Friday with Rev. E. P. Newton '81, for a trip abroad. They will spend the summer on the continent and will travel especially through France, Italy, and Germany. Prof. Beckwith plans to return to Hartford in time to take up his new duties at the college.

BASKETBALL CAPTAIN.

The members of the basketball team met recently and unanimously elected Edwin J. Donnelly '08 of Brooklyn, N. Y., captain for next year's team. Donnelly has played on the team three years at forward and center and was captain of this year's team, so will have the confidence of his men and will be able to turn out a good team.

GAME WITH UNION TO-MORROW.

The 'varsity baseball team left this afternoon for Union, where it will play a game to-morrow afternoon. The Union men have very generously volunteered to entertain our team over night and to-morrow morning. Our men left in good spirits and seem to feel confident of bringing back with them the news of the first victory of the season for Trinity. May their hopes be realized.

DR. EDWARDS WILL LECTURE ON "DEPTHS OF THE SEA."

Professor Edwards will deliver a lecture on the "Depths of the Sea" on Monday evening, May 6th, at eight o'clock in Alumni Hall. The lecture will be fully illustrated by lantern slides. It is not necessary to say how great a reputation Dr. Edwards has won on the subject of the deep sea, and equally unnecessary to add that the lecture will be exceedingly interesting.

FOOTBALL TEAM TO TRAIN AT WESTBROOK NEXT FALL.

Support Needed From Alumni.

Mr. C. L. Trumbull '08, manager of the football team, has gone to Westbrook, Conn., to arrange terms for two weeks' training early next fall. Westbrook is on the Sound a few miles from Saybrook, and will prove an excellent training place. This will be the first time that Trinity has ever sent its team to the seashore to train, although it has been the practice of most other colleges for a number of years.

The prospective members of the team have agreed to pay $5.00 per week for board, but in order to completely finance this enterprise we must have contributions from the alumni. It will be impossible to use the gate receipts from the games, as they do not come in until much later, and it would be difficult to figure upon them with any accuracy. Hence it depends upon the alumni whether we are to carry out this project for next fall's football team. All contributions intended for this fund should be so marked and sent to C. L. Trumbull, manager, or E. F. Waterman, graduate treasurer.

A fuller prospectus will be published in the next issue of the Tripod.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET TO-MORROW.

The Interclass Track Meet will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Judging by appearances the meet will be very interesting and characterized by a great deal of friendly rivalry. No admission will be charged.

PROF. R. J. HAM TO TAKE CHAIR OF ROMANCE LANGUAGES.

As was printed in our last issue, Professor Ham was elected Saturday to take the chair of Romance Languages. He is a graduate of Harvard of the class of 1896, and has taught since 1901 in Bowdoin College, winning a wide reputation by his French and German grammars.

PROFESSOR ROSCOE J. HAM.

He has always been highly respected by the students of Bowdoin and has been very popular with them. He is athletic and takes a keen interest in student activities. He will certainly be most welcome at Trinity.

THE SEX QUESTION.

Interesting Facts Presented by Mr. Goodale '03.

The following article was sent to us by Mr. H. D. Goodale who is pursuing graduate studies in Biology at Columbia. He has won there the University Fellowship in Zoology, and is in every way reflecting great credit upon his more preliminary training received here at Trinity.

Mr. Goodale is much interested in the Floating Laboratory and we sincerely hope that he may be able to impart some of his interest and enthusiasm to other of the graduates.

For centuries the nature of sex has attracted man's attention. Why are there males and females and what determines that an individual shall be of one sex and not the other? Blumbach, more than a hundred years ago, showed that in his time, 262 theories of sex were known. Since then, the number has largely increased. We know that fecundation consists in the union of a single male unit or element with a single female unit. These units are special kinds of cells. Cells are the elements of which the body is composed. Some of these cells become modified as reproductive bodies. They are then called germ cells. Those of the male are known as spermatozoa, and those of the female are called ova or eggs. It is also known that there is in each cell a particular structure, the nucleus, whose substance in some stages forms a certain number of bodies called chromosomes. The number of these bodies is always constant for any one species. E. q. Man has 16, the squash bug 22, etc. But in the egg or spermatozoon, as the case may be, there is only one half the number characteristic of the body cells. By union of the spermatozoon and egg in fecundation, the number normal to the body cells is restored to the egg which is now able to develop into an adult.

Recently E. B. Wilson made the astonishing discovery, that in certain species of bugs, the male has 21 chromosomes in its body cells, the female 22. The number then in the egg is 11, correspondingly  $21 \div 2 = 10\frac{1}{2}$ , but since halves do not occur, we find that there are 2 kinds of spermatozoa, one has 11 chromosomes and one has 10. Now, when a spermatozoon with 11 chromosomes joins an egg which has 11 we have 22 and the resulting individual is a female, but when a spermatozoon with only 10 chromosomes unites with an egg we get 21 and a male results.

A meaningless jargon of names and figures you say. Yes, perhaps to the uninitiated, but we know how sex is determined in one form. We don't know what happens in other forms. Many different kinds of animals must be studied, the more the better. The form which holds the key to the next iron gate in the wall which now bars our progress may inhabit countries where it could be collected and studied by some one on a trip of the Floating Laboratory.

TO ALUMNI.

THE TRIPOD is published for the Alumni even more than for the Undergraduates. With this in mind we are striving to produce a paper which shall be interesting and necessary to Graduates, and also to reach as large a number as possible. We are very largely dependent on the Alumni both for our moral and financial support. If you are not already a subscriber will you kindly give this matter your attention?

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

We should like to compliment Mr. E. K. Roberts '09, on his good hearty Trinity spirit. Mr. Roberts has voluntarily, with no more incentive than just his love for Trinity, taken upon himself to raise money to assist the athletic association. He is obtaining it from outside sources and it is easy to see how difficult an undertaking he is engaged in. We most heartily wish him success. If there were more men in college with Mr. Roberts' unselfish spirit the college activities would be much more successful.

For the last few issues, in particular, the Tripod has received communications from members of the student body in regard to questions of interest to Trinity. We are more than glad to print them. It was for the purpose of giving Trinity men an opportunity to discuss vital questions that the Tripod was founded. We should also like to encourage any man who wants to improve things or suggest anything to the college body to use our columns as a medium. We reach more of the undergraduates than hardly ever assemble at any college meeting (though more than half of these men have forgotten to pay for their subscriptions) and altogether we believe that we offer a satisfactory method for influencing college opinion should anyone desire to do so.

The baseball team has not yet proved itself worthy of the support which it has received, feeble as that support has been. Not a game has been won, and some of the games played should have been the easiest victories of the season. Captain Badgely knows his business and we all feel confident that in the end he will turn out a good team, but there does not seem to be much response to his efforts as yet. The trouble seems to rest with the individual members of the team. There seems to be a lack of spirit, which is partly due probably to our non-success. We have been defeated so often that the men have become used to failure and half unconsciously have come to expect it. Trinity men are fighters, and they can sustain any amount of punishment and still be just as ready and just as confident at the next game. Our present team has not yet proved themselves Trinity men yet. Let them go into the next game with the true Trinity spirit, and they will win—they could not help it.

COMMUNICATION.

Apropos of a recent communication in the columns of the Tripod, I should like to suggest for the consideration of the Athletic Association a plan which is pursued by most other colleges of standing. Why not publish in the college paper frequent financial reports of the managers of the various teams? The reasons for such a proceeding are manifold. They would awaken the healthy interest of the undergraduates in the expenses of the teams, and bring home the necessity of coming up promptly in the matter of A. A. dues. As was shown in the recent crisis when fellows understand a situation in all its details, their support is not long lacking. We are urged by the officers of the association to constitute ourselves individual managers, not in a spirit of meddling, but of genuine and hearty enthusiasm. But until the managers see fit to keep the rest of the undergraduates in close touch with the financial condition, we shall be a long way from accomplishing our ends.

The musical clubs gave a concert at Glastonbury, Conn., on Tuesday evening, April 30th. Despite the fact that several of the members could not accompany the clubs, the concert was well rendered and apparently much enjoyed by the good sized audience which filled the church. A feature of the concert was the singing of "Johnny Smoker" by both clubs, in a very humorous manner. Mr. Chandler's solo was very well received and Mr. Harmon sang in his usual pleasing style. After the concert a reception was held in the church parlors, where refreshments were served. Altogether the trip was very pleasant and all the club report a good time. The program was as follows:—

1. 'Neath the Elms

2. Frost King

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.
In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.
In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.
