WEST POINT 53; TRINITY 0.

The football team met its worst defeat of the season at West Point Saturday afternoon, the Army men rolling up a total of 53 points while our team was held scoreless. The team was far outweighed but put up a game fight to keep down the score which the heavy cadets' eleven was piling up. The Trinity team was badly handicapped by the absence of the members of the backfield from the line-up. Jarvis, Hyland and Phillips were all out of the game. The backfield which took their place weighed less than 140 pounds to the man. The Trinity line played well and the majority of the Army gains were the results of forward passes and long end runs.

The Army eleven played a hard, aggressive game throughout the four periods, and depended upon the open style of football for the larger part of the contest. The ball remained in Trinity's territory almost without exception. Captain Woolley's men did not weaken on the defense in the last half even when playing against great odds. The Army substituted freely, saving their strongest men for the second half, lining up for the third and fourth periods with the entire first string of the varsity.

Oliphant played a brilliant game for the cadets, bringing the stands to their feet with long spectacular runs and scoring a total of four touchdowns and four goals from the field for the Army. Mullins also played a stellar game, scoring two touchdowns on long forward pass plays. Captain Woolley, Murray, M. Jackson and Breslin played well for Trinity. Trinity tried the forward pass only a few times, netting one long gain on this feature in a pass from Armstrong to Astlett in the last part of the third quarter.

Oliphant, the Army's All-America halfback, lived up to his reputation for ground gaining, making two runs of eighty yards, one of them from kickoff, both scoring touchdowns. The scoring started in the first quarter when Murrill, playing quarterback for the Army, hurled a long forward pass to Mullins, the latter carrying the ball over the goal line. Later in the same period Mullins repeated the performance, this time making a run of twenty yards. In the third quarter another long pass to Mullins placed the ball in position three feet from Trinity's goal and on the next play Green crashed over for another score. Oliphant started the scoring in the third quarter carrying the ball over the line on a short run. He then ran seventy yards for a touchdown. In the fourth quarter a pass, Oliphant to Schrader, resulted in one touchdown, and Oliphant followed with two more touchdowns, one on a run of ninety yards from the kickoff.

MEETING OF Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. of Trinity College held its first meeting in the History Room Monday night. The feature of the evening was two stirring talks on the power of the individual person. One of the addresses was by Mr. Sherman Day, and the other by Dr. Adam. Mr. Day held the fifteen or more men who were present in close attention with an enthusiastic talk in which he brought out the need of the college man in religious works and the powerful factor they could be in the college. After a short address, he introduced Dr. Adam as a man who has had great experience in working among men of all types. Dr. Adam in his talk told of the great responsibility of the young men of this nation in doing their part in the reconstruction period which this war has brought about. He told of the great sacrifice the men of the European countries were making toward the progress of what they considered right. In connection with this he told of his personal experience among the soldiers of England for four months. He then asked the pertinent question as to what the men of Trinity were doing as their share.

It was decided to hold meetings every Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, at which Dr. Adam will give talks. The great benefit derived from these meetings cannot be over-emphasized. Dr. Adam is a fascinating speaker, and his wonderful experiences in all parts of the world make him a most entertaining talker.

A STUDY OF CONNECTICUT POULTRY FARMS.

Beginning December 1, 1916, a systematic study of poultry farm management in Connecticut will be made by the Connecticut Agricultural College, assisted by certain of the County Farm Bureaus. This work will be done under the supervision of the Farm Management Demonstrator and the Extension Poultryman.

Its purpose will be to determine what types of Poultry Farm Management under actual conditions yield the largest profits. The business of each farmer coöperating will be analyzed and a report returned to him in person.

Over forty farmers have already expressed their willingness to coöperate. More coöperators are desired. If interested, address R. E. Jones, Extension Poultryman, or I. G. Davis, Farm Management Demonstrator, Storrs, Connecticut.

FALL TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The tennis tournament is now nearing a close finish. In the doubles, Johnson and Hartzmark, having defeated King and Boyce, are to play Ortgies and Porter, who won from Harding and Humphreys. This is the semi-final match.

The singles are in their third round. Here Hartzmark won from Burnap, Johnson from Tilton and Porter from Boyce. The Reddish-Harding match still remains to be played. The men who have won these matches will play in the semi-finals, and from all indications, it ought to be an exciting finish.

TROOP "B" BACK FROM BORDER.

Troop "B", Fifth Militia Cavalry of Connecticut, arrived home from the border last Saturday. A large number of Trinity alumni are in this troop, and within her ranks are numbered three men of the Senior Class—Guy M. Baldwin, John B. Barnwell, and Drummond Little.

Captain J. H. Kelso Davis, the Commander of Troop "B", is a prominent Trinity alumnus, and an ex-graduate treasurer of the Athletic Association. Among the Trinity alumni in Troop "B", are William J. Hamersley, '09, R. W. Thomas, '13, Felix Baridon, '14, Louis De Ronge, '14, Howard R. Hill, '15, and Frank Lambert, '16.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS.

The college branch of the Y.M.C.A. has organized a Bible study class to be held in the History Room on Monday evenings, following the visit of Francis P. Miller, a traveling secretary of the Y. M. C. A. This class is under the able instruction of Dr. John Douglas Adam of the Theological Seminary, who is to be assisted by Mr. Bookman of the Seminary. Both of these men are spirited and able teachers and the course of instruction that has been outlined is well worth the attention of every student.

Fifteen men have already signified their intention of joining the class, and it is the hope of the association cabinet that this number will be doubled, so that two classes may be formed.

A reception is to be given by the association to the freshmen in the near future. At this time the members of the newly entered class will

The discus throw was called off on account of darkness.

The trainers for this meet were Dr. Swan, and Mitchell. The manager was Pinney, and the judges were Wessells, Muller, Hyland, Shulthiess, and Cassidy.

Both classes showed lots of fight, and made it interesting for the spectators.

The official score is as follows:
1919.....5 4 8 6 1 8 3 3 9—47
1920.....4 5 1 3 8 1 6 6 0—34

meet the members of the faculty and their wives. The decision to give the reception is the result of the movement for reorganization of the association which was instituted by Mr. Miller.

Although the membership in the association is now somewhat smaller than it has been in the past, it has been considered the wisest policy to take in as members only students who actually intend to take an active part in the work of the association.

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

On All Saints' Day, November 1, the college celebrates "Founders' and Benefactors' Day". At this time the freshmen matriculate and degrees are given with appropriate ceremonies. This year the main address is to be given by Judge Joseph Buffington, of the United States Circuit Court. The Trustees have declared this day a holiday from scholastic duties, in order that the students may attend the ceremonies. It should be borne in mind that this holiday is not given for the purpose of sleeping or visiting. All the students should make it a point to attend this celebration and contribute their share towards a fitting demonstration in honor of the college's founders and benefactors.

The football team should be congratulated for their efforts in the "Army" game. With three of their back-field out of the game and with the team outweighed man to man, they put up a fight which is worthy of much praise. Let the same efforts be repeated next Saturday and we will win our biggest game.

The Tripod is conducting a "straw vote" for President. In another column of this issue is printed a ballot. Let every Trinity man cast his vote for the candidate of his choice. All ballots should be dropped in the "Tripod box" in Northam Towers. Ballots must be signed in order to be counted and all votes must be in within a week. Let us see how Trinity stands. The campaign leaders of each party should marshal as many votes as possible.

We print in this issue several communications from ardent Trinity men. The Tripod feels that they all contain "food for serious thought". On first thought the Tripod commends all the suggestions and, especially the one in reference to a course in military training.

COMMUNICATION.

Trinity College, Hartford.
To the Editor of the "Tripod":

There is a certain class of students at Trinity College whom we hear exclaiming on all occasions, "Trinity is becoming more like a 'prep.' school every day."

In the writer's opinion there is one particularly pre-school custom which seems to prevail here. In fact, it is a practice which befits the youth of prep. school—it is nothing but child-play. I am speaking of the water-throwing. Why is it that some fellows do not realize that college is the place for men, not for "silly, prank-playing, naughty children"!

By the way, I wager that these water-throwers are the same fellows that cry, "Trinity is becoming more like a 'prep.' school every day."

In the interests of Trinity,
SENIOR.

COLLEGE NOTES.

A number of men have signed the Y. M. C. A. paper on the bulletin board, but there are not yet enough names. It is sincerely hoped that many more of the men will see their way clear to help out in the good work that this organization is planning to do.

The Democrats in the college have now called a meeting with a view to organizing a Democratic Club in the college. There will be election of officers and the appointment of committees for taking part in the Democratic campaign.

There are two offices which are now open to candidates. One of these is the Reader of the Glee Club and the other is Assistant Manager of Track. It is earnestly requested that there will be a number of men out for these positions.

COMMUNICATION.

The "Tripod",

Dear Sirs:

I have noticed in your columns at various times editorials and articles advocating a course in military training. I simply call your attention to the fact that the Trustees of the college passed a resolution at a recent meeting, which provided that Trinity should have a course in military training as soon as she should meet the Government requirements.

It seems to me that the faculty might help the college fulfill these requirements, if they are so minded. It may be that they are a bit peeved at the Trustees for passing a measure, pertaining to the college studies, over their heads. It may also be that the faculty do not approve of military training. At any rate the Trustees should see that every effort is made for the college to fulfill the Government requirements.

Faithfully yours,

TRINITY SUPPORTER.

COMMUNICATION.

October 23, 1916.

To the Editor of the "Tripod",

Dear Sir:

I read with interest the editorial taken from the "Springfield Republican", which appeared in your issue of a few days ago, in reference to the decreasing mal-treatment of freshmen. I know further that the President and the faculty of Trinity have much the same opinion, at least, in regard to hazing. Both of these things came to my mind last night when I heard the "hazing-bee" on the campus. It seems to me that such a practice is absolutely ridiculous. Why should freshmen be balled out of their rooms and be put through all sorts of horse-play, and slap-stick tricks? Can anyone show what good is accomplished? Yes, it makes freshmen the "fresher". If the supporters of this institution think they are thus making freshmen humble and ideal, they are mistaken. In fact the opposite is accomplished. Freshmen rules should be made, but their obedience should be a matter of honor on the part of the freshmen, and their neglect should be treated as the breaking of one's honor. Freshmen should be freshmen just because they are freshmen. When a freshman ceases to be a "freshman" in the true sense of the word, it should be a matter for the Student Governing Body to attend to, and not a matter to be made light of, by a joking, irresponsible bunch of students.

Faithfully,

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

Wesleyan—Some Wesleyan Alumni have offered a prize of twenty-five dollars to the man who writes the best football song.

Eric Brunnow, a Princeton freshman died of infantile paralysis last Sunday in the Princeton infirmary. It is thought that he contracted the disease while in New York previous to the opening of College.

Because of the increased cost of construction, plans for a new swimming pool at Harvard have been given up. The pool was to have cost $16,000 under the original contract and $10,000 had already been solicited, but recent estimates raised the probable cost to $25,000.

Dr. Berton C. Morrill, who was athletic coach at Bowdoin for seven years, has been engaged by the Harvard athletic authorities as assistant instructor for field event men during the coming year.

The St. Viator College eleven set a new world's record for high score in a single football game last Saturday when it literally piled up a score of 205 to 0 against the team representing the Lane Technical School.

On account of prediction that the high cost of living is going to rise higher still, fourteen Penn. students have rented a house in Philadelphia, established a "student co-operative boarding house", and stored up enough food to enable them to live for $6.00 a week during the remainder of the college year.

Because of an unusual demand for seats for the Yale-Harvard football game on November 25, the Yale management has voted to erect 8,000 additional temporary seats on the rim of the bowl. This will raise the seating capacity of the great amphitheater to over 70,000.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'74—The Louisville Courier-Journal of recent date publishes the following in regard to Dr. C. E. Craik who, together with his son C. E. Craik, Jr., ex'16, was injured in an automobile accident.

"It is given out that Dean Craik has regained consciousness and is fairly on the way to recovery after the death-dealing injuries he received nearly ten days ago. The happy issue seems little short of a miracle. The hope is universal that his restoration to health will be complete and speedy, both to himself and to the son who with him was stricken in the dreadful accident upon the River road. Both as a clergyman and as a citizen, the beloved dean stood near the hearts of the people of Louisville. Native and to the manner born, he was in the truest sense a shepherd—as his father had been before him—and the thought of the sudden and tragic end which hung so long in the '80—Case and Comment, the legal magazine makes the following comment regarding Dr. Black:

"It is worthy of note that the degree of doctor of laws was conferred by Trinity College (Conn.) on the eminent American legal writer, Henry Campbell Black, of Washington, D. C. Dr. Black's legal works cover many subjects and are extensively used by the profession.

In conferring this honorary degree Trinity College has honored one of her own sons and graduates, and recognized the value and utility of a life devoted to the study of legal problems and the preparation of editorials and treatises."

'08—The Tripod has received a card bearing this short but interesting message:

"To-day I umpired University of Virginia, University of Georgia game. Am sorry the Trinity team has not been more successful. Beat Amherst!

The Army team was penalized heavily throughout the game. Feldman of Trinity and Cole of the Army were evenly matched in the punting game. Trinity lost much ground owing to her inability to judge plays and break up the Army's long forward passes, and also fumbled to a large extent. The Trinity backfield could not gain on their offensive play. Several times the Trinity defense broke up plays well in back of the Army line and in all instances tackled hard. The summary:—
