DOCTOR URBAN PREACHES.

Pays Tribute to Professor W. R. Martin.

Doctor Urban preached an excellent sermon in the chapel on Sunday morning, his subject being the seven deadly sins as connected with the sin of the world.

Doctor Urban prefaced his sermon with the following words on the late Dr. Martin:

"The privilege has been granted me of a few words of personal tribute to the colleague and friend whose death we mourn.

"To a few men only is it given, by reason of their unique and vivid personalities to become part of a college tradition. Such a personality was Dr. Winfred Robert Martin, by whose death in New York City last week, the Trinity brotherhood became sensibly so much poorer.

"But to many of us, faculty and graduates alike, his memory will be much more than a Trinity tradition. It is already a priceless personal possession. What is it that we shall remember? The large mind to whom the whole intellectual globe was, as it were, his parish? Yes. Who of us who has felt the power and grasp of that mind will ever forget it? What student but has learned from him that much learning may yet be a living and a beautiful thing? His keen and ironical wit—without which indeed, large-mindedness is scarcely possible—and which gave to his conversation its peculiar flavor? This too we shall surely long remember. And who is there of us who does not now regret that the wit must go largely unrecorded? And his whimsical, paradoxical humor—the very pulse of the man, and which I am told remained to him until the very last? This too we shall remember for without it that rare spirit whom we know as Dr. Martin were unthinkable.

"But after all it is not for these that we shall chiefly remember him—rare though they are in a time when the sense for the worth of personality and personal culture is dim. It is rather for the large heart back of the large mind. His life was indeed rich in kindness and charities of the ordinary sort. Few of his colleagues or students of the many years of his service are without some memories of them that now bring tears to their eyes. Those of us who had the melancholy pleasure of paying our last respects know the true inwardness of some of the devotion and tears that met our eyes. But it is not these that I have chiefly in mind. It is rather his magnanimity, largeness of mind, charity in the true sense—of which it may be said, not only "to know all is to pardon all," but to know all is to love all. He was one of God's gentlemen; and for him, as for all saints 'we yield to the Almighty and Everliving God our most high praise and hearty thanks.'"

Then Dr. Urban went on to his sermon, first quoting from the Liturgy,

PRESIDENT LUTHER BACK.

Returns from His Annual Western Trip.

Doctor Luther left Hartford on February 10th for his annual western trip. The farthest point reached was Faribault, Minn.

While on his tour he visited and addressed the following schools: Howe School, Howe, Ind., Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., Hyde Park High School, Chicago, Ill., St. Alban's School, Knoxville, Ill., Racine Grammar School, Racine, Wis., German-American School, Milwaukee, Wis., St. John's Military Academy, Delafield, Wis., Shattuck Hall, Faribault, Minn., Masten Park High School, Buffalo, N. Y., Lafayette High School, Buffalo, N. Y., De Veaux College, Niagara Falls, N. Y., Utica Free Academy, Utica, N. Y., and St. John's Military Academy, Manlius, N. Y.

An Alumni gathering was held in Chicago, at the University Club, on the evening of February 15th. It was very largely attended. John H. S. Quick, Esq., '58, presided. Addresses were made by several of those present.

In the course of his trip Doctor Luther delivered an address at a noon-day Lenten Service in a Theatre in Minneapolis, Minn. He reached home on Friday evening, three days ahead of his schedule. The Doctor said, "this was due to the extraordinary precision of the railroads in adhering to their schedules, as no time was lost anywhere on my trip owing to poor connections."

"Thou who takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us."

Times have changed since the days in which this was written, said the speaker, for in those days the sin of the world was taken much more seriously than it is today. So much was this sin of the world taken to heart, that people went apart into monasteries and nunneries to pray for the salvation of the world.

Today some people claim that it is hypocritical for them to pray for salvation from their own sins in connection with the sins of the world, for they do not think themselves as sinful as the world at large. This may be true, but the surest way to bring us into a full realization of our own sin is to think of our sins in connection with the sins of the world, and then to consider our indifference towards the prodigious amount of sin committed throughout the world.

The speaker then showed the relation between the seven deadly sins: pride, deceit, lust, selfishness, gluttony, envy, and sloth, as they exist in the individual and in the community. In every case, he pointed out a clear and distinct relation.

The one point of his sermon, Dr. Urban concluded, was to show how sin in the individual developed into sin in the world at large, and how we could lessen this community sin by correcting wrongdoings and wickedness in ourselves.

GLEE CLUB AT MERIDEN.

Ninth Concert of Season at Colonial Club.

On February 25th, the Musical Clubs gave their ninth concert of the year. It was the best concert the Clubs have given, and that is saying a good deal. The program containing fourteen numbers, was the largest the Clubs have yet undertaken to carry out.

Two new numbers, one quite out of the ordinary, were done remarkably well. The former was "The Colonial Club March," which, played by the Mandolin Club, delighted the large audience with its martial swing. The latter was a xylophone duet by C. H. Perkins, '16, and N. P. Holden, '18. This was so successful that it will undoubtedly be contained in the programs of the concerts to come.

The Glee Club seems to be getting that finish and fineness of tone which Mr. Davis has been striving to produce and indeed has produced. Many of the songs are extremely difficult, but they were sung without a hitch and thereby brought much applause. Never has the quartet been heard to better advantage.

After refreshments had been served some of the men left. The rest remained for a most enjoyable dance. All reported it the best trip the Clubs have taken, thanks to the hospitality of the members of the Colonial Club.

STUDENTS AND MISSIONS.

Mr. Ramsaur Reviews Work Done in North America.

Rev. W. H. Ramsaur, traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement, made the address at the Y. M. C. A. Vesper Service held in the Chapel at 5.30 on Sunday. The attendance was the best to date, over thirty being present. The service was conducted by N. J. George, '16.

Mr. Ramsaur reviewed the work that the whole college world throughout North America is doing in regard to missions and challenged Trinity to fall in line and do her share.

The convention called at Mt. Hermon, Mass., in July, 1886, by Dwight L. Moody, he said, commenced the Student Volunteer Movement. Out of the 251 present 100 volunteered to enter the mission field.

The Kansas City Convention held last year illustrates the growth of the movement. The great body of 5,231 students present was made up from delegates from every quarter of the United States and from many colleges in Canada.

Mr. Ramsaur stated that the students were showing progress in four definite directions: in an increased interest in mission study, an increased interest in Missionary giving, an increased interest of intercession, and an increased interest in missionary going.

Students are growing eager to study world conditions. Last year 40,400 students in North America were engaged in regular mission study. Over $230,000 was contributed by college students for the support in mission fields. Many colleges are supporting their own mission station in the foreign field. Students are banding together for united prayer. As an example, he cited the case of the University of Chicago, where 30 men met daily for united intercession. Of the total number of 8,000 men who have gone out into active service within the 100 years of missionary history in North America, 6,000 have been recruited within the last 27 years, or since the founding of the Student Volunteer Movement.

Mr. Ramsaur cited many illustrations of what colleges and individuals are doing in all of these four branches of missionary activity and added a vivid touch by reading a letter from a young man who had just resolved to devote his life to the cause.

He asked his hearers if the men at Trinity are having the share that they might and should have in the great enterprise. He hoped to see the day when Trinity would support her own mission station.

MISSION STUDY CLASSES FORMING.

College Units Organizing Under Auspices of Y. M. C. A.

Mission Study Classes are being formed in the different fraternity units, the Hartford Club, and the Neutral Body under the auspices of the college branch of the Y. M. C. A.

Yesterday at 12.45 Mr. Ramsaur met about twenty undergraduates at a short meeting in the Greek Room. Each of the fraternities was represented by one or more men. Plans were discussed for forming small mission study groups in the fraternities.

The book to be used, "The New Era in Asia" by Sherwood Eddy, is an up-to-date volume that deals with the problem throughout all of the countries in Asia. The study of Asian conditions is of vast importance to present-day Americans, not only from the point of view of religion, but also in relation to economic and political questions that are sure to have vital influence upon us in the near future. History and geography are also involved in the study.

The classes are already forming, as the men who met Mr. Ramsaur set immediately to work at organizing. Leaders for the groups are to be chosen from the fratres in urbe of the respective units and from Berkeley Divinity School, and possibly from the Hartford Theological Institute.

Study is to begin as soon as books can be procured for all of those who have signified their intention of entering.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS.

Book that Should Prove of Interest to Trinity Men.

"The publishing house of Robert Appleton, Inc., of New York, is about to bring out an elaborate and elegant history of 'Intercollegiate Athletics in America'." The prospectus says:

"No full history of college sport, in spite of the enormous interest it attracts, has ever been written, and complete records do not exist in every branch of sport. The magnitude of the work is indicated when it is realized that the book contains more than 35,000 football games and double that number of baseball games. There have been about 100,000 competitors in intercollegiate races and matches.

"The work will be elaborately illustrated and it cannot fail to have permanent value for any one of the thousands who are interested in athletics. Mr. Appleton, an old Yale athlete, is a grandson of the founder of D. Appleton & Co., and his son was stroke of last year's successful Yale crew."

—Hartford Courant.

This book should be of particular interest to all Trinity men as D. A. Appleton, '80, a member of the publishing firm of that name and a brother of the above-mentioned Robert Appleton, made a name for himself in athletics at Trinity. Mr. Appleton was "Field Marshal" and one of the directors of the Trinity College Athletic Association, and played half-back on the football team that Major Wilcox, '80, captained in two satisfactory games against Yale. When he was one of the executive committee of the "Boat Club" and captain of the "University Crew" in 1879, the club built a boat house on the Connecticut and bought several shells. Mr. Appleton has an enviable record in track, ranking first in the two meets in 1879-1880 in the shot put, half-mile, 440-yard dash, and second in the 120-yard hurdles.

ALPHA CHI RHO BASKETBALL.

The Wesleyan and Trinity chapters of Alpha Chi Rho met in basketball in the gymnasium last Saturday night, February 27th, and the former won 17 to 14 in a hard-fought contest. The Wesleyan chapter recently won in the inter-fraternity league race at Middletown, and several men on the team from the Trinity chapter have started in the Thursday Night League and on independent teams. McClellan and Jerome excelled for the Wesleyan chapter, while Tiger did the best work of any of the local players. The summary:

Trinity	Wesleyan
DeWitt	LF McClellan
Dennis	RF Wigren
Shultheiss, Kyle	Blake
Tiger	C Jerome
Ferris, Morgan	RG Keith, Blake
Furnivall, Morris	LG Blake

Score: Wesleyan Alpha Chi Rho 17; Trinity Alpha Chi Rho 14; goals from field, DeWitt, Tiger, 4, McClellan 3, Jerome 2, Blake 2; goals from foul line, Tiger 4, McClellan 3; referee, Wright; timer, Richmond; scorer, Bent.

SHIFT ON TRIPOD BOARD.

A temporary change was made in the Tripod board at a meeting held Friday evening, February 26th, at 70 Vernon Street. Messrs. N. J. George, '16, and A. Harding, Jr., '16, were elected as managing editors to alternate in producing the issues. Mr. Bierck, '17, was elected to take Mr. George's place as athletic editor. This change goes into effect immediately and holds till the end of the month when the election of next year's board takes place.

NEW ENGLAND STUDENT CHURCHMEN.

A conference of the New England Student Churchmen was held in Cambridge, Mass., Saturday to Monday, February 20 to 22, at which there were representatives of Episcopalians of the various New England colleges.
The delegates were entertained in the Harvard freshman dormitories and Harvard Union by the St. Paul's Society of Harvard University. The undergraduate churchmen of Trinity were represented by J. A. Mitchell, '15.
There were also present A. F. G.
Edgelow, '14, now at the Harvard

Medical School, and H. L. Gibbs, '15, now at Brown University. There were a number of excellent addresses given during the dinners, and sermons at the service in the Old Christ's Church in Cambridge and in St. Paul's Cathedral, in Boston. The Bishops Lawrence and Davies of Massachusetts and Perry of Rhode Island were present, and Mr.
Robert H. Gardner, was the prime mover and chairman of the conference.
There were many problems discussed concerning the relations and duties of the student to the Church while in college only one of which bore particularly on Trinity, that of compulsory chapel.

George Randolph Chester

Famous Author, says:

*"Why shouldn't a man be willing to recommend a tobacco which gives as cool, sweet and satisfying a smoke
as Tuxedo?"*

For Mentally Alert Men—Tuxedo

George Randolph Chester's "Get-Rich-Quick Wallington" stories have delighted thousands through the mental alertness, good humor and keen mind shown by the wily promoter.

When George Randolph Chester writes of things typically American he knows what he is talking about;
and when he endorses Tuxedo—the typically American tobacco—his endorsement carries great weight with the keen-minded, alert and brainy smokers of this country.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette is made especially to maintain the American spirit of good humor. Its constant use benefits a man in mind and body, by keeping him happy and physically fit.

Tuxedo is the finest Kentucky Burley—the world's premier smoking-tobacco leaf—made absolutely non-biting by the original "Tuxedo Process" that has never been successfully imitated. Tuxedo is delightfully mild, fragrant, rich, and gives a cool and satisfying smoke. Tuxedo is in a class by itself.
