TRINITY WINS AGAIN.

Bates Proves Easy Prey.

Trinity won a sensational but one-sided game from Bates College on Saturday by the score of 42 to 14. The light Bates' eleven threw a big scare into the Trinity rooters by scoring a touchdown in five minutes through a rapid series of forward passes, lateral passes and an onside kick, but after this first score they proved to be easy meat for the heavy Trinity linesmen and backs. During these first few minutes Trinity seemed completely fooled by the fast and clever plays of Bates, but throughout the remainder of the game every play was covered, and time and time again Bates' backs were thrown for a big loss before they could complete a pass or get started on a run. The only other time that Bates proved dangerous was in the third quarter, when Davis, quarterback for the visitors, intercepted a forward pass and tore for eighty yards through the Trinity team for a touchdown. Trinity played good old fashioned football, making most of her big gains right through the visitors' line, with Brickley generally carrying the ball.

For Bates, Davis at quarter and De Wever at full starred, but it was seldom that they got the chance to cut loose, so powerful was Trinity's defensive. For Trinity, Brickley played a wonderful game, making many thrilling runs, and throwing off tackler after tackler in a fashion that kept the stands gasping in amazement. He was ably aided by Cole, who also made some big gains despite his injured leg. Vizner, and quarterback Kennedy, who ran the team like a general, and proved a wonder in running through a broken field, also starred. Too much cannot be said for the Trinity line. It was very seldom that they failed to open the necessary hole for the backs, and often they blocked kicks and passes in the making.

Lambert kicked off to Bates, they getting first down on their forty-yard line. A long pass, De Wever to Boyd, brought the ball to Trinity's forty-five-yard line. Then followed a quick succession of lateral passes and an onside kick which brought the ball to Trinity's 15-yard line. Trinity recovered the ball on downs, but Vizner fumbled, and Bates recovered the ball on the 12-yard line. A penalty for holding brought the ball to the one-yard line, and Kennedy, the Bates' left half-back crossed the line for the first score against Trinity this season. Small kicked the goal. Score: 7 to 0, favor of Bates.

Lambert kicked off again to Bates. A blocked kick gave Trinity the ball. Castator and Kennedy made several

JESTERS TRYOUTS TODAY.

"A Gentleman of Leisure," Chosen for this Year's Play.

The tryouts for the cast of the Jesters will be held this afternoon at 4.30 in Alumni Hall. A four-act comedy of New York life, "A Gentleman of Leisure," has been chosen for this year's offering, and rehearsals will be commenced at once. The custom of having Hartford society girls take the female parts will be continued this year. As yet it is not known what young ladies will play these parts, but as there are no female parts in the first act, this uncertainty will cause no delay in beginning rehearsals.

The play this year is to be given for the Spruce Street Settlement, of which Miss Mitchell of Charter Oak Place is President. Mrs. H. A. Smith, of Prospect Avenue, is also connected with the settlement, and has been of great assistance in making the preliminary arrangements.

Parsons' Theatre has been engaged for a matinee on Wednesday, December 15, and for an evening performance on Thursday, December 16.

On account of her duties as wife of the acting President, Mrs. Perkins will be unable to coach the club this year, but adequate coaching has been arranged for, and in addition, Professor MacDonald has promised to do all in his power to help the coaching.

Any freshmen or others who wish to try out for Stage or Property Manager will please report to Buffington at 81 Vernon Street at once.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The fall tennis tournament is nearing its completion. In the singles, P. Harding, '18 has reached the final round. His opponent will be the winner of the Niles, K. Johnson match. In the doubles Harding and Niles are one pair of finalists. They will play Pierce and K. Johnson for the championship.

THE PITCHER—LEAFED ASH.

A report of the peculiar ash tree given to Trinity College last year by the Carnegie Station for Experimental Evolution at Cold Spring Harbor, L. I., has recently been sent to Cold Spring Harbor. The tree has thrived in its new environment south of Boardman Hall, and among its leaves were about twenty-five which were folded into a pitcher form, a peculiarity known of no other ash trees, except these freaks which have been discovered in a limited area on Long Island by investigators at the Carnegie Station.

SOPHOMORES WIN SERIES WITH FRESHMEN.

In the second and deciding game of the series of three games between the Sophomores and Freshmen on Trinity Field Monday afternoon the sophomores won 4 to 1. The 1918 men won the first game 2 to 1; so they have now captured the series.

For the first three innings the game was closely contested, but after the fourth the result was never in doubt. Harper pitched for the sophomores and at all times held the freshmen safe, but one hit being obtained from his delivery. Brickley started the game for the freshmen, but became so wild in the third inning that Prescott was put in his place.

The sophomores got two runs in the third when Poto drew a pass and Murray's hit brought him in. Murray scored on Harper's hit. Their other two runs came in the fifth when Harper hit a long fly to center with two men on bases which Valentine dropped. The freshmen's one run came in the third when Kenney got their only hit. The sophomores got three hits during the game. The line-up:

1918	1919
Poto, 3rd.	Prescott, s.s., p.
Murray, s.s.	Kenney, c.
Burnham, lf.	Brickley, p., ss.
Wright, rf.	Thalheimer, 1st.
Ives, cf.	Leeke, 2nd.
Boardman, 2nd.	E. Armstrong, 3rd.
Holden, 1st.	Pressey, lf.
Phillips, c.	Jarvis, cf.
Harper, p.	H. Armstrong, rf.
L'Heureux, rf.	Valentine, lf.
Miller, cf.
Burnap, lf.

The summary:

1918,	0	0	2	0	2—4
1919,	0	0	1	0	0—1

Strike outs: Harper 5, Brickley 4; base on balls: by Harper 3, by Brickley 4, by Prescott 1; hit by pitcher: Brickley 1.

HOCKEY MEETING.

At a meeting of the members of last year's hockey team now in college, on Friday last, it was decided that Trinity would have a hockey team this year. Those now in college are Little, Astlett, Burnham, Pratt and Cole, and building around these men as a nucleus, a strong team will be formed. A good schedule, which will be published at a future date, is now being arranged.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Professor Leroy C. Barret was the speaker at the Sunday morning chapel service. His text was taken from the fifth chapter of St. Matthew: "Ye are the salt of the earth. If the salt hath lost its savor wherein shall it be salted."

The vesper service in the college chapel was conducted by Frank Lambert, '16.

SOPHOMORE DINING CLUB.

The Sophomore Dining Club held its second meeting on Friday, October 8, for the election of more men to the Dining Club. The 1917 and 1918 members together elected Sydney D. Pinney, John D. Burnham, and Joseph Buffington, Jr. These three men are well known on the campus and are prominent in class and college activities.

Pinney is assistant manager of the track team. He is on the Sophomore Hop Committee. He also put the second flag up the tree for 1918 in the last St. Patrick's Day scrap.

Burnham was on the football squad, played class football and pitched for his team in the victorious baseball series last year. He has also been on several committees.

Buffington was class secretary last year and chairman of the Freshman Rules Committee. He is an associate editor of the Tripod and won "honorable mention" for the Freshman English Prize.

The elections to the Sophomore Dining Club this year were cut down from the number elected in previous years.

COLLEGE MEETING.

A college meeting was held in the Union last Friday night. A tax of ten cents, to be used to pay the expenses of the Press Club, was announced. Captain Crehore of the track team then spoke and said that he regretted the absence of Coach Harmon who was not able to attend the meeting, and that the team needs more men. He urged every fellow to come out at once, whether he had run before or not, as Coach Harmon would have charge of the fall training this year.

Howell, '15, captain of the 1914 football team, said that all athletic sports, especially football, were beneficial to the college. Although the team had begun the season under adverse conditions on account of the lack of scrubs, it had obtained a flying start for the most strenuous schedule a Trinity team has had to face. The team can do its best work when it feels that the whole student body is behind it, and fighting with it on the field.

After this President Cole announced a meeting for next Friday evening in the Public Speaking room. Songs and cheers closed the meeting.

JUNIOR PROM. CHAIRMAN.

A meeting of the Junior Class was held Monday at 12.45 in the Economics room for the purpose of electing a chairman for the Junior Prom. T. B. Clement was elected. Mr. Clement is from Sunbury, Pa., and is a member of St. Anthony Hall. He is associate editor and secretary of the Tripod, and secretary of the Debating Association.

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

Whenever a Trinity man looks over a New York Sunday newspaper he is apt to remark: "Why in the dickens don't they give us a decent write-up over that game yesterday? Just look at that half column on the Wesleyan-Norwich affair, while we get scant ten lines after a contest with Brown. What's the matter, anyway?"

Yes—what is the matter? Why do some of the other New England colleges receive the publicity which Trinity does not have? It surely is not because they are more important, or because they put up a better brand of football than we do. No one would be rash enough to make such a statement. The whole trouble lies in the failure of the college to develop a first-class press club—a thing which is as necessary to a college as an advertising manager is to an automobile concern. Such a club would see that every Trinity game was thoroughly written up immediately after it was over, and the story sent out to all the leading newspapers of the East. At present the Senate is endeavoring to do something along this line by appointing a press committee to help carry on the work of placing Trinity more before the public eye. The Tripod exhorts this committee to manifest some "pep" and do justice to a task which is vital to the interests of the college. Trinity has the "goods". The world must know that she has them. Former press committees have failed to fulfill their duties. Is this one going to come through and pave the way for an efficient club in the future?

HARVARDIAN LAMENT.

By Percy Shaw.

According to the Harvard Crimson, the conversation of Harvard students at meals is confined to frivolous subjects.

The men of Harvard used to dine
Sedately in the college hall;
Wit was their only brand of wine,
And classics knew them one and all:
No silly conversations ran
On "flappers" and the shrinking gown;
Each tried to praise his fellow man,
And scorned the luring call to town.

Those were the days (so they declare
Who frown upon the modern way)
When dinner wore a cultured air
Apparently unknown to-day.
Then Jim, between his soup and meat
Read Ovid from the English text,
And Harry shuffled in his seat
For fear he might be called on next.

Then Billy racked his fertile brain,
While bolting down the apple pie,
In valiant efforts to explain
Why "X" should never equal "Y".
Then Frank in consternation thrown
By idioms in La Fontaine,
In modern parlance pulled a Bohn,
And scanned serenely on again.

So thus the atmosphere was kept
With higher education tense,
And love of beauty never slept,
And dignity filled every sense.
But yet (oh, cruel thing to say),
I'd rather frivol as I eat
And let digestion have her way
Not with my words, but with my meat.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

I am glad to learn from the several notices placed on the bulletin board, that the dramatic organization of the college, "The Jesters," is beginning to show some signs of existence.

"The Jesters" is an organized body of students and it should receive the staunch support of every Trinity man.

In the business world of today, the most successful men are those who can command such a power of self-confidence as to speak before a large audience, whether impromptu or not, and show no trace of fear or nervousness. Therefore, I know of no better way for a man to learn self-confidence and oratorical power, than to receive it from a dramatic point of view, and so I urge every man to try out for some part in the coming play, and whether successful or not, he may be assured of beneficent results.

To the Editor of the Tripod:

You may care to note that among the literature distributed by the Syndicate Managers of the Anglo-French Loan Syndicate at the meeting at the Waldorf on the 8th instant, were copies of an article by Professor J. J. McCook which appeared in the New York Evening Post of August 21, 1915: "The Professor and the War", and a chart and statistics showing the wealth of Great Britain and France, our ability to absorb the loan, and a business reason for extending this credit to our best customers, by De Forest Hicks, '96, of Coggeshall & Hicks.

Yours truly,

COLLEGE NOTES.

At the opening of the new Connecticut College for Women at New London, Trinity was represented by Acting-President H. A. Perkins, Wesleyan University by President W. A. Shanklin and Yale University by President A. T. Hadley. Professor Perkins made one of the formal speeches of welcome to the new college.

Professor Arthur Adams attended a meeting of the Connecticut Association of Librarians at Norfolk last Thursday. He will also be present at the meeting of the Eastern Librarians' Association at Harvard University today (Tuesday).

Mr. H. R. Hill, assistant Librarian, has been ill for the past few days.

Dr. J. J. McCook has been confined to his home recently with a severe cold.

Mr. W. B. Briggs, former Librarian of the college and now Reference Librarian of Harvard University, was in town last week and visited the college.

Of unusual interest to Trinity men is the gift to the Library made by Miss Edith Hale of Hartford, through Professor Kleene, of two copper plates from which were printed respectively the invitations to the Junior Exhibition of Washington College in 1843, two years before the college was given its present name; and the invitations to the Junior Exhibition of Trinity College in 1846 the year after the change was made. The Junior Exhibition was the forerunner of the present Junior Promenade festivities.

NEWS OF THE ALUMNI.

'00—James W. Bradin, Jr., has been admitted to the firm of Dana and Company, dealers in steel products. His address is 111 Broadway, New York.

'05—Clement Griscone Randle has recently entered the employ of Moorehead & Elmore, (investment securities), 729 15th Street, Washington, D. C.

'06-'08—Trinity had three representatives in the Graduate School of the University of Chicago during the past summer. William J. Ryland, '08, Professor of History and Political Science, West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va., took graduate work; F. A. G. Cowper, '06, was completing his work for the Doctor's degree; and Harry Slater W. Wilcox, '08, was in the Medical School.

'10—The wedding of Raymond Guede Coghlan of Newark, N. J., and Miss Natalie Washburn Nixdorff, daughter of the late Mrs. Solon Chester Kelley, of Hartford, took place in the Marble Collegiate Church, New York, at half-past six o'clock on the evening of June 12. The reception was held at "The Holland House." Mr. and Mrs. Coghlan are living in Newark, at 389 Belmont Avenue.

'10—Married, in Boston, Mass., June 29, Cyril Bathurst Judge and Miss Annie Lyman.

'12—The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Edwin A White, of Glen Ridge, N. J., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Constance White, to William H. Bleecker, '12, of Flushing, L. I. The wedding will mark the union of two of the oldest families in this country, Miss White's forefather having been the elder of the Hartford settlement, where he built his home in the shade of the Charter Oak; while Mr. Bleecker comes from a family that has been well known in New York for two hundred years. Mr. Bleecker, for the past four months, has been engaged in electrical work in Canada, and has just returned home.

FRIEND OF TRINITY DEAD.

The Right Rev. Robert Cadman, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Maine, died Thursday in a hospital at Boston, after a very serious operation had been performed. September 16, 1915, he married Miss Marguerette Biddle Porter of Philadelphia and of Washington.

Bishop Cadman graduated from Harvard in 1882. Three years later he completed the required course at the Harvard Law School. He then practiced law in Boston for six years. In 1891 he entered the General Theological Seminary and left in 1894. Bishop Cadman was assistant rector of All Saints' Church at Ashmont, Mass., for one year. Then in 1895 he became rector of St. John's Church, in Roxbury, Mass. In five years he was consecrated Bishop of Maine. In the same year Trinity College conferred on him the degree of St. D.

Bishop Cadman is widely known throughout Trinity College, as the founder of the Cadman scholarship in memory of his brother, the Rev. Archibald Cadman, a graduate of the class of 1886. The whole college mourns the loss of so true a friend.

TRINITY WINS AGAIN.

small gains, then Brickley tore off a 25-yard run through Bates' line and deposited the ball under the goal posts after throwing off several tacklers. Nordstrom kicked the goal. Score 7 to 7.

Trinity kicked off again, and Cole intercepted a forward pass on the visitors' 30-yard line. An end run by Cole, and line plunges by Castator and Brickley brought the ball to the ten-yard line at the end of the first quarter. A short forward pass, Brickley to Castator, netted five yards. Brickley reached the one-yard mark, and Castator crashed through for the score. Nordstrom kicked the goal. Score: 14 to 7, favor of Trinity.

Kennedy ran the kick-off back for 45 yards, but fumbled, Bates recovering the ball. Bates punted and Brickley ran 50 yards through the whole Bates team for a touchdown. Nordstrom again kicked the goal. Trinity scored again on a blocked kick by Harper, and a 20-yard run by Brickley. Nordstrom kicked another goal, making the score 28 to 7 at the end of the half.

Cole carried the Bates kick-off back for 30 yards, Craig punted, and Bates gained ten yards on a lateral pass to De Wever. Cole intercepted a forward pass, and after a fumble by each side Vizner carried a pass 20 yards for the fifth touchdown. Score 35 to 7. Nordstrom kicked the goal from a difficult angle. After the next kick-off Cole and Brickley made 40 yards on long end runs, but Davis startled the crowd by intercepting a forward pass and flashing for 80 yards up the field for Bates' other score. Davis kicked the goal. Score 35 to 14. Throughout the remainder of the game, Trinity continued gaining on steady line plunges, and scored her sixth touchdown as a result of the terrific line smashing by Brickley. Nordstrom kicked his sixth successive goal, and the game ended soon after the following kick-off, with the ball in mid-field.

Injuries to Jackson and Captain Castator necessitated their removal from the game, and the putting of Harper and Craig in their places. Both watched the remainder of the game from the side lines, and will be in the game again soon.

—when you want a real smoke, get behind a pipeful of Tuxedo and watch all the big and little Worries that have been a-besieging you, evacuate their trenches and make a rushin' advance to the rear. Those fragrant whiffs of "Tux" make them feel too joyful—no self-respecting Worry can stand for that.

Tuxedo
The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

The combination of the best smoking-tobacco leaf in the world and the best method ever discovered for refining and mellowing tobacco puts Tuxedo in a class by itself.

Kentucky's ripest, mildest Burley leaf, when treated by the original "Tuxedo Process" loses every trace of bite—develops a wonderfully pleasing fragrance and flavor that are not found in any other tobacco.

No other manufacturer knows the "Tuxedo Process"; that's why no imitator ever equals Tuxedo!
