STAY—RETURN.

We started our college year chiefly in pursuit of knowledge directly pertaining to modern soldiery. We desired above all to learn the art of modern war. Our country had called us. Above all else we wished to fit ourselves quickly to do all possible to serve America and to take as great a part as we could to sustain democracy in the world. America was then at war, upholding the great cause of the world—Democracy. The ambition we had then was the one and only correct one.

Now the situation is changed. Peace is in the making. What now does our country and the world need of her young manhood? The demand on you today is just as strong as then. You must now work hard and intensively to fit yourselves for the best kind of American citizens. The college is the best agency for perfecting yourself for the highest type of American citizen as well in peace as in war. It is your business now, your duty, but better still, your privilege, to continue your college course. Trinity commends you for your ardor to fight for America and the great cause. Trinity will now reward you according to your merit for work done while learning to fight by giving you for that work all due credit, and again "it is up to you." Stay at Trinity. Use her as the best agency, as she is, and educate yourselves. Devote your entire energy to building for yourself the foundation you need to take your true part in the great epoch of peace that is before our generation.

The khaki and shoulder bars and spurs are off. War crosses and medals will not be dangled before us. The real and great rewards come to men in times of peace, these rewards are before you. Wars are but incidental to the great accomplishments of great men. Had not George Washington known and applied the great principles of democracy he would have fought and won the Revolution in vain. Stay at Trinity, and complete your education so that you may bear the honors of the great moral, mental and industrial epoch that is your heritage. Don't throw away your advantage.

So much for those of us who are here. Those who are in the service and have been in it at places more or less remote from Trinity,—to them we send a message. You, too, must realize that you should rejoin us, allow us to honor you and Trinity will credit you fully and reward you amply, as you deserve, for the work you have accomplished both while here and while in service. You, too, owe it to yourselves to round out your educations, that you may enjoy your full inheritance and gain your full share of the great honors of the ap-

AUBREY G. KING, '22.

We regret to announce the death of Aubrey G. King, '22, a member of the S. A. T. C., that occurred early Monday morning at the Hartford Hospital. He had been sick for about a week with influenza and bronchial pneumonia.

ROBERT W. LINEN, '62.

Robert Walker Linen, the son of Robert and Caroline Aurilla (Walker) Linen, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. Fowler, 933 East 14th Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., on November 21, 1918.

Mr. Linen was born in Bridgeport, Conn., March 27, 1841. He prepared for college at the Deer Hill Institute of Danbury, Conn., and entered Trinity from that school in the fall of 1858. He graduated from Trinity with the degree of B. A. in 1862 and in 1865 received from the college the degree of M. A. While in college he was a member of the Parthenon Society, was winner of the Chemical Prize, and received one of the appointments to speak at the Commencement exercises at the time he graduated.

On April 25, 1866, he was married at Ypsilanti, Mich., to Miss Sarah Elizabeth Burdell, the daughter of William Burdell, a merchant of Columbus, Ohio. He is survived by three sons and two daughters.

After graduation from college, Mr. Linen for two years was teacher of Latin, Greek and Chemistry in the Eagleswood Military Academy at Perth Amboy, N. J. The next year he was a teacher in the Kenwood School at New Brighton, Pa. He then took up a business career and entered the hardware business in New York City and later on, was engaged in business in Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Linen was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church and was vestryman and warden of his church.

TRINITY MEN GASSED.

Sergeant Elmer S. Tiger, '16, of Company C, 101st Machine Gun Battalion, has been reported gassed. He took part in the recent drive against the Germans in the Meuse River sector, and it is here that he is said to have been gassed.

Everett N. Sturman, '19, also of Company C, 101st Machine Gun Battalion, is reported gassed. He is now in Base Hospital 6, in France.

proaching era. The great advantages of Trinity are at your disposal. Don't fail to embrace them. Thus, build best for your futures.

S. A. T. C. TO BE DISBANDED.

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK WOUNDED.

Word has been received that Major Philip J. McCook, '95, was wounded in action on November 6, 1918. A piece of shrapnel struck him in the leg shattering the bone below the knee. He is now in Base Hospital No. 6, in Bordeaux, France, convalescing.

CLEMENT '68, ELECTED GOVERNOR OF VERMONT.

After winning a hotly contested campaign for the Republican nomination over the present incumbent, Horace F. Graham, Percival W. Clement, of the Class of 1868, was at the November election chosen Governor of Vermont and will begin the two-year term with the new year.

Mr. Clement is one of the most active and prominent citizens of Vermont. He was a member of the Vermont Lower House in 1892, of the Senate in 1900, and was Mayor of Rutland in 1897. He is interested in many railroad and financial corporations, and was at one time President of the Rutland Railroad and of various subsidiary lines.

Mr. Clement in college was a member of the I. K. A. Fraternity, and has always maintained a loyal interest in college affairs.

Mrs. Clement was Miss Maria Goodwin of West Hartford.

REV. ARTHUR P. KELLY, '01.

The report that Rev. Arthur P. Kelly, '01, a Sergeant in the 103rd Ambulance Co., 101st Sanitary Train, was killed at the Battle of the Marne is superseded by the report that he died of a hemorrhage of the brain in Field Hospital 325. On June 29, 1918, he complained of a severe pain over the left eye, becoming rapidly worse and lapsing into several spells of unconsciousness. He was evacuated to the hospital on July 2, and he died there three days later. Sergeant Kelly was buried with full military honors.

WHY NOT A "COLLEGE COMMONS"?

The question now arises what will become of our mess hall? It has been fitted out and equipped by the college at the cost of many thousands of dollars. The kitchen contains all modern equipment. The dining room is all that could be desired for a "College Commons." Shall we revert to the old system of fraternity eating places, or shall we take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to revive the "College Commons"?

MEN TO BE DISCHARGED BEFORE DECEMBER 21.

Details of Demobilization Not Yet Decided Upon.

Under orders received Tuesday night, November 26, the Trinity S. A. T. C. unit will be disbanded and all the members will be civilians again by December 21. The news came as a great surprise to the men in the corps, but was received with joy by most of them, although there are a few martial spirits who are sorry that the unit is to be disbanded, and are now hoping for a course in military training to take the place of physical training.

It is not yet definitely known how many men will stay at Trinity but it is safe to say that at the very least, a half of the present number will remain to get their degrees. President Luther also expects a large number of the men who enlisted but who were not sent across, to return to college as soon as they are mustered out. Arrangements will no doubt be made so that they may return to a higher standing than they had attained when they left.

According to the order received from the War Department, the mustering out of the corps is to take place between December 4 and the 21st. It will not be known until Lieut. Lucey returns from Boston, where the details of the demobilization are being decided upon, whether the men will be discharged in groups or all at once. It is expected that the men who do not intend to stay in college, mostly non-matriculated students who were admitted in order that they might take the military work, will be mustered out of the service first.

When they are discharged, the men will have to turn in all clothing except underwear and socks. Men who have uniforms of their own may wear them for three months after they are discharged if they wish.

In publishing the orders for disbanding the unit, Col. Cowles complimented the men on the excellent record for discipline and instruction which they had made throughout.

The official order as published was as follows:

Don't fail our boys now. They are thirsting for news from Trinity. See that they get it. Contribute to this fund. For every dollar received we will send "The Tripod" to some Trinity man in the service for the rest of the collegiate year with all the back numbers.

IS THE WAR OVER?

"The Tripod" asks my views on the present war situation.

The outstanding thing is that the War is not over. Armistice is no more Peace than Recess is School-out. We are merely stopping for a period limited by contract to thirty-five days, of which twenty are already gone, and terminable at the option of either party on a two days' notice. Further fighting is hardly to be expected save in Russia, where our two sets of operations must be maintained against the Bolsheviki anarchists. But it should not be forgotten, that Germany still has vast armies, some of them, it is true, considerably disorganized, but many of them not: all of them, however, trained soldiers, who are already it is stated, being acclaimed at home, as "unbeaten". And she still has her military brains—Hindenburg, Mackensen, Ludendorff, Rupprecht and Hutier—more or less discredited, it may be, but still in usual health and in fair control of their men.

Moreover it is not inconceivable that the thing may happen there that happened in France a century and a quarter ago. The Revolution and the colossal Vendean revolt seemed to have put that country upon its back; but the joint invasion by the Germans and the banished Royalists developed an explosive unity and will-power among the French, which was able first to rout the invaders and then to dominate the armies and the statesmanship of Europe for over twenty years.

I do not expect a duplication of that marvel, but I am afraid of it. The French themselves have a shrewd proverb: "Attendez l'inattendu", Expect the unexpected; and we would do well to omit no precaution, until we know just what is taking place, and is likely to take place these next weeks in Germany.

Among the more obvious of such precautions are these: (1) Keep up our army of occupation to full strength. It is considerably more economical to have on hand a half-million too many men than a thousand too few. Once parted by the ocean the mischief might prove irreparable. (2) Keep up the morale of the men. When home begins to loom up is the most dangerous time for every soldier. The routine of usual work and daily discipline is his salvation. Consequently, if it were permitted me, I should strongly advise home friends to be careful what they write. The men will not doubt our welcome and we can afford to be reserved as to how we kindle their desire for immediate return. Let us tell them we only want them when they have actually got through on the other side. (3) Keep up the War Works—the "Y", the Red Cross and all the rest. Their function of hindering idleness and dispelling boredom is one of the most important possible. They will also have a vast task, conceivably more formidable than during the war, of alleviating suffering and promoting repair and rehabilitation among the shattered homes and habitations of the enormous devastated territory in Europe and Asia.

All of this holds, mutatis mutandis, of our whole academic body. But the Students Army Training Corps portion of it has this further to keep in mind—It was not particularly hard to avoid slackness and slovenliness in dress, carriage and work, while the whole thing was one unbroken dress rehearsal for the great overseas drama that was all the time in plain sight, but now, with the recession of war, and with disbandment, which I sincerely regret, at hand, the atmosphere is changed. Relaxation is easy, steadiness and stiffness hard.

In a word, the time has come, when our real manhood and our patriotism are to be tested.

J. J. McCOOK.

November 30, 1918.

CONCERNING COURSES FOR A DEGREE.

At a meeting of the Faculty on November 26, it was decided that if a member of the S. A. T. C. has been prevented by military work from taking a course required for his degree, he will get qualitative credit for that subject provided that he takes and passes the course during the second and third terms. For instance, if a man has not been able to take a certain course in Latin because it conflicted with one of the required military courses, he will be allowed to enter the Latin course for the second and third terms and though he will not receive quantitative credit for the first term in that course, he will be considered as having passed off the full year's requirement in Latin towards his degree.

CREDIT OF THE TERM'S WORK.

There seems to be much doubt in the undergraduate body as to the credit they will get for this term's work. As was announced at the beginning of the term, one-third of a credit will be given for courses run on a three-hour basis and two-thirds of a credit for those given on a six-hour basis.
