WESLEYAN WORSTED 2—1.

FIRST BASEBALL VICTORY GOES TO TRINITY BY RALLY IN LAST OF NINTH. SCHMITT STARS.

That Trinity baseball team is getting so it won't recognize a defeat when it comes. The boys took the first of the Wesleyan series at Trinity Field last Saturday, May 15, by the eyelash score of 2 to 1, and they scored the two runs in the ninth inning, after a regular Dick Merriwell finish to one of the slickest games ever seen at Trinity Field. That ninth inning and the name of Schmitt will go down in Trinity's athletic archives with a big blazing star opposite them, for they stand for a miraculous comeback in the face of heart-breaking odds, and they provided a situation so tense as to make heart failure a chronic ailment. No better illustration was ever afforded of how Trinity simply will not be beaten by Wesleyan even when the latter have the contest all packed away on ice and are about to nail down the lid of the ice box.

Pretty nearly the whole Wesleyan team was Lanning. That gentleman can do other things besides play the outfield and make home runs. He can pitch. He can do more than that. He can pitch so well that it's next to impossible to hit him. Trinity got three hits off Lanning. They all came in the ninth inning, for for eight sessions the Wesleyan performer did not allow the semblance of a safety, and he made seventeen Blue and Gold athletes churn the air. He had a dandy curve that just barely cut the corner of the plate, and also a drop that dropped as though it had the dropsy. When Trinity hitters weren't striking out they were scratching easy chances to the infield. They couldn't get the ball out of the diamond, or into the air, as is shown by the fact that every put-out by Wesleyan players was made by either the catcher or first baseman. Not until the last chance to hit Lanning came in the ninth did Trinity find it a human possibility to do so. That is to say, the Blue and Gold then made possible what appeared to be clearly impossible.

For Trinity Swift pitched an excellent game. He allowed seven hits, but only in the second inning did he allow two bingles to come together. Wesleyan scored then when Becker walked, stole and took third on Chapin's single to right. Markthaler hit to left and Becker scored. There were already two down, and Swift ended the danger when he nailed Markthaler off first by a quick throw to Shelley. Wesleyan never seriously threatened to score after that. Cardinal and Black men wouldn't have gotten on as often as they did if once or twice the Trinity infielders hadn't interfered with each other on short flies over the infield and allowed them to fall safe. Stanley got a safety in this manner to start the sixth inning, but he was doubled up with Beeman on a bang up relay from Gillooly to McKay to Shelley. Another corking double play by Denning had featured the first inning when with third and second occupied, Denning nailed the fielder's delight that Beeman hoisted and doubled Kenan off second by a quick throw to McKay. Another pretty piece of fielding came in the eighth when Smith made a diving one-handed stop of a long bounding drive to deep right by Kenan and held a sure triple to a single.

Well, as said before, for eight innings, Trinity had been swinging circles around the balls. Lanning served up, but never mused them materially. Lanning had a no-hit game apparently cinched, yet even this fact couldn't keep Trinity from doing what seemingly couldn't be done so that Wesleyan might be sent away with her accustomed beating at Trinity Field. The terribly grim earnestness of the Trinity hitters as they came to bat in the ninth gave Lanning that funny feeling in his solar-plexus and he lost some of his equilibrium. McKay started off with a slashing hit to left field, and bedlam was loose in the Trinity stands. McKay stole and took third when Becker made a wide throw to first on Gillooly, giving the captain his base. Carpenter hit to Johnson and by terrific sprinting and a fierce slide, McKay beat the ball home. Bedlam and destruction were loose now. Gillooly took third and Carpenter second when Lanning made a wild pitch. Lanning had enough stuff left though to fan Denning, which shows that the stuff was considerable stuff. Here Schmitt was called upon to bat for Smith. It was one of the times that try men's souls, a tense situation with a vengeance, but Schmitt was as big as his job, and bigger. He smashed a hot grass cutter through second base which whizzed right on to right field. Captain Gillooly crossed the plate, the game was Trinity's, by 2 to 1, and when first bedlam and then bedlam and destruction had been loose among Trinity men, bedlam, destruction plus corruption and everything else indicative of the fierce, lusty joy of victory now held undisputed sway. Schmitt had placed himself on a pinnacle of Trinity baseball fame from which he can never be deposed, for it was the second consecutive year that, pinch hitting in the ninth, he has come across with a hit that spelled a victory for Trinity over Wesleyan. Captain Gillooly, Schmitt and all the rest of that game, cool-headed bunch of fighters were carried off the field and up to the gym, and right well did they deserve all the glory that is theirs. ## SOPHOMORE SMOKER.

Annual Event a Great Success.

A large crowd of alumni, undergraduates, and sub-freshmen assembled in Alumni Hall Friday night for the annual Sophomore Smoker. Each person at the entrance to the hall was presented with a pipe, tobacco, cigarettes, and a match safe; so the smoker end of the program was well provided for.

The combined musical clubs started things going with "There's a College on the Hill." Dr. Luther, as master of ceremonies, spoke a few words of welcome to the visitors, and exhibited a large silver cup which has been offered by the Hartford alumni to the college unit attaining the highest degree of scholarship during the year. He then introduced Karl P. Morba, '02. The latter dwelt upon the advantages and splendid mental equipment that is derived from college life and from Trinity in particular. He ended with a praise of the president.

The college quartet, composed of Shelley, '15, Edsall, '15, Harding, '16, and Spofford, '16, rendered several selections in a pleasing manner. Dr. Luther then introduced Dawson Howell, '15, the captain of the football team last fall, who spoke stirringly on the baseball game and track meet to be held the following day. He welcomed the sub-freshmen in behalf of the college body, and told them how much Trinity means to her sons. Horace Fort, '14, sang two or three songs in his usual excellent style. Dr. Price, the football and baseball coach, was then introduced. He spoke in part of the value of athletics in bringing out a fellow's good red blood, and their agency in instilling college spirit into undergraduates. Above all else athletics bring out the characteristics of sacrifice and unselfishness in men. He thanked the student body for the support given him during the past college year.

After the glee club had sung several of the well known college songs, Dr. Luther introduced Rev. Godfrey M. Brinley, '88, former intercollegiate tennis champion. Mr. Brinley spoke of the splendid strength of character exhibited by a former pupil of his who was involved in the recent Lusitania disaster, and went on to say that that character was developed by just such training as a student of Trinity college obtains. He warned the sub-freshmen not to be dazzled by the glamour of the famous athletes of the larger institutions. He closed with a glowing eulogy of Dr. Luther.

The remainder of the evening was then given over to the production of a regular "Broadway" musical comedy, written and staged by R. S. Barthelmess, '17, and W. M. Creamer, '17. The play was a decided success. It was featured by three brand new Trinity songs, "Blue and Gold", "Fight On, Fight On", and "Good-bye Wesleyan", written respectively by Creamer, '17, J.G.N. Mitchell, '16 and Rosenbaum, '14.

SPRINGFIELD WINS.

Track Team Surprised by a Defeat, 78-48.

The track team journeyed to Springfield last Saturday, May 15, and were beaten at Pratt Field by Y. M. C. A. College. The score was 78 to 48, Springfield showing unexpected strength, especially in the sprints and field events. Trinity took first place in the high hurdles, half-mile, mile, broad jump and high jump. Trinity was not able to clean up in a single event, whereas Springfield did so in the shot-put and pole vault. Springfield also took the lion's share of second and third places, and amassed 24 points in the 220, the 440 and the discus.

Perkins and Bjorn were Trinity's undisputed stars, rolling up nine points apiece. Perkins won the high hurdles, got second in the low hurdles, and third in the broad jump. Bjorn won the broad jump, and tied with Shultheiss for first in the high jump.

Captain Williams of Springfield was the heaviest scorer of the afternoon with a total of 13 points. He won both dashes and took second in the discus. Other Springfield stars were Clapp, who won the hammer and discus and took third in the shot-put, and Metcalf, who won the low hurdles and the 440.

Crehore won the mile and Captain Furnival the half. George ran a good race in the two-mile. He set the pace almost the entire distance, and was not passed by White of Springfield until halfway along on the final lap. The summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Williams, Springfield; Young, Trinity, second; Furnival, Trinity, third. Time 10 1-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Won by Williams, Springfield; Moses, Springfield, second; Young, Trinity, third. Time, 22 2-5 seconds.

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

In the lobby on the second floor of the Williams Memorial, two unsightly pipes protrude from the wall and mar the beauties of the structure. We have heard that these pipes are intended for a drinking fountain which is to harmonize with the stonework of the lobby.

Is it the idea of the Trustees to put in this fountain, or is it to be left for some "Grad" to put in as a memorial? We endorse either course, but feel that one or the other should be done.

SENIOR DRAMATICS.

Changes Made in Plays and in Committee.

The Senior Dramatics Committee has found it necessary to change somewhat the plans for part of the evening's performance. This was necessitated by the unlooked-for difficulties in the production of the play "Zaragueta", by the large number in the cast and particularly because of the impossibility of finding time at this busy part of the year for the many rehearsals which would have been necessary. Consequently that play was dropped as impossible to produce at this time.

The committee has been very fortunate, however, in finding two short, and even more amusing one-act plays which will be given in its place. Both are by Maurice Baring and are taken from his collection of "Diminutive Dramas." One is entitled, "Iphigenia at Aulis", and is a travesty on the typical ancient Greek drama. It is particularly appropriate at this time because of the recent production of "Iphigenia in Tauris" in the Yale Bowl. Baring's little play explains very naturally and satisfactorily why Iphigenia was not sacrificed by Agamemnon at Aulis.

The other skit is entitled, "The Rehearsal", and is supposed to be a rehearsal of "Macbeth" for its first production about the year 1600 in the Globe Theatre, London. The play is very clever and particularly interesting and amusing to those who have had any rehearsing to do for dramatics.

The casts for these two plays are being selected from those who made the play "Zaragueta" by competition. The parts as selected will be announced later.

In addition to these two short plays, a third will be given as a curtain-raiser, as originally planned. This is entitled: "The Maker of Dreams," and is a modern one-act fantasy with three characters.

All three plays are being coached and staged under the supervision of Mrs. Henry A. Perkins, who has been a great success with the Jesters' productions as coach. The dramatics are to be held at the Hartford Club on the evening of Saturday, June 19th, being the opening event in Senior Week. Following the plays there will be dancing until twelve, and the general admission for the whole evening is to be one dollar.

A letter is being sent out to the alumni and friends of the college this week informing them of the production and asking that tickets be bought in advance. The undergraduates are also requested, so far as possible, to purchase tickets before the evening in order that the committee may have an estimate of how many are to be present and may be certain of covering necessary expenses.

Walcott Chapin has been recently appointed to the Committee to succeed R. A. Bissell, who has left college.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

Friday night the Sophomore Class gave the annual smoker. It was a grand, good time and all active Trinity men joined in showing the sub-freshmen what Trinity spirit stood for. We heard a number of excellent speakers, truthfully painting Trinity as a place of good fellowship, opportunity and high ideals. Then, after gaining our end and impressing the new men with what Trinity really stands for, some thoughtless members imbibed more spirit, but of a different variety, made themselves particularly conspicuous on the campus, and caroused around until well into the morning hours.

I believe this last was a mistake, it did not improve the impression the speakers had so ably made. In fact, I know that in come cases it disgusted the sub-freshmen beyond words. Is this Trinity spirit, is it what we stand for, do we wish to make prospective Trinity men acquainted with such false impressions? I know that as a whole we do not. Let those that are guilty take it unto themselves and give serious thought to such offence.—'15.

TENNIS TEAM WINS.

Defeats Brown with Score of 4-2.

On last Friday afternoon on the Trinity courts the Trinity tennis team met and defeated the strong aggregation from Brown. Trinity won easily, capturing three singles and one of the doubles, winning the match by a score of 4 to 2. Captain Edsall played W. Chandler, champion of Brown, and defeated him after the latter had Edsall 5 to 3 and forty love in the second set.

The Syracuse team which was to play here Saturday failed to put in an appearance for some unaccountable reason and so the match was forfeited to Trinity 6 to 0.

Sunday afternoon Captain Edsall, Mitchell, and Niles left for Boston. They are to enter the Intercollegiate matches at Longwood, which start Monday afternoon.

The scores of the Brown match are as follows:

Singles.

Edsall of Trinity defeated W. Chandler of Brown, 6-2, 7-5.

Mitchell of Trinity defeated F. Green of Brown, 6-3, 6-2.

Day of Brown defeated T. Peck of Trinity, 6-4, 6-0.

Niles of Trinity defeated T. Chandler of Brown, 6-2, 6-2.

Doubles.

Edsall and Niles of Trinity defeated W. Chandler and Green of Brown, 6-3, 6-2.

Day and Miller of Brown defeated Harding and Mitchell of Trinity, 6-1, 4-6, 7-5.
