FRESHMEN VICTORIOUS.

1918 Defeats 1917 in Annual St. Patrick's Day Scrap.

1918 won a decisive victory over 1917 in the annual St. Patrick's Day Scrap held on the campus on Wednesday morning. The sophomores defended one of the trees near the statue of Bishop Brownell. The tree had been previously designated by the Senate committee composed of C. H. Perkins, '16, and S. E. Griffith, Jr., '17. The freshmen raised one flag at the end of the first four minutes of battle and a second one eleven minutes later, keeping both of them safely in the tree for the required period of ten minutes. The judges of the scrap were H. R. Hill, S. H. Edsall, and B. L. B. Smith, all of the class of 1915.

The following detailed description was received at the Tripod office from our special war correspondent, who displayed remarkable bravery in taking notes directly on the firing line.

Special to the Tripod, direct from the battle front, March 17, 1916. In a bloody and decisive battle, the Freshman army under the leadership of General Jackson laid siege to the Sophomores' stronghold on Trinity Heights and after a stubborn, but ineffectual defense by the Sophomores under General Jones, captured the fort and raised their colors.

Throughout the night previous to the battle the Freshman Army marched through the center of Hartford and blazed their trail with posters bearing the insignia 1T8 pasted on every lamp-post. A small detachment of the Sophomore Army's bravest and most wily scouts followed in the track of the opposing Army and destroyed the evidences of conquest.

Gen. Jackson in person led a squad of sharpshooters to the barracks of the enemy, and the daring band consisting, along with the general, of Capt. Pinney and Sergeants Astlett, Burnham, Barber, Easland, Ives, Murray, Rankin and Reiner invaded the tents of the enemy, and due to the drowsiness of the guards on picket duty, were able to capture several of the sleeping officers of the Sophomore Army. Capt. McKay and Capt. Berkeley, and Lieutenants Jepson, Haines, McIvor and Pratt, all among the bravest and most loyal of their army, made up the list of prisoners. Lieut. Jepson escaped and made his way back to his own line. The others either gave parole or remained in the prison pen.

Early the following morning, the Freshman Army marched toward the camp of the enemy and at 7.30 gained, without meeting any resistance, the possession of the gymnasium, the first outpost station of the Sophomore Army. Shortly afterward Gen. Jackson led his men forth, not, however, until he had given them a speech of instruction, picking out the flag-bearers, Captains Woolsey McAlpine Pollock

OUR OPPONENTS.

Baseball Begun at Columbia and Tufts.

The weather seems to have been more favorable to Trinity's baseball candidates than to those of most of our antagonists on this season's schedule. Columbia called out its squad for outdoor practice for the first time on last Tuesday. The 'varsity retains a good many veterans but there is a scarcity of new material. The 1918 men have been so dilatory about turning out for practice that it is threatened that further efforts to produce a freshman team will be abandoned.

Coach Slattery at Tufts has had better luck and has had a good squad out daily. The freshman material is showing up well and there is an improvement in several of last season's players. They have already played a practice game and they expect to be in as good shape as the colleges they meet on their early southern trip. Trinity will meet Tufts rather late in the season and after such exceptional training the Tufts team ought to give us a game worth fighting for.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

With the passing of Dr. W. R. Martin, at least one alumnus feels a deep sense of loss on behalf of Trinity College; for in my day one could no more imagine the campus without the imposing form of "Shorty", as we affectionately called him, than without North Towers.

Of the professors in the small college I have heard him speak with bitter irony. "When I hear of a brilliant young fellow taking a position in a little college, I feel as if he had been planted in a nice country graveyard with a good solid monument over him," he once remarked, laughing with the little wheeze which was so characteristic of him. Yet there were none of my teachers who took their duties more seriously than he, or who devoted themselves more single-mindedly to the welfare of the college and the student body. And the latter responded as one man with a liking and a respect that any teacher might envy.

When I began to realize the possibility of study abroad, it was Professor Martin who showed me his German university calendar and helped me to choose the place to study; and I also recall many a conference with him that gave me a better idea of what scholarship means than did most of my classes.

Nor was intercourse with him wholly solemn and unspiced. One of my vividest memories is coming along the college walk one morning to see him standing near the bulletin board. He said something about attendance on classes, and added, with a twinkle in his eye, in that high-pitched, squeezed voice which no one could ever forget,

DR. MOTT HERE MONDAY.

Distinguished Worker has Promised to Speak in Chapel.

Next Monday morning, March 22nd, John R. Mott, chairman of the executive committee of the Student Volunteer Movement and nationally prominent in Y. M. C. A. work will address the college body at the regular Chapel exercises. It is Doctor Luther's particular desire that every man in college attend chapel to hear Dr. Mott, both out of courtesy to a distinguished visitor, and because Dr. Mott is a man whom it is a privilege to hear speak.

Doctor Mott is one of the foremost men in this country today. Born in 1865, he was graduated from Cornell with the degree of Ph.B., in 1888, and received an honorary M.A. from Yale in 1899. In 1888 Dr. Mott became student secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., and also chairman of the executive committee of the Student Volunteer Movement. In 1895 he was made general secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation. He was appointed in 1898 foreign secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., and since 1901 has been associate general secretary of the same committee. Dr. Mott has three times been offered the post of ambassador to China. President Wilson said that there was no man in the country who could fill that position as he could. Each time Dr. Mott declined, saying he believed his work lay in other fields.

Dr. Mott is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, and is a prolific author of books, pamphlets and articles on Y. M. C. A. and religious matters.

COMMITTEE HEARS PETITIONS.

Men Who Have not Joined A. A. Requested to Explain.

In accordance with the new amendment to the by-laws of the Athletic Association, the executive committee of that body has been meeting daily in the Mathematics Room of Boardman Hall, to confer with students who are unable to pay the full amount of dues. The last of these meetings was held Thursday afternoon, and all students who have not paid any dues, or who have not made satisfactory arrangements have been blacklisted. The names of these men will be printed in the Tripod in some subsequent issue.

"Now you know, Mr. Morgan, every time a man cuts, he commits partial suicide." How often I have taken that remark as a text in little sermons to my students on the subject of class vs. "college life." The classes, and the men who instruct them, are the college; few Trinity professors have felt that more keenly, or taken greater pains to bring it home to their students, than Winfred R. Martin.

SENATE MINUTES.

Seminar Room,
HARTFORD, CONN., March 3, 1905.

The meeting of the Senate was called to order by President Howell at 7 P. M. Messrs. Brown, Edsall and Ives were absent.

Mr. Cole reported for the committee on the College Union. The funds on hand March 1st amounted to $163.62. He urged that measures be taken to have those men, who have not yet joined, do so immediately.

In absence of Mr. Robinson, Mr. Cowles reported for the Press Committee. The report follows:

Report of Mr. Robinson, Chairman of the Press Committee.

I take pleasure in submitting the following report for the Press Committee for February:

Amount received,	$10.50
Amount paid out,	4.50
To balance,	$6.00
Items sent out, total,	20
College items (out of State papers),	11
Personal items (home papers, out of state),	5
Personal items (home papers, in state),	4
Letters written,	11

I am now in communication with the Press Club of Union College with regard to a College Press Club Convention which they are advocating, but can report nothing definite at this time. The work, considering the amount of news available, is very satisfactory.

Respectfully submitted,

THOS. H. ROBINSON,
Mar. 4, 1915 Chairman.

Mr. Morris reported for the Basketball League.

Mr. Cowles moved, and Mr. Perkins seconded that a committee of three (3) be appointed to go over the constitution of the Senate and to collect, have typewritten, and bound in two copies the various Senate rulings on such organizations and activities as the Union, the class scraps, and the Press committee. Passed.

Mr. Perkins moved, and Mr. Smith seconded that the committee on the College Union look into the matter of putting the athletic trophies and lists of team captains in the Union. Passed.

Mr. Smith spoke on the advantage and progress of the mission study classes now being organized in the various college units, and said that something ought to be done to get the men behind the movement.

Mr. Howell appointed the following committees: Committee to bind constitution, bylaws, and rulings of the Senate—Chairman, Mr. Robinson and Messrs. Cole and Rock; committee on St. Patrick's Day Scrap—chairman, Mr. Perkins and Mr. Griffith.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned at 7.30.

Secretary, pro-tem.

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

The Tripod is in receipt of a communication from the Belgian Relief Fund of the City of New York, setting forth the dire and imminent need of thousands of homeless and suffering Belgians. The fund is to be expended "for women, children and other non-combatants." No one, therefore, can refuse to contribute because of sympathy with one or other of the contending powers. Any sum of money however small will be accepted. There are few men in college who are so situated that they cannot give something towards equipping and provisioning "The Argosy", the supply ship which is to be an Easter gift from the American people to Princess Marie Jose of Belgium. Put it up to yourself honestly and then give what you feel you can.

Contributions may be sent directly to the Belgian Relief Fund, 10 Bridge Street, New York, or may be given to the Treasurer of the Tripod, W. L. Peck, for forwarding.

OBITUARY.

James Sturgis Pearce, '61.

The Rev. James Sturgis Pearce, rector emeritus of St. Paul's Church, Portsmouth, R. I., died at his home in Newport, R. I., November 23, in the 81st year of his age, and was buried in Providence. He was a special student in Trinity College 1859-61, and then studied theology at the Berkeley Divinity School and was ordained in Middletown by Bishop Williams, acting for the Bishop of Rhode Island, June 16, 1863, though he was not graduated from the Berkeley Divinity School until 1864. He began the work of his ministry in Christ Church, Pomfret, Conn., then, after serving in St. Martin's Church, Marcus Hook, Penn., and St. Luke's, Lanesboro, Mass., he was from 1873 to 1884 rector of St. John's Church, Northampton, Mass. In 1885 he became rector of St. Paul's Church, Portsmouth, R. I., retiring in 1911, after more than a quarter century of service. His son, the Rev. Reginald Pearce, is rector of St. Andrew's Church, South Framingham, Mass.

Rev. C. H. Remington, '89.

The Rev. Charles H. Remington, rector of Christ Church, Canon City, Col., died in that city early in February and was buried in Minneapolis, Minn., on Wednesday, February 10th, from the Lakewood chapel. The Rev. William P. Remington of St. Paul's Church, Minneapolis, conducted the service, assisted by Warden Kramer, Trinity, '89, of Seabury Divinity School, and by several of the Minneapolis clergy who served as pallbearers. Mr. Remington was assistant at St. Mark's Church, Minneapolis, during the rectorship of the Rev. Harry P. Nichols, and was a stepson of the late Rev. James Cornell, who was well known among the elder Minnesota clergy. Mrs. Remington survives her husband, as does also a brother, Mr. Paul Remington of Minneapolis.

NEW BASEBALL SUITS.

A committee appointed by President Bulkeley of the Graduate Athletic Advisory Committee recently met and decided upon a uniform design in suits for Trinity's baseball teams. The committee was composed of Dr. Swan and Professor Flynn of the faculty, B. L. B. Smith, '15, J. N. Ives, '16, president and secretary-treasurer respectively of the Athletic Association, and C. B. Plummer, '15, manager of the baseball team.

The committee has ordered new suits of the design decided upon. The suits will be blue-gray with "Trinity" in blue on the breast, and a gold "T" on a blue background on the sleeves. The stockings will be solid blue, and every player who wants to wear a jersey will be required to wear a blue one.

and Sidney Dillingham Pinney, and exhorting them all to fight valiantly for the cause.

As soon as the Army marched forth from the outpost station, a heavy fire of vocal artillery was engaged in by both sides.

Gen. Jackson gave orders for his men to fix bayonets and charge.

Through the fog of smoke on the field the Tripod correspondent caught sight of Gen. Jones standing forth on the ramparts and shouting for his men to stick to their posts. Then for several moments nothing could be seen through the smoke and dust, but out from the haze came the sounds of a clash of arms, the oaths of the soldiers, and the groans of the dying.

Suddenly Gen. Jackson, surrounded by his choice body guard, withdrew a few hundred feet from the wall of the fort, and gave orders for them to attack. The guards responded with a magnificent charge and almost in an instant Capt. Pollock could be seen climbing up the flagstaff of the fort and raising the banner of 1918, just 4 minutes after the opening charge of the battle was made. Eleven minutes later a second 1918 standard popped up under the first one and there beneath it clung Capt. Pinney loudly urging his men to drive the defenders out and save him and Capt. Pollock from their snipers. Five minutes later Gen. Jones surrendered and handed over his sword to Gen. Jackson, who promptly proceeded to snatch up a bayonet and to cut three notches in the handle of the trophy in remembrance of his two previous victories on Bloody Monday, and of this greatest victory that the warriors of a Trinity class can gain.

LITERATURE ON THE ARMAMENT ISSUE.

In a three-cornered debate between Cornell, Columbia and the University of Pennsylvania on March 6th on the subject: "Resolved, That in view of the present situation the United States should take immediate steps to materially increase its army and navy," the result was a tie, the negative winning in each contest. The same subject is now scheduled for debate in a number of other colleges and universities. The American League to Limit Armaments, 43. Cedar Street, New York City, has a quantity of literature on this subject which it offers to send gratis to college men upon application.
