The resignation of Dr. Luther, to take effect July 1, was accepted by the Board of Trustees at a meeting held Saturday afternoon in Williams Memorial. Samuel Ferguson, Sidney T. Miller, and Frank C. Sumner were elected to the Board of Trustees to fill vacancies. Judge Joseph Buffington and Robert Thorne were appointed a committee to draw up resolutions on the resignation of Dr. Luther.

Robert E. Bacon, Ph. D., Lafayette College, '17, arrived at Trinity Tuesday to take up his duties as assistant to Professor Odell Shepard in the English department. He will have charge of the ninety-two freshmen who are taking the first year English course and will assume active charge of the class which for convenience in handling has been divided into two divisions on Thursday.

Mr. Bacon has been in the U. S. Service as an ensign in the navy. His home is in Bridgeton, N. J., and after graduating from Lafayette he took a special teachers' course at Harvard under Prof. C. N. Greenough, one of the foremost English scholars of the country. He was awarded a degree of M. A. by Harvard in 1918.

THE HARTFORD ALUMNI GIVE WAR BANQUET

COLLEGE SMOKER.

Dr. Luther Welcomes Men Returning from Service.

The Alumni-Council Smoker given in honor of the Trinity men who have returned from the service was held in the College Union Monday evening, January 13, with about a hundred and fifty of the college body present. Alumni Secretary C. A. Johnson, who had charge of the arrangements, presided. In the course of the evening, interesting speeches were given by Dr. Luther, and Mr. Hart, '07. The Alumni Council furnished smokes and coffee, and doughnuts were sent in by a friend of the college. The college orchestra played.

Dr. Luther was the first speaker and his talk was preceded by seven Trins for "Prexy." He welcomed back to Trinity all the old men who have returned, the number of which he said was increasing daily. He stated incidentally that it seems to be a very hard matter for the government to get along without Trinity men. "It struck me as a very significant fact that November 11, the very day eighteen Trinity men left for Camp Lee for a short period of intensive training before going over into Germany, the German commissioners came over and signed the armistice. Of course the news must have leaked out by wireless."

He said that in the future, emphasis would be laid more than ever before on the serious side of college life, and referred to the rescinding of the rule allowing unexcused absences, as one of the changes in that direction. In closing, he predicted a "bigger and better America, and a bigger and better Trinity in these coming times of peace than there ever was before."

Harold Hart, '07, who has recently returned from Red Cross work in France, was then called upon, and as he took the floor, he was greeted with a volley of cheers. He praised the spirit of the men and stated that it was just this sort of spirit that gives inspiration to the men doing the actual fighting over there. In speaking of his experiences abroad, he said:

"We arrived at Dr. Blake's hospital on July 20, and the wounded men began to drift back from the Chateau Thierry offensive at about 2 o'clock. They were mostly marines. I could find only two men from the 102d Regiment, and none from the 101st Machine Gun Battalion. A noticeable fact was that nearly all the men were wounded below the waist, as they had been running forward. We met all the wounded at the door with cigarettes and a cherry word. If you asked a man how he was feeling the invariable reply was 'Fine. Just let

THREE SPEAKERS FROM "OVER THERE."

Many in Uniform Present.

Three Trinity men who have been "Over There" were speakers at the war banquet of the Hartford Alumni Association at the Hartford Club, Thursday evening. Captain William S. Eaton, '10, of Company C, 101st Machine Gun Battalion, and Walter S. Schutz, '94, of the Y. M. C. A., both brought a message from the many Trinity men in the 101st. Lieutenant William Brinkman, '15, who came from Camp Dix to attend the banquet, related some of the phases of the fighting at Chateau Thierry where he was attached to the marines of the Second Division. President Luther prophesied changes that must come to all colleges as a result of the war. Walter S. Schutz gave an unexpected turn to his talk when he said that he did not believe the relationship of Trinity College to the Episcopal Church was worth $1,000,000.

Many Trinity men in uniform, recently returned from training camps and cantonments, were present at the banquet. Over the speakers' table were the flags of the United States and of the Allies. Charles A. Johnson, alumni secretary, was toastmaster. There were 110 present.

Lieutenant Brinkman.

Lieutenant Brinkman told of the fighting of the marines at Belleau Wood where the Second Division was sent in to hold the Boche. On another occasion, he was sent across an open field with forty men to take a machine gun nest. Only six men crossed the field without being hit.

Captain Eaton.

Captain Eaton related the arrival of his battalion at the "Unfinished Sector" just as the French were in full retreat. The French told the Americans they were foolish to go in there as the Germans were coming and couldn't be stopped. "But they were stopped", the speaker said. To show how little subordinate commanders know of the plans of the higher command, Captain Eaton said that on one occasion what was supposed to be a local attack by his regiment was part of the grand offensive from Soissons to Chateau Thierry on a front of over 90 miles. When the Boche was once put in retreat, he said the Americans couldn't keep up with him. Thousands of shells were left at every battery position by the Boche, indicating that if he had not been put to retreat big things would soon have occurred. Captain Eaton estimated that fully ninety per cent. of these were gas shells.

Trinity Decorations.

Mr. Johnson, the toastmaster, read a list of Trinity men who have been

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

WHY NOT A ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL?

It is the general feeling that some sort of memorial should be raised in commemoration of Theodore Roosevelt. The question is to decide what the nature of this memorial is to be.

It has been suggested that a tablet be placed above the archway of Northam Towers engraved with the text of Col. Roosevelt's Commencement sermon last June delivered on that site:

"Let not him that girdeth on his harness boast himself as he that putteth it off."

We will be glad to receive any further suggestions as to a memorial.

The attitude shown by the freshmen in announcing immediately the chairman of the Freshman-Junior Banquet is nothing more or less than a challenge to the sophs. It remains to be seen what stuff the sophs are made of.

RETURN TO TRINITY FROM THE SERVICE.

Of the 175 men now at college, about seventy-five are upperclassmen. Of these seventy-five, the following have recently returned to Trinity from the service:

Of the Class of 1918—Paul C. Harding, Myron R. Jackson, William E. L'Heureaux, William Reiner, and Melville Shulthess.

Of the Class of 1919—Louis Antupitsky, Harmon T. Barber, Edward M. Finesilver, Arthur M. Goldstein, Edward M. Hyland, Samuel G. Jarvis, Irving E. Partridge, Edward C. Schortman, J. B. Sigal, B. Silverberg, Lansing W. Tostevin, Henry W. Valentine, and Frederick G. Vogel.

Of the Class of 1920—Francis R. Fox, Louis L. Hohenthal, Frederick R. Hoisington, Seymour S. Jackson, Arthur L. King, B. Levin, Jack W. Lyon, B. R. Mancall, Hall Pierce, Donald E. Puffer and Gibson G. Ramsay.

Of the Class of 1921—F. H. Ameluxen, Karl P. Herzer, Nelson A. Shepard, and William W. Tulin.

The number of the returning service men is increasing daily as a great many wish to come back, but have to wait until they receive their discharges. Harry Nordstrom, '19, who applied for his discharge over a month ago and whose name is already on the college lists, writes: "I'll be back at old Trin. the day after I am mustered out,—when that will be I can't tell."

decorated. They are, croix de guerre: W. E. Barnett, '15; W. S. Danker, '97, the first American chaplain to be killed in France; F. W. Elder, '16; R. V. K. Harris, '18; E. W. Love, '20; E. T. Smith, '13. Those who received the Distinguished Service Cross are: J. H. Pratt, Jr., '17; E. R. Hampson, '18; and Charles T. Senay, '14. Twenty Trinity men were killed, died of wounds or of sickness in camp, and nineteen Trinity men were wounded in action, Mr Johnson announced.

President Luther.

The appearance of President Luther was the signal for loud applause. He said that it had been a splendid season for Trinity with one third of her sons fighting in three countries under three flags. He hoped that some memorial would be erected for these men on the campus. He said that in keeping with the policy of high schools to graduate men in February as well as June, Trinity must soon become accustomed to receive new students twice a year. President Luther believed that in the future, college men must choose their life work earlier and that a college should be able to train them for their particular vocations without detracting from its teaching of culture.

"I see a great change in the faces of the men returning to college, a greater manhood", he said. Dr. Luther solemnly called attention to the fact that Trinity's oldest and youngest alumni, Dr. John T. Huntington, '50, and Theodore Roosevelt, '18, were laid to rest on the same day. Walter Schutz Advocates Change.

Mr. Schutz told of meeting the boys of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion as they came out of a heavy engagement, expecting a rest. Instead, he said, they were shot into another active sector. He was convinced that the three or four years of college must be felt more in a man's life than ever before. He thought that Trinity College should pick out one or two things in which it could excel and specialize in them. He recommended insurance and commercial French, Spanish and Italian. "I don't think Trinity College's relations with the Episcopal Church are worth $1,000,000", he continued. He did not feel that Trinity could expand by relying on the Episcopal Church or by relying on it as the hobby of one man.

At a meeting of the Sophomore Dining Club held Wednesday, the following were elected: Nelson A. Sheperd, John Reitemeyer, Philip Ramsay and James D. Walsh. With the six former members of the club, who are now in college, this brings the membership up to ten, which is below normal, but it is likely that more men will be elected as more sophs return to college. Alfred P. Bond is president of the club and Harold V. Lynch is secretary.

JESTERS ORGANIZE.

The Trinity Jesters held their first meeting of the year in the economics room Friday. The resignation of J. F. Maher, '19, as president was accepted, and Harold V. Lynch, '20, was elected to fill the vacancy. Plans were made for tryouts to be held soon. The other officers of the club will be elected at a later meeting.

FRESHMAN TEAM DEFEATS TRAVELERS.

Wednesday evening the freshman basketball team defeated the fast team representing the Travelers Insurance Company by the score of 31 to 24, in the Hartford High gym. The 1922 men showed great improvement in teamwork over their first game, and from the time the first point was scored the issue was never in doubt.

Pierpont led the Trinity team in scoring with fifteen points. Al. Johnson was second in number of points scored. The three remaining members of the team, Tansill, Reynolds and Nordlund, while they did not appear in the limelight as much as the other two, contributed much to the victory by their careful covering of their opponents. The lineup:

Pierpont (capt.) RF	McCabe
Nordlund RG	Killin
A. S. Johnson C G.	Johnson capt.
Tansill LG	Brazil

ANNOUNCE W. BRAINARD AS JUNIOR BANQUET CHAIRMAN.

The freshman class held a meeting in the public speaking room Tuesday for the purpose of electing officers for the second semester. McGee, a representative from the sophomore class, told the men what was expected of them in the line of submission to upper classmen and told them that if they behaved themselves, obeyed the freshman rules, and took cheerfully the occasional beating which would come their way, that they would get along all right, but he warned them that if they chose to be independent, as they might think they could be on account of their numerical superiority over the sophomore class, they would be in continual trouble.

Frederick T. Tansill was unanimously elected president. The other officers elected were Robert G. Rey-

Harold V. Lynch president of the junior class, then addressed the meeting. He said that while the entire student body was more or less against the freshmen, the juniors were their sister class and would to a certain extent back them up in their actions. He suggested Springfield as the place for the banquet, and said that while it was customary to keep the date of the banquet a secret from the sophomores, it does not really make much difference this year as the sophomores are so weak numerically, that they could not break up the affair if they tried.

Wilson G. Brainard was elected chairman of the banquet committee.

me get well and get another crack at Fritz.' You wonder why it all has to be.

"There is perhaps a little antagonism felt towards the British and perhaps the French. It is altogether wrong. No matter what your individual feelings may be towards our allies, you must remember that we all have a common enemy in the Hun. Every single thing that you have heard about him is true; only not half of it has been told.

"In Paris I've talked with a number of men who had been prisoners in Germany. They all said that they had been treated well, but said that Fritz was already preparing to come back and clean up the muss. The allies must hang together and put him in a position where he can't come back. It is up to you, no matter what you may feel personally, to kill every bit of this anti-ally propaganda.
