AMHERST-TRINITY GAME A TIE.

Exciting Contest on Amherst Field.

Amherst and Trinity played each other to a standstill at Amherst last Saturday, in a close and very interesting game. The result is very gratifying to all Trinity supporters and especially so in view of the fact that Amherst was clearly outplayed for a large majority of the game and that Trinity actually scored another touchdown late in the second half, which would have won the game, had it not been disallowed by the referee and the play called back.

A large crowd viewed the game, and when things looked black instead of the customary purple to Amherst, the cheering was constant, and when an Amherst stand really cheers it is worth going to a game merely to listen to it. The weather was a little too sultry for the best sort of a game, and the wind was an important factor a number of times in the kicking.

Amherst opened the game by kicking off to Maxson, who gained ten yards on the run back. Xanders skirted left end for eight yards, but Trinity was unable to gain first down, and Maxson punted. Amherst gained steadily through the line for forty yards, making first down only by inches each time however, but lost the ball on the twenty-yard line on a forward pass. Maxson immediately punted along the side line, this being the most advantageous move for Trinity so early in the game, as the wind was with them, and Amherst was wearing out her men fast in endeavoring to gain steadily, as her only successful method of advancing the ball was by hitting the line time after time, the backs being unable to make any distance around the end or by "new football."

Amherst came back again steadily, making first down only with the greatest effort each time, but the Purple and the White was not to be denied this time and finally on third down put the ball over by a matter of an inch or two, Smith being shoved through left guard for the final play; Madden kicked the goal from a difficult angle.

This effort exhausted Amherst completely, and from then on it was Trinity's day, as their opponents had possession of the ball in Trinity's territory but once after this. As the touchdown took eleven minutes to make, it speaks well for the condition of the Trinity team that thereafter they outplayed Amherst completely although outweighed over ten pounds to the man, and this without the use of a single substitute.

Xanders kicked off over the goal line, the ball going over the running track, one of the longest kicks ever seen on Amherst Field. Amherst punted out from the twenty-five-yard line, and Trinity began a steady progress toward the goal-line. Amherst finally took the ball away, and an exchange of punts followed, but finally on a long end run Xanders passed the ball to Ramsdell, who ran the remaining distance for a touchdown. Maxson punted out to Ramsdell and Gildersleeve kicked an easy goal. This ended the scoring and the remainder of the half was soon over.

Xanders opened the second half by again kicking off over the goal line, and Amherst punted out. During this entire half it was merely a question whether Trinity would be able to score again, as Amherst was at no time dangerous. Time and again Trinity worked the ball right up to the goal line only to lose it on downs. The Trinity team played perfect football, never fumbling, seldom having a play completely stopped without gain, and presenting an absolutely impregnable defense, Amherst being unable to gain at all. Trinity's back-field and ends worked like clock work, gaining around the ends, making short forward passes successfully, and making the necessary distance by quick plunges off tackle.

Amherst must be given great credit for their remarkably gritty and determined stand again and again right under their goal posts. Finally Henshaw got around the end for a touchdown. Referee Taussig, however, made an unprecedented decision in calling the play back, because Field Judge Weeks had interfered with the play. This is an original ruling, and as the rules have nothing to say on the matter, there is some talk of protesting to the Central Rules Committee, but as they have little or no real authority, the protest will do little or no good, as the decision on the field will almost certainly hold. After this play was called back, Xanders attempted a goal from the field which was unsuccessful, this leaving the game a tie.

For Amherst, Captain Kilbourn, Pinkett, and Smith starred, while the Trinity back-field and ends played very fine football, while Roberts' defensive work was of a very fine order.

INTER-COLLEGIATE POLITICAL CLUB MEETING.

Republican Gathering in New York.

A great inter-collegiate mass meeting, in the interests of the Taft-Sherman candidacy, will be held in Carnegie Hall, New York, on the evening of Friday, October 30th, under the auspices of the Republican Club, and with the co-operation of the National Republican College League. Secretary Root, who, like the Vice-Presidential candidate, is an alumnus of Hamilton College, will preside. A glee club will sing college songs—some of them adapted to suit campaign issues—and the hall will be decorated with college colors and banners. Delegations from the undergraduate Republican Clubs within a wide radius of New York are expected to turn out in force; while the meeting is primarily for college men, the public is invited to attend. The arrangements are in charge of a committee composed of Hon. Donald McLean, Henry W. Goddard, of the Campaign Committee of the Republican Club, Ernest H. Wands, H. V. Andrews, Herbert M. Myers, manager of the Eastern Headquarters of the National Republican College League; and E. Stagg Whitin, organizer of the Republican College Clubs of New York State.

One of the great speeches of the campaign is expected from ex-Governor Frank S. Black. It will be the only address which Mr. Black has delivered in the state during the campaign, and those of his friends who have been taken into his confidence say that it will be one of his best efforts. Senator Dolliver of Iowa, fresh from a successful stumping tour in the west, will add the attraction of his compelling oratory to the features of the meeting. Among the other speakers will be the Hon. Edmund Wetmore, the Hon. John L. Griffiths, Secretary Oscar S. Straus of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The representatives of the different colleges and universities have taken hold of the arrangements for the meeting with enthusiasm and are co-operating actively with the committees of the Republican Club and the National Republican College League, under whose auspices the meeting will be held. The General Committee includes many prominent alumni of famous institutions of learning.

The general public is invited to the meeting, which will begin at eight o'clock. College men, both undergraduates and alumni, who desire to be seated with the delegations from their respective alma maters, may secure tickets by application to the Republican Club, No. 54 West 40th Street. It is whispered that no one will censure any "old grad" who comes to the meeting with a banner, or who lets loose his enthusiasm for the ticket in the shape of a college cheer. But that

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

The game with Amherst last Saturday has shown us what it is worth to be right back of the team, and what the team is able to do with such support.

At no time before during this season has the spirit and enthusiasm been shown, like that which was evident, both while the game was in progress, and after the finish, when the result was learned in Hartford.

Again, it is a good sign, when so large a number of "rooters" go to the out-of-town games, and really make enough noise, in the way of cheering, to arouse comment.

There is no doubt that the team can and will make a fine showing the rest of the season, because they have made a good start, and have learned that when it comes to the real hard work, every man in college is right back of them.

Of course it is regrettable that what was seemingly a victory should be turned into a tie score, by the interference of an official with the play, but it is past now, and the game must stand as it is now, with a score of 6-6.

COLLEGE NOTES.

There will be a rehearsal of the Mandolin Club in the music room Tuesday evening. It is important that everyone be there.

The fall handicap golf tournament has been hindered by the state of the weather and the early darkness. It has been decided to cut in half the required number of holes—so that hereafter the matches will be of 9 holes.

doesn't matter much; the undergraduate first voters may be counted upon to supply the noise and local color. Indications are now that there will be several thousand of them in attendance.

THE TUSKEEGEE INSTITUTE.

Subject of Interesting Talk in Chapel.

There was a special talk in the College Chapel last Sunday morning by Mr. Chisholm of Tuskegee Institute. Mr. Chisholm gave a very interesting sketch of the life and the work at the institute. He told of the marvellous growth, the many branches of instruction, the large faculty, and the advantages which are given to the graduate of the institution.

Mr. Chisholm told of the great and good work that the field missionaries are doing, under the guidance of Booker T. Washington.

He said because of the high taxes and great expenditures that are necessarily made by such an institution, the field missionaries were making an especial appeal for financial assistance at present.

His version of the settlement of the negro-race problem was led by the education of the negroes, for the mixture of ignorant negroes and bad whiskey could not be expected to result in anything but trouble. Therefore he urged that the necessary help be given to educate the race, and we would have harmonious living in the south.

Mr. Chisholm's remarks were concluded by his rendition of one of the plantation melodies sung by the educated seekers for Christianity.

GRIDIRON NEWS.

Tie scores in the more important football contests were the order of the day Saturday. Harvard and Annapolis equaled each other's tally; Carlisle made six points to Pennsylvania's six, and Princeton and Syracuse went to a 0-to-0 game. The results of the day show that not a single college team of importance has a clean slate now, Harvard, Annapolis, Dartmouth and Lafayette all being scored on Saturday for the first time. The navy furnished Harvard that rattling game that had been expected. Yale had a snap with Washington and Jefferson, but Princeton was up against something hard in the Syracuse eleven. This makes the second 0-to-0 match that the "Tigers" have now figured in.

Carlisle's feat in tying Pennsylvania was a surprise, as the Quakers are believed to be much stronger and the Indians somewhat weaker than a year ago. Brown played well against Lafayette, and it was only by brilliant goal-kicking that Lafayette managed to win. Holy Cross scored on Dartmouth, which must give the former much satisfaction, even though Dartmouth made three touchdowns. Cornell's score against Vermont was low, and so was West Point's against Colgate. But Colgate is holding all its opponents down this fall. Williams showed great strength against the "Aggies," piling up one of the biggest scores of the day.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and to-morrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.
In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.
In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address the Company, or any of its agents.

NAILS, TACKS OR GLASS WON'T LET OUT THE AIR

(CASH WITH ORDER $4.55)

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES.

Result of 15 years experience in tire making. No danger from THORNS, CACTUS, PINS, NAILS, TACKS or GLASS. Serious punctures, like intentional knife cuts, can be vulcanized like any other tire.

Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. That "Holding Back" sensation commonly felt when riding on asphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patent "Basket Weave" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming all suction. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump and two Sampson metal puncture closers on full paid orders (these metal puncture closers to be used in case of intentional knife cuts or heavy gashes). Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination.

We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. Ask your Postmaster, Banker, Express or Freight Agent or the Editor of this paper about us. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a small trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

COASTER-BRAKES, built-up-wheels, saddles, pedals, parts and repairs, and prices charged by dealers and repair men. Write for our big SUNDRY catalogue.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.
