HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS TRAINING SCHOOL.

First Home Game Ends With a Score of 3 to 1.

In a fairly well played and exciting game, the hockey team won its first victory on Elizabeth Park rink last Saturday against Springfield Training School by a score of 3 to 1. The game was a fast exhibition of hockey although at times the Trinity forwards showed a lack of team work, yet at the same time they seemed to be able to keep the Springfield men almost constantly on the defensive. Trinity's three goals all came in the first half, but in the second period the Training School came back stronger the puck see-sawing up and down the rink until they finally succeeded in getting the rubber past Brainerd in the last minute of play and thus scored their single tally.

The contest was remarkably free from rough play, no player being sent from the ice for even a short period, and was characterized by a general feeling of good sportsmanship between the two teams. Trinity's victory was earned, for the forwards, man for man seemed to be faster than their opponents while the defense showed up in wonderful style breaking up the Springfield attack easily whenever it neared the goal.

This game was the first hockey contest which Trinity has ever played in Hartford against another college team and a large crowd turned out to witness it. The ice was in excellent condition and the new goal cages arrived just in time to be adjusted in place before the play began.

The shift in positions of the Trinity seven since their last game seemed to be an improvement and will probably remain as it is at present during the rest of the season although there are several men still fighting it out for two or three of the positions. Capt. Haight was able to get back into the game although he had been unable to go on the ice since the injury to his foot in the Amherst game. Berry at center played the best game for Springfield.

The line up and summary:

Trinity.	Springfield T. S.
Brainerd	g. Solassa
Eaton	p. Emerson
Rankin	c. p. Hopkins
Haight (c.)	c. Berry
Moberly	r. Guillow (c.)
Breed	r. w. Smith, Warren
Howell, Burgwin, l. f.	Hutchinson

Score, Trinity 3, Springfield 1; goals, Breed, Haight, Moberly, Berry; time of periods, 20 and 15 minutes; referee, W. E. Batterson; timers, Webster and Henshaw; goal umpires, Bleecker for Trinity, Warren and Smith for Springfield.

CONNERY TO COACH THE BASEBALL TEAM.

Schedule of Twenty Games Arranged by Manager Sherman.

Thomas J. Connery, manager of the Hartford Baseball Club will coach the Trinity College baseball squad during the coming season, having signed the articles with Manager C. E. Sherman of Trinity. The squad will commence indoor practice in about two weeks and Manager Connery will report to supervise the men's playing about March first.

Mr. Connery's engagement as coach for the Trinity College nine will be received with great satisfaction not only by the men of the college but by all the Hartford people who are followers of the game. It is expected that the new coach will be able to bring the men into fast playing condition during the early part of the season. The prospects for an excellent team this year are unusually bright as seven of last year's regular line up are still in college, and there are several freshmen who look like 'Varsity material. The feature of the schedule is a southern trip to be taken during the Easter vacation. Five representative teams of the southern colleges will be played. The schedule is as follows:

March 29—Washington College at Chestertown, Md.

March 30—United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

March 31—University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C.

April 1 and 2—Trinity College at Durham, N. C.

April 4—Georgetown at Washington.

April 6—Yale at New Haven.

April 9—Brown at Providence, R. I.

April 16—New York University at Hartford.

April 23—Williams at Williamstown, Mass.

April 27—Princeton at Princeton.

April 30—Rutgers at Hartford.

May 7—Fordham at New York.

May 11—Tufts at Hartford.

May 14—Army at West Point.

May 20—Colgate at Hartford.

May 28—Amherst Agricultural College at Hartford.

May 30—Wesleyan at Middletown.

June 4—Columbia at Hartford.

June 18—Wesleyan at Hartford.

ENDOWMENT FUND.

Dr. Luther states that belated subscriptions to the endowment fund are coming in slowly. The total of the fund now is considerably over five hundred and four thousand dollars.

PLANS FOR JUNIOR GERMAN.

Friday of Prom Week.

Since the announcement a week ago that Friday evening of Junior Week would be given up to a german under the direction of the old German Club, a great deal of interest has centered about that date. The details have just been arranged. The program will consist of two parts, an order of about eight dances, followed by a cotillon led by Paul Maxon and Blinn F. Yates. A number of new figures will be introduced, and the favors will be very attractive, a characteristic of German Club cotillons.

The decorations will be extremely simple, as it is the desire of the promenade committee to reserve everything of that nature for the final coup on Monday night. Habenstein will be the caterer, while Hatch will furnish the music.

Invitations have been issued to about thirty couples, including several alumni. The patronesses are: Mrs. Flavel S. Luther, Mrs. Henry A. Perkins, Mrs. Joseph R. Hawley, Mrs. J. H. Kelso Davis, Mrs. I. K. Hamilton, Jr., Mrs. C. L. F. Robinson.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

The intercollegiate track meet this spring will offer little chance for the novice, according to an estimate just published, based upon the percentage of last year's point winners who have been graduated or who have left college. Of the forty-five men who captured places in the meet at Cambridge last spring, only twenty are out of the running. The remaining twenty-five took 78.8 points out of a possible 143 last year. The figures show further that Harvard is the most fortunate in retaining her point-winners, losing only two of the twelve men who scored the 39.1 points for the crimson, these being Rand and Harwood, who took only 5.2 points between them. This leaves Harvard with enough point men to make a neat margin over Yale's total score of last year. But Yale loses the winners of 16 of her 25.7 points, so there seems to be little hope for the Elis unless they develop an unprecedented amount of new talent.

Michigan should do better this year than last, as twelve of last year's fifteen points are retained. Princeton's two point-winners are gone, and Pennsylvania and Cornell fare little better, each retaining five points. In the various events, the inequality of the losses is noticeable; only one place-winner is left in the low hurdles, none in the high, one in the half mile and one in the hammer-throw, while all four remain for the quarter-mile and three each in the 100, 220, two mile and high jump.

JUNIOR PROMENADE PROGRAM.

Order of Dances.

The promenade committee has just announced the music for the promenade, including the best of the popular "hits." The feature will be the first number, the new Trinity marching song recently composed by Mr. George Spink.

1. Two Step—Trinity Marching Song.
2. Waltz—Dollar Princess.
3. Two Step—Rubber Plant Rag.
4. Waltz—Ciribiribin.
5. Two Step—My Cousin Caruso.
6. Waltz—Fair Co-ed.

 34. Waltz—Prince of To-Night.
 35. Two Step—Love Cure.
 36. Waltz—Little Nemo.
 37. Two Step—The Midnight Whirl.
 38. Waltz—Spring, Beautiful Spring.
 39. Two Step—Chocolate Soldier.
 40. Waltz—Auf Wiedersehn.
- 'Neath the Elms.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

The students of Yale University signed the following pledge to be in effect this week: "We agree that the ladies whom we entertain shall wear no flowers at any of the festivities of prom week." It is not necessary to add that the ire of the florists, to whom prom week has always been a time of unlimited harvests, is aroused to the highest point it has reached since the year of the big flood.

EDITORIAL.

There remains less than a week before the mid-year examinations begin. From now on is the time to get in the strongest and hardest work. Many of the professors are giving final reviews in the various courses, which will materially aid the undergraduates. It is up to every man in college to get busy immediately and to keep busy until after the last examination is over. The college needs you and you need the college. The athletic teams have suffered much in past years, because several men of ability have either flunked out or been on probation. At present there is not an over abundance of material for the baseball and track teams, and none should be lost by inability to pass the examinations. Probably the men in the entering class do not realize what the period of "mid-years" means—it means hard work, and lots of it. It is an assured fact that everyone wants to see everyone else around college during the Trinity Term.

It is with pleasure that it has been noticed that the baseball team is to have such a good coach this season. In the past few years Trinity has not had a coach early in the season, who has been able to round the team in excellent shape for the first games. By starting early and by faithful work the nine should be well rounded into shape by the time that the Easter trip takes place. This trip, being an innovation at Trinity, should greatly improve the team and bring them into proper condition for the harder games that are to follow. Connery, the new coach, has been very prominent in Hartford baseball circles for the past two years. He is not only a player of ability, but also understands the game as it should be played and the management of a club. The Tripod wishes the new coach success.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Tripod:

It is grievous to note that of the seventy-eight freshmen enrolled in the catalogue, only twenty-two are in the arts course. Four out of this small number in reality belong to higher classes. It might be only an accident that so large a percentage of the class should lean toward science, but as a matter of fact it is a part of a great movement that has been felt in every college in the land, and has almost reached a crisis.

Yale University recently cut down the Latin requirements in the science department, and all eyes are turned toward Princeton, which still manages to cling to the old traditions. Princeton believes that an engineer should be as well educated as an editor; the cynical reader will probably hasten to add that therein lies the reason for Princeton's having one of the poorest engineering schools of any pretensions in the country. But even Princeton is making concessions, having dropped Greek from some courses within the last few years. And what does all this mean? A man used to be required to be ready with Latin proverbs, to have the classic poets at his beck before he could lay claim to being educated. We are not sorry that this requirement no longer is insisted upon. But we do foresee a day when anyone can tell us how a gas-engine operates or what a carburetor is, but when nobody will appreciate the joke about the lonesome maiden who sighed "arma virumque cano."

A careful comparison of the course in science with that in arts shows the chief difference to be that in the one no Latin is required. It is readily suspected that there must be a large number of entrants each year who would perhaps prefer to take the course in arts, but cannot do so for lack of preparation in Caesar, Bel. Gal., Cicero and Vergil. Going back, the reason underlying this lack of Latin lies often in thoughtlessness or ignorance. The average youth does not understand how a dead language can ever be of any practical use to him, and that same average youth usually has some well established notions concerning the ought-to-be's of education. "Tommy-rot" is his judgment upon dead languages in particular.

If this contempt for classical languages keeps on at the present rate, then Latin and Greek will be dead in fact as well as name. And it is not a question of these alone—the foundation of literary style is based on a knowledge of the root meanings of words; take away this knowledge from the writers of the future and the richest literary language of the world will soon be one with Nineveh and Tyre.

Something must be done, and soon—or it will be too late for herpicide. Whether the prep-schools must offer inducements to the pupil to take Latin, or the colleges must make it worth while for the prep-schools to make it compulsory, is a question that demands a hearing.

'58—Dr. T. Ewing Mears of Philadelphia, retired surgeon, author of several standard text books on surgery, a devoted advocate of hygienic and sanitary science and an inveterate traveler, is spending a few days in Savannah at the De Soto, where he is a guest. He will go on to Florida, make a short stop down on the east coast and see the engineering work which Flagler is doing on the keys, and then sail for Havana.
 From Cuba Dr. Mears will go to Panama and spend some time there as the guest of Col. Gorgas, medical director of the Canal Zone. He is very much interested in hygienic science and he knows that Dr. Gorgas has performed almost miracles in sanitary lines in Panama. After his sojourn in Panama Dr. Mears will return to the United States up through Mexico. He expects to make a trip to Honolulu next winter after spending several months on the Pacific coast. Dr. Mears feels a vital interest springing from a desire to contribute something in a scientific way toward the extermination of the plague which pervades India.

Dr. Mears is getting along in years.
 He has devoted many years and considerable money to the education of the public in scientific hygiene. He was one of the founders of the American Surgical Association, and has been its president. He is one of the three surviving founders of the association, there having been originally forty-three. Dr.
 Mears founded a course of lectures on sanitary science in Trinity College, having graduated from that institution in 1858. His course in sanitary science embraces all the phases of public health.
 He also founded a scholarship which is called the Mears scholarship.

The 8% 10-Year Purchasing-Fund Gold Certificates

ISSUED BY

THE WHEEL-MOTOR TRACTION CO.

This company has the sales monopoly of an improved form of commercial automobile, now in successful use by the U. S. Government and leading business concerns. The $25,000 accumulated by the sale of these certificates is to be used for one purpose only—buying machines at the factory to fill orders.
 The machines are then shipped C. O. D. to the purchasers. Thus there is no credit risk, and the investors' money is neither tied up in equipment nor dissipated by expenses, but is either in cash on hand or convertible thereto at short notice.

Investors in this purchasing fund have the option of withdrawal of principal before maturity. A strong National Bank has agreed to act as Trustee of this fund for and on behalf of investors—to see that it is kept intact and used only as a purchasing fund. This bank will pay dividends as they fall due and will return to any certificate holder, upon sixty days' notice, the amount of his investment or any part of it, should he desire to withdraw same at any time before maturity.

The total issue is only $25,000, each certificate being for $25. For the present, with each $25 certificate is given one share of 8 per cent preferred stock, par value $10; and with each $100 purchase five shares of preferred are given. This unusual opportunity really brings the net return up to about 12 per cent, with the prospect of selling the preferred for nearly enough to pay for the whole investment. We make this offer so that it will not be necessary for this announcement to appear extensively, as previous issues have been largely oversubscribed.

If interested in absolute security of principal, large and definite interest return, and opportunity of speedy withdrawal of principal before maturity if desired, this investment should receive your immediate attention. Communications and orders should be addressed, and checks made payable to,

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

HARTFORD, CONN.,

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.

In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.

In a company that is doing a conservative business.

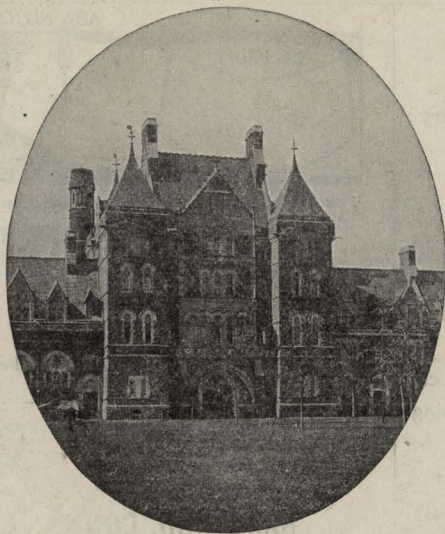

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

FATIMA TURKISH BLEND CIGARETTES

20 for 15 cts.

AFTER the rush. Coat inside out, sans collar, tie, etc. Happy at least in the possession of a good smoke—Fatima Cigarette.

Their mild, mellow fragrance will always cheer. The pleasing taste that comes from the blended Turkish tobacco will satisfy.

And the economy in packing gives you ten extra cigarettes.
