DOCTOR MOTT AT TRINITY.

Noted Christian Leader Talks on the War.

The college chapel was filled yesterday morning by the students and members of the faculty who gathered to hear Doctor John R. Mott, general secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation. Doctor Mott, who has traveled the world over many times within the last twenty-five years in visiting the foreign missionary fields, confined his talk to the subject of his recent trip through the European countries at war. He described most vividly the conditions which he saw and pointed out their significance in terms of Christianity.

Many, he said, have claimed that the coming of war is proof of the breakdown of Christianity, but his own observation indicates the contrary. He told of the intense religious feeling which has pervaded the nations at war and which is evident both throughout the countries themselves and at the front. In place of the former indifference to religion in France we now find the churches crowded. The same is true of Germany. All sides look upon it as a holy war. The German soldiers take the Holy Communion before going into battle and sing Luther's hymn calling for divine aid more often than they do "The Watch on the Rhine." The speaker read the litany which is now being used in the Russian Church. The sale of vodka, which brought an annual income of 510,000,000 dollars to the country, has now been abolished. This was cited as an example of the great ground swell of moral reform that is taking place.

The speaker stated that while his previous journeys had made him very familiar with the countries of Europe, he found upon this visit a changed Europe. As never before, the real character of each country is being revealed as it takes the line of least resistance when subjected to the terrific strain. Each nation, he said, is showing unity, confidence, and a desire to justify itself in the eyes of the neutral nations, especially in those of the United States.

He then proceeded to show how colossal the war is. He declared that the enormity of the figures in the casualty list baffled all powers of comprehension. He began to get some realization of the war's immensity as he went from house of tears to house of tears in Germany and England.

Europe of today is a suffering Europe. He told of his visits to the hospitals at the front. The thousands of trainloads of wounded being carried away from the front seemed to him rivers of pain. Then there is the dull pain of the mothers, wives, sisters, and little children. And yet, he said, while Europe is a suffering Europe, it is, thank God, an unselfish Europe. Everywhere is fortitude, courage, and self-denial. He did not find a selfish man in Europe. Men are giving their

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL.

1915 and 1916 Victorious in Preliminary Games.

In two fast and exciting matches the preliminary games of the interclass basketball series were played off at the gymnasium last night. In the first game the Seniors defeated the Sophomores by the score of 27 to 11, while in the second the Juniors defeated the Freshmen by the score of 28 to 19. Both contests were hard fought throughout their earlier periods, but gradually the upper-classmen pulled ahead in each case, continuously increasing their leads until little doubt was left in regard to the outcomes. The Senior and Junior teams are to play for the championship of college Thursday afternoon in the gymnasium. Both teams played without their captains, Sage, '15, and Berkeley, '17, both being incapacitated by illness. Brainerd, '15, and Dennis, '17, were acting captains for their respective teams.

The Sophomores got the jump on the Seniors and scored 3 points in the first few minutes of play. Near the middle of the half Pratt rolled in two pretty shots, ending the scoring for the Sophomores for that part of the game. The Seniors opened up with some fast team work that took the Sophomores off their feet. The floor work of Carpenter and the spectacular shooting of Brainerd, who came back with all of his old time championship form, featured in the Seniors' rally. At the end of the first half, the Seniors were leading by the score of 18 to 7.

The Seniors kept up the onslaught unchecked throughout the last half. Brainerd's eye was still good, and Wright added to the tally with a couple of handsome shots. Dennis and McKay ended the scoring for the Sophomores.

The summary:

| 1915 | 1917 |
|----------------------|--------------|
| Carpenter, Cowles RF | Pratt, McKay |
| Brainerd, Wright LF | Dewitt |
| Peck C | Little |
| Brand, Brainerd RG | Pelton |
| Smith LG | Dennis |

Score: 1915, 27, 1917, 11; goals from field, Brainerd 5, Carpenter 3, Wright 2, Pratt 2, Dennis 1, McKay 1; goals from foul, Brainerd 3, Dennis 2, referee, Morgan.

The Freshman-Junior game, while unpromising at first, proved to be interesting. Moran opened with a goal from line, followed quickly by a goal from foul by Tiger. Poto then evened things up by a long shot bringing the score 3 to 2. By fouling the Freshmen soon gave the advantage to the Juniors. Moran scored three times from the foul line. Although Johnson, with the exception of Poto's one goal, the Freshmen's only scorer, tallied

HONOR TO TRINITY MAN.

Gov. Holcomb Appoints Beers a State Commissioner.

Governor Holcomb last week appointed George E. Beers of Guilford, who is assistant professor of law at Yale University, to be compensation commissioner for the Third District, succeeding Talcott H. Russell, who resigned Tuesday. The appointment is for Mr. Russell's unexpired term, running to January 1, 1919.

Professor Beers has been eminent in the profession of the law for many years. He is a native of Bridgeport, and was born October 7, 1865. He is the son of the Rev. John Samuel and Maria Josephine (Wakeman) Beers. He was graduated from Trinity College in the class of 1886, with the degree of B. A. Three years later he was given the degree of M. A., and in the same year was graduated from the Yale Law School with the degree of LL. B. In 1890 he was given the master's degree in law by Yale University. He practiced law in Tennessee, from 1889 till 1892, and has been practicing at New Haven since 1892. His office and his academic work have been done in that city, but he has maintained a residence in Guilford.

Mr. Beers has not limited his efforts to the practice of law, nor strictly to his academic work in the Yale Law School, where he has been one of the most valued instructors, but he has also mingled in the politics of city government, and has been a member of the common council in New Haven in which body he served in 1896. He is a member of the Board of Fellows of Trinity College, of St. Anthony Hall, and of Phi Beta Kappa. He is also a member of the Connecticut State Bar Association and of the Union League, the Graduates and Young Men's Republican Clubs of New Haven.

Professor Beers edited former Governor Simeon E. Baldwin's Digest of Connecticut Reports, revision of 1900, and Stephen's New England edition of his Digest of the Law of Evidence, published in 1901. He also edited Well's On Circumstantial Evidence, American edition, 1905. He has been a consulting editor of the American and English Encyclopedia of Law and Practice; and he has contributed largely to legal encyclopedias and periodicals.

A. A. ELECTION.

Hungerford Made Assistant Manager of Baseball Team.

Sidney R. Hungerford, '17, of New Britain, Conn., was elected assistant manager of the baseball team at a meeting of the Athletic Association held last Friday night, March 19th, in the public speaking room. The meeting was the first held under the new Athletic Association ruling requiring every man in college who does not want his name

SENIOR DRAMATICS.

Large Number of Candidates Desired by Committee.

The productions of the Senior Dramatic Society on June 19th, promise to be the best ever offered by any graduating class. Instead of having the performance in Alumni Hall, the committee has decided to hold it at the Hartford Club where better results may be obtained. There can be little doubt as to the success of the plays, as Mrs. Henry A. Perkins has agreed to coach the actors.

Below is a list of characters in the play "Zaragueta," and a brief description of each. This is to be the principal performance, and every one is urged to try for a part. If you do not make one part, try another. The following men have read this play in their Spanish Class and can give information about it: T. A. Peck (who did the translating), R. B. O'Connor, E. W. Cowles, O. W. Craik, C. Schlier, N. Pierpont, S. Berkman, P. M. Swift, M. L. Furnivall, S. M. Merrill, L. B. Ripley. The play may be read at any time in 10 Jarvis Hall.

Tryouts for the parts will be held in the public speaking room at the following times: Tuesday, March 24, 4 p. m., Don Indalecio, Dona Dolores, Don Saturio, Gregoria; Tuesday, March 24, 7 p. m., Maruja, Pio, Dona Blase, Carlos; Wednesday, March 25, 4 p. m., Zaragueta, Ambrosio, Perico.

Description of Characters:

Don Indalecio—Wealthy land-owner. A corpulent, ever-hungry, good-natured old gentleman. Character part.

Carlos—His nephew, student in Madrid. Straight comedy part. Leading man.

Don Saturio—Village Doctor. Rather pompous, brisk, country doctor.

Zaragueta—Madrid money-lender, suave, deaf, persistent.

Pio—Son of Blase. Eager to be a priest. Exceedingly shy and always afraid to assert himself.

Perico—A servant. Minor speaking part, but with a good deal of action.

Ambrosio—Village hack-driver. Minor character part.

Dona Dolores—Wife of Indalecio. A garrulous, kind-hearted woman of about forty-five.

Maruja—Her niece, living with her. Girl of about eighteen. Leading lady.

Dona Blase—Sister of the village priest. A sharp-speaking, breezy old woman.

Character part.

Gregoria—Servant, quiet, devoted maid.

Scene—A country village in Spain.

Interior of Don Indalecio's House.

Acts—two.

three times, Castator came back with two. Thus the half ended with the score 12 to 6 in favor of the Juniors

Johnson made the second half interesting by his clean shots from the center of the floor. He tallied five times in this manner as well as scoring three times from the foul line. But the Juniors were rolling up a big score at the same time. Castator shot four pretty ones from underneath the basket. Tiger scored three times. The final result read, Juniors 28, Freshmen 19.

The line-up:

| Freshmen | | Juniors | |
|--------------------|----|---------------|--|
| L'Heureux | RF | Moran, Morris | |
| Poto (Capt.) | LF | Castator | |
| Johnson | C | Tiger (Capt.) | |
| Reiner, Shultheiss | RG | Wooley | |
| Jackson | LG | Morgan | |

Goals from field: Johnson 6, Castator 6, Tiger 4, Moran 1, Poto 1, Morgan 1; goals from foul: Johnson 5, Moran 3, Tiger 1; referee, Wright; timer and scorer, Plummer; time of halves, 15 minutes.

lives freely, are stretched on beds of excruciating pain, and yet, none are complaining. The people of Holland, in sacrificing so much for the welfare of the refugees, are not complaining, are not even boasting, but are just doing. These little neutral countries of Europe are putting our great rich country to shame. We have just begun to get under the load. His fear, he said, was not for the countries at war, but for the United States. God save us from unreality and selfishness.

Doctor Mott said that he could see in this war evidences of the growth of the Student Christian Movement. The war reveals a world-wide movement towards Christian brotherhood. The war will not be followed by a period of bitter revenge, but after differences have been fought out, all will unite.

Jesus, he continued, was the only leader who ever taught His followers to love their enemies. Dr. Mott heard the soldiers pray for their enemies, and whereas he formerly doubted that there was any such thing as loving your enemies, he now believes that there is.

While the war is revealing a great many of the shortcomings of the Christian Student Movement in the Church, it is also revealing unparalleled powers of self-sacrifice.

Dr. Mott stated that he had been criticized for the watchword that he had given the Student Volunteer Movement. "The evangelization of the world in this generation," on the ground that this would require too great a strain on the country, 1000 men a year being required for thirty years. And yet, he said, many times that number have been recruited for the battle front from the universities of the warring nations. We have just begun to draw upon the capacities of heroism and self-sacrifice that we have in our colleges.

War is trying the faith of men by fire. In the face of the big guns and under the rain of shrapnel men think straight. What doesn't count is thrown aside. Faith is no longer pinned to an abstraction, but to believe in the living personality of Christ.

The end of the war will bring unparalleled opportunity for reconstruction. With the other nations exhausted economically and physically, the United States, with her unspent energies will find nothing which she cannot do. May we not shrink from the task.

Dr. Mott ended with the words, "Can any Trinity man, after seeing Europe on the cross, go forth from this chapel today and lead a selfish life?"

DEBATING TEAMS PICKED.

Selection from Large List of Capable Candidates.

The trials for the two 'varsity teams to represent Trinity in the triangular debate against Rutgers and New York University were held at 4.15 P. M., Thursday in the public speaking room. The judges Professors Wilbur M. Urban, Ph. D., Gustavus Adolphus Kleene, Ph. D., and Arthur Bivins Stonex, Ph. D., listened to eight-minute speeches by a large number of candidates and rendered their report of the men selected as follows: Frank Lambert, '16, of Baltimore, Md., captain; Theron B. Clement, '17, of Sunbury, Pa.; L. Daniel Simonson, '15, of Indianapolis, Ind.; and J. G. Neafie Mitchell, '16, of Williamsport, Pa., alternate, on the affirmative. Those on the negative are Russell Z. Johnston, '16, of Hartford, Conn.; captain, Ward E. Duffy, '15, of West Hartford, Conn.; Stanley M. Merrill, '15, of Hartford, Conn., and F. Paul Easland, '18, alternate, of Hartford, Conn.

The judges, in rendering their decision, stated that they had much better material and a larger number to choose from this year than last, and considered prospects very favorable for this spring.

The subject is: "Resolved, That the U. S. should adopt a programme of increased armament." A triangular debate has been arranged, which will take place some time after the Easter vacation. The negative will debate Rutgers at New Brunswick, N. J., and the affirmative will debate New York University in Alumni Hall.

The teams have selected coaches and will start to work immediately in the preparation of their respective sides. Preliminary debates will begin at once.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

At Harvard an effort is being made to have the laboratories open at night so that the afternoon laboratories will not interfere with participation in athletics by science students.—Exchange.

A fraternity group at the Colorado College, finding their funds too low for the usual means of transportation, decided to visit the Exposition in a box-car this summer. But as they could not be classed as live-stock the railroad company would not allow this. They now plan to ship their pet goat and about half the club will have to go along to take care of it.—Ex.

A protest against the serving of beer at the annual banquet of the freshman class has been made in an open letter to the Harvard Crimson by F. Treadwell Smith, one of the leading members of the senior class and a member of the Harvard chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa. The prohibitionists admit that their first attempt to shut off the supply of beer in the freshman class is only the first step in the campaign that is to sweep through all the classes and abolish beer at class meetings, smokers and the like. The Harvard Student Council, made up of leading undergraduates and forming the most powerful student organization at Harvard, has been called upon to stop beer at the freshman banquet.—Boston Post.

THE STUDENT VOTE.

Wisconsin liquor men are trying to bar college students from voting at municipal elections and have introduced a bill to that effect in the legislature. It is found that in Wisconsin a majority of students vote "dry." "In practice," says the Daily Cardinal, college paper of Madison, "this bill would deprive the student of his ballot. The law would prevent him from voting in the college town where he lived and circumstances would prevent him from voting in the place where the law ironically gave him the right to vote. An ignorant, morally-debauched hobo can cast a ballot in Madison, if he has been in Wisconsin for one year and been a resident of the precinct for ten days. Yet this bill would deprive the relatively intelligent student voter of the right to vote on the same terms."

In the legislature of Minnesota, also, a bill of similar intent is pending.

BARNSTORMERS ATTENTION.

Preparations on Foot for Invasion of South.

Various schemes have been tried at various times to exploit the college and all have met with some degree of success. But their need has passed, for after this summer there will be no one who has not heard of Trinity College and the faculty will have to sit up nights thinking of new excuses to turn down prospective students. For the "Barnstormers," an aggregation of local talent, will by that time have acquainted every one who has ears to hear of the existence and merits of the college. Dashing from one huge hotel to another pretentious pension in a powerful Ford they will cast spells upon the multitude.

The college need not ever expect to see its ambitious friends again. One of two things is sure to happen. The "Barnstormers" will grow rich and dyspeptic and end by endowing the Tripod; or they will depart hastily "to that bourne from which no traveler returns."

On the face of it the proposition is attractive. Six handsome and talented students, offering, like Little Tommy Tucker, to "sing for their supper," and playing various weird instruments, should make a huge success. Whatever else the proposition entails it has the grace of originality. The entertainment is varied enough, and to judge from the success achieved by the performers in the Musical Club trips of the year, of sufficient merit "to soothe the savage beast." The project proposes to offer songs by R. H. Bent, '15, and N. P. Holden, '18; 'cello solos by Roderic Pierce, '16; xylophone solos by C. H. Perkins, '16; recitations by O. W. Craik, '16, and a ukulele duet by J. G. N. Mitchell, '16, and N. P. Holden, '18. Should the audience still remain good humored a quartet of "Sweet Singers of Israel" will intone college songs and campus snatches.

John Philip Sousa

The March King, says:

"Tuxedo gives an absolutely satisfying smoke, fragrant, mild and pleasant."

John Philip Sousa

Tuxedo in the Day's March

All the vim, energy and enthusiasm you get out of a
Sousa march you get out of the steady use of Tuxedo.
Tuxedo is as cheering and inspiring as the "Stars and Stripes Forever," because Tuxedo is always refreshing, beneficial and wholesome. To be pipe-happy is on a par with being mind-happy. Then you can get the punch into life! And it's certainly worth while. The short-line to pipe peace is via

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Made by the famous "Tuxedo Process," Tuxedo is the one tobacco in the world that will not bite your tongue, no matter how much you smoke of it.

The extra-choice Kentucky Burley leaf from which Tuxedo is made is acknowledged by experts to be the world's premier smoking-tobacco leaf. This is why Tuxedo is so mild and mellow, so pleasantly aromatic, so delicious in flavor.
