A COMEDY OF ERRORS.
Yale Downs Trinity by Score of 19 to 8 in Loose Game.

With the first opportunity of beating Yale which she has had in years, Trinity sent her great ball team down to New Haven on Friday last, fully confident of victory. The Yale nine blasted this fond hope by administering a 19 to 8 trouncing to the visitors. It was undoubtedly the worst exhibition of baseball—or the lack of it—that the college world has seen in many a day. Trinity's expectation of victory had not been ill-founded, but the team played 'way off form and when Ferris failed to locate the plate after pitching for two innings, the team went up into the air. It was a clear case of stage-fright. Baker was sent in to relieve Ferris, but the mauling continued, due largely to lack of support. Yale played very poorly, making 10 errors to Trinity's 8. There were only two strikeouts in the game, everybody hit the ball, and everybody dropped it. Trinity pounded the ball hard, securing 8 hits to Yale's 15. Had the Blue and Gold defense been of its usual standard, the Eli's would have had a harder time of it.

Yale scored two runs in the opening inning. Falsey and Blossom walked. Falsey scored on Vaughn's hit, but Blossom was thrown out at third by Carpenter. Vaughn stole second and scored on Reilly's sacrifice fly to Lambert.

Trinity scored in the second, Gillooly gaining his base on an error and scoring after Lambert flied out to Middlebrook.

Yale sent four more over the plate in the second. Lambert dropped Walsh's fly, Falsey hit safely and Blossom walked. Vaughn sent a hard drive to right field which rolled through Schmitt's legs. The four men scored.

Trinity ate up some of the lead in the next inning, landing three tallies; Shelley walked. Errors by Reilly and Blossom put Murray and McKay on. Walsh walked, Carpenter and Gillooly, forcing in two runs. McKay came in on Schmitt's sacrifice fly to Falsey.

Yale indulged in a veritable swatfest in the third, batting once around with three over to spare. Seven runs were piled up in the process. Pumpelly's three-bagger ended the day for Ferris; and Baker was sent in. Hits by Mudge, Blossom, Vaughn, with a second one each for Pumpelly and Mudge, a base on balls for Falsey, and two errors by Trinity told the story.

The fourth brought in three men for Yale. McKay muffed Falsey's short outfield fly, Blossom sacrificed, Vaughn walked. Reilly's hit scored both. Reilly scored when Gillooly fumbled Cornish's grounder.

Yale's final score came in the sixth. Blossom and Vaughn singled. Reilly made his base on an error, scoring both runners. Reilly was advanced to third when Cornish sacrificed and scored on Pumpelly's hit.

WORCESTER TECH. TOMORROW.
Prospects of Victory Seem Bright.
Swift May Pitch.

From all the "dope" available it would appear that Trinity has very bright chances for beating Worcester Tech. tomorrow. Saturday the track team was beaten by New Hampshire State, and at no time in the season has shown evidence of great brilliance. On the other hand Trinity will have the same team, which has placed three victories to its credit. If Swift is back and in condition he will probably pitch, otherwise Baker will be on the mound.

Saturday the team journeys to Providence to play Brown. This game is one of the hardest of the season, for Brown has the team that humbled Yale and Virginia. Holy Cross, however, proved that Brown is not invincible, defeating the Providence College by a score of 1 to 0 last Saturday. Trinity's team is sure to put up a hard fight and it is expected that it will make a good showing.

Trinity came across with a ninth inning rally, batting around and doubling her score. Murray flew out to Cornish, McKay walked, Carpenter hit safely and both scored on Gillooly's three-bagger, the longest drive of the day. Schmitt made his base on Pumpelly's error, Gillooly scoring, and Lambert made second when Pumpelly dropped another. Schmitt scored on the play. Brand walked, and excitement ran high as Trinity's score approached the double column. Cornish threw Baker out at first. With two men on Shelley fanned, ending the game.

MAINE WINS MEET.
Trinity Track Team Snowed Under.
Score, 89½ to 39½.

On last Saturday afternoon, at Orono, Maine, the Trinity track team was defeated by the strong track men of the University of Maine, to the score of 89½ to 39½. As the weather was good, the time made was very creditable. Maine was very strong in the distance runners, and Trinity secured only one point in the three of these entries. It was the Maine cross-country team of last year which won the intercollegiate championship. Outside of the distance men, the Maine men had no one except Rice, who made a name for himself last year in the interscholastic records. The individual star of the meet was Hudson, of Trinity, who scored one-half the points for his team, broke two college records and equalled another, winning three firsts and one second. He raised his hammer throw from 141 feet 5 inches to 147 feet 4 inches, and raised the discus record made last year by Moore, of Trinity, from 109 feet 2 inches to 109 feet 10 inches. He equalled Harvey Pond's record in the 220 hurdles of 26½ seconds and also won the 120 hurdles in good time. Furnivall won a fine 440 in 53 seconds flat, and Young ran well in the dashes, securing second in the 100 and 220, to Rice.

The following is the summary of records:

100-yard dash—First, Rice of Maine; second, Young of Trinity; third, Rock of Trinity; time, 10 1-5.

One-mile run—First, Towner of Maine; second, Dempsey of Maine; third, Wessells of Trinity; time, 4:36.

440-yard dash—First, Furnivall of Trinity; second, McCobb of Maine; third, Stonge of Maine; time, 53 seconds.

120-yard hurdles—First, Hudson of Trinity; second, Morse, of Maine; third, French of Maine; time, 16 1-5 seconds.

880-yard dash—First, Bell of Maine; second, McLachin of Maine; third, Dempsey of Maine; time, 2:03.

Broad jump—First, French of Maine; second, Schofield of Maine; third, Pierce of Maine; distance, 20 feet 7 inches.

High jump—First, Palmer of Maine; second, Schofield of Maine; third, Morris of Trinity; distance, 5 feet 6 inches.

Pole vault—First, Thomas and Williams of Maine; third, Stevens and Sawyer of Trinity; height, 10 feet 4 inches.

Discus—First, Hudson of Trinity; second, Bailey of Maine; third, Moore of Trinity; distance, 109 feet 10 inches.

Two-base hits, Baker, Pumpelly, Ives; Three-base hits, Pumpelly, Gillooly; first base on balls, off Ferris 4, off Baker 2, off Walsh 7; struck out, by Walsh 2; stolen bases, Murray, Falsey, Vaughn, Reilly, Mudge 2, Middlebrook; sacrifice hits, Cornish 2, Reilly, Schmitt; hit by pitcher, Cornish; umpires, Beecher and Bedford; time, 2:00.

STEVENS OVERWHELMED.
Trinity Takes Long End of 13 to 2 Score. Heavy Hitting a Feature.

The baseball team showed that it has plenty of the fighting spirit when, after the defeat by Yale on Friday, it came back with a rush on Saturday and snowed under Stevens Tech. at Trinity Field by a 13 to 2 score. The team played with all its accustomed speed and precision, and looked even better than it did against Bowdoin and Rhode Island State. This was largely due to the placing of Ives and Smith in the outfield, changes which the Yale game showed Coach Burns to be imperative. Both these men starred in Saturday's game, Ives getting two clean hits, one a double, and three neat catches, while Smith was also there with two hits, including a long three-bagger. Captain Murray was the big star with the stick, his three hits including a smashing home run. Carpenter and Gillooly were also in the limelight with three safeties apiece. McKay played a beautiful fielding game. He contributed the star play of the afternoon, when he robbed Farvis of what looked like a sure hit, by getting up to a Texas leaguer in short right field and shooting the ball to Shelley a step ahead of the runner. Gillooly got a hand for a nifty catch of a hard foul, and the backstopping and throwing of Carpenter was first-class. Coach Burns sent Ferris into the box, and Ferris pitched an excellent game, being in trouble in only one inning, the eighth. Trinity stole nine bases and got 17 hits, and the combination of heavy hitting and good base running accounted for runs in every inning but the second. Jaeggli was the only Stevens man who showed much in the field, and Belloff and Tenthe were the only ones who could do a thing with Ferris' delivery.

Clean hitting with men on the bases brought Trinity four runs in the first inning and two more in the third. Nicholson could not hold the Trinity sluggers and he retired in favor of Riker who was no mystery either. A run came in for Trinity in both the fourth and fifth frames without much excitement. In the sixth Murray singled again, stole and took third on McKay's single. McKay also stole. Carpenter cracked a safety through short scoring Murray and McKay. In the seventh came the real fireworks. Brand knocked the ball over second base for a single. He stole, and then Shelley was thrown out at first. Murray got a clean home run on a fearful smash to deep center field, scoring Brand ahead of him.

In the eighth Stevens scored the first runs an opponent has registered against Trinity at Trinity Field this season. Johnson got first on an error and Farvis worked Ferris for a pass. Ives nailed Memory's offering. Brand muffed Jaeggli's fly, something he seldom does, and the bases were filled. Belloff, who had two hits to his credit, fanned, and Ferris was given a hand. But Tenthe

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

In the last issue of the Tripod we published a communication calling attention to a grave omission in the Tripod account of "The Prince and the Pauper." We agree unqualifiedly with the writer of the communication as to the immeasurable value of Oscar W. Craik's services in reviving the "Jesters" and can readily believe that without Craik's faithful labor and unflagging zeal, "The Prince and the Pauper" might never have been given. The omission was a most unfortunate one, and we are heartily sorry for this our oversight.

Personal thrusts at the particular associate editor who "covered" the assignment, are, however, unjust and altogether uncalled for. The editor-in-chief was the person directly responsible for the whole issue of which the article in question was a part, and it is with him alone that the blame for omissions and errors should rest.

After writing the above editorial, there occurred to us the case of another error in the same "Jesters' Special Issue." This error was so infinitesimal as to escape the notice, perhaps, of our wariest readers. In our editorial on the play, as originally written, there stood the sentence: "No one person could have made the production the triumph that it was without the presence of the splendid spirit and morale displayed by the entire cast." The little word "one" was somehow lost in the press, and when the paper came out we read the rather meaningless statement that "no person could have made the production the triumph", etc. Ah, well!—"Great Homer sometimes nods" and the most expert Linotype man occasionally drops a word.

Rutgers' Comment on Debate.

The following clipping from The Targum, the Rutgers weekly paper, may prove of interest, as it shows the sentiment of that college in regard to the Trinity-Rutgers debate of April 24.

"The Rutgers single debating team, composed of Woodward, '14, Ernst, '14, Noble, '15, and Scarr, '16 (alternate), defeated Trinity on the evening of April 24 in probably the closest debate in which this college has ever participated. The Trinity team was very well prepared and the victory is due undoubtedly to the rebuttal in which North was applauded until forced to acknowledge it with a bow. The refutation of Ernst was especially good, while Woodward deserves great commendation. The evening was helped along by the Trinity Glee Club (a good suggestion). We hope that relations may be resumed with Trinity next year."

Faculty Note.

In connection with the laying of the cornerstone of the addition to the Hartford High School buildings it is of interest to note that the invocation for the ceremony was written and pronounced by Professor John J. McCook. Dr. McCook has served on the High School Committee and the City Building Commission for several years and it was in connection with these positions, that he took so important a part in the ceremony.

DR. LUTHER'S SERMON.
Preaches on Training for the Business of Lawmaking.
 Last Sunday, President Luther, preaching in the Chapel, began his sermon with the statement that during the week, he had received numerous pamphlets calling on him to preach upon the Mexican situation. But Dr. Luther said he did not know enough about that question to be qualified to preach about it, and he added that he did not think the gentlemen who sent the pamphlets were, either. The president then spoke of the enthusiasm of youth, willing and ready to respond to the nation's call in time of need. But Dr. Luther added, not only must one who is willing to serve his country endure hardship and toil or even sacrifice his own life, but also he must do the business of a soldier, he must kill. However, Dr. Luther said, in case of need, he knew the youth of the nation would do the right thing and the patriotic thing.
 The president then turned to what he thought was a more important question to the people of the United States than the Mexican situation. First he spoke of the importance of the United States to all of her citizens. The nation is the greatest thing in their lives. It can take away the property and life of any one of them in spite of all protests. This nation is responsible to countless unborn generations. One of the greatest evils in the country is the lack of education as regards law-making. We have schools for almost everything else but we have no schools for law-makers. Men are called upon to make laws when they know nothing about that difficult topic.

 Dr. Luther next spoke of the education of the voter. He said when an election occurs, an average is taken of the twenty million voters in this country. The man elected is the average of the intelligence of the voters. But in order to have a correct average, the things averaged must be somewhere near alike. You cannot take the height of a mouse and average it with the height of an elephant in order to find the height of vertebrates. Neither can you take the opinion of an educated college man with several college degrees, who is rich and is in easy circumstances, and average it with that of a newly-arrived emigrant, who is uneducated and knows nothing of the government under which he lives, in order to form a correct opinion upon the problems facing this country. There must be a levelling, but not downward—it must be upward. Education is the levelling instrument, and the problem is to obtain a higher average by bringing up the rear,—educating those who need it most.
