HARTFORD, CONN., FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 1913

PRICE FIVE CENTS

1914 AND 1913 WIN.

Second Pair of Games Closer than First.

In the second pair of interclass games, played in the gymnasium last Wednesday, 1915 took a close contest from 1913 by the score of 18 to 14, while 1914 triumphed over 1916 to the tune of 16 to 8.

The senior-sophomore game was a well-played and closely-contested struggle throughout. The first half was "nip and tuck," the count standing 9 to 7 in 1915's favor when time was called. The second half afforded a still warmer tussle and was full of thrills. During a great part of this period, there was but a one-point margin between the two fives, but 1915 gradually pulled ahead and came under the wire four points to the good, the final score standing 18 to 14 in the second-year men's favor.

The most sensational single feature of the day was L'Heureux's hair-raising one-hand shot from under the shadow of 1913's goal, which went into 1915's basket with the speed and accuracy of one of "Red's" own throws to second. This feat won the doughty baseball captain an ovation that would have gladdened the heart of a presidential candidate.

For 1915, the individual stars were Captain Brainerd and Vizner, the latter making several spectacular shots from the floor, while the former displayed great accuracy in dropping the ball in the cage from free throws. Smith played a strong game at guard for the sophomores, while Carpenter, who played at forward the first half, displayed an abundance of speed.

In addition to L'Heureux, whose spectacular work has already been mentioned, Ward and Moore did good work for the seniors, the former playing a brilliant game at right forward. F. J. Brainerd showed good form at the other forward.

The line-up:

1913	RF	1915
E. L. Ward	RF	Carpenter, Shelley
F. J. Brainerd	LF	H. L. Brainerd
J. B. Moore	C	Vizner, N. R. Sage
L'Heureux	RG	McCue, Vizner
Hathaway,	LG	Smith
Deppen

Goals from field: Vizner 4, Ward 2, H. L. Brainerd, F. J. Brainerd, Carpenter, McCue, Hathaway, L'Heureux. Goals from fouls: Ward 4, H. L. Brainerd 4. Referee, Dr. Swan.

The contest between 1914 and 1916 was a somewhat slower affair than the '13-'15 set-to, particularly in the first half, but the second period showed some improvement in speed. Neither five scored a point in the first ten minutes of play, a pretty basket by Fort finally dispelling the "jinx." H. A. Sage soon caged the ball again, and the score at the close of the half stood 1914, 4; 1916, 0.

Captain Jim Moore started off the second half for the juniors with a pretty goal from field, and repeated the feat a couple of minutes later. Baskets

TRINITY APPEARS ON SCREEN.

Moving Pictures at Empire of Views in Hartford.

Some excellent pictures are being shown at the Empire this week. One reel is devoted to Hartford views, and of course the college, among other subjects, appears on the screen. The portion devoted to Trinity is simply a view of the main building, but an excellent idea of its size and symmetry can be obtained by the person who has never seen the college. There are no recognizable figures, but three or four lacrosse enthusiasts can be seen in the dim distance throwing the ball at one of the section storm doors.

Other Hartford views are the Y. M. C. A., the cathedral, Main Street, memorial arch, and the capitol. There are also excellent pictures of the governor's inaugural parade, and two or three of the militia or of the Foot Guard can be recognized as well-known figures on the campus.

Track Squad in Gym.

Dr. Swan and Captain Wessels have organized a special gymnasium class for the members of the track squad. The first meeting of this class was held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The exercises prescribed for the class are setting-up exercises, etc., such as are best fitted to get the man into condition for the regular track work. Permission to use the State Armory has been obtained, and regular track work is to be held there, beginning today.

by Baridon and Lawlor increased 1914's lead, and during the rest of the half the third-year men were out of danger. In the last few minutes of play, with the score 15 to 0 in 1914's favor, the freshmen five started a belated rally, and two goals from the floor by Castator and one by Morgan, combined with two goals from fouls by Morris netted eight points. Dunn caged one more shot for the juniors, and the final score stood: Juniors 16; Freshmen 8.

Captain Moore, Dexter and Fort did very effective work for the '14 delegation, as did also H. A. Sage during the time he was in the game. Baridon, who was prevented by illness from playing 1914's first game, played for a few minutes and displayed good form.

Morris, Castator and Captain Tiger did the best work for the freshmen. R. A. Brown and Morgan, making their basketball debut for 1916, acquitted themselves creditably.

The line-up:

1914	RF	1916
H. A. Sage,	RF	Tiger
Baridon, Moses
Fort, Dunn, Senay	LF	Lambert, Morgan
Lawlor	C	Morris
Dexter	RG	Woolley
J. A. Moore	LG	Castator,
		R. A. Brown

Goals from field: Moore 3, Castator 2, Fort, Sage, Baridon, Dunn, Lawlor, Morgan. Goals from fouls: Morris 2. Referee, Dr. Swan.

NO THEY CAN'T VOTE.

So the Negative Decides for Women in Debate.

At a meeting of the debating Association, held in the History room Tuesday evening, the following question was debated: Resolved: that the American Commonwealths should grant Women Suffrage. Roberts, '14, Fitzpatrick, '14, and Smith, '13, were appointed judges by the chair. A. E. Barns, '15, and O. W. Craik, '16, argued for the affirmative, while D. H. Evans, '15, and T. C. Brown, '15, upheld the negative, and won the debate.

Barns, '15, was the first speaker for the affirmative. He said there were two things advocated by those who favor Woman Suffrage: that women should vote, and that they should hold office on an equality with men. Men have kept the suffrage from women not in order to tyrannize over them, but because they did not think it was for the good of the country that women have this power. The affirmative would endeavor to prove that it was expedient for women to vote; that it was good for the country; that women have the right; and that women suffrage has done good where it has been tried.

The speaker first took up the question of right. The people governed should have a voice in their government; according to our Constitution all men are free and equal; women are highly educated; their moral standards are higher than those of men; the ballot is a protection and women need the protection and influence that it gives. He then dwelt upon the expediency of women voting. They need the protection as well as men, and without the ballot they leave no way of taking care of their property.

Evans, '15, in arguing for the negative, dwelt upon the miserable conditions in Utah and Colorado, where woman suffrage has prevailed for some years. In Utah divorce and licentiousness have been on their increase since it was instituted. In Colorado juvenile crime is increasing in spite of the women voters and Judge Ben Lindsey. If woman suffrage were granted we would create a privileged class, which is absolutely opposed to our ideas of government, for women are unable to fulfil the full duties of citizenship since they are physically unfit for military or police duty. What is needed is better education; and woman's part is to bring up and educate her children. Woman suffrage has caused great chaos in California politics, and on account of this chaos Governor Johnson, the Progressive leader, was enabled to disfranchise a large number of Taft Republicans at the recent elections.

Craik, '16, declared that history shows the advantages of universal suffrage. In no country has oligarchy been a source of good. It is much harder to buy up a large number of votes, than those of a privileged few. There are not as many bad women in the world as bad men, and the bad in both sexes would neutralize. Women

THIEVES CAPTURED.

Boys Who Made Haul in Jarvis Taken in Pawn Shop.

The solution to the mystery of the pillaging of the rooms of Colin M. Ingersoll, '15, and Dallas S. Squires, '15, on January 11 was stumbled upon Wednesday afternoon, when after their arrest by the two Hartford detectives, Everett Adcock, 18 years old, and David Waters, 18, confessed having stolen $200 worth of property from a room at Trinity College, and to numerous other thefts about Hartford. The arrest occurred when Adcock tried to sell some of the stuff taken from the rooms in Jarvis Hall to a second-hand dealer on Front Street. While Adcock was still in the store, the dealer called up the police, two of whom came and made the capture. Adcock was taken to the detective bureau, when, after a long examination by the detectives who had arrested him and Chief Sergeant John M. Henry, he finally confessed his crimes and told of the share taken by Waters in the theft here at college. Waters was then arrested. He appears to be merely a lieutenant of Adcock's, and so only known to be implicated in the looting of the rooms of Squire and Ingersoll.

The two amateur thieves revealed as their headquarters the office previously occupied by former Mayor William F. Henney at No. 11 Central Row. Adcock had formerly been employed by Judge Henney and other men having offices in the row to clean up their rooms, and thus secured a key to Judge Henney's office. After the judge vacated the office, Adcock returned the key and used the rooms as a sleeping quarter and a place to store plunder.

The police entered this den, and found a few of the articles stolen from the rooms at college. Ingersoll has identified a pair of hockey skates and Squire a neck-tie clasp, studs, and class pipe. By far the larger part of the plunder had been disposed of, as the two culprits made a trip to New York soon after the theft and there pawned and sold much of the stolen goods. The New York police have been notified, but nothing has been learned from them as yet.

Besides Adcock and Waters, there was another fellow whose name is not known, who was present when the theft was committed. Adcock told how he had plundered the rooms, cramming articles into a suit case, while Waters and the third member of the gang patrolled the college walk. Adcock and Waters went down town, cashed several hundred tobacco coupons which they had stolen and then proceeded by trolley as far as Stamford, where they took the train for New York, remaining there until Tuesday.

Adcock confessed to four thefts which had baffled Hartford police during the last few weeks. The theft committed by Adcock at a store on Park Street will serve as a sample of the way in which he worked his robberies. He

OFFICE—1 SEABURY HALL

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

Go to It.

The next Tripod will be issued on Tuesday, February 9, 1913. We hope that the intervening time, with its burden of hard study and examinations, will have only the pleasantest termination for everybody. Don't blame it on hard luck if this pleasure doesn't come. Buckle down to work and assure it to yourself next June. We don't want probationers!

Unity.

At a recent class meeting, the juniors voiced the sentiment that there was too much lack of harmony among the various crowds in college. We think that it will be generally agreed that this is only too true. Perhaps there is no other college in the country in which such a large proportion of the men are members of some fraternity. For a long time, unfortunately, the various bodies have been putting so much emphasis upon the idea of standing firmly for the interests of the fraternity that at times the interests of Trinity have been subordinated. The playing at college politics has done about as much as anything to bring about this state of affairs, as it has destroyed in large measure the friendly rivalry between the different bodies in the winning of college honors, and has in some cases made it, not an honor bestowed by the college body as a reward of merit, but one of the spoils of war resulting from a victory of one set of men pulling against another set.

Obviously, what we need is to establish more intimate relations between the men of all the classes and all the bodies. The smokers inaugurated by the juniors, and voted for by the seniors, is a step in the right direction, and one which it would be well for the other three classes to imitate. In this regard, the freshman dramatics, which is now being planned, is going to unite the men of that class in great measure. The college union proposed by Dr. Luther should prove a great help towards uniting the students, as would the freshman dining hall which has been proposed.

Meanwhile, let us all work together wholeheartedly for the upbuilding of a greater and deeper Trinity spirit, for only by putting Trinity above all else can we hope to hang together, and in so doing we will find that even in our fraternity life will be developed a closer bond of union.

HOCKEY SATURDAY.

Trinity to Play Springfield Training School.

The hockey team will run up against a hard proposition Saturday if there is any ice. Springfield Training School generally manages to defeat Trinity without much trouble when Trinity is in good condition and the game will probably be more or less a farce without any practice at all for the home team. However, as the lack of ice has been rather general throughout New England this winter, perhaps the Training School will not have a great advantage in the matter of having played together. The men who take the trip will be: Captain Burgwin, '14, Little, '14, Walker, '14, Brainerd, '13, Brainerd, '15, Cole, '15, Howell, '15, and Bassford, '14.

entered the store, asked to try on a pair of shoes, and after putting them on got a pair of rubbers. He then sent the clerk to the back part of the store to bring out some underwear for his inspection, and while he was gone, Adcock slipped out the front door. The clerk returned to find him already out of sight.

Three more thefts of similar nature were confessed to by Adcock. Twice he stole boxes of cigars from different stores by asking for some butter before paying for the cigars and slipping out of the store while the proprietor had gone for the butter. Once he was nearly captured when a clerk pursued him for several blocks with a butter knife in his hand, but Adcock finally escaped. A five-pound box of candy was looted from a store on Asylum Street in like manner.

Besides the small portion of goods stolen from the rooms at college, the police found in the den at Central Row a number of automobile robes, which had been stolen to serve as bedding. These are now awaiting identification by their owners. A couple of sweaters, believed to be those stolen from a store during the Christmas holidays, were also discovered. Both boys have parents residing in Hartford, but neither have lived at home for some time. They are held under a bond of $1000.

are fit for the duties of government, for many queens have displayed wonderful talents. The prime requisite is courage, and the women many times have displayed their courage by actually fighting for their homes in our own border wars. Woman need not neglect her domestic duties for politics any more than man is obliged to neglect his duties for this reason. Women are human and have defects as well as men and must not be censured for not immediately radically reforming those states in which they have gained the suffrage.

Brown, '15, of the negative, said that arguments upon this subject are based too much upon a question of sex equality. To take a stand against woman suffrage does not establish the inferiority of women to men, any more than to take a stand against women doing military duty establishes their inferiority. They are unfitted for either duty. Modern progress cannot lead away from the laws of nature. Woman has ever held the higher place.

After arguments in rebuttal on both sides, the judges rendered their decision for the negative and complimented all the speakers on the excellent way in which they had prepared and delivered their arguments.
