Glee Club Coach.

The Glee Club has secured the services of Professor William Augustus Weyhe, of Hartford as coach for the ensuing year. Prof. Weyhe has had wide experience as a vocal teacher and has studied both here and abroad. Leader Fort expresses himself as being very well pleased with the choice of Prof. Weyhe, who is rapidly whipping the Club into shape.

Alpha Chi Rho Dance.

A very pleasant informal social affair was given on Saturday by the Phi Psi Chapter of the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity at their house, 76 Vernon Street. The guests assembled at the house immediately after the Trinity-Haverford game. A buffet luncheon was served at 7 o'clock, after which entertainment was furnished the guests in the shape of entangling cobweb cords strung about the house, discovering the various favors at the end of each, and listening to readings by Miss Adams of West Hartford and songs by Miss Marjorie Wilson of New York. Dancing started at 8 o'clock and continued until midnight.

The patronesses were Mrs. Mahaney of New York, Mrs. Raymond G. Gettell, Mrs. W. L. Barrows, and Miss Greenwood of New York. There were present also, the Misses Beatrice Hills, Louise Ray, Della Taintor, Eleanor Beij, Margery Tracy, Helen Lester, Charlotte Furnival, Chrystalle Bartlett, Ada Heublein, Beulah Hills, Dorothy Lewis, Gertrude Grey, Miss Mabelle Gates of Somers, Miss Ruth Adams of West Hartford. Rev. Adriaance Moore of South Glastonbury, Dr. Mahaney of New York, and S. Price of Amherst College.

TRINITY FINDS QUAKER TEAM EASY.

HAVERFORD POWERLESS AGAINST HEAVY AND FAST TRINITY BACKS. HUDSON, LAWLOR AND MOORE STAR.

The Quaker eleven from Haverford went down to defeat before the Trinity team on Saturday last to the tune of 32 to 0. The visitors were completely outclassed and gained first down but four times while Trinity made her distance seventeen times. The charging of the local line was powerful and on the defensive it was an impassable barrier to Haverford's plunging backs. The red and white could gain only by the forward pass which was used freely. One pass was shot for a distance of twenty-five yards which marked the only burst of brilliancy on the part of the visitors. Hudson, as usual, ripped the opposing line into shreds and tore off a long run for a tally after making a spectacular leap for a forward pass from Sage. Collett furnished the thrill of the game when he intercepted a forward pass and galloped down the side line forty yards to a touchdown. Lawlor picked his way through holes in the line for steady and consistent gains. Of the substitutes put in by the blue and gold, all gave a good account of themselves. Ives was given his first chance to play and made himself valuable by his interference for Collett on his long run. Wooley, on his first appearance on the 'varsity line-up charged through from guard with laudable regularity. Smith, taking Hudson's place at full in the last quarter, after the latter had wrenched his knee, kicked and squirmed his way through for two long gains and Meyer, relieving Lawlor, who had injured a hip, at right half, fought like a wild cat when the visitors' secondary offense tried to stop his progress after long charges through tackle and guard.

It actually took Trinity but a trifle over five minutes to "sew up" the game, the gold and blue scoring two touchdowns in rapid succession at the very outset, and adding yet another before the close of the first quarter. The result of the game was never in doubt after the first few minutes of play, and only once did Haverford have a chance to score. This was when Porter essayed a field goal from the 35-yard line in the third quarter, but J. B. Moore broke through and spilled him before his boot had touched the ball.

For Haverford, the individual stars were Carey and Porter, the former showing remarkable skill in getting off his forward passes.

The Quakers proved themselves "game losers," and fought hard but cleanly to the finish. The hardness and accuracy of their tackling was also notable.

Thomas kicked off to Collett at 3.10, and Trinity's captain ran the ball back to his own 45-yard line. Lawlor made 10 yards through tackle and 7 more through center. Hudson then hit the line for a first down. Another plunge by Hudson for 15 yards and a 10-yard penalty for Haverford put the ball on the Quaker's 5-yard line, whence Hudson carried the ball over for a touchdown after the Pennsylvania team had held three times. Kinney kicked the goal. This touchdown was made within four minutes of the first note of the referee's whistle. Score: Trinity 7; Haverford 0.

Porter kicked off to Hudson who was downed on his own 20-yard line. Sage punted to Carey, and it was the Quaker's ball on their own 15-yard line. Haverford failed to gain on three line plunges, and Porter punted to Collett who was tackled on Haverford's 40-yard line. A spectacular forward pass, Sage to John Moore, gained 35 yards for Trinity. Three successive line plunges by Hudson carried the ball across the goal line for a touchdown. Kinney missed the goal. Score: Trinity 13, Haverford 0.

Porter kicked off to Howell, who was downed on Trinity's 40-yard line. Lawlor made 6 yards through the line and Collett, 5 more through center. A succession of line plunges and end runs by Collett, Hudson, and Lawlor, put the ball on Haverford's 10-yard line, and a powerful plunge by Lawlor carried it over for the third touchdown. Lawlor fumbled the kickoff and no try for goal was made. Score: Trinity 19, Haverford 0. The quarter ended immediately after Porter's next kick-off, and Sage's return punt to Carey.

When the second quarter opened it was Haverford's ball on her own 40-yard line. Haverford made first down for the first time on a penalty, then the defense stiffened, and Porter punted, the ball going out of bounds, on Trinity's 35-yard line. A series of line rushes by Lawlor, Hudson, and Collett netted 40 yards. This put the ball on Haverford's 28-yard line, and a sensational forward pass, Sage to Hudson, carried it over the goal line. Kinney missed the goal. Score: Trinity 25, Haverford 0.

After the next kick-off, Porter and Taylor pulled off a spectacular 35-yard forward pass. Hudson intercepted the next attempt at the same play, on Trinity's 35-yard line. Haverford recovered the ball on a fumble, but lost it again in Lawlor's catch of an attempted forward pass. Sage punted to Carey, and Sangree made a pretty

JUNIOR PROM AFTER EASTER.

George C. Burgwin Elected Chairman of Committee.

The project of having the mid-year examinations advanced a week and of holding the Junior Promenade before Lent sets in, has been abandoned, and at a class meeting held early yesterday afternoon the Juniors voted that the Prom take place shortly after Easter. Proceeding to the election of chairman of the Prom committee, Geo. Collinson Burgwin, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., chairman of the sophomore hop committee last year, was chosen. Louis O. de Ronge, of St. James School, Md., was elected secretary and treasurer. The entire committee has not yet been appointed.

SUNDAY CHAPEL.

Rev. D. W. Gateson, '06, Asks for "Righteous Judgment."

Those who attended chapel Sunday morning had the privilege of listening to an excellent sermon delivered by the Rev. Daniel Wilmot Gateson, Trinity, '06. Before announcing any text, Rev. Mr. Gateson declared his purpose of giving a little destructive help before giving any constructive suggestions. He then pointed out three faults which the college man is in especial danger of committing: firstly, the superficiality of judgment in college life, which often causes men to undervalue others who are really their judges' superiors; secondly, the neglect to seize opportunities, as offered by courses of studies and the intercourse with professors; and thirdly, the practice of self-gratification in the minor as well as in the greater affairs of life.

After thus briefly outlining grounds for improvement, Mr. Gateson announced his text from John 7: 24: "Judge not according to appearances, but judge righteous judgment." He said in part: "Don't make the mistake of following the whim of the moment in seeking or neglecting opportunities, but think it out carefully, using 'righteous judgment'. The best way to develop character is to practice daily little acts of self-sacrifice and self-denial, in order to be able to stand the greater test that will surely come. Hell hereafter can be no more than the hell which we are making for ourselves here on earth if we fail to realize that every trifling sin that we commit leaves a stain on our character, and that evil habits which we form in our youth will stay with us throughout life". He ended by quoting the poem by the Bishop of Exeter, "Give Us Men."

Meeting of College Association.

There will be a meeting of the Association of New England Colleges at Bowdoin, New Brunswick, Maine, the twelfth of next month. Professor Babbitt is the delegate from this college.

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

Trinity-Wesleyan Football Game
at Middletown on Saturday, November 16.

The Board of Trustees made a fortunate choice in Mr. Benjamin Wistar Morris, of the firm of LaFarge & Morris, as the architect of the future addition to Trinity College buildings, Williams Hall. He is an architect of no small merit and many notable structures now stand as a tribute to his ability. We would not have it different. When one looks back and notes the list of great architects who have helped, each in his own particular measure, to make of Trinity buildings, past and present, masterly creations of art, one realizes that Mr. Morris is adding his name to a famous coterie of masters of architecture.

Solomon Willard, from whose plans the original Jarvis Hall was built, was in the top rank of his profession at the time, and numbered among his works Bunker Hill Monument. Old Seabury Hall was designed by Samuel F. B. Morse, who had gained world-wide recognition through his connection with the telegraph. Seabury Hall contained the chapel, library, cabinet and several other public apartments, and the plans were carefully drawn and the building was a model one of its sort.

Trinity's present buildings, with which we live on such familiar terms that it almost breeds contempt—especially in this twentieth century when we are all prone to depreciate our advantages and to cast aside our blessings without sign of recognition—was erected from the original Burges' plans for an immense quadrangle. Those favored few who tarry at their leisure in the room outside of Prexy's Sanctum can call up a mental picture of those plans—unless, perhaps, they have always viewed them at a time when nerves were partially unstrung. Mr. Burges was a noted architect, also—one of the leaders of "Victorian gothic"—will probably go in the Trinity Hall of Fame, for the grand old college building he planned for us and for future generations of Trinity men.

Mr. Morris has allied himself with a group of noted artists whose results have been all that could be desired, and every Trinity man can place the utmost faith in the newly-appointed architect, and in the results he will achieve. We are proud that he is numbered among our alumni, and glad that he will be able to do so much for the Alma Mater that meant so much to him.

end run for 9 yards. Time was then called for the first half. Score: Trinity 25, Haverford 0.

During the last half, Sage played safe, punting frequently.

The third period was scoreless, Porter kicked off to Hudson, and Sage and Carey exchanged punts. A Trinity fumble gave Haverford the ball on Trinity's 35-yard line. Here Porter tried a field goal but J. B. Moore blocked the attempt. Line plunges by Hudson and Collett and a forward pass, Sage to Cole, carried the ball to Haverford's 8-yard line, where Hudson was injured and forced to leave the game. Trinity failed to make the distance without her star full-back, and the quarter ended after Carey's punt to Sage.

The last quarter opened with the ball in Trinity's possession, on Haverford's 40-yard line. The Quakers recovered the pigskin on a fumble, and tried a forward pass, which Collett intercepted and aided by fine interference, ran back 40 yards for a touchdown. This was the most spectacular play of the game. Kinney kicked the goal. Score: Trinity 32, Haverford 0.

Kinney kicked off to Carey who was downed on his own 25-yard line. Porter punted to Collett on Trinity's 35-yard line. Powerful line plunges by Smith and Meyer had brought the ball down to the Quaker's 32-yard line when the final whistle blew. Score: Trinity 32, Haverford 0.

Williams Defeats Wesleyan.

Wesleyan met defeat on Saturday at Williamstown at the hands of Williams College by a score of 10 to 7. In the first two minutes of play, the Williams quarterback, Lewis, by wonderful dodging, tore off 35 yards through a broken field for a touchdown, from which goal was kicked. There was no further scoring until the last period, when the Williams captain kicked a goal from placement on the 30-yard line. The Red and Black then became desperate, and by a series of clever forward passes carried the ball to within striking distance of their opponents' goal, where after a series of small gains through the line, Bacon carried the ball over for Wesleyan.

The two teams were very evenly matched on the line, but Wesleyan shone in the forward pass. By his punting and all-around good work, Bacon was easily the star for Wesleyan.
