A Christmas Appeal to Help the Starving Belgians.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

Christmas approaches and, to quote the President's Thanksgiving Proclamation, "it has been vouchsafed to us to remain at peace with honor." The duty and the privilege remain of averting starvation amongst the Belgian refugees this winter, and for this special purpose the Dollar Christmas Fund has been organized.

It is estimated to date that all the help subscribed in America—and it has been very liberal—including the aid of the wealthy Rockefeller Foundation—does not average more than a few cents for each destitute Belgian—enough to buy food for a few days.

The Dollar Christmas Fund has one great ambition—to see that every man, woman, and child this Christmas shall have food, clothing, shelter. This great achievement is happily still possible, and to this end we are working with the Christmas Fund of London, which has collected for the same purpose nearly $400,000. The co-operation of the two organizations has many decided advantages. It provides a safeguard against waste from overlapping. It enables our Fund to enjoy the guidance of members of the Belgian Government as regards the distribution of relief. All our workers are voluntary, and every cent subscribed, after deducting the cost of stamps and stationery, goes direct to the Belgians.

Even if you have given to every other fund we beg you in the name of humanity to assist the Christmas Fund, for which I appeal as Treasurer. Help to send a Christmas gift worthy of America—a tribute of sympathy from one people to another whose needs and sorrows are immeasurable.

If you realize that millions are literally faced with starvation, that children are still crying for food, shelterless women dragging their weary way to help, that aged men are homeless and shivering—and this despite all that is being done—you will give before Christmas, and give liberally.

England has received 300,000 of the refugees, but there are unnumbered thousands still wandering in France and Holland, besides those stricken in Belgium.

A fresh inspiration to our own peaceful Christmas in America will be lent if we relieve now the sufferings of innocent little children, unoffending women, and aged men, and you may rest assured that no man's Christmas Day will be the less happy because in some cases the gift may entail some measure of personal sacrifice.

Let us remember at this crisis that "to pity distress is but human; to relieve it is Godlike."

All contributions entrusted to me as Treasurer will be promptly and thank-

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

The communication which appeared in the Tripod of November 20th did accomplish the object for which it was written, for it at least set me to thinking; but along a different line from that which the author evidently had in mind.

It does require nerve and the right sort of spirit to go at one's life work in that thorough and difficult way; but it is not of that that the article chiefly impressed me. It is one thing to go through the mill as these men have done in order to learn the business from the beginning, but with the knowledge that such work is to last for only a few months, and it is quite another thing to do the sort of work spoken of in the article day after day, knowing that on it depends one's very existence. After all, what does a few months of such work amount to in comparison with such an outlook for the rest of one's life? How many hundreds of men are there who know nothing else, whose lives are considered of less value than a machine, and whose minds, bodies, and souls are crushed to destruction under the grinding toil to which they must submit for a right to exist?

It is important for college men to learn "to go at their life work with a will and a determination to learn it from the ground up", but in my estimation it is far more important for the college man to realize that a system that binds the majority of persons in a virtual slavery and puts property rights before human rights is fundamentally contrary to morality and Christianity. Our system, economic, political, or whatever it is, must be wrong, and criminally wrong, to allow such conditions to exist, and it appears to me to be the greatest task for the college man of the coming years not simply to be able to get a living, and a good living, but to have no tolerance for a system that gives to more than half the families in the United States annual incomes of less than $480, that causes two million children to slave in mills and factories, that gives thousands of men and women and children absolutely no chance to better themselves and develop their personalities.

The college men of the future must not only seriously realize this situation, but must be the leaders in changing the system. There is plenty of food and raw material for the necessities, and even many of the luxuries, of life for all, and plenty of men and machines to adapt them for all, and yet the majority not only are deprived of luxuries, but many are even without the necessities, and all because of our system.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS FOR 1915.

Good Nucleus for Next Year, in Spite of Loss of Five Men.

Although it is a far cry to next year's football season, it is interesting to consider the outlook for 1915. This year's eleven, a powerful one, despite the loss of the Wesleyan game, will be depleted by the loss of five regulars by graduation in June and otherwise. Seven "T" men, six regulars and one substitute, will be available next year. Thus a strong nucleus for 1915 is assured, but it will be a difficult job satisfactorily to fill the five vacant places.

One of the biggest losses will be that of Captain Howell, left tackle, who gets his degree in June. A 'varsity veteran of four seasons, Howell will be missed both for his work in the line, and for his indomitable fighting spirit, which he imparted to the whole team. Smith at quarterback, will also be graduated in June, and he too will be sadly missed. Morris will not be seen again at left end, for although a Junior, he will be graduated with the class of 1915. Kinney, '15, at center, and Connors, '17, at right end, have both left college, and of course will not be available next year. Kinney's absence will be an especially hard blow. He was one of the best centers Trinity ever had, and this, together with his placement kicking ability, made him an invaluable man.

The men who will return to college next year are Captain-elect Castator, '16, at fullback; Jackson, '18, and Bradley, '17, guards; Lambert, '16, at right tackle; and Cole, '16, and Ives, '16, half-backs. Craig, '16, a substitute back who made his letter this year, will also return. Thus it is seen that both ends, one tackle, center, and quarter-back will be vacant next year. Whether these positions will be filled by new men, or whether some of the veterans will be shifted, is problematical. Much depends on the rate of development of this year's substitutes, and on the material in next year's Freshman class. Should any of the veterans be shifted next year, it is possible that Bradley may be tried at center, Ives at quarter-back, and Lambert and Cole at the ends. The last three men have all had experience at the positions mentioned, as well as at the ones where they played this year.

The most promising of this year's second string men who will get a chance for the 'varsity next year are: Jones, '17, and Maxon, '16, ends; Churchill, '16, at guard; Perkins, '16, quarter-back; and Ladd, '17, half-back, and quarter-back. Others who are expected to develop are: Barber, '18, and Meyer, '16, backs; Peck, '16, end, and Talbot, '18, tackle. Evans, '15, was used as substitute guard this year, but he will be graduated in June. Particularly high expectations are centered around Maxon,

We print in another column a letter from Mr. Henry Clews asking aid for the stricken inhabitants of Belgium, through the Dollar Christmas Fund for Homeless Belgians. That seems to me to be the real lesson of that article. I have pleaded my cause very poorly in comparison to my feelings in this matter, but I could not keep silence. A solution must be found, and you college men must find it.

Let me close with a quotation from the late Bishop Spalding of Utah. He has spoken so truly in the words, "A man cannot be a Christian unless he is convinced that human rights come before property rights."

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS FOR 1915.

Churchill and Jones. Maxon captained the second team this year, and played a splendid game at left end. Churchill and Jones were both used for portions of games on the 'varsity, and both showed promise.

All indications are that in spite of the loss of five valuable men from this year's team, enough good material will be on hand next fall to promise an eleven fully up to the high Trinity standard. It is not now definitely known who will coach the team in 1915.

VOLUNTARY STUDY CLASS.

The College Voluntary Study Class, which is now studying "Student Standards of Action" by Elliott-Cutler, met at the Sigma Psi house on Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Chapter VI of the text was discussed. This had to do with "College Friendships", and was a most interesting talk on true friendship, and its importance.

Next Monday the Seminar will meet at the Alpha Chi Rho house, at which time Chapter VII, on "Student and Church", will be taken up.

Tuxedo — the Most Enjoyable and the Most Healthful Smoke

THE most enjoyable smoke is a pipe. But many men deny themselves this pleasure because they have had unhappy experiences with pipe tobaccos.

Likely you have paid 35 cents to 50 cents for a tin of "fancy mixture," and it burned your mouth or throat, or was unpleasantly strong.

Too bad—but you got the wrong tobacco. The hundreds of thousands of men who have tried

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

have found the answer to their smoke problems. Tuxedo is the mildest tobacco made. It cannot bite the tongue or dry the throat.

You can't get any better tobacco because nothing better grows than the mellow, perfectly aged Burley leaf used in Tuxedo.

If you try Tuxedo for a month and cut out other smokes, you will not only have had the best month of smoking you have ever had in your life, but you will have made a mighty big saving in your pocket money!
