TEAM PLAYS POORLY.

Drop Five Games on the Southern Trip.

Lack of practice and of substitutes told heavily against Trinity's baseball team on the trip South during the Easter vacation. Hitting better than any team which has represented the college in three years, and with pitchers fully as good as those who made the victorious Southern trip two seasons ago, yet the team came back to Hartford having lost all five games played. This was largely due to the loose fielding of the team, the men in the infield not working together well, and the outfielders several times letting easy outs go for extra bases. The men were also troubled by early-season muscle sores and bruises.

Trinity played poor ball in only two games, the first game against Washington and Lee and that against Rutgers, and these came after long and exhausting railroad journeys which no doubt in part accounted for the listless work of the men. The other three games were good, well-fought contests and fully up to the standard of early season college ball. In fact, if the men continue to hit as they did on this trip, then with two weeks of warm weather and hard practice it is a certainty that Coach Dowd will turn out a winning aggregation.

The first game played was against Catholic University at Washington, D. C. Trinity started with a rush, and scored five runs in the first two innings, driving pitcher Ryan from the box. The Catholics came back in the second and third innings and scored three runs, and then added three more in the fourth. Two rank decisions at the home plate by a green umpire and loose fielding by Trinity added five more to their score. Game called at end of sixth. The batting of Howell, Murray and L'Heureux was the feature of the contest.

Score by innings:

C. U.	0	1	2	3	2	3	—11
Trinity	4	1	0	1	0	0	—6

Batteries: — Trinity, Warner and L'Heureux; C. U., Ryan and Scanlon.

In the first game against Washington and Lee Trinity went to pieces in the first two innings, and poor fielding combined with listless pitching on the part of Cook resulted in a score of 17 to 2 in favor of the Southerners. Murray's home run scored for Trinity.

Score by innings:

W. & L.	3	2	0	2	4	2	0	4	x	—17
Trinity	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	—2

Batteries: — Trinity, Cook and L'Heureux; W. & L., Moran and Stewart.

Trinity came back in fine style and the next day put up a fast, snappy game of ball marked by clean hitting and pretty fielding. With the score a tie at the end of the sixth inning and two men down Trinity was given the wrong end of a close decision at the home plate which resulted in two runs and another victory for Washington and Lee. Vizner made a pretty catch of a long fly in this game.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of The Tripod:

It has been my good fortune ever since we graduated from college to act as the secretary of the Class of 1879 and the modus operandi adopted at the outset has been of so much pleasure to the classmates, and of such inexpressible gratification to me, that I would like all class secretaries to reap the benefit of this experiment.

For many years I kept up a personal correspondence with numerous members of the class until one day the idea occurred to me that the interesting information I was getting ought to be enjoyed by all members of the class, consequently I thereafter had carbon copies made of each letter received and mailed those copies to each of the fellows. The letters expressing appreciation of what has been done for them in this way are much more than enough to repay me for the trouble and have resulted in posting all the boys so far as possible on what each member of the class is and has been doing.

Letters have been sent out from the Rt. Rev. Alfred Harding, Bishop of Washington, D. C., whose work has been known to us all through the press of the country; from the Rev. Melvin K. Bailey, whose achievements in the great parish of Grace Church in New York City are wonderful, though not exploited in publications; he preaches to his missionary congregation in Italian; from Orr Buffington, whose success in the legal profession is marked; from Dr. James Stratton Carpenter, a staunch supporter of Trinity, a practitioner of note whose sons are in Trinity now; from Dr. Frederic Chapin, the well-known physician in New York City; from William N. Elbert, the general manager and active spirit in F. M. Andrews & Company, contracting architects of New York City; from Henry J. Fusch, now a professor at the head of

Score by innings:

W. & L.	2	1	0	0	2	0	0	0	—5
Trinity	0	0	2	0	1	0	0	0	—3

Batteries: — Trinity, Warner and L'Heureux; W. & L., Moran and Stewart.

The game against Virginia was marked by heavy hitting on both sides. Bleeker pitched well but was given ragged support. Howell made three hits out of four times at bat.

Score by innings:

Virginia	0	1	0	3	0	3	0	1	x	—8
Trinity	0	0	0	1	0	2	2	0	0	—5

Batteries: — Trinity, Bleeker and L'Heureux; Virginia, Grant and Finlay.

The Rutgers game was the most poorly played of the whole series. A long railroad trip and a rainy day accounted very largely for this. Warner who pitched was not in good form and the support behind him was listless.

Score by innings:

Rutgers	0	2	0	1	0	1	1	2	x	—7
Trinity	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	—1

Batteries: — Trinity, Warner and L'Heureux; Rutgers, Dennis and Bowers.

COLLEGE WEEK.

"Meet Me at Saratoga" July 29th.

The second annual re-union of the National Association of College Men will be held at Saratoga Springs, New York, July 29th to August 4th.

This association numbers among its members and officers prominent men from nearly every college in the country. It was formed last year, and the enthusiasm that was displayed in the whole of the "College Week" last year, prompted the permanent organization and gave promise of increasing zeal in the movement to have college men of all institutions of higher learning meet once every year with the "college spirit" the ground of mutual intercourse.

It is often impossible for men to go to their class or society annual reunions because of the fact that these reunions often occur during the college year, which is not a convenient time for many business men. It is expected that classes and societies will take advantage of "College Week" to have their reunions, for it occurs when most men can take a vacation or leave their business. The two very large hotels in Saratoga will furnish club rooms for this purpose for the use of members of the Association without charge. Membership in the Association is peculiar in this respect, that it entails no obligations, or dues of any sort, as the expenses are met by voluntary contributions. Register and you are a member. More than fifty institutions were represented last year. "Meet me at Saratoga" for the "1912 College Week" is the slogan this year.

The tentative program given out holds forth many attractive offerings including boat races on Saratoga Lake, baseball games between "grads" and "undergrads", a big ball at the Convention Hall, tennis and golf matches, smokers and glee club concerts, winding up with the formal reunion and banquet.

It is hoped that as many Trinity men, undergraduates and graduates, as possible, will make use of this great opportunity offered by this purely college association to partake of real college hospitality and fellowship, teaming with real college spirit.

"NOW THEN, TRINITY."

The baseball team has returned from its Southern trip and will play for the first time on the home diamond tomorrow. The record on the trip was not all that could be wished for, but let us not criticize the team before we consider some of the difficulties it has so far encountered. The game with Yale was played after only two days of outdoor practice, and it was a very creditable showing, all things considered. From that game alone, the coach had to judge of the many players trying for the team, and make his pick for the Southern trip. The team was then up against the proposition of playing five hard games in rapid succession, against the well-trained Southern college teams, on their own diamonds, and after traveling the whole night before in most cases. And the pitchers were pitching their first games, and had behind them for the most part an inexperienced group of players. With these facts in mind, ought we to hastily condemn the team, or its coach? Rather let us, every man of us, get out and cheer the team on to victories for the remainder of the season. The season is young yet, and all our baseball victories are before us, so let us be optimistic, and let our criticism of the team be in like vein.

the leading school at Athens, Alabama; from Sidney G. Fisher, one of Trinity's strongest friends whose facile pen has produced many a readable book that has made his name known throughout the country; from Rev. William E. and his brother Thomas A. Hyde, zealous workers in the Church militant; from Walter Calvin Hagar, the head of the Chauncy Hall School in Boston, where boys are prepared particularly for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; from Winfield Scott Moody, the well-known magazine writer, for many years connected with Scribner & Sons; from Rev. William E. Potwine, who frequently writes a glowing letter about Honolulu and his work among the natives there; from Arthur E. Patterson, vice-president of Morse & Rogers, New York City; from Capt. Benjamin Stark, for many years connected with the regular army in the Philippine Islands; from Frank N. Shelton, a successful rancher at Bluewater, New Mexico; from Alpheus H. Snow, who won success at the bar and is now retired; from Rev. Frederic W. White, a pious worker in the Church in Philadelphia; from the Rev. Lorin Webster, the head of the Holderness School at Plymouth, N. H., and so on.

It is an inspiration to hear from all these men and to know of the various work which they have undertaken in the daily walks of life. It always warms my heart to know of the success of any son of Trinity particularly if he be a member of the good old class of 1879.

With the best of good wishes,

Faithfully yours,

ROBERT L. WINKLEY.

To Professional Men:

No class of men need life insurance more than do professional men. As a rule, the income of a professional man is largely, if not wholly, dependent on his brain, and when the activity of the mind ceases, his income ceases, or is at once greatly reduced.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company offers to the professional man who desires to assure his wife and children for life, or for a specified term of years, the continuance of a substantial part, at least, of the income to which they were accustomed during his lifetime, a contract perfectly suited to these needs.
