STUDENTS CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

Organization. Planned for Near Future.

In the last issue of The Tripod mention was made of plans for a Students' Christian Association at Trinity. Since then further steps have been taken, and it seems as if the Association would become an assured thing. Representative men have been called together and placed upon committees to help in the work of organization.

There is some doubt in the minds of many of the undergraduates concerning this movement, so it might be well to give a short account of what it is.

The object of the Association is of course primarily, for the furtherance of Christian spirit and living among the students of the college, but it does not hold the "Holier than thou" attitude, and therefore will appeal strongly to the men who have manly ideas. The work which the Association does in other colleges and aims to do at Trinity, is that of aiding in settlement work, teaching classes of boys who would otherwise be neglected, and in many ways helping in work where there is a large field, very poorly covered. Bible study, in which the men of to-day are vastly ignorant, is another phase of the work, not Bible study in a pedantic fashion as in a Sunday school course, but earnest consideration and discussion of a book that will help everyone who reads it.

Every Trinity man can, and ought to give time and aid to this movement. At other colleges the most prominent men, football, baseball and social leaders, are helping in the work. In a short time the active work of organizing and perfecting the plans of the Association will be commenced, under the aid of men from the headquarters who are experienced workers.

Communication From Dr. Luther.

Trinity College,
President's Office.

Hartford, Conn., October 5, 1910.

To the Editor of The Tripod:

Dear Sir:—You may be interested in the following extracts from a letter written by the Reverend Francis B. Whitcome with reference to Jack Brown, whose death has so shocked us all:

"After graduation at Trinity last June, Jack secured a very good situation in a boys' school at Plainfield, New Jersey. He had been but two weeks at his work when he was taken suddenly with Diphtheria of a most malignant type, and almost be-

The freshmen defeated the sophomores last Monday afternoon on Trinity field in the annual underclass track meet, by a score of 73 to 17, Lawlor, '14, former captain of the Storrs Agricultural College track team, was the individual star of the meet, doing stellar work in the dashes, and in the field events. ## ANNUAL FALL TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Prospects for the Year Are Good.

The annual fall tennis tournament has been started with a large entering list, and already the preliminary and first rounds have been played off. There are three of last year's team back in college, Nelson, Carpenter and Pulford. Of the freshmen, Burgwin seems to be the most promising and will doubtless make a good showing in the tournament. There are several other freshmen who give promise and there have been many good matches thus far. It is hoped to have the finals finished by next Tuesday. The results of the matches already played follow:

In the preliminary round, Lazarus, '14, defeated Harriman, '05, 6-1, 6-0; Brainerd, '11, defeated Rosebaugh, '11, 6-1, 6-1; McNeil, '14, beat Ward, '13, 6-0, 6-0; Pulford, '13, defeated Lister, '14, 6-2, 6-2; Maxon, '11, beat Page, '14, 6-3, 6-1; Carpenter, '12, beat Kendall, '12, 6-4, 6-0; Waller, '14, defeated Clark, '14, 6-3, 6-2; and one match in this round has not yet been played, viz., Langdon, '14, and Dillard, '13.

In the first round Barnett, '13, defeated Edgelan, '14, 6-1, 6-2; Nelson, '11, beat Heater, '13, 6-1, 6-1; Ward, '13, defeated Brainerd, '11, 7-5, 6-3; Burgwin, '14, defeated Adkins, '14, 6-1, 6-1; Moses, '14, beat Peaslie, '13, 6-2, 6-1.

In the second round only one match has been played off. Burgwin, '14, defeating Moses, '14, 6-1, 6-4.

Underclass Baseball Monday.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore baseball game will be held at four o'clock next Monday afternoon on Trinity Field. The Freshmen have been practicing diligently for the past few days, and the material in the fielding line seems to be very good, but the Freshmen are woefully in need of a good battery, so far none being decided upon. Captain Noyes of the Freshmen has been doing excellent work in the infield, while Lister shows great promise, and in the outfield Acting Manager Hicks, Langdon and Elder seem to be able to take care of anything that comes their way.

The Sophomores look good on paper, since three varsity men are on the team, two of whom comprise the varsity battery, and the third, Horan, plays the most important position in the infield. Judging from this the Sophomores seem to have a decided advantage. The line-up will probably be as follows:

Pitcher (open)	Sayers, (Ca
Freshmen	Sophomores
(pen) p.	Sayers (Cap't)
(open) c.	L'Heureux
Lister 1b.	Roberts
Wessels, De Konge ss.	Deppen
Noyes, (Cap't) 2b.	Horan
Langdon l. f.	Barnet
Hicks m.	Heater
Elder r. f.	Dillard

M. A. C. VS. TRINITY TO-MORROW.

Hard Contest Looked for By Coach and Players.

The second game of Trinity's football schedule will be played on Saturday with Massachusetts Agricultural College, better known as the Amherst "Aggies." While the game should prove a victory for Trinity, the strength of the "Aggies" is an unknown quantity. They have played two games thus far, one with Rhode Island State and the other with Dartmouth. In the first game no score was made by either side, but in the second, Dartmouth was only able to run off one touchdown.

Trinity's team is somewhat handicapped by injuries which were received in Saturday's game with Worcester. P. I. Hudson, the star freshman fullback, will be unable to enter the game, because of a sprained ankle, which is yet in a bad condition. Fitzpatrick, another freshman who played a strong game at center, will in all probability be kept out on account of water on the knee. Ahern is also incapacitated with a stiff leg, but will doubtless be able to play at least the first part of the game.

There was no practice on Monday as Coach Gettell gave the men a chance to rest from the efforts of the first game. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday stiff practices were held and the defects and weaknesses of the playing, which were brought out in the game with Worcester were eradicated as much as possible. Light signal practice to-day was all that was indulged in as no chances were taken for more injuries.

By Hudson's temporary retirement, Carroll has been taken out of the line and put back in his position of last year, at fullback. Lawlor has been shifted to tackle, and Bleecker put in at guard. Buck, another new man for Varsity work, goes in at center in place of Fitzpatrick. While their combination is not as strong as the one which started last week's game, they are all men who are aggressive players and will give a good account of themselves.

The practice this week has been a "limbering up" process in order to get the men into condition to stand hard knocks. The scrub team has been a good one and the Varsity has had some very fast practice. The probable line up of the teams follow:

Amherst "Aggies."	Trinity.
Lane, l. f.	Gildersleeve, l. f.
Sampson, l. t.	Howell, l. t.
McGan, l. g.	Clark, l. g.
Robinson, c.	Buck, c.
Walker, r. g.	Bleecker, r. g.
Powers, r. t.	Lawlor, r. t.
Larsen, r. e.	Ahern, r. e.
Gore, q. b.	Cook, q. b.
Williams, l. h.	Ramsdell, Capt., l. h.
Goodnough, r. h.	Collett, r. h.
Moreau, f.	Carroll, f.

The proposed amendment to Article II., Section 1, of the Constitution of the college Senate, which will be voted upon by the college body on Friday evening, reads as follows:

"One member shall be elected by the Hartford Club, providing it is not otherwise represented, captains of teams excepted.

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

The college meeting to-night is for a two-fold purpose: first, to vote upon an amendment to the constitution of the Trinity College Senate; and second, to do some very necessary practicing upon songs and cheers, both new and old. It is impossible to dwell too much upon the importance of the presence of every man at this meeting.

In the first place, the Senate is of vital importance in the life of the undergraduate body, and any amendment to its constitution, which is necessarily submitted to the college body, should awaken nothing but the most studious interest. In this amendment, it is proposed to put the Hartford Club upon the same basis as that of the Greek letter societies, giving it a separate and special representative in the Senate, provided it be not already represented in that body, and distinguishing it from the neutral body. Since it has flourished without doubt, in the three years of its existence, and gives abundant proof that it will continue to do so, it is a matter which calls for adequate reflection—this giving, or not giving, the organization a special representative in the Senate. It is understood that if this amendment is passed by a vote of the college body, which gives authority to the senate, that the Hartford Club will under no circumstances attend or vote at the election held when the neutral body elects its own senator hereafter.

The second consideration, that of the practice of songs and cheers, needs—or should need, but little comment. It is vitally important that each and every man should know all the words, of all the songs and cheers, in use by the college body. At the game to-morrow, there should be a very decided improvement shown in both branches of exhortation, over that of a week ago. There will be found in the columns of the paper from time to time, the songs and cheers used most frequently, which should aid everyone in being prepared on both songs and cheers.

Communication from Dr. Luther.

fore the physicians were able to determine the nature of the disease he was doomed.

We buried him in a beautiful cemetery at Pine Plains, New York. He lies beneath the pines, the ground everywhere about soft with the pine needles, with the mountains in the distance just the sort of place for him, for he was inclined to dream and he was full of visions which were not known to many. There was not a little of the poet in him. He loved gray days, the autumn hills and valleys and streams."

Unless I am very much mistaken there was rather a striking poem by Jack Brown printed his Freshman Year. The subject was the lighting up of the city west of the college. Just what its title was I have forgotten and I am not sure whether it was printed in The Tripod or in The Tablet of which an occasional number was then issued. If it could be found it seems to me that it might well be reprinted.

Your very truly,
(Signed) F. S. Luther.

Struggles.

By J. E. Brown, '10.

[Written after an evening at a rear Northam window.]

I stood, at eve, and gazed across the vale,

And, as I watched, a wave of lights swept by—

Surged onward, like a host of stars new born—

Stars that were nameless, and yet beautiful,

Unto the farthest limits of the scene: While yet the sun's reflection crowned the hill

That towered above. And, sudden, while I looked

The myriads shadows fought, in awful strife,

'Gainst the advancing glory, and, forced back,

Yet ceasing not a moment from the fray,

They mingled even with their vanquishers.

And then the sun's glory faded. It was night

While all the homes of men were desolate.

I turned back from the casement, sad at heart

Though well I knew that hateful chaos reigned

No longer than the coming of the morn;

That then a time of glory greater far Than that now gone would surely come to earth.

Yet down below the flaming of the lights

Had sadly dwindled. They were stars no more.

Like candles now they glowed, and faintly shone

As if about to perish in the strife.

Full well they might, for on them now devolves

The task of giving to the whole world light!

Thus has it always been—continued strife

Between the advocates of wickedness And those few good men who have saved our world

From crime, the brute despoiler of our homes,

And lust, which to the dark is kin, For both bring death and breed brutality.

And yet, as surely as the sun shall rise,

So shall the glory of the Peerless One, Submerge our lives within a flood of truth

With goodness victor, ever thence to reign.
