ESSAY CONTEST.

Intercollegiate Civic League Offers Prize.

The Intercollegiate Civic League, which consists of a group of some sixty civic clubs, organized in the leading colleges of the country and having as their object the promotion of better citizenship among college men, announces that a prize of one hundred dollars has been offered by a member of its executive committee for the best essay on the following subject:

What training, whether resulting from a college course of study, from extra curricular activities, or from both, would in your judgment best fit an undergraduate in an American college to undertake upon graduation the duties of citizenship?

The competition will be open to undergraduates in any American college or university.

The essays must be typewritten in duplicate and in the hands of the Secretary of the Intercollegiate Civic League not later than May 15, 1914.

They may not exceed 5,000 words in length.

The Hon. Seth Low and the Hon. Robert L. Owen, senator from Oklahoma, have consented to act as the judges.

Professor Galpin Edits Balzac's "Le Cure' de Village."

Professor Stanley L. Galpin, of the department of Romance Languages, has recently completed his work on Balzac's "Le Cure' de Village." It forms one of a new series of French text books published by the American Branch of the Oxford Press under the special supervision of Professor Weeks of Columbia.

The book proper is preceded by a biographical sketch of the life of Balzac, with emphasis laid on the points of his life that were reflected in his work.

Next the theory of the French Realism of the nineteenth century is discussed. The basis of this Realism was the newly awakened knowledge of physiological science and it preached the doctrine of the importance of environment. Balzac was one of the greatest of the Realists, and in a preface to his works, gathered under the title of "La Comedie Humaine" he discussed his theory. Professor Galpin has analyzed the preface to the "Comedie Humaine" and shows how the theories contained therein were applied in "Le Cure' de Village."

Then follows the body of the text, and lastly the notes, which explain the literary and historical allusions, and a small number of difficulties arising from the language. The whole comprises a volume of about three hundred and fifty pages.

Faculty Announcement.

The faculty announces that it has voted that students not residing at the college who ask for excuses for absence on account of sickness, must present a statement from a physician. This regulation began to be operative on Feb. 9.

THE JUNIOR PROMENADE.

THE OLD VERDICT OF "THE BEST EVER" MUST AGAIN BE APPLIED.
WITTSTEIN ONCE MORE RECEIVES AN OVATION.

Junior Week, and the figure about which the universe seems for the time to revolve, the "Prom Girl", have come and gone, leaving in their wake the memory of a series of pleasureable events which reached a superb climax Monday night in the dances of all dances, the Junior Promenade.

Alumni Hall, in its festal attire, had never looked better. From the center of the ceiling hung a huge chandelier of lights, and these, in conjunction with four strings of lights to the corner of the hall, with their glare softened by intertwined southern smilax, illumined perhaps the gayest scene which the hall has ever witnessed. Smilax was draped above the banners adorning the sides of the room, while the west end was decorated with a long festoon of bunting of orange and black, the colors of the junior class. The back of the stage was completely hidden by a huge orange and black 1915 banner. On either side of the stage was hung an electric shield, one bearing the numerals "19" and the other "15". The stage itself was banked with a solid line of palms, partially concealing Wittstein's thirteen-piece orchestra, which rendered itself so popular on the same occasion last year.

The programs this year were a distinct innovation upon those of former years. Those of the ladies were of black morocco, in the form of a card case, while those of the men were in the shape of a bill folder, the color scheme of both programs being orange and black.

The seasonable hour of 9 p. m. had been set for the beginning of the dance, but it was nearer 9.30 when Colin M. Ingersoll, of Ridgefield, chairman of the promenade committee, lead off in the grand march with Miss Clara Whittlesey of New York. The march was brief, and then the dancing proper began. The orchestra generously responded to the repeated encores which their excellent music, the rythm of the tango, and "lame duck," and the charm of the gentler sex, occasioned. After the eighteenth dance supper was served in the gymnasium, where the guests refreshed themselves and stored up energy for the remaining eighteen dances. The orchestra had evidently refreshed itself also, in a way known only to it, perhaps, for the music, which had heretofore been exhilarating, was now little less than intoxicating, and the enthusiasm among the dancers rose to white heat. Especially popular were the selections, "Good Night Princeton," "High Jinks," and "Maori," the Samoan piece so well received last year, which were played as encores again and again. As 5 a. m. drew near, it became necessary to omit encores in order to work in the full number of dances. After the orchestra had played the last waltz, the "Blue Danube," the evening was brought to a fitting climax by a wild outburst into "Maori," and the promenade was at an end, far too soon for many and too late for none.

The patronesses for the "prom" were: Mrs. Arthur Adams, Mrs. Frank Cole, Babbitt, Mrs. Leroy Carr Barret, Mrs. Walter Loring Barrows, Mrs. R. M. Bissell, Mrs. Chauncey B. Brewster, Mrs. Walter B. Briggs, Mrs. W. E. A. Bulkeley, Mrs. Louis R. Cheney, Mrs. Thomas B. Chapman, Mrs. Ansel G. Cook, Mrs. F. W. Carpenter, Mrs. C. H. Cheney, Mrs. Henry Ferguson, Mrs. Joseph D. Flynn, Mrs. C. A. Furnivall, Mrs. Raymond G. Gettell, Mrs. Francis Goodwin, Mrs. Stanley L. Galpin, Mrs. I. K. Hamilton, jr., Mrs. Edward B. Hatch, Mrs. George D. Howell, Mrs. George C. Ingersoll of Ridgefield, Mrs. N. A. Kinney, Mrs. Benjamin F. Knowler, Mrs. Gustav A. Kleene, Mrs. Archer E. Knowlton, Mrs. Flavel S. Luther, Mrs. John J. McCook, Mrs. A. G. McIlwaine, Mrs. Henry A. Perkins, Mrs. C. L. F. Robinson, Mrs. John T. Robinson, Mrs. Charles E. Rogers, Mrs. Frederick T. Simpson, Mrs. Mary T. Smith, Mrs. H. L. Stratton, Mrs. Horace C. Swan, Mrs. Wilbur M. Urban, Mrs. Charles D. Warner.

The promenade committee, the members of which wore ribbons of orange and black, is as follows: Colin Montague Ingersoll of Ridgefield, chairman; Howard Rice Hill of Brooklyn, N. Y., secretary-treasurer; Odgen Doremus Budd, jr., of New York, Maurice Lester Furnivall of Hartford, George Dawson Howell, jr., of Hartford, Louis French Jefferson of Darien, Ronald Earl Kinney of Brooklyn, N. Y., Edward Willis Ludwig of Hartford, George Gordon Nilsson of Cambridge, Mass., Edward Learned Pollock, jr., of Chicago, Ill., Dallas Summerfield Squire of Morristown, N. J., Chester David Thompson of Manchester, N. H., and Bertram B. L. Smith of Chicago, Ill., ex-officio.

Those present at the promenade were: Thomas Wolcott Little of Hartford with Miss Madeline Heminway; Louis O. de Ronge of St. James, Md., with Miss Helen St. John; James Ashton Moore of Geneva, N. Y., with Miss Mildred Bidwell; George Howard Elder of Baltimore, Md., with Miss Dorothy Burlew of Smith College; Randwick Albert Bissell of Brandon, Vt., with Miss Helen Behrens of Smith College; Vertrees Young of Oakmont, Pa., with Miss Sophie Bissell of Brandon, Vt.; I. ### "NOW THEN TRINITY"

That Trinity students should be guilty of intentional rudeness to those who in the last analysis render possible and add so much to the pleasure of Trinity's social life, is hard to believe, but there is ample evidence that in the past, not so dimly remote, the college men have thoughtlessly been discourteous to the patronesses of some of the various college and fraternity social functions. During the examination period, the attention of one student was called particularly to the laxity of the method of inviting the wives of the faculty to be patronesses at the fraternity teas. Often, it was stated, the ladies were asked at the last minute over the telephone, sometimes by men with whom they were not even acquainted, presumably because the men were too lazy or too impolite to make the request through a personal visit. Laxity in the payment of calls, and failure to escort the patronesses to and from the dances or teas, were further charges which seem to be all too well substantiated by facts. Junior Week is past, and with it several former discourtesies and the immediate opportunity of showing improvement along those lines, but there are many more dances coming, and it is sincerely to be hoped that in the future no such causes of complaint will be furnished by students of this college. A little thoughtfulness and the exercise of ordinary courtesy are all that is necessary to eradicate this unfortunate tendency to rudeness.

Psi Upsilon Tea.
The last day of the Junior Week festivities was opened by the tea given by the Beta Beta Chapter of Psi Upsilon at their house on Vernon Street Monday afternoon. The affair was pronounced by all to be one of the most pleasing of the week and was attended by a large number of students and their junior week guests. Those who received were Mrs. Flavel S. Luther, Mrs. Edward Learned Pollock of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Shiraz Morris and Mrs. Benjamin Knower. The chapter house was decorated with palms, ferns and flowers, the prevailing colors being garnet and white, the colors of the fraternity. Hatch's orchestra played for the dancing which continued from four until seven o'clock.

You fellows know what that means! We've been very successful in this regard with Fatima Cigarettes. By the way, these cigarettes were first sold in the college towns—and you agreed with us that they were good. Then we put out for the big race, to make Fatimas of nation-wide reputation, and today more are sold than any other cigarette in this country. No purer, or more carefully chosen tobacco grows than that in Fatimas. We purposely put them in a plain inexpensive wrapper—in this way we can afford quality tobacco, and twenty of the smokes for 15 cents. Now your college crew is of utmost importance to you—so is a good cigarette, and it's your aim in life to keep Fatimas in the lead—right up to their good quality—right up to where you first found them, and will always find them. Success fellows! You started this cigarette on its successful career—and you pull a strong oar all over this country.
