THANKSGIVING SERVICE IN CHAPEL.

Dr. Luther Delivers Address.

Thursday evening a special thanksgiving service was held in the chapel. A feature of the service was the singing of "The Palms" by Professor Odell Shepard. In his address, President Luther said:

"We are assembled here this evening in response to a suggestion of the mayor, which I hope finds echo in the hearts of all of you. We are assembled to thank the Giver of victory and peace for this glorious victory which has been vouchsafed us.

"There has never in the history of the world been such a war and never in all history has there been such a sudden and decisive peace. All over the allied world crowds have been proclaiming 'We have Won.' Not only have we won but our victory is acknowledged by the vanquished. They who have tried to destroy our institutions now cry 'Feed us lest we starve', and we will do it, for we are not like them.

"Buildings will rise from the ruins, the fields of France will once more smile with waving wheat and the streams shall flow clear and pure once more. They who are responsible for all the ruin will cry to us for food and drink and we, because we are not like them, will carry it to them.

"But even if we succor them they will not escape unpunished. For generations, men will refuse to recognize them as equals. Myriads of fingers will be pointed in scorn at that lonely figure in Holland, saying, 'Thou art the man.' Did I say lonely? I was mistaken for never in this life or the life to come, will William Hohenzollern be lonely, for he will always have with him the spirits of those innocent women and children. These are some of the consequences of the war, but what are to be the consequences of peace!

What will peace mean? My life may seem long to you young men, but to the pen of the historian it is but a short time. During the course of my life there have been fifteen important wars, to say nothing of the minor struggles. It seems as if this old blood-soaked world were always fighting, so can we hope that this will be the last war?

"Can we believe that in this riotous but innocent celebration of a few nights ago there was a deeper feeling than mere joy over peace? Can we think that we heard an undertone of peace, righteousness, and brotherly love? Let us believe that there is a realization that a great o'er shadowing curse has been lifted.

"Out of the sacrifices may there be built up a newer and better civiliza-

ALPHA CHI RHO WINS CUP.

At the U. W. W. rally in Alumni Hall Friday evening, President Luther awarded the cup offered by the Hartford Alumni Association to the fraternity attaining the highest scholarship. It was awarded on the basis of the marks for the year closing at Commencement, 1918, and went to the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity. This is the first time that it has been won by this fraternity, it having been awarded in 1915 to the Hartford Club, in 1916 to Sigma Nu, and in 1917 to the Hartford Club again. J. H. Callen received the cup in behalf of the fraternity.

S. A. T. C. NOT AFFECTED BY ARMISTICE SIGNING.

The signing of the armistice has had no apparent effect on the running of the S. A. T. C. unit at Trinity. Everything has gone on as usual. Drill is still just as intensive. Bayonet practice is being carried through with the same vigor, although its practical value is now questionable since our men will in all probability never be confronted by the Huns for whose benefit they have practiced it. The orders came from Washington to continue the academic and military work of the S. A. T. C., regardless of the conditions brought about by the signing of the armistice. Plans for the future S. A. T. C. are now being made at Washington, and though nothing definite has yet been officially announced, it seems probable that the S. A. T. C. will continue until next June, at least.

tion! Neither autocracy nor democracy can dominate this world of ours. Let us believe that we are on the eve of a better and more glorious and more united United States. If we are to return to the United States of five years ago, wrapt up in its own selfish interests, then I am not sure but that it would have been better for Germany to have won and have autocracy cast its evil influence over us all.

"In the midst of this joy for most of us, let us not forget our dead. Let us remember those who gave themselves so utterly that they will never return. But their spirits are reaping something better than those rewards which we would so gladly heap upon them, could they but return."

The men stood at attention while the "Star Spangled Banner" was played by Bugler Herman J. Immeln and Organist Robert I. Parke. Prayers were offered for those who mourn and for the souls of those who have laid down their lives in this war. The service closed with the singing of the Doxology.

U. W. W. RALLY IN ALUMNI HALL

BISHOP CHESHIRE, 1869, CELEBRATES TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY AS BISHOP.

The Rt. Rev. Jos. Blount Cheshire, D. D., '69, the first North Carolinian to be elected to the episcopate in the Protestant Episcopal Church, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his consecration Tuesday, Oct. 15. Bishop Cheshire was born in Tarboro, N. C., in 1850. He attended the preparatory schools in Tarboro and later graduated from Trinity in the class of 1869. He practiced law in Baltimore until 1878 when he applied for holy orders and was ordained as deacon in his church. From 1881 to 1893 he was rector of St. Peter's Church in Charlotte, N. C., after which he was elected bishop-coadjutor of the Diocese of North Carolina in Christ Church, Raleigh. He became bishop of the diocese December 13, 1893. He received the degree of D. D. from both the University of North Carolina and the University of the South.

The following extract from a Raleigh paper shows some of the results of Bishop Cheshire's many years of splendid service:

"Since he has been bishop the number of communicants of his diocese has increased about 125 per cent.; the number of parishes and missions 50 per cent., and clergymen 50 per cent. The annual contributions have gone from $52,727 in the whole area, which then included the present Diocese of Asheville, to $151,927, in the Diocese of North Carolina alone. The value of church property in the same whole area has gone from $439,033.00 to $1,282,095.00 in the Diocese of North Carolina alone. Fifty-nine new churches and chapels have been erected in his diocese and he has confirmed 11,756 persons."

WESLEYAN GAME CANCELLED.

The football game scheduled with Wesleyan for Saturday, November 16, was cancelled on account of the fact that no time was available for practice. The week before the Amherst game the members of the team, were excused from 4 o'clock classes to give them time for practice, but this last week no such excuses were given. Five of the men who played in the Amherst game have gone as part of Trinity's quota to Camp Lee. They were Bruce, Doran, Gunning, Havens and Kingeter.

Instructions were received by Col. Calvin D. Cowles on November 12 to receive no more applications for admission to Officers Training Schools. A few Trinity men who had already been accepted for Camp Fremont, California, were disappointed to learn that the camp is not going to be formed on account of the signing of the armistice.

STUDENTS ADDRESSED BY THREE NOTED SPEAKERS.

A well attended and enthusiastic rally was held in Alumni Hall Friday evening, in the interests of the United War Work Drive. Professor Henry A. Perkins presided, and before introducing the first speaker, explained the purpose of the meeting and stated that Trinity's quota of $2500 was also to be counted as part of the Hartford quota. The speakers, Rabbi Ettelson, Mr. Haley, and Father Murray, represented three great organizations of the drive, namely, the Jewish Welfare Board, the Y. M. C. A., and the K. of C. All three brought the message, that it is the least we can do for our victorious army to give them the opportunities for physical, mental, and spiritual development to help fill up their time until the day of their sailing home. All the speakers emphasized the great significance of this being a united drive that did not distinguish between race or creed in its common work for humanity, and that this was a happy augury for the future of our country.

Rabbi Ettelson, the first speaker, told of the causes for the formation of the Jewish Welfare Board to which he had been attached as a field worker. He made it clear, however, that he was now a regularly enlisted chaplain in the United States Army, awaiting orders to sail overseas. He said: "I am not here to present the claims of the Jewish organizations. None of the seven organizations have the right to put forth any special claims. To me one of the fine things about this drive is the splendid spirit of co-operation in which all seven of the organizations are working. I suggest that we take for our emblem in this campaign the seven-branched candlestick, which will at once symbolize the seven organizations united for a single aim and also the beauty of the purpose of the drive."

The second speaker was Mr. Haley of Collinsville, who has been overseas on Y. M. C. A. work. He spoke interestingly on his experiences as Y. M. C. A. secretary with the famous Rainbow division. He said:

"I am not a regular Y. M. C. A. secretary. I am a school teacher by profession and I see several of my former pupils before me. I am here tonight to tell you a little of what we do for the boys who are in France.

"When I got to France there were only about 20,000 men of our army over there. I was assigned to the Rainbow division, which is credited with having taken prisoners from no less

RESTRICTIONS ON FRATERNITIES LIFTED.

The order concerning fraternity activities recently published in "The Tripod" was rescinded on November 12, and the following substituted therefor:

"It is desired that no restriction shall be placed on elections to fraternities; also that no restrictions shall be placed on fraternity activities, including initiations and meetings, except such as are clearly necessary to preserve proper military training and discipline. In determining what, if any, restrictions are essential, commanding officers will exercise tact and good judgment.

By direction of the Committee on Education and Special Training.

Major, Inf., U. S. A., Adm. Officer."

INCREASED LIBRARY ATTENDANCE.

The records of attendance at the library for the month of October show a marked increase over last year. This increase is no doubt partly due to the quarantine which has been on all of last month, and partly to the fact that there is a larger number of men at the college this year. Furthermore, there are a great many who do all of their studying in the library.

The following is an interesting comparison of the total attendance during the month of October for the years 1917 and 1918:

	Oct., 1917	Oct., 1918
Faculty	126	77
Students	1174	1319
Visitors	24	17
Evening	285	1337
Totals.....	1609	2750

It is interesting to note that the evening attendance this year is almost five times that of last year. The Sunday attendance also shows an enormous increase. For October, 1917, it was 56, while for October, 1918, it was 309.

This increased use of the library is very gratifying and it is hoped that the record will be kept up throughout the year.

than twenty-six different German divisions. I was their first Y. M. C. A. secretary and was with the famous New York Sixty-ninth most of the time. Although they were primarily a Roman Catholic regiment, I never heard or saw any distinction.

"I am speaking mostly of the Y. M. C. A., because I know the most about that, but all these institutions fill distinctive wants. One usually associates the Salvation Army with doughnuts, but to us it means a body of brave men and women who have a religion close to the ground and who risk everything to serve. I have often walked five miles each way for a single doughnut. I will always remember a Salvation Army lassie I saw in France with a tin hat on her head and a gas mask on her face, rolling out dough with an empty bottle. The K. of C. also is doing fine work for the boys.

"I served with the Rainbow division on four fronts—two in Lorraine, in Champagne and at Chateau Thierry. I got into the trenches five days before our boys went in for their first training. I lived with the French during that time, and I say right here that I take my hat off to them. Our boys went in to what was supposed to be a quiet sector, but after they went in it became Hell. Two men were struck down near my hut, one with fourteen wounds and his companion with eight. This war was no picnic. I have been in the trenches, I have even had cooties. I have seen a single shell land on a dugout and bury twenty-two men. I have seen five hundred men from a single battalion either killed or wounded in a twelve-hour artillery-gas attack. I have been out in No Man's Land and it is a very scary proposition.

"In all these places the Y. M. C. A. secretary is with the men. When they come in from a sniping tour too late for supper, he gives them hot chocolate to go to bed on. Once we even got apples for the entire fifteen hundred men in the battalion. We put on shows for the men with such actresses as Elsie Janis singing and telling stories. Once I was able to give a sentry, whose duty it was to look straight ahead all the time, the only thing which he desired—chewing tobacco. One of our men stayed up all night near Chateau Thierry just putting cigarettes between the lips of the wounded men as they passed by. Another thing we do for the boys is write letters for them.

"Now the fighting is over, but the biggest job is ahead of us. Those men over there want to come home and they can't. They must have something besides the formal drills to take up their time, and that is where the organizations come in. Last Thanksgiving I got a Thanksgiving entertainment for some California men six thousand miles from home. We had a baseball game in the morning, a football game at noon, and at three o'clock we started a dinner that lasted two and a half hours. It was the first meal those men had eaten sitting at a table since they had landed in France. I ate my Christmas dinner standing up in a barn with six hundred other men.

"This slight cheer which the boys get is made possible by you. We need more money for equipment, and it is up to you to see that we get it. Give! Your duty to those boys is not finished until you have them back here at Trinity. Give until it makes you feel good."

The third speaker was Father Murray of Hartford, who spoke in a more general way than the other men on the reasons for the raising of the money. He said that it was up to the people of this country to prove by this campaign that they believed the foundations of democracy were laid in universal brotherhood. Let the Trinity men prove their belief in this by giving their entire month's allowance instead of the sum asked.

The Trinity orchestra rendered selections during the meeting. After the close of the speaking, Professor Perkins explained the system under which the men might make subscriptions and pay for them on pay day. Numerous pledges were received after the meeting.

Alfred P. Bond, manager of the football team who went to Camp Lee with the Trinity quota on November 11, is succeeded by Kingsland D. McGuffey.

MATRICULATION.

Formal matriculation ceremonies were held in the public speaking room at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The two companies were marched into the hall after inspection. President Luther excused the men who had already been matriculated. To the others he said:

"You men are about to be inducted into a vaster army than that which is fighting in France. You are entering into a war in which there has never been an armistice. It is the army of educated men and the war which has always been waged against ignorance. You will be enlisted in the Trinity regiment of that army, which is nearly one hundred years old and has numbered among its members many great men.

"Conditions this year are unusual, and for some of you your academic education will be completed with your military training next June. But you will always be different, for the college training, and the college will always be different because you came here. So I welcome you here this afternoon into the society of college men."

After affirming the pledge required to be administered to all new men by the college statutes the men formally enrolled themselves. As each man enrolled he was given a copy of the college constitution and the standing rules of the college.

APPOINTMENTS.

The departure of Trinity's quota to Camp Lee on November 11 left a good many vacancies in the non-commissioned staff of the battalion. The following appointments have already been made: E. G. Armstrong, first sergeant of Company A, succeeding J. H. McGee; E. G. Smith, battalion quartermaster - sergeant, succeeding R. S. Casey. L. Abele has been made battalion sergeant-major, and Corporals J. E. Jessen and C. A. Harding have been made sergeants in Company A. F. T. Tansill and R. Ransom have been made acting sergeants in Company B. M. A. Hersey and J. W. Griffith have been made corporals in Company A, and P. E. Burns and R. I. Parke in Company B.

It was officially announced that woolen uniforms are on the way. When they come, they will be issued to each man in exchange for one of the two cotton uniforms which have already been issued to them.
