

TRINITY 10, N. Y. U. 0.

Fifth Trinity Baseball Victory.

Trinity won the second home game of the season on Wednesday afternoon, snowing under New York University by a score of 10 to 0. The weather was extremely favorable for baseball, with plenty of sun, and little or no wind to hinder the fielding. Although the game was replete with errors on the visitor's side, and lagged slightly on that account at times, taken as a whole, the sure playing of the home team, and its apparent scoring at will furnished the spectators plenty of excitement.

At but one time was there any danger of the N. Y. U. crossing the plate, and they were prevented from doing that by Olson, who struck out the batter with two men out and the bases full. The features of the game were the pitching of Olson, and the fielding of Webster. For Trinity, Olson pitched a fine game, striking out (6) six, and allowing but (2) two hits.

The game started with Gorsh in the box for N. Y. U., but he was knocked out in the second inning, after Trinity had acquired (5) five hits, and scored an equal number of runs. He was replaced by Griffin, who during the remaining (7) seven innings allowed only (5) five more hits.

The contrast between the fielding of the two teams was noticeable, N. Y. U. making a total of (7) seven errors against (2) two made by Trinity, and those only on difficult plays. The spectacular event of the game was a double play executed by Gildersleeve to Carroll to Abbey. The hitting was of a high order, Webster, Xanders and Gildersleeve excelling, and the base running was exceptionally good, N. Y. U. being able to throw but one man out at second.

The scoring was made on combinations of hits and errors. Bases on balls were few, Olson giving (4) four, against (3) three by Gorsh. The summary follows:

NEW PROBATION RULE.

An Explanation.

In the past there has been no means of official communication between the faculty and the students. The faculty has passed rules regulating the life of the students and these rules have been given to the undergraduates with no explanation. Consequently oftentimes these regulations have been greatly misunderstood, as is perfectly natural and complaints have been heard from many quarters. In order to do away with this trouble the Senate wishes to suggest that it, or a committee elected by it, be the official medium of communication between these two bodies.

A week or two ago a committee was elected by the Senate to interview the "discipline committee" of the faculty in regard to the new probation rule which is being put into practice this year for the first time. Some men in college thought it unfair that men should be put on probation for a whole term when they have not passed four courses. These undergraduates thought that the term of probation was too long and that perhaps through accident or a little carelessness a man might be prohibited from entering into athletics for four months.

After this interview with the discipline committee the body appointed by the Senate agreed most heartily with the faculty in regard to the matter. It seems best that the present ruling should remain both for the interests of scholarship and of athletics, and this is what we wish to show to the college body.

The former rule was that men should be put on, and taken off probation four times during the college year: Christmas, mid-year, Easter and June. It seems unfair to put a man on probation on a six weeks' record, though that feature is retained with new men during their first term as a means of warning them.

Many of the failures are not "conditions" and cannot be "made up" by special examinations. The records show this fact, and so few of the men who are on probation could get off and the chances are that more would be put on.

We must of course think of the scholarship side of this question. A student who has so far failed in his work as to be put on probation deserves his disability for an entire term, with its special opportunity for a real improvement in standing. There are very few students in Trinity College who are not bright enough to keep off probation, so that in most cases being put on probation is nothing more or less than a lack of college spirit.

It is much better for athletics that managers, coaches, and captains should know positively some time before the opening of their seasons, just who are eligible, and who can be depended upon to play. Several annoyances are eliminated; the anxiety as to whether a particular man will make up his conditions before the season opens, and the fear

TRACK MEET TOMORROW.

Trinity vs. Tufts.

The first track meet of the season for Trinity will occur on Saturday when Tufts College will be the opponents in a dual meet on Trinity Field. For the past three weeks the track men under Captain Maxson and Coach Coholan have been practicing with great regularity for this event, and from the results can be made a very good estimate of what the men are capable of doing. In the last issue of the Tripod appeared a summary of the events and the list of entries. There also appeared a report of the Tufts-University of Maine meet in which the former was defeated by the score of 108 to 18, which result would seem to indicate that an easy victory should result for Trinity; but on the contrary, it is the opinion of Captain Maxson that the team will have to work its hardest to defeat Tufts this Saturday. No fair comparison to Trinity can be made with the University of Maine as the conditions are widely different in the two institutions, both as regards the size and the quality of the track men. The idea seems to be prevalent among the students about college that the meet Saturday will be a walk-over for Trinity, and such an idea Captain Maxson wishes to dispel as quickly as possible, as it will undoubtedly prove as hard as any of those scheduled later in the season. The whole team will do its best to win, and hopes to do so, but only after the greatest possible amount of effort, and not by a mere summary performance in which all the events will be in Trinity's favor by overwhelming majorities. The absence of Ramsdell and Xanders in the weights will be felt, as they are both point winners. The former will be absent on account of sickness, while the latter is a member of the baseball team.

IMPORTANT BOOK BY PROF. URBAN.

The Macmillan Company as American agents for the English publishers, Swan, Sonnenschein & Co., have just issued a work by Professor W. M. Urban, entitled "Valuation: Its Nature and Laws." The first part of the book gives a psychological and epistemological analysis of value judgments. The latter part applying the results of the earlier chapters to a study of the consciousness of value in all its different levels, suggests interesting views in regard to economic, aesthetic, and ethical values. Modern thought with various windings and differences of emphasis appears to be concentrating on the world of values. Professor Urban's work is a significant contribution to this tendency in philosophical literature. It may be added that it will be of interest to students of social problems as well as to those primarily interested in philosophical questions. It is one of a noteworthy series of philosophical works edited by Swan, Sonnenschein & Co. by Professor J. H. Muirhead.

MYTHANIA.

New Senior Play.

"Mythania," a musical melange, whose diverting dialogues and exciting episodes take place on the as yet undiscovered planet of that name, will be presented Saturday evening, June 19, in Alumni Hall. The play is from the pen of Reginald Burbank '11, who wrote part of the recent sophomore smoker skit, while the lyrics, by G. E. Elwell '09 have been set to tuneful music by C. M. Konvalinka '11. The cast has been chosen as follows:

- Welland Strong, a football hero, Paul Roberts '09.
- Will Lendsky, who does, W. S. Buchanan '09.
- Frank Soutor, an ardent fusser, H. N. Chandler '09.
- Obediah S. Low, a lemon, A. E. Rankin '12.
- Noah Kountt, which is true, C. M. Konvalinka '11.
- Sue Fragette, for women's rights, A. S. Kean '09.
- Prof. C. Q. Cumber, natural history shark, Reginald Burbank '11.
- Count Gaspard de Broque Flatte, a fortune hunter, G. E. Elwell '09.
- Cassia Kountt, with lots of lucre, C. J. Backus '09.
- Mary A. Cauntt, who wants a title, J. P. Webster '10.

Rehearsals are not well under way as yet, but the play reads as if the success of the production would not be left in doubt. The lines are full of "local color," with numerous clever hits at current abuses.

COLLEGE NOTES.

A college meeting will be held this evening for the purpose of organizing cheering and arousing enthusiasm for tomorrow's track meet with the Tufts team. Some new songs will be tried.

The date of the second senior smoker will be Monday, May 17th. The program as before will be made up of informal speeches and songs. The committee in charge is: E. K. Roberts, jr., G. E. Elwell and G. S. Buck. Everything will be on the "Dutch treat" style.

Paul H. Barbour '09, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at his home, resumed his college duties this week.

As the senior assembly held this week was such a success, another will be held before the final examinations begin. Paul Roberts is chairman of the committee in charge.

The 1910 Ivy arrived yesterday and all who desire copies may get them from Groves at 17 Jarvis street. The price is a dollar and a half.

The first N. H. IX excursion will take place next Tuesday morning. These excursions are required in order to pass the course, so all who have elected it should be at the Natural History Building at 8.45.

EDITORIAL.

In another column of the Tripod will be found an article which explains the ruling of the faculty in regard to probation. The college Senate has taken up this idea of discussing the new rules of the faculty from time to time. The probation rule was recently changed and there has been considerable misunderstanding in regard to its full meaning; and it is hoped that the accompanying article will make the matter clear.

At the baseball game on Wednesday afternoon, there was a large increase over the first game in the number of undergraduates present. It is a good sign, and it is hoped that the undergraduate attendance will be large at all the contests during the remainder of the year. On Saturday, Trinity meets Dartmouth at Hanover, and by the excellent showing that the team has made thus far it is hoped that there will be a blue and gold victory. The track meet on Trinity Field should also be a victory, but in order to get the largest score possible, it is necessary that all undergraduates and as many alumni as possible be present to cheer the runners on to victory. While the undergraduates were present in numbers at the N. Y. U. game, the cheering was lacking in volume and there is room for great improvement.

S. D. C. MEETING.

At Elm Tree Inn.

The Sophomore Dining Club held a very successful banquet at the Elm Tree Inn, Farmington, last evening. Alfred Howell '11 made a most acceptable toastmaster. Three new members were duly initiated—G. T. Keyes, Jas. Porteus and G. W. Stewart.

Toasts were responded to as follows: Track—G. T. Keyes.

Freshmen—James Porteus.

Probation—G. W. Stewart.

S. D. C. and 1912—S. P. Haight.

Besides those already mentioned there were present: H. H. Burgwin, J. O. Carroll, W. C. Dewey, C. M. Konvalinka, Paul Maxon and W. C. Skinner, besides a number of graduate members who dropped in during the course of the evening.

NEW PROBATION RULE.

that a desirable athlete may get into difficulties during the season. It can be told at the beginning of the season exactly who can play under the present rule which fact will necessitate no sudden shift during the middle of a season. These reasons will certainly appeal to all those connected with athletics.

It certainly seems from what has been already said that any man can see that the definiteness and positiveness of the present system helps both scholarship and the athletic interests.

To these reasons let us add a few shown by the records. Under the old system at Thanksgiving time, 1906, 25 men were put on probation, and at the same time 1907 twenty-three men suffered a like punishment. At Easter, 1907, four men were put on probation and at the same time in 1908 several valuable track and baseball men would have been kept out of athletics if the old rule had been enforced at that time.

The committee of the Senate therefore wish to say that having looked into this matter very thoroughly they have come to the conclusion that the probation rule as it now stands is for the best interests of both the scholarship and athletics of the college, and submits these reasons to the college body for their perusal and also, it is hoped for their approval.

This rule is that students who have not passed four subjects shall be put on probation only at the close of a complete term, the probation to last only during the following term. The freshmen, however, are excepted from this rule, for they may be put on probation in November as a means of warning them.

The Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia

HAS FOUR DEPARTMENTS

Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutic Chemistry

The instruction in each is thoroughly practical, laboratory work, ward work and bedside teaching receiving particular attention. All courses are carefully graded, and free quizzes by professors and trained instructors, clinical conferences and modern seminar methods are special features.

All students are accorded the same college privileges and those in Medicine and Dentistry have the advantage of abundant clinical material, as the College has its own Hospital and the largest and finest clinical amphitheatre in the world. Students in pharmacy are trained to fill lucrative commercial positions, and those in Pharmaceutic Chemistry for the many openings created by the new Pure Food and Drug Laws.

ALUMNI.

'66. In a recent issue of the Tripod
 there was an account of the Maryland alumni skoker in Baltimore. A very interesting story is told about three members of the class of 1866 who were present at the smoker, Messrs. B. H.
 Griswold, William F. Johnson and Felix
 R. Sullivan. Before the Civil War
 they were students at St. James College, Maryland, but the college was closed by the hostilities of war, and its president, Mr. Kerfoot became president of Trinity. These three men came with their president and graduated in 1866 with Dr. Samuel Hart and others of that year.

DARTMOUTH-TRINITY TOMORROW.

Game at Hanover.

On Saturday afternoon the Trinity baseball team will line up against Dartmouth. The chances of the Hartford collegians is much brighter than it has been in the former years against this team. Last year one of the best games of the season on Trinity Field was the Dartmouth game. The result was 3 to 0 in favor of the Green.
 But this year the Trinity men are batting stronger and playing a fast fielding game, while the Dartmouth team has not been quite up to its former standard. Captain Connor and Manager Marlor will be accompanied by the following men on the trip: Xanders, N. H.
 Gildersleeve, Abbey, Smith, Olson, Cook,
 Webster, Carroll and Turner.

The Dartmouth line-up will be as follows: Schieldmiller rf, Bradley 1b, Norton 2b, Daley lf, Emerson cf, Ryan

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.

In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.

In a company that is doing a conservative business.

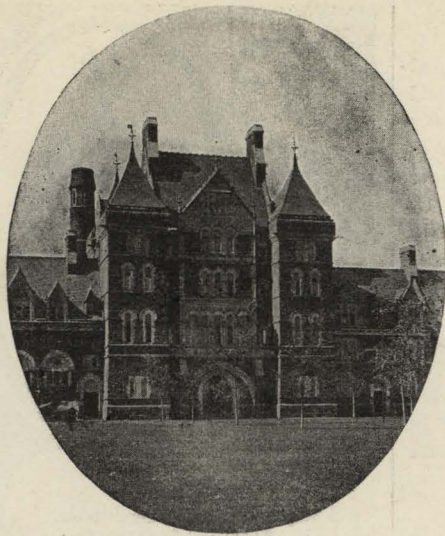

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

main object in these rules is to benefit the men who are on the tennis team. This representation of Trinity has a good schedule this season and practice is essential if a majority of the matches are to be won. It is necessary that these regulations be followed—the tennis team will be benefited as well as giving the whole student body an equal chance to use the courts:

Rule 1. That the members of the tennis team shall have use of the west court whenever they shall desire.

Rule 2. That no person shall play more than the best two sets out of three while others are waiting to use the courts.

Rule 3. Rule two shall not hold in the case of a regular tournament.
