TRACK AND BASEBALL.

Good Material, But Held Back by Weather.

The spring athletics are beginning to assume definite form and the track and baseball men are hard at work daily in preparation for the coming season.

The track candidates, who are quite numerous this year, have been practicing for several weeks in an attempt to work off superfluous fat of the winter, and to get their wind in good shape. All the men have been taking cross country runs whether the days have been chill or warm and there has been a decided improvement shown by most of the candidates. The track is being rolled and put into shape and if the present warm spell continues, it will be ready within a short time for use.

The freshman class has a good deal of promising material this year both in the field events and on the track. Last year the freshmen did not aid very much in the production of a successful team but from indications at present the reverse will be true this season.

Captain Maxon has had several conferences with Coach Colahan and a regular schedule of work has been mapped out which the men are following. Maxon and Wessels, the veteran pole-vaulters, have been practicing indoors all winter and this year they should even exceed their excellent records of last season. As a hurdler Captain Maxon showed beautiful form last season and with his past experience will be a fast man this spring. W. J. Nelson, R. M. Nelson, Buck, Craik, Bates and Bleeker are some of the other veterans who are still in college around whom the team will be built.

The holding of the New England Intercollegiate at Springfield will enable a larger number of Trinity men than ever to compete and the gold and blue should make a better showing than for some years.

Friday and Saturday the baseball candidates put in two afternoons of hard work. Coach Connery was on hand to direct the work and gave the men a hard grueling in their respective positions. There is much to be learned about how to play a position before the actual work of the season begins and Connery has been doing strenuous work in this direction. The field is in a slightly better condition than a few days ago owing to the warm weather and there is every hope that it will be in condition to play upon very shortly. The men are all eager to get out of doors, for the confining work in the gymnasium has become extremely monotonous. Warner, of the new men, has developed at a good rate and Captain Carroll and Coach Connery are optimistic over the prospect of having a good second pitcher. Thomas is also getting into trim and with Sayres the three will make a good trio of pitchers for the season's strenuous schedule. The rest of the men are practicing as much as indoor work permits and conditions are extremely bright thus far.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE.

Pennsylvania Baseball Game Cancelled.

Manager Rankin has been forced to cancel the baseball game with the University of Pennsylvania, which was to be played on their grounds on April 12th, because they were unable to furnish him a guaranty large enough to cover the expenses of the team. In spite of this he tried to get a game with some other college in that vicinity to be played on the day before the game with Pennsylvania, and in this way make the two guaranties defray expenses, but unfortunately he was also unable to do this, and as no other game has been scheduled for that date, it remains open.

The schedule as it now reads, is as follows:

- April 5—Yale at New Haven.
8—Brown at Providence.
12—Open.
20—Cornell at Ithaca.
21—Colgate at Hamilton.
22—Union at Schenectady.
25—Harvard at Cambridge.
29—Williams at Williamstown.
May 6—New York University at Hartford.
13—Army at West Point.
17—Tufts at Medford.
20—Massachusetts Aggies at Hartford.
24—Springfield Training School at Hartford.
27—Fordham at Fordham, N. Y.
30—Wesleyan at Middletown.
June 3—Rensselaer Polytechnical at Hartford.
10—Open.
17—Wesleyan at Hartford.
24—Alumni at Hartford.

"A ROMAN WIT."

Professor Paul Nixon of Bowdoin has published a book of paraphrases of Martial's epigrams under the above title, dedicating the volume to Prof. Elmer Truesdell Merrill, formerly head of the Latin department here. Prof. Nixon is patently a man with a keen sense of humor and it is not too much to say that he has done for Martial what Eugene Field did for Horace. The preface is one that will appeal to the college man who has ever taken a course in Latin poetry.

"Two years ago, in an attempt to prove to certain bored freshmen that the Romans were not at all times hopelessly austere and lofty, I started writing for my Latin classes some of the following versions of Martial's epigrams. They were received patiently, almost cheerfully. This was success. It suggested the possibility of introducing Martial to a larger audience than he now enjoys; and to the general reader, therefore, rather than to the classicist, this modest volume is offered."

There is a copy of the book in the Library.

PROFESSOR GETTELL'S NEW BOOK.

Ginn and Company's new catalog contains an announcement of a new book by Professor Gettell, entitled "Readings in Political Science." It is a book of selections from over 300 works on political theory, and is a companion volume to the "Introduction to Political Science" published last fall. The announcement says:

"This is the first book of readings on the general subject of political science to be published. It is designed to accompany the editor's 'Introduction to Political Science' and the choice and arrangement of the material have been influenced by the plan of that volume. At the same time, however, it may be used to accompany the other manuals that cover the field of political science, or it may be read with profit by all who desire an introduction to the body of of literature that deals with the origin, development, organization and activities of the State."

SUNDAY CHAPEL.

Doctor Luther preached a convincing sermon in the chapel Sunday about the modern tendency to deceive, taking as his text the verse, "Shall I count them pure with the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?" He said that it was a cause for optimism that, although we have found some things wrong which were counted right in the days of the prophet Micah, from whom the above text is taken, yet we have not invented one new way to sin. Off-setting this, however, is an ingrained and growing tendency in the United States to beat the other fellow out, without paying much attention to how we do it. We save money here and there by substituting something cheaper and passing it off as the sterling article, or by giving just a little less than what was paid for. It is a bad sign, said he, that whereas in former years any one who called another a liar would have to be ready to back it up against pretty strenuous rebuttal, to-day if someone calls us a liar we are apt to pass it off with some joke about the Ananias club.

Whitehead, '13, is to be commended for working up such an anthem as "God So Loved the World," from Stainer's "Crucifixion."

NOTICE.

Candidates for assistant manager of track and baseball must hand their names to the secretary of the athletic association (Short '12) not later than Wednesday, so that allotments for association tickets may be made according to the recent ruling of the Senate.

SIGNS OF SPRING.

An hour of brilliant sunshine,
A week of driving rain.
Then snow and sleet, much cold, some heat:
The Spring is here again!
Weatherman.

EDITORIAL.

We do not like these hocus-pocus methods any better than our readers do, but at the present stage of the game we have no alternative. We do feel, however, that it is only fair to keep our constituents informed in a general way as to the progress of the plan, of which we gave a hint two weeks ago, for the improvement of athletics, and particularly of baseball.

The demand for the execution of our ideas to the letter becomes more imperative every day. One week from tomorrow we play Yale, and the most hopeful do not see much chance of any outdoor baseball practice before the end of the week. Everybody admits that we cannot allow such conditions to prevail—everybody agrees that "something must be done." Everybody says "what?" That is the question we propose to answer.

So much for the necessity. On the side of sanction, we will say that we have enlisted the hearty support of the athletic administration, and of those who are its chief advisors. We have not met with a word of discouragement from any source.

We are now engaged in perfecting the technical details, and in order that everything may be as complete as possible we have decided to defer divulging the nature of the project until a somewhat later date than was originally intended. But we can say almost certainly that it will all come out before the Easter vacation, April 12, and we want to have every reader of The Tripod in a receptive mood and ready to come forward with a definite opinion.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

Reed College will begin its career in September, 1912, at Portland, Oregon, starting out with some admirable ideals. No student will be admitted with conditions, nor will the possession or lack of a high school diploma be of weight. The president hopes to be able to have a personal interview with every student before he enters. Both sexes will find an equal welcome, and "no fraternities will be tolerated," nor intercollegiate athletics. The only degree offered is B. A.

The college has at present an annual income of $100,000, which should be ample when it is considered that it has but $150,000 worth of buildings to maintain, and that its enrollment is likely to be small, on account of the limited course and stringent entrance requirements.

The University of Michigan may be represented in track or field events this year by one or more Chinamen. There are 14 Chinese in the University. Also there are 14 in the gymnasium taking the preliminary gymnasium training to emulate their American classmates in college sports.

The Wright Brothers are lending an aeroplane motor to the aeronauts of Michigan for experimental purposes. Undergraduates have already constructed several types of planes and the motor is to be tried in each one to test their relative merits. Prizes will be given the most successful machines.

Owing to the inability to stay within a moderate limit, University of Pennsylvania students have been forbidden to play poker, under pain of expulsion.

The Delta Upsilon Fraternity House at Colby College was burned Sunday night.

Harvard University has completed plans for a new central library building and for the removal of the books now in historic Gore Hall, from the roof of which the American Revolutionists took the lead to make into bullets.

A lake costing $3,200 and covering two acres, is to be constructed at the University of Kansas.

In an election conducted by the Equal Suffrage League, Wellesley students voted nearly two to one against woman suffrage.

An Amateur Detectives' Association has been formed at Purdue, which has for its object, the development of the powers of observation of its members. Each member of the club will, at different times, commit various acts which have been defined as crimes by the rules of the club, and will cover up his crime as far as possible. The other members are to do the Sherlock Holmes act, and prove the crime was committed.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company,

Hartford, Conn.

Why should I insure my life?

Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and to-morrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities, and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.
In a company that earns, declares,
and pays annual dividends.

In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a Company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address
the Company, or any of its agents.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

The voting of students at Oberlin who are mostly Republicans so influences the county elections that a bill has been proposed in the Ohio legislature prohibiting students from voting unless their permanent home is in the college town.

The Tramping Club at University of Pennsylvania is beginning to take long hikes into the country.

More than fifty men entered the competition for the editorial staff of the Harvard Crimson.

Dr. Gregory Meylan, director of the Columbia gymnasium, has collected statistics which show that men who do not use tobacco stand higher in scholarship than those who do, but that 47 per cent.
of the smokers among the students examined had won places on the varsity teams, while only 37 per cent. of the non-smokers could secure places.

M. C. Murphy, famous Pennsylvania trainer and coach, declares that Pennsylvania loses half her eligible football men every year through the one cause of parental objection. He attributes it to the fact that too many of the men live at home.

At Vanderbilt University a student who is absent from classes when representing the college in athletics or acting as a fraternity delegate receives cuts for only one-half the number of absences taken.

Mustaches for the upperclassmen are again becoming popular at Cornell.
Sophomores and Freshmen have been forbidden to wear them.

Of the 16,216 names recorded in Who's Who in America, 56 per cent.
are college graduates, 15 per cent. college men, 12 per cent. academy and normal men, 3 per cent. high school graduates, and only one-fifth of one per cent. self-taught men.

The Students at the University of Denver hold a post-exam jubilee. All of the fraternities and many of the societies of the University put on separate stunts.

At the State University of Iowa a recent action of the faculty has taken away the two hours' credit formerly given to women students for dancing.
