WESLEYAN AT MIDDLETOWN.

Close Contest Looked for When Old Rivals Meet.

At Middletown on Saturday Trinity and Wesleyan, rivals for many years in the athletic world, will meet in the annual gridiron contest between the two institutions. The game promises to be the most exciting and stubbornly fought of any of the games in recent years between the two institutions.

Records of the Teams.

The records of the two teams thus far are both extremely good. Trinity has won all the games played, defeating Worcester Polytechnic 21-0; Amherst "Aggies" 15-3; Colgate 23-0 and Norwich 9-0. Wesleyan was defeated, 22-0, by Yale in the opening game and by Amherst College 3-0. Defeated Norwich, 17-0; Union, 6-0; and Storrs. Yale and Amherst both have strong teams and Wesleyan played with both teams, even though defeated.

The game this year is slightly earlier than usual, but nevertheless the teams have worked up into first class condition. Trinity will start the game with all the regulars in the line-up, with the possible exception of Ahern, who may not be able to play owing to injuries received Saturday. Gildersleeve, Trinity's veteran end, will start the game, although it is doubtful that he will be able to last through the whole four periods. He has been in a bad condition for a week, with stomach trouble and did not play against Norwich last week. His loss would mean a great weakening in the line of defense, as well as in advancing the ball, for he is one of Trinity's most consistent ground gainers.

Comparisons From Norwich Game.

Both Trinity and Wesleyan have played Norwich this year and Wesleyan succeeded in running up the larger total. This would seem to indicate that Trinity is the weaker team, but when the conditions of Saturday's game at Trinity field are considered it will be seen that Trinity is by no means weak. The day was rainy and cold. Several of the regulars were not in the line-up and altogether there is no fair comparison to be drawn from this game with Wesleyan's victory over the same team.

Practice this past week has been with an effort towards perfecting the team thoroughly in the plays already known, and those to be used in Saturday's game. Gildersleeve has been absent from the line-up the better part of the week, and has been resting in order to gain as much strength as possible. Collett, who received an injury to his side in the Norwich game, has been on the field regularly and seems to have recovered from the ill effects of his bruises. Captain Ramsdell, who has seen three Trinity victories over Wesleyan, will work his hardest to make this the fourth straight, and the support of the undergraduates in cheering and singing will do much towards making this an assured fact.

Year before last was the first Trinity victory at Middletown for many years, and now that the hoodoo has been broken, it is expected that it

ECONOMIC ESSAY CONTEST.

Seventh Annual Competition for Hart, Schaffner & Marx Prizes.

Notice has been given that Trinity College students who wish to compete for the Hart Schaffner & Marx prizes should forward their essays to Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin of the University of Chicago by June 1, 1911.

The prizes are offered for the best papers on economic subjects. They amount in all to $2,000 and this is the seventh year of their existence. Winners in the past years have come from Harvard, Dartmouth, Wisconsin, Washington and Lee, Michigan, Chicago, Northwestern and Pennsylvania.

The prizes are divided into two classes. Class "A" includes any American without restriction. The first prize is $1,000 and the second is $500. Class "B" includes only those who, at the time the papers are sent in, are undergraduates of any American College, but a contestant in Class "B" is eligible to a prize in Class "A". The prizes in this class are $300 and $200.

The committee in charge of the contest is as follows:

Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin, University of Chicago, chairman; Professor J. B. Clark, Columbia University; Professor Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Horace White, Esq., New York City, and Professor Edwin F. Gay, Harvard University.

Herewith are some of the subjects suggested by the committee:

The effect of labor unions on international trade.

The best way of raising the wages of the unskilled.

A comparison between the theory and the actual practice of protectionism in the United States.

A scheme for an ideal monetary system for the United States.

The true relation of the central government to the trusts.

How much of J. S. Mills' economic system survives?

A central bank as a factor in a financial crisis.

If a contestant wishes to choose a special subject, he should communicate with Professor Laughlin who will provide a list of available subjects.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS ELECTED.

Probation Officer Project—Plans for Work.

The Students' Christian Association which was begun at Trinity during the early part of the college year, has assumed definite proportions. The founders met and chose the following officers:

President, C. H. Howell, '12.
Vice-President, Paul Maxon, '11.
Secretary, H. W. Jacquith, '11.
Treasurer, Wm. Short, jr, '12.

There will be a meeting in the near future at which the names of the men in college desiring to enter upon the work will be enrolled. The most important step taken thus far is that of having men act as probation officers in the Juvenile court. Each student will be given a youthful offender to look after and be responsible for. The association hopes to accomplish much good by this method and it is expected that liberal support will be given by the undergraduates.

The Football Schedule.

To the Editor of the Trinity Tripod:—

Dear Sir:—"Boston Alumnus" has made some good suggestions in the way of names for use in future football schedules. On the other hand, in criticising this year's schedule, (while it would be absurd to call it perfect) he appears to have overlooked some important points:

1. Assuming that the teams under consideration, his choice and ours, are alike desirable, his are all from New England while ours include, in addition to West Point, one college conspicuous in central New York, another in New York City, and another in Pennsylvania. In playing these, we widen our own horizon and at the same time open the eyes of others to ourselves. A practical illustration of the value of this policy is to be found in this year's entering class.

2. Football permits but eight or nine games per season. Consequently, no college can have so broad a schedule as, for example, would be possible in baseball. As a matter of fact, the football manager was unable to secure one particular interesting home game he had planned, he also tried in vain to arrange games with at least two of the five teams suggested by "Boston Alumnus"! What with the limited number of dates, insufficient funds and the necessity of avoiding "bunching" difficult contests, the task of the football manager, the Graduate Advisory Committee and the Athletic Committee of the Faculty is not altogether simple.

3. The schedule as it stands is at least as hard as what "Boston Alumnus" proposes—his Williams and our N. Y. U. have already tied; so have his Rhode Island State and our Massachusetts State; our Colgate is almost certainly stronger than his Amherst, Tufts or Vermont. Indeed, this year's schedule is extremely difficult as "Boston Alumnus" would have

COMMUNICATION.

My dear Mr. Skinner:

I must regretfully change my plans as regards the traveling arrangements of the team before the New York University and West Point games, in view of the serious loss entailed by last Saturday's game and particularly the failure of the men in college to respond adequately to appeals for membership in the Athletic Association.

You may officially state, however, that if one hundred and fifty men have joined the Athletic Association on or before the Saturday preceding the New York University game (i. e. November 5th) I will authorize you to take the squad to New York the night before each of the games, provided, of course, permission can be obtained from the proper college authorities.

It might be fairer to those in charge if you took pains to state this to Captain Ramsdell, Mr. S. P. Haight, Mr. Short and Mr. Sherman, as representing the football team, the Athletic Association and the college body, respectively.

Of course, all may yet be well, but it will take a lot of dunning to secure the additional Athletic Association memberships.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Anson T. McCook.
Grad. Treas.

discovered had he glanced at Spalding's Official Football Guide for 1910. Here is a brief synopsis of our opponents' work:

WORCESTER TECH: A veteran team; almost identical with that which beat us two years ago and last year scored upon us. Last year tied Holy Cross and beat Union and R. I. State (the latter one of "Boston Alumnus's" suggestion for this year).

MASSACHUSETTS STATE: This year has held Dartmouth 0-6 and defeated Worcester Tech. Last year tied University of Maine and Union, beat Norwich University and held Brown 3-12

COLGATE: This year tied Brown 0-0. Last year beat Syracuse, Rochester, St. Lawrence, Carnegie, and tied Trinity. It was considered the strongest team in New York State except West Point and possibly Cornell and N. Y. U.

NORWICH UNIVERSITY (Vermont): Last year beat Wesleyan and Middlebury and tied Amherst; was defeated by small scores by U. of Vt., M. A. C. and Trinity.

WESLEYAN: This year has held Amherst 0-3 and beaten Norwich University. Last year beat Hamilton, Union and Stevens; tied U. of Vt.; held Yale 0-11 and Williams, N. Y. U., Norwich University and Trinity to close scores.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY: This year has tied Williams and held Princeton to two touch-downs, nearly scoring herself. Went through last season without a single defeat and was hailed as one of the best lightweight teams in the United States. Beat R. I. State, Haverford, Wesleyan, Stevens, Rutgers and Union, and tied Lehigh.

HAVERFORD: This year has beaten Lehigh. Last year beat Delaware State and Med Chi; held Franklin-Marshall, Stevens and Rutgers to close scores.

WEST POINT: This year has defeated Yale; last year beat Lehigh, Tufts and Trinity and held Harvard to 9 and Yale to 17 points.

4. Football being a strenuous game, it is out of the question to engage every week with teams that tax to the utmost the nervous and physical energies of the men. For example, Yale plays but three of the "Big Six" each year and Harvard but two; that is, the majority of the games played by these strong teams are against smaller institutions. Similarly, at least one or two comparatively easy games are essential to our development. For us to play a Wesleyan or a Colgate every Saturday would be suicide of a very unprofitable sort. As to our playing more "big teams," history has shown the folly of such a policy for a small college which, in the nature of things, can seldom have strong substitutes for every position. Thus, in the old days, about two of our men were laid out for for season by each Yale game—men who could not be replaced. To be crippled in this fashion for our real rivals is scarcely compensated for by a grudging newspaper account of some "close score" game with a large college.

As to our being helped by "association" with any particular institution, in the writer's opinion Trinity can stand on her own feet.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) ANSON T. MCCOOK.

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

Now is the time to show your college spirit! At a time when things look darkest in the direction of football, it is then that the best of moral support is due the team. Your presence at the game tomorrow will be invaluable, especially if you are there to cheer on the Gold and Blue until the whistle ends the contest. There is no doubt that the alumni will be out in force, and they will do all in their power to help their Alma Mater to victory. If it will be the sentiment of everyone that the game is not over until the whistle has blown for the last time, and that the cheering and singing does not necessarily need to cease then, an acme will have been attained which will assure future perfection of true college spirit.

Needless to say, the team and the coach will be in the game heart and soul, from the start to the finish, and it is a sacred obligation of every man on the bleachers to play his part, as it may best be realized, both in an individual and a collective way. Remember always—Trinity—in victory and defeat.

Founder's Day, Tuesday, a Holiday.

Tuesday, November first, will be All Saints' Day. This is observed as Founder's Day at Trinity, and college exercises will be suspended for the day. Chapel exercises will be held, notice of which is given elsewhere.

A pamphlet, edited by J. J. Whitehead, '13, designed for the use of the students, containing the words of the college and campus songs, will be on sale Friday afternoon, and also on the special train to Middletown on Saturday. The following songs from this pamphlet will be used at the Wesleyan game:—

"Oh, Don't You Remember," "Down in Middletown," Trinity Marching Song, "Good Old Trin," "It Looks to Me Like a Trinity Day," and "Neath the Elms."

ALUMNI NOTES.

'69.—W. C. Brocklesby died at his home in West Hartford on October 9.

D. in 1908. From 1852 until 1854 he was librarian of this college. Dr. Jarvis' early work was that of a civil engineer, and he did not take orders until later. During the Civil War he was a chaplain in the National service. From 1874 until 1909 he was rector of Trinity church, Brooklyn, Conn., and during the last year of his life he was rector emeritus. Dr. Jarvis was the last survivor of his class. The funeral took place Thursday at Brooklyn, Conn.

will be repeated. Trinity students and those who have followed the work of the team, are confident that the team will play the best game of the season against Wesleyan. The spirit of confidence which characterized Trinity's supporters in the past few years previous to the Wesleyan game, is not quite as strong, owing to the many injuries that the players have received, but there is no doubt in their minds that Saturday's struggle will be a struggle to the finish with the Gold and Blue fighting in their usual hard, driving fashion until victory results for the college "on the hill," or defeat is unavoidable.

Wesleyan will be somewhat strengthened by the return of Captain Mitchell to the line-up. In case Gildersleeve is unable to play, Howell will be moved out to end and Moore placed at tackle. The team will line up as follows:

COLLEGE MEETING LAST NIGHT.
Big Preparations for Wesleyan Game.
A college meeting was held Thursday night in Alumni Hall, for the purpose of rehearsing cheers and songs before the Wesleyan game. C. E. Sherman, '11, president of the college body, called the meeting to order at 7 o'clock. Sherman announced that next Wednesday a panoramic picture of the college body would be taken, and that photographs will be on sale for one dollar and twenty-five cents, each.

Wm. Short, jr., secretary and treasurer of the Athletic Association, then spoke about the lack of funds. Every man, he said, who has not yet purchased an athletic association ticket, should do so at once, for financial conditions are in a very precarious state, and if Trinity is expected to win the N. Y. U. game, enough money must be raised to send the members of the team down to New York the night before the game.

Neff, '11, then led several cheers, and a new individual cheer was introduced. Whitehead, '13, led the singing. The songs rehearsed were: "In the Days of 'Noughty Nine," the "Marching Song," "Down in Middletown," "Good Old Trin," and the meeting closed with "Neath the Elms."

Why should I insure my life?
Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.
You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.
Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.
When should I insure my life?
Now! The cost will never be less, and to-morrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.
Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.
Where shall I insure my life?
In a purely Mutual Company. In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends. In a company that is doing a conservative business.
Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.
For further information, address the Company, or any of its agents.
