HARTFORD, CONN., Tuesday, March 14, 1911.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

DEDICATED TO GEORGE D. HOWELL,

Services of Prominent Alumnus Recognized by Ivy.

The 1912 Ivy board has voted to dedicate this year's volume of the annual to George D. Howell '82, by reason of his signal services to the college in the past few years, and as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the undergraduates.

The Ivy is practically all in press now, and subscriptions can be received only for a few days longer. The edition this year, though limited strictly to advance orders, will be much larger than usual.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

Stanford women are to erect a $25,000 club house soon.

The members of Phi Beta Kappa among the American Rhodes Scholars who are now studying at Oxford University have organized themselves into a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholastic society, with the intention of extending the society into foreign soil as a recognition of scholastic ability and achievement.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology's recent annual military hop was rudely interrupted when a breathless, bare-headed messenger boy rushed into the ball-room of the Tuileries with a special order from the secretary of war in Washington, relative to the movement of the Technology battalion to the scene of war in Texas. The message created consternation among the members of the battalion present at the ball, and visions of actual bloodshed and carnage were seen by all.

Immediately upon Major Golden's announcement of the receipt of the special orders, a detail was sent to the freshman barracks to prepare those not present at the hop for the probable departure for Texas. Unflinching in the face of possible death on the coming expedition the members of the institute's standing army continued to trip the light fantastic for a few hours more, while each fair damsel gazed into the eyes of her soldier partner as they waltzed slowly around the hall to the appropriate tune of "My Hero."

Bowdoin is building a new outdoor track.

Columbia very recently held a mammoth smoker to work up the enthusiasm of students for the better support of their 'varsity crew.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology aero club is at work on two biplanes, one of which is to be equipped with a motor, and the other used as a glider for beginners.

TO STUDY SOCIALISM.

Non-Propagandist Study Club Organized.

Definite steps toward the organization of a club for sociological study were taken Saturday afternoon, when at a meeting of several undergraduates Alexander L. Trachtenberg '11 was elected temporary president. It was agreed that the club should be called "The Trinity College Society for the Study of Socialism," and that its membership should include anti- and non-socialists as well as supporters of the movement. The organization will be along the lines of similar societies at Yale, Cornell and other institutions.

Those present at the meeting, charter members of the society, were: Sherman '11, Trachtenberg '11, Hickey '11, Craik '12, Bird '12 and Kendall '12. Trachtenberg, Hickey and Bird were appointed a committee to draw up a constitution.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'01—A prospective member of the class of 1932 arrived March 8th at Tiverton, N. J., the temporary home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Clement.

'06—Captain Michael F. Owens and Lieutenant Philip E. Curtis of the First Regiment, Connecticut National Guard, have been appointed to service in Texas during the present trouble.

'09—W. Gilbert Livingston is teaching at St. Paul's School, New Hampshire.

'10—The address of F. S. Kedney is changed from Norwich, Conn., to care of Richmond Sales Co., 71 State street, Albany, N. Y.

'10—Henry S. Marlbor is with the Hartford Rubber Works.

'10—J. R. Cook has returned to Hartford from his home in Centerville, Maryland, to accept a position with the Travelers Insurance Co.

By issuing bonds to alumni, Yale hopes to secure funds to build a $400,000 stadium.

The University of Santo Thomas, at Manilla, is the oldest educational institution under the American flag.

In a debate before Yale Union on the question: "Resolved, That Yale is still fifty years behind Harvard," the affirmative won.

There are four silver loving cups on exhibition at Wesleyan to be awarded for proficiency in apparatus work and wrestling.

Four students have been suspended at Kansas for practicing crooked politics in connection with class elections.

CLASS BASKETBALL SERIES.

Contest for College Championship Next Monday.

The annual interclass basketball games will be played on the evening of Monday, March 20th, having been postponed from last night on account of a temporary inability of Dr. Swan, who is to referee. The games to be played will be the seniors vs. juniors, and sophomores vs. freshmen. The winners of these two matches will contest at a date to be decided upon later.

At present it looks as though the seniors and sophomores have the advantage over the other two classes, as they have furnished the material for the 'varsity team. The other teams, however, are composed of good men, and the matches Monday should prove exciting and interesting. The line-ups will probably be drawn from the following: 1911, Carroll, (captain), Ramsdell, Gildersleeve, Brainerd, Dissell and Conroy; 1912, Blecker (captain), Craik, Rankin, Short, Flanagan, Pettigrew, Ahern and Quish; 1913, Moore, (captain), Ward, Horan, L'Heureux and Woodbury; 1914, Sage, (captain), Selden, Baridon, Dexter and James Moore.

BARNETT '13 IN HOSPITAL.

Joseph N. Barnett '13 is in the Hartford hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis, performed Saturday night. Barnett had no warning of his condition until Saturday noon, though the operation showed that the trouble was well advanced. His condition is thought to be serious.

BISHOP SEABURY'S MITRE.

A member of the Canterbury House of Laymen writes in the London Times: "The best-known post-Reformation instance of the use of the mitre, but not in England, is associated with the consecration at Aberdeen in 1784 of Dr. Seabury as the first bishop of the American Church. His mitre which was presented to him at Aberdeen, is still carefully preserved at Trinity College, Connecticut."

Few students, perhaps, realize that the mitre in the glass case up in the library gallery is of such interest.

The record of the awarding of the degree of LL.D. to Abraham Lincoln in 1861 by Columbia University has recently been found by one of the boys attached to the library staff. This record is in an old catalogue of Columbia College, printed in the fall of 1861, in the preceding March of which year Lincoln was inaugurated President of the United States. This was the first college degree Lincoln received.

The properties of the various fraternities at Yale are valued at nearly $1,000,000, according to the new lists of the New Haven city authorities.

COACH CONNERY ARRIVES.

Battery Candidates at Work in the Gymnasium.

Baseball practice, which has been going on in the gymnasium for over a week, was given an added impetus on Saturday by the arrival of Coach Connery upon the scene. Connery arrived from St. Louis the day before and lost no time in coming out to college to look over the men.

Owing to the wetness of the ground the team has as yet been unable to get outdoors, and it is not likely that they will do so for a week or ten days. Each afternoon, however, the battery candidates have been at work in the cage, and judging from the wealth of material in that line the team should have a strong pitching staff.

Coach Connery expressed himself as being very optimistic over the outlook for a good team this year. Saturday afternoon he directed the work, as he will do each day from now on. As a developer of raw material there is no ball player in the East his superior and the team will undoubtedly be in good shape when the opening game is played.

Sayres is the only member of last year's regular pitching staff in college, but a number of men who were not able to play last year have reported, and that department should be in no wise neglected. Sayres, whose experience last season will be of aid to him, will be better able than ever to put up a strong game.

If the present mild weather continues Captain Carroll hopes to get outside before many more days have passed and then the real work of the season will commence. At present the practice is somewhat limited but the pitchers should be in good condition when the time comes to go outside.

SUNDAY CHAPEL.

At the chapel service on Sunday morning, Dr. Luther preached, his text being taken from the Parable of the Vineyard. The rich man sent forth his two sons to work in the vineyard. One son said that he would go but did not. The second son said that he would not go but thought better of it and did go. Dr. Luther likened the United States to an especial vineyard of the Lord. Many of us are called upon to render service in some field of life, whether it be in the church, in politics, or in the social whirl, which we say we will do but do not. And many of us declare we will not do many things in the service of the Lord which we finally do accomplish. The President enlarged upon these two types of men and mentioned the fact that if America is to be for Americans, we must do well the tasks that are set for us to do.

The singing of the college choir was good and showed conscientious effort upon the part of the organist and the men.

"NOW THEN—TRINITY!"

EDITORIAL.

Within two weeks The Tripod will launch a plan, which, if carried out, will give Trinity an immense advantage athletically over all the small colleges in New England and over many of the larger institutions. It will be by far the greatest enterprise that The Tripod has ever undertaken to foster and will be of vital interest to every alumnus and undergraduate, and to every individual whose interests have anything in common with those of the college.

Energetic co-operation will be necessary, and we have no fear that it will be lacking once the subject is broached. The interests of a college in every department nowadays are dependent upon athletics, whether we like it or not, and if Trinity's present rate of growth is not to fall off, immediate and radical steps must be taken to maintain the present high standing in intercollegiate sports. Our athletic supremacy rests now upon too sandy a foundation, and we can no longer put off the ultimate necessity of strengthening the supports.

When the issue outlining the plan appears we want to be able to send a copy to every alumnus and friend of the college from whom an active interest may be expected. Subscribers will confer a favor upon the board and materially serve the college by sending the names of such persons to The Tripod.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'94—Edwin S. Allen is president of the branch of the Laymen's Missionary League, Walter S. Schutz is vice-president, John F. Forward '86 is secretary, and George D. Howell '82 is a member of the executive committee.

'87—A. H. Anderson was recently ananias, as his aide-de-camp with the rank pointed by Governor Tener of Pennsylvania of lieutenant-colonel. Mr. Anderson is a prominent lawyer of Pittsburg and has been a close friend of Governor Tener's for many years.

Intercollegiate Notes.

Harvard is projecting a very radical change in its entrance requirements. The present "point system," under which every prospective student must take examinations and present a certain number of "points" in order to be admitted, is to be abolished, and in its place there will be substituted a so-called "merit-system," a sort of compromise between the examination and certificate systems. The candidate will be required to pass four examinations in subjects that he may choose, one of them being a science; and for the rest of his credit his record in the high school will be submitted.

Ever since Dr. Lowell assumed the presidency of Harvard he has been putting reforms into effect. He changed the elective system; it is not so easy to obtain an A. B. in the college as formerly. Now he aims, in the most far-reaching project of his administration, to break down the barrier that prevents the majority of students in the United States from entering the university. In the past Harvard's entrance requirements have been difficult, her A. B. easy to obtain; the case now bids fair to be that the entrance will be easy and the graduation difficult. In that way the college is not only serving its own interests, but, in permitting a more thorough preparation in high school, those, also, of education in general.

The University of Minnesota has instituted a correspondence extension for the benefit of all the people of the state who wish to avail themselves of it. Nine professors have been assigned to the work. Each assignment for correspondence includes a topical outline and specific library and text references with questions. The student is required to read the assignments, write topical discussions, and send them to the college, where they are read corrected, and returned. Among the subjects offered are elements of currency, banking, economics, American government, law of business associations, and bankruptcy, with principles of accounting and manufacturing.

Work on the Craik site of the new Boston College at University Heights, Newton, is being pushed. One stone building, which is to be the college administrative building, is nearly finished outside. It is of white granite, with a roof covering of vari-colored slate tiles. It is expected that the first building will be ready for occupation in the early fall.

The geological department at Cornell University recently received several hundred pounds of ice from the Illecilewatt glacier in the Canadian Selkirks. The

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

Hartford, Conn.

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and to-morrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.
In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.
In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address the Company, or any of its agents.

Dartmouth's new gym, in which it is said the whole of the college could take exercise at the same time, will be opened early in February. This should certainly boom track athletics at Hanover, as the late springs and crowded quarters of the old gym prevented early and consistent work in track.

At Michigan an underclass advisory system has been instituted, the object of which is to bring every underclassman as soon as possible into relation with some member of the faculty who can give the student his counsel and friendship.

Dr. Guy P. Benton, about to become executive head of Boston University, has, after considerable study, reached the conclusion that fraternities are on the whole beneficial. He thinks they are a power in maintaining constitutional ideals.

A board of information is to be established at Michigan at which the whereabouts of students and faculty members during recitation hours may be learned. The schedule of all members of the University will be kept on file.

In the physical examination of students at Michigan, special attention is given to the detection of tubercular tendency. Whenever any is found the student is dismissed from gym work and given outdoor exercise.

Three new mission study classes have been organized at Nebraska Wesleyan University. Last semester the average attendance was fifteen. University professors lead the classes and college credit is given.

A wireless telegraph station has been installed by "The Daily" at the University of Washington, by means of which the paper will receive news from the entire pacific coast region.

The University of Pennsylvania has opened a new course to school teachers who wish to study at the University. The course consists in lectures and class work upon the grammar and vocabulary.

Michigan University has 1,250 names on its Y. M. C. A. membership list and four hundred more are expected. This institution is confident of having the largest student association in the world.

The Daily Princetonian has created a great deal of excitement by publishing the fact, in an editorial, that the Phi Beta Kappa is a useless organization.

The women of the University of Minnesota have started a campaign to secure the right of voting in the athletic association elections.
