Was Trinity's Oldest Living Graduate.

The Rev. Gemont Graves, D. D., a graduate in the class of 1849, who, since the death of Samuel Porter Church, M. D., '41, last December, has been the oldest surviving graduate of the college, died in Washington, D. C., January 27, 1915. He was born November 8, 1827, at Ira, Vermont, the son of Captain George Graves and Lucretia Adaline (Collins) Graves. Captain Graves was a manufacturer of leather at Rutland, Vermont. Dr. Graves prepared for college with the Rev. John A. Hicks, D. D., of Rutland, Vermont, and entered Middlebury College, Vermont, in the fall of 1843, where he remained two years. He entered Washington (now Trinity) College as a sophomore in January, 1846. His college course was broken by a year's absence on account of ill health, which took place at the end of his sophomore year. He graduated in 1849 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and received from the college the degree of Master of Arts in 1862. In 1908 the college conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. In 1863 Middlebury College, Vermont, conferred upon him the degree of Master of Arts. Upon his graduation, Dr. Graves entered the General Theological Seminary, where he graduated in 1853. June 19, 1853, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Hopkins in Trinity Church, Rutland, Vermont, and September 20, 1854, he was ordained priest by the same bishop in the same church. During his ministry, covering a period of forty-eight years, his work was confined to the diocese of Vermont with the exception of a period of five years during which he was located in the diocese of Western New York, and two years in the diocese of Albany, New York. graduate of Trinity College in the class of 1850, and was for thirty years treasurer of the college, and for a longer period a trustee of the same. Arthur Collins Graves, '91, and Richard Stay-nor Graves, '94, sons of Charles Emmett Graves, are graduates of the college.

Dr. Graves was a member of the I. K. A.

SUNDAY VESPERS.

Owing to the fact that the annual Junior Week Vesper Service came two days after the Junior Promenade, the attendance was smaller than usual.
The service was mostly choral.

Doctor Luther's sermon was very moving. He contrasted, with telling effect, those enjoying themselves at our Junior Week festivities, and the men, women, and children fighting, suffering, and dying in Europe. He went on to say that the war in Europe would be nothing in comparison with the great social war that would come if we did not reach some settlement.

COLLEGE TEA.

This year the college tea was held Thursday afternoon, February 4th, on the first day after examinations, instead of on Saturday afternoon as in former years. The visitors and the college body were the guests of Dr. and Mrs.
Luther in Alumni Hall from four to seven. There were refreshments and Hatch's orchestra furnished music for dancing. Mrs. L. C. Barrett, Mrs.
F. W. Carpenter, Mrs. H. A. Perkins and Mrs. W. M. Urban poured. The other patronesses were: Mrs. P. O.
Ray, Mrs. F. C. Babbitt, Mrs. A. W.
Duy, Mrs. J. J. Flynn, Mrs. A. B.
Stonex, Mrs. S. L. Galpin, Mrs. H. C.
Shaw, Mrs. W. B. Briggs and Mrs.
W. L. Barrows.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON DANCE.

Junior week was opened last Wednesday night, February 3, with a very enjoyable dance given by Alpha Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon at the chapter house, 94 Vernon Street.

The entire first floor of the chapter house, consisting of the dining room, music room, parlor and hall, was devoted to the dancing. The walls and the staircase were decorated with evergreens, and potted plants and a tasteful arrangement of electric lights contributed toward making the spectacle a brilliant one. Before the dancing began a reception was held by the patronesses.
Hatch's Orchestra provided music for the dancing, which began at nine o'clock and ended at two in the morning, supper (for which Habenstein catered) being served after the twelfth dance.

The second floor of the chapter house was also thrown open for the guests throughout the evening.

The committee having the affair in charge was composed of Ogden D. Budd, Jr., '15, of New York City; Howard R.
Hill, '15, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Bertram B. Bailey, '15, of Norwich, Conn.; and Thomas H. Craig, '16, of Montclair, N. J.

The patronesses were: Mrs. Flavel S.
Luther, Mrs. Charles C. Beach, Mrs.
I. K. Hamilton, Jr., Mrs. Walter B.
Briggs, Mrs. Frank P. Hill of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Katherine Gallaudet.

OBITUARY.

The Rev. Henry Trowbridge Gregory, a graduate in the class of 1854, died at his home, Southern Pines, North Carolina, on December 24, 1914. Mr.
Gregory was born at Albany, N. Y., September 29, 1834. He was the son of William Marvin Gregory and Catherine Williams (Trowbridge) Gregory. He prepared for college at the Mansion Hall School, Greenbush, New York, and the Albany Academy, Albany, New York, entering the freshman class of Trinity College in 1850. He graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1854, and took the of the Phi Beta Kappa. Mr. Gregory entered the Berkeley Divinity School in 1855, and was ordained to the ministry in 1858. Immediately following his ordination, Mr. Gregory took charge of the parish at Thompsonville, Conn., where he remained until 1863, when he was called to the parish at East Haddam, Conn., where he remained until 1868. After one year's residence in Albany, followed by a year's residence in Akron, Ohio, Mr. Gregory settled in Middletown, Ohio, where he remained from 1870 to 1875, and was connected with different parishes in South Carolina from 1875 to 1877, when he returned North and assumed charge of the parish at Groton, Conn., where he remained until 1883. He then returned to Middletown, Ohio, where he remained until 1888, then removing to Ticonderoga, New York. From 1892 to 1896 he was

Pines, North Carolina. In January, 1910, he resigned his parish at Southern Pines and retired from active work.

ried at Waterbury, Connecticut, Miss Catherine Stone of Hudson, New York.
